Blood Poison readily yields to its influence; it thoroughly eradicates the poison from the system; if you have sore throat, patches on tongue or mouth, swollen glands, hair falling out, blotches on body, itching skin, or other signs of this awful disease, you will find the Latest Method Treatment will cure you without Mercury or Potassium.

A WONDERFUL

KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

I. A. HOPKINS.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, GRAVEL, DROPSY,

And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary troubles which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right. I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been benefited by its use. I am 63 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.

Respectfully yours,

I. A. HOPKINS.

W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor of Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Mrs. Wm. H. Hardy, East Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured her after six doctors failed. Rev. J. W. Hickman, Collyer, Trego Co., Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble, of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book, entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state.

Not only does this great discovery—Alkavis (the Kava-Kava Compound)—cure all forms of Kidney and Bladder diseases, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and speed the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 508 Fourth Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

INDORSED BY DEPEW,

SAYS THE "PAN-AM." WILL SURPASS THE PARIS FAIR.

Tells Chairman J. N. Scatcherd the Half Has Not Been Told of the Grandeur and Beauty of the Exposition at Buffalo.

"Scatcherd, you did not praise it half enough."

So spoke the distinguished statesman and famous after dinner orator, Senator Chauncey M. Depew, as he stood in the center of the grounds of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo and gazed upon the beautiful structures surrounding him on every side and now approaching completion.

Senator Depew had come to Buffalo to deliver an address. His first desire on arrival in the city was to be driven to the grounds of the Exposition. The remark quoted above was addressed to Chairman John N. Scatcherd of the executive committee of the Exposition, who had told Senator Depew of the progress made in the building of the Exposition when they had met in Europe last summer. Mr. Scatcherd had dwelt long and eloquently upon the success which had attended the organization and construction of the Exposition, and "Our Chauncey's" expectations were high. Nevertheless anticipations are not equal to realization.

NEW YORK STATE BUILDING.

Looking upon the scene before him from the sight of the grand Triumphal Bridge, he saw to his right the stately proportions of the United States Government buildings, to the left, across the spacious Esplanade, the charming architectural effects of the Graphic Arts, Horticultural and Mines buildings, while the vast Machinery and Transportation building, now almost complete, was seen in the background to the left. Opposite it, across the Court of Fountains, was the Manufactures and Liberal Arts building, and the Electric Tower could be seen rising skyward in the distance at the far end of the vast court, with the towers and minarets of other buildings outlined against the horizon. As Mr. Depew took in this impressive scene the exclamation burst from his lips that the half had not been told.

Later in the day the popular orator addressed an audience which filled to overflowing Buffalo's great Convention hall. In the opening lines of his speech the speaker declared: "Six weeks ago I was at the Universal Exposition at Paris. Today I went through the grounds where your Pan-American Exposition is to be held. I felt that Buffalo is going to do at least twice as well as Paris."

Latin-American and Pan-American.

The press of the various countries of Latin-America show a cordial interest in the Pan-American Exposition. It is recognized that their co-operation is essential to the end that the Exposition may adequately represent the progress of all the states and countries of this hemisphere. As a rule the editors of newspapers and other publications in the countries to the south of the United States display a very favorable attitude toward the enterprise. B. B. Lopez, editor and proprietor of La Correspondencia de Porto Rico, has become so enthusiastic over the Exposition that he writes to the Press Department that he is about to come to Buffalo to see for himself the progress made in the development of the Exposition. He will be accompanied by his family. Many other editors of the Latin-American press have also announced their intention to attend the Exposition, and inquiries are pouring in from these countries regarding steamboat and rail road routes. Many editors and correspondents from Central and South American countries have already visited the Exposition grounds.

Wisconsin's Building.

Commissioners from Wisconsin, who have charge of the exhibits from that state at the Pan-American Exposition, have selected a site for the State building. About 20 acres have been set apart on the eastern side of the Exposition grounds for state and foreign buildings. The site chosen for the Wisconsin building is nearly opposite the large buildings of the National governments just south of one of the mirror lakes and south of the Ohio building. It will overlook the Esplanade, with its wonderful fountains and gardens, and a number of the large buildings will be in full view. The Wisconsin commission are Willard A. Van Brunt and George B. Burrows of Madison, B. E. Edwards of Lacrosse, Charles Reynolds of Sturgeon Bay and George H. Yule of Kenosha. Wisconsin will spend $25,000 on her building and exhibits at Buffalo.

A $6,000 A. O. U. W. Building.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen are planning elaborately to welcome the members of the order to Buffalo next year. The Supreme Lodge has appropriated $3,000 and the State Lodge $3,000 more to be used for the erection and furnishing of a fine headquarters building at the Pan-American Exposition. The Supreme Lodge will meet in Buffalo next year. The building is a handsome pavilion with rooms for rest [illegible] the upper floor a great balcony with easy chairs for all members of the order who attend the Exposition.

Scrofula the Cause.

Eczema, catarrh, hip disease, white swelling, and even consumption have their origin in scrofulous conditions. With the slightest taint of scrofula in the blood, there is no safety. The remedy for this disease in all its forms is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which goes to the root of the trouble and expels all impurities and disease germs from the blood.

The best family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

Every Home in which there is a Piano

Should possess this Musical Library. The Music that pleases mother, father, young and old is here. The collection is crowded with the best selections for every occasion. And thus such an evening passes delightfully which, without such a collection, might have been a musical, if not a social, failure.

Trooper Elmhirst Returns.

Trooper Fred Elmhirst, of Keene, returned on Sunday from South Africa. The gallant trooper will be accorded a public reception at an early date.

Ontario Agricultural College.

The result of the Christmas examinations at the above institution is now published. We notice the name of Mr. F. A. Eason, F.A., Keene, as a second year student, having passed in all subjects.

People's Popular Course.

The management has arranged to have the returned volunteers from South Africa turn out in a body, and occupy the private boxes at the Opera House during the performance of the Slayton Jubilee singers to-morrow evening. They will be dressed in their khaki uniforms.

A Large Club.

On Saturday Mr. Andrew Preston brought the Times a club of 100 subscribers, composed chiefly of farmers residing in this locality. We candidly believe that 75 per cent. of the people living within a range of 20 miles of Peterboro read either the daily or weekly edition of the Times, a fact that advertisers should bear in mind.

Railway Notes.

A Duluth rumor, by way of Winnipeg, has it that the Grand Trunk Railway Company are after a transcontinental line from ocean to ocean and the means they would take to get there would be by taking in the Wisconsin Central and the Mackenzie & Mann road, and the James Dunsmuir connection from Winnipeg to the Pacific coast.

The C. P. R. local traffic, which has been light since the new year, is increasing.

The Very Finest.

The Slayton Jubilees gave an entertainment in our Y.M.C.A. course, Feb. 2nd, 1900. It was without doubt the finest entertainment of the kind we have ever had. Our people were over delighted with them, so much so, that we have already booked them for next season. I can and do cheerfully recommend them to the public. Yours very truly,

C. E. HOOPER, Secretary.
Huntingdon, Pa.

The Slayton singers appear in the opera house to-morrow evening.

200 Members Wanted

The Y.M.C.A. membership committee is determined to largely increase the membership of the Association between now and the 1st April next. A committee of 67 was appointed to look after this campaign. —The change in the weather is agreeable to most people.

—Wood still keeps at sky high prices —between $4.50 and $5 for the best hardwood.

Scrofula in the blood shows itself sooner or later in swellings, sores, eruptions. But Hood's Sarsaparilla completely cures it.

The American Cereal Company has been anxious to get into the cereal-speciality business for some time. Not long ago they made a direct offer of $7,500,000 for the Postum Cereal business, which was the third offer made.—Grocery World, of Philadelphia.

—Mistress engaging a new chambermaid. "Laura, it is understood that you will not speak with any of the neighborhood servants about the affairs of our household, but I will not mind your telling me anything you hear."

—"This is a pretty time to come in, keeping me up all night," said a well known lady of Ashburnham the other day. "I can't help it, Jane. It's not my fault; it's nature. My mother used to say I kept everybody up all night when I wasn't a year old.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. George Bickle, Cobourg, was in town last night, and gave The Times a friendly call.

—The Times had a call from Mr. John Whyte, Campbellford, who has been visiting friends in Toronto. Mr. Whyte will remain until Thursday.

—Mr. James Skinner, who was for several years in the C.P.R. telegraph office here, and promoted a few months ago to the local management of the Owen Sound city ticket office, was in town yesterday, having spent Sunday with relatives in Lindsay. He was on his way back to Owen Sound.

Breakfast Grumblers.

Before the advent of Malt Breakfast Food, breakfast grumblers were found in the majority of homes. These breakfast grumblers for long years had been invoking dietetical science to produce a breakfast food that would satisfy the appetite, promote digestive vigor, give nutriment and strength to the system, and furnish necessary energy to the body and brain for the work of the day.

The introduction of Malt Breakfast Food to the homes of Canada has brought joy and contentment to young and old who work muscle or brain.

Now that Malt Breakfast Food is so largely used, there is less grumbling about taxed digestion, irritation of the stomach, eruptions and redness of the skin and other troubles that the ordinary oatmeal and other grain foods cause.

Malt Breakfast Food is a true breakfast relish. Its composition of Malt and choicest Wheat, guarantees the greatest concentration of nutriment; it agrees with the weakest stomach; it builds health and strength, and gives to brain workers all needed energy. No other food can compare with it. One trial makes it a home friend. Your Grocer has it.

WARSAW.

The first session of the council for the Municipality of Dummer was held in the Town Hall on the 14th day of Jan., at which all the members were present and signed their declaration of office for the year 1901,—Reeve H. A. Moore, Councillors C. J. Darling; Wm. Miles, Thos. Webster and Daniel Sedgwick. Minutes of the last meeting read and signed.

Committee from the Agricultural Society met with the Council to arrange regarding the hall. It was agreed that a charge of three dollars per night be made for the use of the hall, and that the churches have the hall at $1.50 a night and occupants of the hall to be responsible for any damages done. The Agricultural Society to bear one-third expenses and receive one-third profits.

A by-law to appoint a Township Clerk was passed. Richard Deen was appointed at a salary of $20 per annum.

A by-law to appoint a township Assessor and local Board of Health was passed. A. R. Wigmore was appointed Assessor at a salary of $40, and the following were appointed a local Board of Health: H. A. Moore Reeve, Chairman; Jacob White, H. F. Choate and George Kirk, sr.; Richard Deen, Secretary; Dr. T. H. Bell, Medical Health Officer.

After other business was gone through a motion was passed in favor of a grant of $200, to be expended on the ninth line of Dummer on condition that the Ontario Government grant $300 the County grant $200 and the people interested $200. The Council adjourned to meet on 16th February.

Common Sense and Modern Medical Science have reversed the almost universal belief that Rheumatism cannot be cured. The great South American Rheumatic Cure has turned the tables and has given to sufferers a tried, safe, simple and permanent cure. Thousands have testified that it has cured them in three days.—122

Love of Country.

Ladies of Canada:

Love of country is the strongest characteristic of the average Britisher. Nor is it developed less in the fair Colonist. See her bosom expand with pride, as she speaks of the old country. Hear her dilate on the pleasant time she had when last there.

There was nothing she enjoyed so much as the pleasant afternoon tea. And why? Because she sipped the pure product (GREEN OR BLACK) of Ceylon and India. She can buy both in Canada now. The delicious Salada, Blue Ribbon or Monsoon packets await her pleasure.—Colonist.

Major Snyder Home.

Major Ed. Snyder, son of Mr. Wm. Snyder, McDonnell street, returned from South Africa Sunday. The Major who belonged to the Strathconas, was a victim of enteric fever in South Africa and was invalided to England, and thence came to Canada. We are glad to know that he is in good health now. He left yesterday for Ottawa, but will return to Peterborough again before leaving for his home in the North-West.

Through the Ice

Messrs. D. H. Moore and S. Clegg, while out on a tour of inspection of the lumber camps in the north, had the misfortune to have their horses break through the ice when crossing Ketchecum lake in Cavendish. The intense cold made it difficult for them to save the horses, and it was only after a heroic struggle that they succeeded in doing so. The horses for some time after being drawn out of the water, were unable to stand, being benumbed with the cold. Messrs Moore and Clegg arrived home Sunday with the horses, which belong to Doc Robinson, they being none the worse for their perilous adventure.

THE TAX COLLECTORSHIP.

Mayor Denne has Called the Council Together to Deal With It.

Mayor Denne has summoned the Council to meet to-morrow evening to deal with the collectorship. Although Mr. Henry Denne's condition is slightly improved, it is felt that he will hardly be able to resume his duties as tax collector.

Mayor Denne, in the interests of the town, will ask the Council to appoint a Collector at once.

There are a number of applications for the office and, as is usual in such cases, a fierce scramble is being made for the position.

BASKETBALL

A four-corned basket ball league was formed at the Y.M.C.A. Saturday evening.

A committee was appointed to pick four teams. Each team will select its own captain. Two games will be played each week, Wednesday night at 9 o'clock and Saturday at 8.30. The teams have been well chosen, and some very interesting games may be looked for.

HOCKEY.

The first game of the intermediate series on the rink last night between Peterborough and Lindsay, was the hottest contest of the season so far in this town, and resulted in victory for the home team by the score of 5-3. The men from the Scugog town were accompanied by a considerable crowd of rooters, who seemed to have great confidence in the prowess of their men, and who are now predicting the destruction of the Peterborough men when they visit Lindsay. There was a good deal of rough play—two men of each side were off at one time, and one of the Lindsay men was ruled off five times. The teams were so evenly matched that the result was in doubt until near the end, and the excitement was great. Of the Peterborough men, Parnell played a star game. Crowley and Lynch were also very strong. At half time the score was 3-1 in favor of Peterborough. In the second half each side scored two, and both played for all they were worth. The game was the best of the season. The return match in Lindsay is looked forward to with interest. The teams were as follows:

Peterborough—Goal, Armstrong; point, Glover; cover-point, Crowley; forwards, Graham, Lynch, Parnell and Watt.

Lindsay—Goal, Burk; point, Knight; cover-point, Callahan; forwards, Taylor, Parkin, Hartley and Martin.

Referee—Mr. Henword, Port Hope.

Umpires—Peterborough, W. Sailbury; Lindsay, Mr. Nicholson.

Timekeepers—Messrs. Knowlson and English.

STOP LOSING MONEY!

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 50 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No. 146 W. 42d Street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our Statement!

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. We average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

MESSRS. J. S. HAMILTON & CO, Brantford, Ont., Canada:

Dear Sirs,—In accordance with your wishes I have had both the red and white wines and the champagne tested by several connoisseurs, French and English. All of these expressed surprise that an article of such merit was produced in Canada, and even manufacturers admit that the brand "L'Empereur" is of excellent quality.

This opinion from critics who are by no means easy to please should be very satisfactory to you, and it gives me pleasure to congratulate you upon it. Yours faithfully,

BRITAIN'S BELOVED AND VENERABLE SOVEREIGN HAS PASSED AWAY

The Longest Reign in the History of Britain Ended Yesterday.

ALL THE WORLD MOURNS THE EMPIRE'S LOSS

London, Jan. 22.—The latest bulletins previous to the announcement of the Queen's death, especially the message sent by the Prince of Wales, had dispelled the last gleam of hopes, and the crowds silently dispersed from the front of the Mansion House. Only a few groups awaited the appearance of the final, inevitable announcement, which came in the form of a scrap of paper a foot square, posted on the wall of the Mansion House at 6.58 o'clock. This was the first notice to London's homeward hurrying thousands of the death of the Empress-Queen, and the advent of a King.

Washington, Jan. 22.—President McKinley has sent the following message of condolence to Kind Edward VII. Telegrams sent from Washington, Jan. 22, 1901. His Majesty, the King, Osborne House, Isle of Wight: "I have received with profound sorrow the lamentable tidings of the death of Her Majesty, the Queen. Allow me, Sir, to offer my sincere sympathy and that of the American people in your personal bereavement, and in the loss Great Britain has suffered in the death of its venerable and illustrious sovereign, whose noble life and beneficial influence have promoted the peace and won the affection of the world."

(Signed) "William McKinley."

London, Jan. 22.—There is little doubt that the funeral of Queen Victoria will take place at Frogmere, though nothing in regard to this matter has yet been announced. Her Majesty was so closely related to the European Courts, big and little, that the gathering of Royalties to the obsequies will be unprecedented. The news of the Queen's death reached all the towns in the Kingdom a few minutes after it had been received by the Lord Mayor of London, and was quickly spread throughout the country districts by the tolling of bells. Prince and Princess Louise of Battenberg arrived at Osbone just too late to see her Majesty alive. Parliament it is expected will meet at three o'clock to-morrow.

Kingston, Jamaca, Jan. 22.—The news of Queen Victoria's death created a profound impression here. Business is practically at a stand still everywhere.

London, Jan. 22.—Shortly before midnight an official announcement was issued calling parliament to assemble at 4 o'clock this p.m., (Wednesday afternoon) to enable members of the House of Lords and House of Commons to take the oath of allegiance to King Edward VII.

The Privy Council will meet in London to-day, and the proclamation of the King will occurr thereafter, at all places required by custom.

EFFORTS TO KILL VICTORIA

Seven Attempts Were Made but She Escaped Injury.

Queen Victoria has had many narrow escapes from accidents and death. From her babyhood upward her life has been constantly imperiled. When only six months of age she escaped death as though by a miracle.

Her parents, the Duke and Duchess of Kent, had taken the royal child to Sidmouth, Devonshire, for a change of air. A boy shooting partridges accidentally discharged his gun opposite a window at which a nurse, holding the infant in her arms, was standing. The glass was completely shattered and the nurse's sleeve was riddled with shot, but both the nurse girl and the baby Princess escaped injury.

Four years after the Princess' life was saved by an Irish soldier. The pony carriage in which she was driving upset and would have fallen on her had it not been for the promptness with which the soldier, who was passing by, seized the little girl's white frock and tossed her up into his arms.

Curiously enough, the soldier was not aware until fifty-four years had passed that the child whose life he had saved had grown up to be the Queen of England.

SEVEN ATTEMPTS MADE.

No fewer than seven attempts have been made upon Her Majesty's life, but with the exception of a slight wound on her cheek, she escaped scathless from all these attacks.

A short time after her marriage an insane potboy named Oxford fired twice at the Queen in Hyde Park.

Two years afterward, as the Queen and Prince Albert were driving home from church the Prince Consort saw a man present a pistol and fire point blank at Her Majesty. The weapon fortunately flashed in the pan.

The next day the same man, a fellow named Francis, again fired at the Queen. This time he was captured, tried for high treason, and sentenced to death, but by royal command his sentence was commuted to transportation for life.

The same day the royal clemency was made known a deformed lad named Dean attempted to take Her Majesty's life.

Seven years afterward a man named Hamilton fired at the Queen, and the next year an ex-captain of Hussars named Fate cut open Her Majesty's face with a blow from a stick.

In 1872 a lad named O'Connor was prevented from firing at the Queen by a gendarme, and ten years later a man named Maclean fired at Her Majesty as she was entering her carriage at Windsor station.

HIS MODEST REQUEST.

Soon after the coronation, while Victoria was driving with her mother near Highgate Hill, the horses took fright.

They were stopped by a publican, who, when asked to name his reward, said: "Permission to put the Queen's arms on my sign."

Next day he received the present of a handsome purse filled with coin, of which he laconically observed that "it was heavy, very heavy."

The Queen was also in peril of her life by a carriage accident in Scotland, and twice has been in imminent danger at sea.

When a girl of 14, during a yachting excursion, she was dragged from under a falling mainmast by a pilot named Sanders, and so saved from death.

Forty-two years after this the royal yacht collided with a vessel named the Mistletoe, and two people were drowned within sight of the Queen.

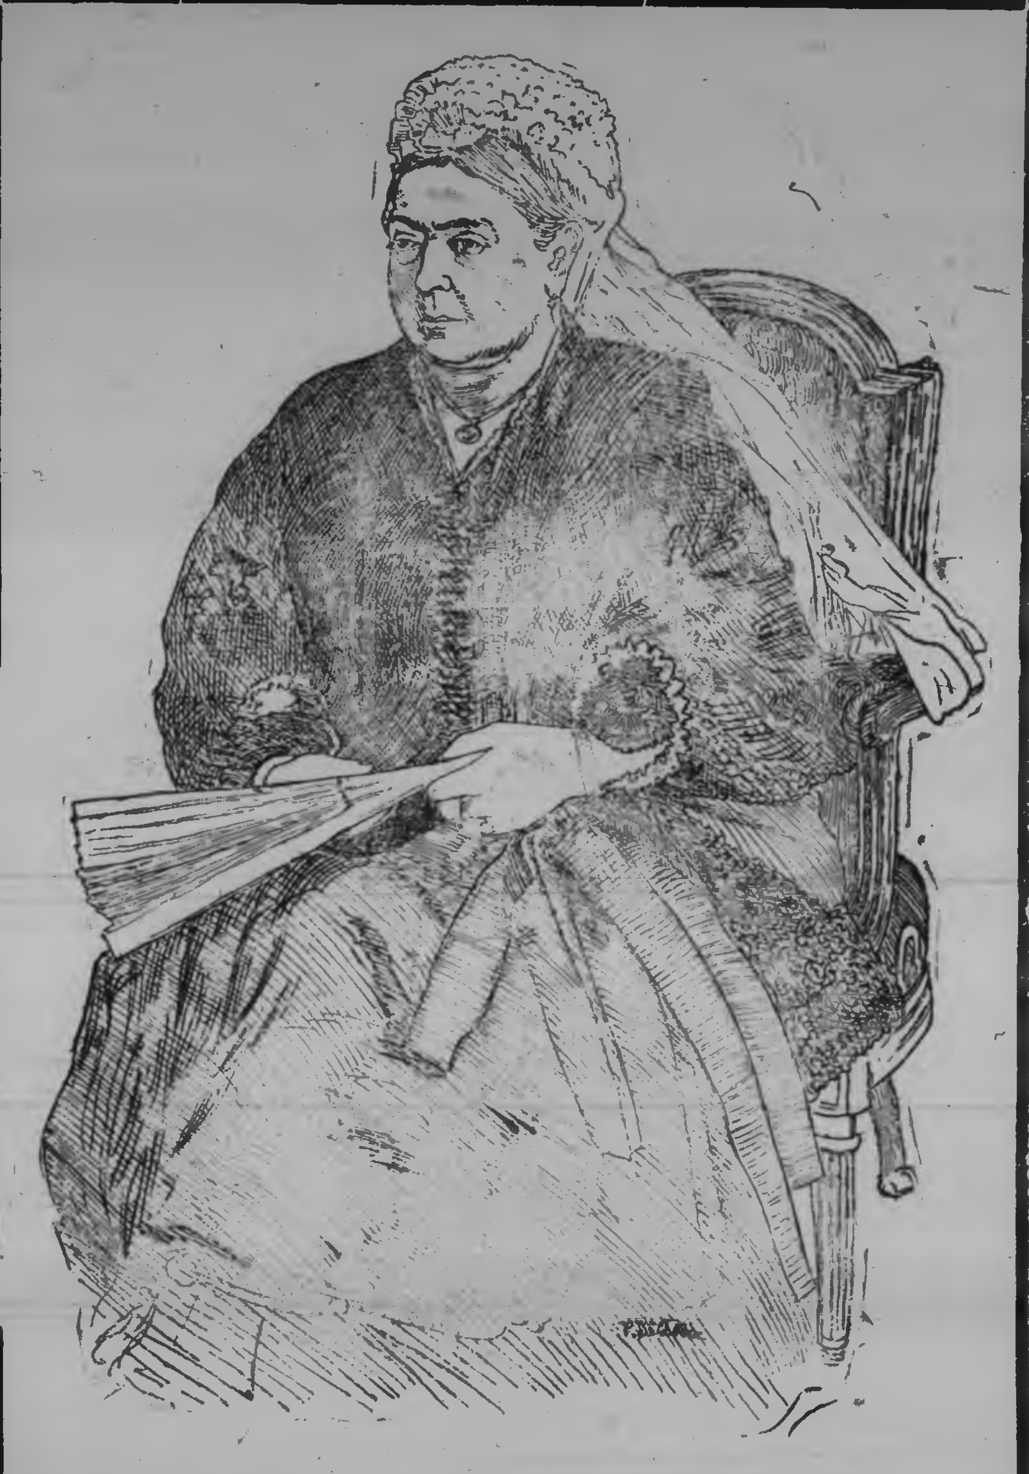
In all these trying experiences the Queen maintained her self-possession, observing that her one thought on such occasions was the regret at leaving certain duties in which she was then engaged unfulfilled.

A REMARKABLE DEMONSTRATION

London, Jan, 22.—There was a remarkable scene outside the Mansion House early this afternoon. On the receipt of the alarming reports something resembling a groan was uttered by the hundreds of people assembled, and then some one started singing the National Anthem. All heads were bared, and in a moment the crowds were singing "God Save the Queen" with a fervor proving how earnestly they wished for her recovery. The passengers in passing carriages, cabs, and omnibuses joined in the singing, the drivers reverently doffing their hats.

C. M. B. A.

The regular meeting of the C.M.B.A., Branch 30, was held last night. After the opening exercises it was moved and carried unanimously, that the Branch adjourn, out of respect for the memory of the late Queen. Several of the members gave short addresses.



BOBS AND KITCHENER.

Trooper Gifford, of Lindsay, Tells of South Africa

Lindsay Post: Since T. A. Gifford's arrival from South Africa he and his wife have been the guests of Mrs. Gifford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fisher, Glenelg street. Last evening a number of the members of Lilly of the Valley Lodge, C.O.O.F., of which Mr. Gifford is a member, gathered at Mr. Fisher's residence to listen to some reminiscences of the war and also to mark by some slight token their gratefulness for his safe return.

Trooper Gifford entertained his visitors in excellent style and the information imparted was amusing as well as profitable. When questioned as to the popularity of Gen. "Bobs" he said that about one-third of the army were sworn friends of "Bobs," while the balance distributed their affections equally between Gen. Kitchener and Gen. Buller. The fact of Gen. Buller being recalled will not injure his military standing, he considered, as Lord Roberts afterwards confessed that he was in error in censuring Gen. Buller. His military career was one of unapproachable achievements, and England to-day counts among her greatest heroes the doughty general. Trooper Gifford related many many instances of the cunning of the Boers and Boer women, and said thousands of rifles and millions of rounds of ammunition are hidden in graves on the various farms, although large numbers have been already secured. He believed the war would continue for fully two years yet, and while Kitchener has not achieved any wonderful successes as yet, when he makes a decided move something has got to go.

In giving some incidents of the humorous side of the war Trooper Gifford said on the field near Bloemfontein one morning, one of the officers informed the men that they were to pass in review before Lord Roberts, and requested that they make a better showing than all the other troops had done, and be sure and see that each horse stepped off on the left foot. The men groaned and grinned when they caught onto the expression. Among the curios brought from Africa by Trooper Gifford were the Boer coat of arms, some Kaffir bracelets and arm rings, some strips from Silver mountain and a diamond from one of the mines.

During the course of the evening [illegible] White read an address and Bro. C. V. Hughes, on behalf of the lodge, presented Bro. Gifford with a clock. Trooper Gifford and wife will leave for Ottawa next Monday.

ORILLIA'S LIGHTING PLANT.

The Town Owns the System, and will Furnish the Best Incandescent Lamps at Cost Price.

The citizens of Orillia have owned their electric lighting plant for some fourteen years, and in addition to low rates for domestic services (in some cases as low as 18c. per 16 c.p. lamp per month), have had the satisfaction of getting their street arc lights for $2[illegible] per year each. This with power produced from steam. When the power line from Ragged Rapids is completed next summer the town will be able to offer great inducements to manufacturers, and no doubt a further substantial reduction will take place in the cost of street and domestic lighting.

"Your committee on Fire, Water and Light beg to report that they would recommend that the town clerk and treasurer be requested to keep on hand a supply of first-class incandescent lamps, and that the light users be notified that the town will supply them with the very best lamps on the market at wholesale cost, which is now about 20c. each, and that they must buy their lamps from the town. Cheap lamps consume more current than good ones, and become dull much quicker, consequently they are undesirable for both the town and the user. Also that the clerk be instructed to make enquiries as to the cost and appliance for testing the light efficiency and current consuming power of the lamps so that when lamps give too little light and use too much current they may be taken out and new ones put in, and that he be empowered to purchase such appliance, if in the opinion of the committee it is not too expensive."

In explanation of the report the mover said that for the sake of greater profit there was a temptation to the merchants to sell inferior lamps which not only give an inferior light, but consume more current. The proposal was to sell the best lamps at cost price, twenty cents each, and have a machine that would test the efficiency of any lamp, so that they might be discarded as soon as they differ from the standard. Meter users with inferior lamps are paying for extra current and getting inferior light.

The suggestion was adopted.

Procedure that is Necessary When a Monarch of Great Britain Dies.

THE THRONE IN ENGLAND IS NEVER VACANT

The procedure that is necessary in the case of the demise of Soverign of Great Britain is now well established by statutory enactment or immemorial usage. It is a maxim of the English constitutional law that the Sovereign, whether King or Queen, never dies—in other words, that the throne is never vacant—but that the succession of the heir is instantaneous. The ceremony of a coronation is merely a solemn recognition and confirmation of the royal descent and consequent right of accession, and is not necessary for the security of the title to the crown. It is, however, highly essential, inasmuch as it tends to a formal establishment of those rights which the people claim from the monarch in return for the duty and allegiance they are bound to observe towards the new Sovereign.

William IV. died on the 20th June, 1837, in the early morning, and before midday the lords of the privy council, and others, assembled at Kensington Palace to proclaim the Queen in the form sanctioned by the common law. The Queen then entered the room, addressed the council—in theory the ancient "witan" or "commune concilium"—and subscribed the oath for the security of the Church of Scotland, as required by the Act of Union. The late King's privy council were then sworn and the Queen issued a proclamation continuing in their offices all who, on the death of William IV., were in the employment of the Crown "within the dominions of the Crown." Later she made a declaration in the presence of both houses against transubstantiation as required by the "bill of rights." The coronation of the Queen, a magnificent ceremonial, did not take place for more than a year. Greville's Memoirs give graphic descriptions of the proceedings on the accession and coronation of the Queen, but the legal formal proceedings on these occasions should be studied in constitutional works and the Annual Register for 1837-38.

The demise of the Crown is the only contingency upon which the English parliament is required to meet immediately—even on a Sunday—without summons in the usual form. Before the revolution of 1688 a parliament was dissolved by the demise of the Crown, but by the Reform Act of 186[illegible] it provided that the parliament in being, at any demise of the Crown, "shall not be determined by such demise, but shall continue as long as it would otherwise have continued, unless dissolved by the crown." In the event of the demise of the Crown all the members of an existing parliament again take the oath of allegiance. An address of condolence and congratulation is passed by the parliament to the reigning Sovereign.

The news of the King's death did not reach Canada until the 31st July, or forty-one days after the accession of the Queen. On the following day Her Majesty was formally proclaimed Queen of British North America with impressive ceremonies. The oaths of allegiance were taken by councilors and others. Addresses were sent from all the colonies, condoling with Her Majesty on the death of the late King, and congratulating her on her accession to the throne. Parliament was also for a long time formally terminated on the demise of the Crown in Canada as in England; but the legislature of Canada in 1813 passed an act providing for the continuance of an existing parliament "notwithstanding such demise." This was all re-enacted in the first session of the parliament of the Dominion (see Revised Statutes of Canada, chap. XI., s.s. 1 and 2). Similar legislation exists in all the provinces. If the great Queen shall have passed away when the Canadian parliament meets then it will be simply necessary under the British North America Act of 1867 to substitute the name of the new King in the place of Her Majesty when the clerk of the house and other commissioners administer the oath of allegiance to the members of the new house of commons, and a similar practice will have to take place in the case of senators. The privy council of Canada and executive councils of provinces remain in office, though they may be called upon to take an oath of allegiance to the new sovereign by name. An address will have to be passed by parliament, legislatures of provinces, and all other important bodies as soon as possible in case of the occurrence of the death of a Sovereign whom not only the British empire but all civilized nations will deeply mourn.

The above interesting and authoritative article is from the pen of Sir John Bourinot, K.C.M.G. It answers questions that every one is asking, now that the death of Her Majesty has taken place, and our readers will unite with us in thanking Sir John for his contribution.

DIRECT HEIRS TO CROWN.

In 1837 the Royal Family of England had so dwindled that the direct line of succession centred in Victoria, a girl of 18. To-day her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren living number seventy-three, and the Queen has lived to see the third generation of her direct heirs to the British crown. Among her grandsons and grandsons-in-law are a reigning Czar, an Emperor, and a Grand Duke. Her eldest daughter is Empress Dowager of Germany, and her descendants will in time wear the crowns of Great Britain, Greece and Roumania. From the union of Victoria of England with Albert of Saxe-Cobourg in 1840 have sprung nine children, forty grandchildren, and thirty-five great-grandchildren. Death has removed eleven of these — two sons and one daughter, one granddaughter and seven grandsons. Marriage brought her Majesty nine daughters and sons-in-law. Three of the latter have died, while thirteen of the fourteen grandsons and granddaughters-in-law survive.

BOERS YET MAKE ACTIVE ATTACKS

And Orders Have Gone Forth That the Burgers Must Comply With Law.

London, Jan, 22.—Lord Kitchener reports to the War Office that the Boers attacked Helvetia, Eastern Transvaal, at midnight. The British suffered no casualties.

Despatches from Cape Town say that fifty Boers looted the town of Aberdeen without opposition. They took 80 horses.

The residents of the Hanover district have been warned that they must surrender to the Government modern rifles hereafter, all the guns heretofore turned in being antiquated weapons. Steps are being taken to enforce the orders for the delivery of all arms and ammunition.

Ex-Treasurer Merriman has embarked for England. It is believed that ex-Commissioner of Public Works Sauer will follow shortly.

Fighting is reported to have occurred outside of Maraisburg, in which a corporal was wounded. It is believed that the invaders are marching towards Molteno. The town of Maraisburg was not entered.

It is reported from Durban that the Portuguese section of the Delagoa Bay Railway will be worked by the British Government, and that the Customs on goods destined for the Transvaal will be collected by British officials stationed at Lorenzo Marques.

The Slayton Singers.

The Herald, Grand Forks, N. D., says: "The Methodist church was crowded to the doors last evening to hear the Slayton Jubilee Singers. The company excel in their plantation melodies, and they render these with pleasing effect, and they were repeatedly encored. The large audience found the program so interesting and of such variety that they were sorry when it was over." They appear at the Opera House to-night. Plan at Salisbury's.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, JANUARY 23 1901

MR. WHITNEY'S POLICY

Mr. Whitney came dangerously near expounding a policy at a banquet given in Weston Thursday night by the Conservatives of West York. Judging from the remarks of the speakers the chief reason why Mr. Whitney is not more prodigal with his planks is because of a fear that the Government would appropriate them and claim the credit therefor. This, Mr. Whitney claims, has already been done in the matter of export duty on logs. That, he claims, was an idea of his own which Mr. Ross has appropriated. Another piece of pilfering, according to Mr. Whitney, is the Government's decision to form a consultative council to assist the Minister of Education.

Still, despite the fate of these two planks, Mr. Whitney appears to have produced two or three more at the Weston banquet. If the Ross Government is defeated he promises:—(1) To manage the finances so as to relieve Ontario from the burden of direct taxation under which it is laboring now; (2) when the finances are upon a more satisfactory footing to increase the sums devoted to the improvement of agriculture; (3) at once to change the educational system so as to make the public schools independent of the high school, and (4) then so to arrange it that the people of Ontario need have no fear that the public pulp or timber lands will be given away to speculators, whether inside or outside of the walls of the Legislature.

These planks have the merit of possessing a certain degree of indefiniteness which will render them rather difficult to appropriate. Possibly that is the reason why Mr. Whitney consented to leave them out over night while Hon. G. W. Ross was around.

IT PAYS IN CHICAGO

Chicago is generally regarded as being far from a model city, yet Mayor Harrison says that municipal ownership there is a success. In a recent magazine article he said:

"When I was first elected mayor, I was approached by a wealthy Chicagoan, who asked me to favor his scheme to purchase the water system for $50,000,000. He had a number of very wealthy men behind him, and I have no doubt would have bid as high as $100,000,000 for the system if he could have secured it. The waterworks had cost at that time a total of $30,000,000 so it shows how valuable they had become under city control. The profit from them at present is $1,600,000 a year, which must be spent on extensions, however; but inside of eight years we can expect to see the system netting the city $1,000,000 a year, after which we will be able to reduce the water tax very materially."

The city electric light plant has been increased in three years from 1,100 to 4,200 arc lights, while the cost of each light has been reduced from $96 a year to $58, against $135 charged by the company which formerly owned the plant and furnished street lighting under contract.

The mayor favours the civic purchase of the gas plant and even goes so far as to advocate the municipal ownership of the street railway system.

THE TIMES LEADS.

This Great Family Journal is Away in Advance.

John Billings says: "I luv a rooster for two things—one iz the crow that is in him, and the other iz the spurs that air on him to bak up his krow with."

The Times has become a popular paper, not only amongst the people of the town and Ashburnham, but also amongst the residents of the surrounding towns and villages.

Mr. Geo. B. Hilliard, of Lakefield, says the Times is regarded in Lakefield as the brightest paper that comes to that burg, and is read by very many in the village.

Wm. O'Brien, the genial clerk of Douro, who has long been a subscriber to the daily edition, says that the Times is the popular paper in that township, 75 per cent of the people being readers. He hopes that it may be long keep up its onward pace.

Mr. Wm. Galion, Reeve of Burleigh and Anstruther, states that the whole back country reads the Times, and regard the paper as one of the very best. He says that it is always full of good things.

Mr. P. P. Young, Young's Point, says everybody reads the Times in that locality. It is admirably conducted.

Mr. James Stevenson, ex-M.P., says the Times is the brightest and best newspaper published in Peterborough.

Commodore Calcutt says he would sooner miss his breakfast than miss getting the Times. It is a famous appetizer, only equalled by Calcutt's celebrated ale.

Mr. J. B. Thornton, Omemee, says the Times is very popular in that village, and is widely read.

Rev. Mr. Bastow thinks the Times deserves great credit for its progressive spirit. It is up-to-date, giving all the news up to four o'clock in the morning.

Recently Mr. Sage and another, of North Smith, brought us in a couple of clubs for the Weekly Times of 80 names. Here are 80 names from one section of Smith alone, that are constant readers of the Times.

Mr. Harry Garbutt, Reeve of Smith, says that the Times is the popular paper in his locality.

Mr. James Baptie, Springville, gives similar evidence, and says you can hardly go into a house in his locality that the Times is not present.

Mr Pearson, the great horse buyer, of Montreal, told the Times the other day that he has better results from the advertisement in the Times than from any other paper. He says he finds the Times is read by almost everybody in the district. He knows this, for almost every horse he buys is the product of the Times advertisement.

Mr. T. Donaldson, Cavan, member of the Counties' council of Northumberland and Durham, says that the Times is very popular in Cavan.

Mr. James Chambers, Manvers, bears similar testimony in regard to Manvers township.

David Healy says that in Asphodel, Hastings and Norwood everybody literally reads the Times.

Dr. Bingham, the popular city Medical Health Officer, missed his Times the other morning, and came to the office for a copy. He said that he was not feeling well, and wondered what was the matter, until he remembered he had not had his Times.

The above are a few of the many evidences we have in our possession of the high regard in which this great family journal is held by the people. Merchants and other advertisers should remember that hundreds upon hundreds of families throughout the town and country cannot be reached by any other way except through the Times.

The Times in Lakefield

Dr. Bell, Lakefield, told the Times yesterday that when the Times fails to reach Lakefield by the morning mail, as it sometimes does, considerably annoyance and disappointment is the result. During the very short days it is not always possible to catch all the early outgoing mails, but we will, in view of the above, try to make the connection hereafter. Our many readers in Lakefield and elsewhere may rest assured that we will do our best to have the paper in the Post Office in time for all early outgoing mails in every direction.

Root and Branch.

Sarah, Duchess of Marlborough, was accustomed to make an annual feast, to which she invited all her relations. At one of these family meetings she drank their health, adding, "What a glorious sight it is to see such a number of branches flourishing from one root!" But observing Jack Spencer laugh, she insisted on knowing what had occasioned his mirth, and promised to forgive him, be it what it would.

"Why, then, madam," said he, "I was thinking how much more the branches would flourish if the root were under ground."

He Felt Funny.

One of the men on board the Olympia, at Manila, tells of the preparations to enter the bay and brave the dangers of the mines and shore batteries:

"About 7 o'clock I took a pillow," he writes, "and lay down on the soft side of a plank to take a nap. All the men slept at their guns. At 9:30 we were quietly called. No bugle sounded. Everything was done quietly. I jumped up and went on the bridge. I felt nervous for awhile; I did not know where we were, and it was as dark as hades. All one could hear was the orders given by the officers and the click of the breech blocks as they were closed. We could see the shape of a big island ahead of us, and we were told that it was the fort. It is about 600 feet above the level of the sea. We could not elevate our guns enough to bear on it, so they fired at us without receiving an answer in return. Our nerves were highly strung now from waiting in suspense. About 12 o'clock we were directly under the guns of the first fort, and when they started to signal and fired a rocket every man braced himself. On we went, not knowing what minute a torpedo or submarine mine would send us all to eternity."

"Speaking of the battle he says: "For a while I thought I was a gone goose. The shells were falling around us thick as hail. We could see the big ones pass over our heads, and the smoke and saltpeter were suffocating. One shell passed about two feet over my head, cutting the signal halyard I was holding. 'Jump up there and get that end,' said the officer. While I was up on the back stay I felt funny, I can tell you."

Exercise and Health.

Exercise is a splendid thing for a healthy person. But when the body is weakened by disease, exercise strains rather than strengthens. Exercise will not cure a "weak" stomach. It may increase the appetite, but it won't cure dyspepsia, and an increased appetite is a curse not a blessing to the sufferer from dyspepsia.

Take exercise by all means but also take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery if there is a deranged or diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. This medicine is not a cure-all but a specific for diseases of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system. It strengthens the stomach, purifies the blood, and increases physical vigor.

There is no alcohol contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and every other narcotic. It is strictly a temperance medicine.

"I wish to say that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has proved a great blessing to me," writes Mrs. Ellen E. Bacon, of Shutesbury, Franklin County, Mass. "Prior to September, 1897, I had doctored for my stomach trouble for several years, going through a course of treatment without any real benefit. In September, 1896, I had very sick spells and grew worse; could eat but little. I commenced in September, 1897, to take Dr. Pierce's medicine, and in a short time I could eat and work. I have gained twenty pounds in two months."

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (none free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. Home Novelty Mfg. A WONDERFUL
KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

I. A. HOPKINS.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, GRAVEL, DROPSY,

And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary trouble which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right, I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been [illegible] by [illegible]. I am 58 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.

Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Mrs. Wm. H. Hardy, East Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured her after six doctors failed. Rev. J. W. Hickman, Collyer, Trego Co., Kansas, cured of [illegible] kidney and bladder trouble of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state.

Not only does this great discovery—Alkavis (the Kava-Kava Compound)—cure all forms of kidney and bladder diseases, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 393 Fourth Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

SECOND HAND COFFINS

They May Be Bought or Rented in New York City.

One of the queerest places in Greater New York is a little undertaker shop in Mulberry Bend, where second-hand coffins are kept. Its owner does a thriving business among the poor Italians of that section, and the same coffin often does duty on many occasions. One can either buy or rent a coffin from the obliging gentleman in charge.

To renters the price depends not only upon the original price of the casket selected but upon the length of time it is kept. From $5 to $10 is usually the price.

Here coffins may be hired by the day or month like dress suits. Poor people find this a convenience, since many of them are unable to buy a decent casket outright. The Mulberry Bend undertaker solves this difficulty as well as adds a ludicrous feature to a gruesome occupation by merely renting a coffin for a funeral.

When the corpse is lowered into the grave and the mourners have left, it is slipped into a heavy pine box and the coffin comes back in the hearse.

In the rear of this unique establishment is an altar fitted up for services, and when the home is small the funeral is held here. Some of the coffins are now in a most dilapidated condition. For years they have been in frequent use.

How Not to Get Sick.

Never lean with back upon anything that is cold.

Never take warm drinks and then immediately go out into the cold.

Keep the back, especially between the shoulder blades, well covered; also the chest well protected. In sleeping in a cold room establish the habit of breathing through the nose, and never with the mouth open.

Never go to bed with cold or damp feet.

These are the sensible suggestions of a writer in Table Talk, who then goes on with the following hygenic advice:

Never omit regular bathing, for unless the skin is in active condition the cold will close the pores and favor congestion or other diseases.

After exercise of any kind never ride in an open carriage or near the window of a train for a moment; it is dangerous to health and life.

When hoarse, speak as little as possible until the hoarseness is recovered from, else the voice may be permanently lost or difficulties of the throat be produced.

Merely warm the back by the fire, and never continue keeping the back exposed to heat after it has become comfortably warm. To do otherwise is debilitating.

When going from a warm atmosphere into a cooler one, keep the mouth closed, so that the air may be warmed by its passage through the nose ere it reaches the lungs.

An Overwhelming Thought.

Our sun is a third-rate sun, situated in the milky way, one of myriads of stars, and the milky way is itself one of myriads of sectional star accumulations, for these seem to be countless, and to be spread over infinity. At some period of their existence each of these suns had planets circling around it, which, after untold ages, are fit for some sort of human beings to inhabit them for a comparatively brief period, after which they still continue for years to circle around without atmosphere, vegetation or inhabitants, as the moon does around our planet. There is nothing so calculated to take the conceit out of an individual who thinks himself an important unit in the universe as astronomy. It teaches that we are less, compared with the universe, than a colony of ants is to us, and that the difference between men is less than that between one ant and another.—London Truth.

Greater Than Royalty.

When Robert T. Stewart was governor of Missouri it was in the days when everybody drank whiskey, and the governor was no exception to the rule. Years ago, when the Prince of Wales was on a visit to this country, they gave a grand ball in his honour in St. Louis. Governor Stewart came down from Jefferson City to honor the event with his presence. In the course of the evening the enthusiastic governor drank rather too much. He became exceedingly happy, as well as proud and enthusiastic. He and the prince were seated on the platform, while the beauty and aristocracy of St. Louis swept past them in gorgeous review. Stewart's feelings and bosom swelled. Eventually, in a mighty impulse of glow and glory, he administered a tremendous slap upon the prince's back, exclaiming with intense animation:

"Say, prince, don't you wish you were governor of Missouri?"

England's heir took it all in good part, and laughed, and paid no further attention to the governor's familiarity, otherwise his dignity might have sustained a severe shock.—Harry Norman in the St. Louis Republican.

Sucked the Poison From 18 Wounded Men.

One of the stories of history which is always of interest to the young is that of Queen Eleanor sucking the poison from King Henry's wound after that monarch had been stabbed with a poisoned dagger. The Queen's devotion saved the life of the King, according to the story which the more austere historians look upon as apocryphal. But here is a modern instance which proves that the story is probably true:

In the recent fighting around L'mu, in Nigeria, in West Africa, a detachment of British were ambushed by a force of natives, who poured in a showed of poisoned arrows upon them. Colonel Lowry-Cole and Captains Abadie and Bryan, three officers out of the four commanding the detachment, were hit by arrows. The poison which the natives use for their arrows has been known to prove fatal in a few minutes.

Dr. Thompson, the surgeon of the expedition, as soon as the officers were hit, sucked the blood from the wounds and with it the poison. As soon as he had attended to the officers he looked after the men, and found that fifteen had been hit. He gave the same treatment to them. All recovered. The doctor experienced no ill effects from his action.

A Complete Musical Library for the Home IN 8 VOLUMES, 4 VOCAL, 4 INSTRUMENTAL, CONTAINING instrumental selections by the great composers: melodious, not too difficult, and including popular and operatic melodies, dances, funeral marches, nocturnes, adagios, military pieces and classic and romantic piano music. The best old and new songs, duets, trios, quartets and choruses upon every subject: Upon friendship, admiration, love and home; upon absence, sorrow, reminiscence, and revery; upon humor, patriotism, nature and morality; no hymns, however; 400 portraits and illustrations, over 500 biographies of musicians, and more than 100 new and copyrighted selections by eminent musicians. The work is planned for cultured homes and sympathetic performers.

Every Home in which there is a Piano

Should possess this Musical Library. The Music that pleases mother, father, young and old is here. The collection is crowded with the best selections for every occasion. When friends are invited or drop in unexpectedly, how often does it happen that there can be little or no music because the favorite pieces of the players are not at hand? And thus such an evening passes delightfully which, without such a collection, might have been a musical, if not a social, failure.

The County Council met yesterday afternoon, and adjourned out of respect t the death of the Queen. Before adjournment a resolution of condolence was passed.

Ashburnham Civic Association

A meeting was held on Monday evening in Ashburnham, which was attended by several leading citizens for the purpose of forming a civic association for the village Addresses were delivered by Rev. Mr. Thompson, Rev. H. Symonds, Reeve Adams, Mr. E. A. Peck and others. It was decided to hold another meeting on the evening of February 8th.

St. Paul's Choir Concert

Mr. Crane has succeeded in securing the services of Miss Ina Fenwick, an elocutionist of rare ability, and Mr. W. J. A. Carnahan, a celebrated baritone, for the annual concert of St. Paul's Church choir, which takes place in the Opera House on the evening of February 5th. This concert will undoubtedly be the musical event of the season.

Why Is This Thus

The Times was asked by a citizen evidently of an investigating turn of mind, why is it that of the thousands and thousands of smokers, nine in every ten, carry their cigars in the left-corner of the mouth? It is a fact as any observant person will see if he notices the peculiarities of his fellow men at all. There must be some reason for it, and no one seems to be able to give it. Perhaps some of our readers can solve the problem.

A Novel Reason

Mr. Winston Churchill, who lectured in Peterborough on the war a short time ago, has been touring the Western States. In Chicago he was entertained by the University Club of that city, and made a speech. He said: "There is considerable sentiment among Englishmen favoring an alliance, but modern alliances are based on interest, not on sentiment. One bond of union between us is the Anglo-Saxon sentiment that you must be in front of a man before you strike him, but in the greatest common trait by which I lay most store is the fact that Englishmen and Americans wash. It remains, after all is said and done, that the symbol of Anglo-Saxon unity is the bath tub and the tooth brush."

Winter Navigation

The following letter appeared in a late issue of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—I notice by a Montreal paper, that Mr. John Kennedy, Montreal harbour engineer, estimates $1900 per month to run the steamer Stanley to keep the river open in winter. Now, I think, an old boat, like the "Stanley," would be useless for the purpose not being strong enough. But if there was a boat built after the style of the "Ermack," it would not require to be so large or powerful that there would be no difficulty in keeping the river open and prevent the ice from accumulating and flooding Montreal.

I am pleased to see Mr. Kennedy coincides with my ideas, that it is possible to keep the St. Lawrence open all winter as far as Montreal.

Yours truly,
H. CALCUTT,
President Peterboro' Navigation Co.

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I desire to revise my proposition re the end of the nineteenth century and the beginning of the twentieth, which has appeared in some of the Toronto papers, and has, I am sure, been misunderstood. My former letter may appear like a bluff, or a challenge for a selfish debate, which, however, is not what I am seeking. My desire is to see this important question settled right, and I believe it can be accomplished best in a friendly discussion before a public audience. My proposition is this: I will pay my railroad fare any reasonable distance and meet any gentleman before a public audience, from which a committee will be selected, who will hear the arguments of both sides and render a verdict at the close of the meeting. The finding of this committee would be given to the press and would mean something of a reliable character in the final settlement of this much-debated question. If I succeed in proving that the nineteenth century passed out a year ago and the twentieth century began with the first of January, 1900, my expenses are to be refunded, and I hope to hear from a gentleman, with whom I will exchange references as to character, and in a friendly way discuss this question to a finish, but I do not intend entering into a letter war through the press.

DROPPED IT.

Quit Coffee and Got Well.

"My breakfast never seemed complete without coffee, but the stomach became gradually weakened, although I had no idea of the cause. An hour or so after eating, a dull aching pain would come in my stomach and sick headache set up. This misery would continue two or three hours, increasing to an intense burning pain, until relieved by vomiting, then I would quickly recover

"Those attacks grew more frequent, and the pain more intense, until it began to affect my general health. I tried many remedies for strengthening my stomach, until finally I noticed that the much loved coffee appeared to have a wooden taste, and I concluded to see what effect leaving it off would have

"In a short time the sick, aching attacks ceased entirely, gradually my stomach regained its vigor. I began drinking Postum Food Coffee and I discovered by experiment that it has a delicious crisp coffee taste, and yet I could drink all I wanted of it, without any oppression; on the contrary, it gave me a well fed, nourished and lightened feeling, instead of the old oppression

"My general health has been greatly improved and I am able to eat, without fear, many things I dared not attempt before. I am grateful that someone has found so satisfactory a beverage. It is already a boon to thousands who have been troubled with coffee drinking, and there are yet thousands who, if they knew the cause of their trouble, would get well by leaving off coffee and using Postum Food Coffee. Please omit name." Name and address furnished by Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

INDIAN RIVER.

On the evening of January 21st a large crowd assembled at the residence of Mr. William Fitzgerald, it being the celebration of his fiftieth birthday. Mr. A. Whibbs gave a lecture on his journey to South Africa and Mr. John McKenty sang a song entitled "The Merry Cat's eyes." The proprietor opened the dancing by a waltz and dancing, "the pidgin's wing," but he says, "boys, you must excuse me my joints are too loose." Baldy McNeilly played the violin and touched every cord to perfection. A game of forty-fives and pedro was played in the upper story, and a couple of the boys came out in the morning with lighter pockets. The play and dancing was kept up until the sun shone bright in the morning.

Sleighing is good, and considerable wood is being taken to town by the farmers.

The Times is eagerly looked for in this locality.

STOP LOSING MONEY!

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 50 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 146 W. 42d Street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our statement!

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. We average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

VOL. 27. NO 20 PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO THURSDAY JANUARY 24 1901 PRICE TWO CENTS

THE WEALTH OF THE LATE QUEEN WAS GREAT

His Majesty's Accession Speech was a Very Sad and Fathetic One.

London, Jan. 23.

The Queen's private wealth yielded an income of about £25,000 yearly. This is exclusive of £33,000 annually from Parliament. She inherited nearly all the Prince Consort's estate of £600,000 forty years ago and £500,000 in 1852 from John Campden [illegible], the son of a rich jeweler. The Queen was a clear headed business woman, and of course had the best financial advice. In 1881 she bought property for £78,000, the market value of which is now estimated to be £170,000. She had estates in several German principalities and inherited a beautiful villa at Baden from Princess Hohenlohe. The Queen's laces are worth an enormous sum. These and her private jewels, gold and pictures, etc., are estimated to value more than a million pounds sterling.

London, Jan. 23.—The following is the full text of his Majesty's accession speech: 'Your Royal Highnesses my lords and gentlemen: this is the most painful occasion on which I shall ever be called upon to address My first andmelancholy duty is to announce you the death of my beloved mother the Queen and I know how deeply you and the whole nation, and which I may say the whole world sympathize with me in the irreparable loss we have all sustained. I need hardly say that my constant endeavor will be always to walk in her foot steps. In undertaking the heavy load which now develops upon me, I am fully determined to be a constitutional sovereign in the strictest sense of the word, and so long as there is breath in my body, to work for the good, andamelioration of my people. I have resolved to be known by the name of Edward which has been borne by six of my ancestors, in doing so I do not undervalue the name of Albert, which I inherit from my ever to be lamented, great and wise father who by universal consent I think deservedly known by the nation as 'Albert the Good,' and desire that his name should stand. In conclusion I trust Parliament and the nation to support me in the arduous duties which now develop upon me by inheritance and to which I am determined to devote my whole strength during the remainder of my life."

Madrid, Jan. 23.—Court will go into mourning for 21 days, and the Government officers have decided to attend the funeral service at the protestant chapel of the British Embassy. The Queen regent and the Minsiters have expressed their condolences and the gala dinner at the palace, the occasion of the King's fete has been countermanded. All the papers print aniogistic appreciation of the Queen Victoria.

Rome, Jan. 23.

Count Ginotti, in behalf of the Queen, the Marquis Quicciolo, in behalf of the Dowager Queen and Viscor Iventess in the name of the Government called at the British Embassy to-day, to convey condolence. All the press comments are sympathetic.

Stockholm, Jan. 23.

In the First Chamber of the Rikstag today, the President, in notifying the members of the death of Queen Victoria, expressed the sympathy of the Swedish people with Great Britain.

Vienna, Jan. 23.

"The death of your good mother has deeply affected me, and I have to express to you on the occasion of this irreparable loss my heartfelt condolence. The deceased Sovereign was for many years a loyal and gracious friend to me, and these mutual feelings of friendly sympathy have ever formed the basis also of our politics. I cherish the hope that there will be no change in these relations through the death of your never-to-be-forgotten mother, and that we two, holding fast to tradition shall procure for our people the blessings of mutual content. (Signed) Francis Joseph."

Cape Town, Jan. 23.

The Presiding Judge of the Supreme Court to-day said: In no part of the Empire will the death of Queen Victoria be felt more than in Cape Colony by the British and Dutch, white and colored, all classes and creeds, a sentence, which I think, with all due reverence, will be presented at the Throne of the Most High. God Save the Queen.

London, Jan. 23, 3.20 p.m.—The King's correct title is Edward VII., King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and Emperor of India.

FIRST PRIVY COUNCIL.

The King drove to St. James' Palace from Marlborough House to preside at the first Privy Council. He was attended by Lord Suffield (who has been Lord of the Bedchamber to the Prince of Wales since 1872), and was escorted by a captain's escort of the Horse Guards. The procedure was exactly as on levee days. By the time the King arrived a great gathering of Privy Councillors, in levee dress, with crape on their left arms, had taken up a position in the throne-room—members of the Royal family, Cabinet Ministers, peers, Commoners, bishops, judges, the Lord Mayor, etc., including the Duke of York, the Duke of Connaught, and lesser members of the Royal family, Lord Salisbury, Lord Rosebery, Mr. A. J. Balfour, the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, and a host of the most prominent personages in the land were there to receive the King's formal oath, binding him to govern the Kingdom according to its laws and customs, and bear him assume the title of King Edward the Seventh of Great Britain and Ireland and Emperor of India.

The ceremony was interesting and according to precedent. The King was in a separate apartment from the Privy Councillors. To the latter the Duke of Devonshire formally communicated the death of Queen Victoria and the succession of her son, the Prince of Wales, to the throne. The Royal Dukes and certain Lords of the Council were then directed to repair to the King's presence to acquaint him with the terms of the Lord President's statement.

Shortly afterwards His Majesty entered the room in which the Councillors were assembled and addressed them in a brief speech. The Lord Chancellor (Lord Halsbury) then adminstered the oath to the King, and afterwards to the various members of the Council. Commencing with the Lords in Council they took their respective oaths of allegiance, and they then passed in turn before his Majesty, as at a levee, except that each paused and kissed hands before passing out of the chamber. This brought the ceremony to a close.

By 3.30 p.m. when His Majesty returned to Marlborough House, the crowd in the neighborhood was of immense proportions.

The King's prior journey was accomplished in almost complete silence, but on thi soccasion he was lustily cheered all along the line of route.

Immediately opposite Marlborough House gates a tall gentleman in the front of the crowd waved his hat and shouted: "Long live the King!" whereupon the crowd cheered with redoubled vigor.

TOWN COUNCIL HONORS THE QUEEN'S MEMORY

Only Necessary Business Done—Temporary Collector Appointed.

The Town Council met last night in special session, in accordence with the call issued by the Mayor, for the purpose of appointing a successor to Tax Collector [illegible], who on account of serious illness is unable to attend to the duties of the office.

On calling the meeting to order, Mayor [illegible] addressed the Council as follows:

"Our Council Chamber is draped in mourning, and this is a visible sign of the sorrow we all feel. Before we proceed with the business for which we have been called, we desire to give further expression to that sorrow, and we will suspend the order of business for that purpose. None of us can remember any other Sovereign than the beloved Queen, who has just passed away, and all our lives it has been our joy to show our loyalty to and our respect and reverence for her. Her rule was such that it endeared her to all her subjects and in no part of the great empire over which she held sway was there felt greater loyalty to the Queen or a stronger love for her than in the Dominion of Canada. We in Canada, with British subjects the world over, feel deeply that she has passed away."

Ald. Roger moved, seconded by Ald. Best, That this Council desires to place on record its profound regret at the irreparable loss which the British nation and the world at large sustain in the death of our beloved and revered Sovereign Queen Victoria, whose life and influence have been one of the most potent factors for good and for the welfare of humanity which the world has ever seen, and whose queenly graces and womanly virtues have endeared her to her Canadian subjects, so that her loss comes home to each as a personal grief.

We rejoice that memories of our noble Queen must ever be associated with all that tends to inspire patriotism, to stimulate devotion and to ennoble character and that her reign stands unique for its unparalleled achievements and for its wondrous beneficence.

While tendering to her illustrious successor and to all the Royal Family the heartiest sympathy of this community, we desire also to give expression of our loyalty to the Crown and person of His Majesty, King Edward VII, and to the universal hope that he may be spared to enjoy the blessings of a peaceful, a prosperous and a happy reign. A copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Governor General.

The resolution was adopted by a standing vote, and a further resolution that only absolutely necessary business be transacted was passed.

On motion of Ald. Corkery, seconded by Ald. Sawers, it was resolved that the Town Building be draped in mourning in memory of our lamented Queen, until after the funeral, and that the Mayor and Alds. Rush and Edgecumbe be a committee to give effect to the resolution.

The Ministerial Association having decided to have a union memorial service in St. Paul's Church on the day of the Queen's funeral and invited the Council to attend the service in a body, a resolution was adopted giving thanks to the Association and accepting the invitation.

Applications for the position of Tax Collector were presented from Wm. H. White, D. H. Burnitt, J. M. White, G. H. Howson, Wm. Brundrette, Thos. B. McGrath, Thos. Rutherford, W. Aldridge, Thos. Morrow, W. S. Yelland, John McClelland, H. Carveth, Wm. Van Every and Thos. McKee.

The Council evidently considered that there was not enough variety to choose from, for on motion of Ald. Sawers, seconded by Ald. Shortly, the applications were referred to the Committee on Appointments, who were empowered to receive further application until Friday at 7 p.m., and then they are to meet the other members of the Council and recommend someone for the position.

In the meantime, in accordance with the advice of Town Solicitor Edwards that the office should not continue vacant, Miss M. J. [illegible] is appointed Tax Collector.

The Board of Works presented the following report, which was adopted.

To the Council of the Town of Peterborough.

Gentlemen, Your Board of Works beg leave to report and recommend that the Town Engineer be authorized to buy all the stone he can, up to 100 cords, at $2.25 per cord. In buying, ratepayers to be given the preference, the stone to be measured in the pile by the Engineer and to be paid for on his certificate.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The Council adjourned.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL IN JANUARY SESSION

Mr. Geo. W. Fitzgerald Elected Warden for 1901.

The County Council met yesterday morning with all the members present. The business of first interest was the election of a Warden, and the contest proved an interesting one, finally resulting in the election of Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald on the casting vote, as provided by law in case of a tie.

ELECTING A WARDEN

Mr. Pearce moved, seconded by Mr. Anderson, that Mr. E. A. Peck be Warden for the ensuing year.

Mr. P. Costello moved, seconded by Dr. Jeffs, that Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald be Warden for 1901.

There were the only nominations, and the Council proceeded to take a vote.

The name of Mr. Peck was first put and was supported by Messrs. Shaw, Casement, Anderson, Pearce and Peck.

Mr. Fitzgerald's name was then put and was supported by Messrs. Crowe, Eastland, Costello, Jeffs and Fitzgerald.

This was a tie, and another vote was taken.

This second ballot resulted as follows:

Mr. Peck— Messrs. Anderson, Peck, Shaw, Pearce and Casement—5.

Mr. Fitzgerald—Messrs. Fitzgerald, Costello, Eastland, Dr. Jeffs, and Crowe—5.

This was another tie, and in conformity with the Act, which, in case of a tie, gave the casting vote, after two ballots on the second day of meeting, to the senior member of the highest assessed division, the Wardenship was about to be decided by the casting vote of Mr. Costello, who received the largest vote in the Smith-Bridgenorth division, which is the one with the highest equalized assessment.

But before this deciding vote was called for, a new interest was given the contest.

Mr. Shaw moved, seconded by Mr. Croew, that Mr. Eastland be Warden.

A vote was then taken on the three names.

Mr. Peck—Messrs. Anderson, Peck, Pearce and Casement—4.

Mr. Fitzgerald—Messrs. Fitzgerald, Costello, and Dr. Jeffs—3.

Mr. Eastland — Messrs. Eastland Shaw, and Crowe—3.

MR. FITZGERALD ELECTED.

Some time was taken for consulation between members over the new position of affairs, and then another vote was taken, with this result:—

Mr. Peck—Messrs. Anderson, Peck, Shaw, Pearce and Casement—5.

Mr. Fitzgerald—Messrs. Fitzgerald, Costello, Eastland, Jeffs and Crowe—5.

Mr. Costello now exercised his double vote, as the senior member of the highest assessed division, and he voted for Mr. Fitzgerald, which gave that member the Wardenship.

Mr. Fitzgerald was then declared elected Warden, and, after taking the oath of office and being robed, was escorted to the chair by Mr Costello and Dr. Jeffs.

Mr. Fitzgerald, in taking the seat, expressed his thanks for the honor done him. He hoped they would work together in harmony for the best interests of the country at large, and that there would be no endeavor to unduly favor one section in preference to another. This was an important year, and the first under a new sovereign. He hoped he would be able to be equal to the trust they had reposed in him. (Applause).

The minutes of the last meeting were then read and confirmed.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN SOLDIERS

Mr. Pearce moved, seconded by Mr. Peck:—

This Council desires to place itself on record at this, the first opportunity offered, and to join with the many residents of this county in a joyous and most heartily welcome to our valient volunteer soldiers, viz., Messrs. Percy Price, Fred. Elmhirst, and J. S. McFarland, of Otonabee; Gerald Hayward, R. Thomson, B. Marling, and Geo. Hendron, of Lakefield; Percy G. Wasson, of Asphodel, Jos. W. White, J. Hall and Fred. Scollie, of Smith, upon their safe return to their friends and homes after their valient services on the fields of battle with the Canadian contingent, of which they formed a part, distinguishing themselves by their valor, pluck and indurance in fighting the battles of the Empire, of which we, as loyal Canadians, are proud to form a part, winning words of commendation from Lord Roberts, commender-in-chief of the British armies, and the praise and thanks of our beloved sovereign and the British nation, who recognize the loyalty of our fair Dominion. As valient soldiers their hearts will throb with emotion of sorrow at the sad tidings flashed from under the sea Tuesday, and with the vast Empire of Great Britain mourn the death of our beloved Sovereign, QQueen Victoria, who has yielded up her earthly sceptre from an everlasting crown.

We have thus been reminded of another cloud that darkens the return of our valient soldiers owing to the absence of one of the members of our country's contingent, who now sleeps in a soldier's grave on the veldt of distant South Africa. William J. Hampton is never to return to his friends and home, but yielded up his life in services of the Empire. We desire to join with the private citizens by contributing the sum of $10 toward a memorial tablet, to be placed in the High School, Norwood, the deceased soldier having but a few short years since completed his education within its walls. We therefore, deem it a fitting place to prepetuate his name and memory before the young and future rising generations, thereby creating a patriotic and loyal sentiment within their hearts for our King and kountry.

The resolution was carried unanimously on a standing vote.

On motion of Messrs. Casement and Shaw, Mr. W. A. Stratton was appointed sessional clerk.

Mr. Crowe moved, seconded by Dr. Jeffs, that the Council Chamber be draped in mourning for the late Queen.—Carried.

On motion of Messrs. Pearce and Anderson, the Council went into Committee of the Whole to select the standing committees.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

THE NEWS IN DENMARK

Copenhagen, Jan. 23.—The news of the death of Queen Victoria arrived here at a late hour. The King was alrendy sleeping, and it was thought best not to disturb him. The Crown Prince was notified of Her Majesty's demise and at once telegraphed condolences to Osborne House. He will attend the funeral, as the condition of the King's health precludes his undertaking the journey.

The late editions of the newspapers announcing the Queen's death created a deep impression. All fetes have been abandoned.

BUSINESS SUSPENDED.

Melbourne, Victoria, Jan. 23.—Business is entirely suspended here as a result of the death of Queen Victoria, and the deepest grief is manifested. Everywhere there are signs of mourning.

STRATHCONA'S TRIBUTE

REPRESENTATIVES' REGRET.

That the President be requested to communicate this expression of the sentiment of the House to the Government of Great Britain. That as a further mark of respect to the memory of Queen Victoria the House do now adjourn.'

PRESIDENT SHED TEARS.

Montreal, Jan. 23.— "Special"—With tears in his eyes, G. B. Reeve, second vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk, referring to the death of the Queen, this morning, said: 'The death of the Queen is, as the death of a mother; that is how I regard it to my thinking. She was the brightest star in the world, and I believe at this moment she is one of the brightest stars in heaven."

PAUL KRUGER AND CO.

Botha Sheds Some Interesting Light on Oom Paul and His Ways.

London, Jan. 22.—Mr. Paul Botha, a typical, rugged, intelligent and upright Boer, who has been for thirty years a member of the Free State Volksraad, a progressive legislator, and the righthand man of Mr. John George Fraser, is just publishing, at Cape Town, a book on the war. The London Daily Mail correspondent at Bloemfontein, who has seen the M.S. of this work, states that its appearance will cause something of a sensation. He has been permitted by Mr. Botha to forward the following chapter, which is published in the Mail:

I have been told that there are people in Europe, in England, and in America who admire Paul Kruger.

I can understand our ignorant Boers being misled by a man of powerful personality, who, knowing them well, can play upon their weaknesses and prejudices, like an expert player upon the strings of a violin. But that Oom Paul should dupe well-educated people, that I cannot understand.

The only way I can explain this mystery, is that a veil of romance has grown round this rugged old man, and that Europe, being 6,000 miles away, accepts him as seen through the eyes of his duped burghers.

He made the burghers believe that he was a phrophet, who, like Moses, was the means of communication between God and his chosen people. This is literally true. In the early days he often vanished for long periods, and when he came back he made the people believe that he had been communing with God. It was absolutely believed by the burghers that Kruger, who was in Heidelberg, knew the result of the battle of Majuba on the very morning on which it was fought.

Add to this his indomitable will, through which he made himself believe that there were two Gods, one in heaven and Paul Kruger on earth, and his undoubted courage, proved in many Kaffir wars, and then you will understand his despotic influence.

HOME TRUTHS.

Let me tear this veil of false romance from him, and let me try and show, the man to you as he really is, and to those Boers whom he has not succeeded in duping always knew him to be.

We know him as an avaricious, unscrupulous and hypocritical man, who sacrificed an entire people to his cupidity. His one aim and object was to enrich himself, and he used every means to this one end. His ambition to power was subordinate to his love of money. He used the Transvaal as a milch cow for himself and his following.

I ask his admirers to show me one good thing he did for his country during all his years of power. He spent millions of the country's money in pretended benefits, millions which were in reality expended for the purpose of feeding up a crowd of greedy favorites and aasvogels (vultures), men who were necessary to him for the furthering of his own ends.

Paul Kruger has been accused of creating many monopolies, but the greatest of all was the monopoly—on a truly impudent and colossal scale—for swindling the Transvaal, at the head of which he stood himself. Anyone behind the scenes knows how impossible it was, even for the most dishonest man outside of this ring, to gain any advantage out of the Transvaal. In proof of what I say, take the scandals over the mealies and donkeys contracts, the dynamite monopoly, the liquor and jam concessions, the Netherlands railway, Lewis & Mark's bottle concession, and numerous others; and I ask What benefit has the country derived from any of these? Are there any institutions for the public benefit in the Transvaal, such as schools, universities, industrial institutions, public works, roads or railways, to justify the vast expenditure of money? No!

KRUGER'S AVARICE.

If you want to know where the money has gone, search the pockets of Paul Kruger & Co.

To show Kruger's avarice and hypocrisy look at minor matters. His salary as President was £8,000 per annum, and this £8,000 he hoarded year after year; he lived, not like the president of a country, but like any Dopper farmer, never spending a single sixpence on charities or any other matter of public benefit. And then he actually had the effrontery to make an application to the Volksraad for an allowance of £300 a year as entertainment money, of which he also pocketed the larger portion, as the only entertaining he ever did was to give cups of morning coffee and a pipe of tobacco.

This very house in which he lived was a gift of Nelmapius, the concessionarie founder of the Hatherley distillery. This man was afterwards justly prosecuted, convitced and sentenced by the presiding judge, but subsequently released on the order of Paul Kruger, which proceedings resulted in the resignation of the judge concerned, who was, it is interesting to recall, a son of Sir John Brand.

The matron of the Dynamite Explosion hospital talks to this day of Oom Paul's crocodile tears when he visited the wretched sufferers, mostly Dutch. He talked of his "arme" (poor) burghers, large tears rolling down his cheeks, but he never gave a single sixpence to help them. He did, in fact, donate £10, which he never paid.

During the war how did Kruger and Steyn feed the destitute wives and children of their "arme burghers," who were risking their lives on commando? Their rations consisted of mealie meal, Boer meal, and nothing else whatsoever. I know, because I was on the veldt committee at Kroonstadt. When I now see the country around Kroonstadt made into a desert, farms burned, and the Boer men, women and children huddled together in refugee camps, absolutely destitute, and living on the charity of the British, then I tingle with indignation to hear that the cruel author of all this avoidable misery, rich, snug and safe, is on his way to Europe, and going to be received by the Queen of Holland, and made a hero of—a hero who was known in the Free State thirty years ago, before he found [illegible] of enriching himself, as [illegible] dealer in oranges and tobacco, [illegible] we strongly suspected of being a very cute slave dealer.

"THE CRISIS OF THIS GANG."

Paul Kruger's successful policy against England, for which England is much to blame, perverted the minds of the greater portion of the Dutch population of the whole of South Africa. I am convinced that Kruger's influence completely changed the character of the Bond—an organization which I believe Hofmeyer started at the Cape with the legitimate purpose of securing certain political privileges, but which under Kruger's henchmen, Sauer, Merriman, Te Water, [illegible] others, raised unrest in the Cape [illegible]. This successful anti-British policy of [illegible] created a number of imitators, Steyn, Fischer, Smuts, and numerous other young educated Afrikanders of the Transvaal, Orange Free State, and the Cape Colony, who, misled by his successes, ambitiously hoped by the same means to raise themselves to the same pinnacle.

Krugerism under them developed into a reign of terror.

If you were anti-Kruger you were stigmatized as Engelschgezind, pro-English, a traitor to your country, and unworthy of a hearing. I have suffered bitterly from this taunt, especially under Steyn's regime. The more hostile you were to England the greater patriot you were accounted.

This gang, which, I wish to be clearly understood, spread over the whole of South Africa, used the Bond, the press and the pulpit to further its schemes.

HIS PRESS AND HIS PULPITS.

Reitz, whom I believe to have been an honest enthusiast, set himself up as second sponsor to the Bond, and voiced the doctrine of his gang. "Africa for the Afrikanders," "Sweep the English into the sea." With an alluring cry like this it will be readily understood how easy it was to influence the imagination of the illiterate and uneducated Boer, and to work upon his vanity and prejudices.

That pernicious rag, Carl Borckenhagen's Bloemfontein Express, enormously tributed in spreading this doctrine in the Orange Free State. I myself firmly believe that the Express was subsidized by Kruger. It was no mystery to me from where Borckenhagen, a full-blooded German, got his ardent Free State patriotism. In the Transvaal this was done by the Volkstem, written by a Hollander, and subsidized by Kruger; by the Rand Post, also written by a Hollander, also subsidized by Paul Kruger; and in the Cape Colony by the Patriot, which was started by intriguers and rebels to their own government at the Paarl—a hotbed of false Afrikanderism. Ons Land may be an honest paper, but by fostering impossible ideas it has done us incalculable harm. It grieves me to think that my poor people, through want of education, has to swallow undiluted the poison prepared for them by such unscrupulous schemers.

When I come to think of the abuse the pulpit made of its influence I feel as if I cannot find words strong enough to express my indignation.

God's word was prostituted; a religious people's religion was used to urge them to destruction; a minister of God told me himself with a wink that he had to preach at the English, because otherwise he would lose favor with those in power. These parsons who snorted fire and destruction from the pulpit, however, carefully stayed at home during the war. I heard one anxious parson in a war sermon urge his burghers, "Go forth, meet the enemy; I shall remain on the mountain top praying for you like Moses of old," solemnly adding that his dear wife, who felt for them as much as he did, would take the place of Aaron and support him when he got tired

MARK TWAIN'S GRIEF.

Great American Humorist too Overcome to Speak.

New York, 25.—When Samuel L. Clemens was asked for a comment upon England's dead Queen and upon the Prince who will rule in her place, the venerable writer sadly shook his head.

"No, I cannot speak," said he "So keenly do I feel the situation that it would take long hours of effort to frame in words what is in my heart."

Mr. Clemens has been honored by British royalty as no other American literatteur. He knows the Prince of Wales perhaps better than any other American and is reckoned by him as a personal friend.

YARD ENGINE WENT AMUCK.

Jumped an Open Switch and Ran off and on Tracks.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 23.—An old yard engine made a spectatular dash in the Council Bluffs yards to-day and left wreck, ruin and death in its path. No driver was in the locomotive at the time and the fires were low. It was on a side track near the roundhouse. Suddenly it started at a rapid pace towards the myriad of tracks adjacent on which the morning passenger trains were moving. To reach the main line the machine had to jump an open switch. It accomplished that feat with ease and rushed into the passenger trains.

Jesse Bell, a porter, was swinging on the rear of a Wabash train. The wild engine hit the coach diagonally. It turned over and crushed the life out of Bell. Mrs. James Hostler and two children of Omaha were imprisoned in the wrecked coach and seriously hurt. The shock did not damage the running gear of the wild engine, and it immediately started along another track at right angles, bumping along the ties at a merry rate. A Union Pacific switch engine was passing along the course of the runaway engine, and it was struck amidship. The Union Pacific engine toppled over and the wild engine promptly jumped back on the track without disturbing the running [illegible].

The engineer of the wrecked switch engine sprang from his machine just in time to avoid being crushed to death and jumped aboard the runaway. He threw the throttle over, [illegible] the momentum of the wild engine was sufficient to carry it into collision with a crowded Rock Island passenger train. It derailed the Rock Island passenger engine, but did not injure anyone. By this time the wild engine was under control and was backed into the round-house. It had not been damaged by the fierce struggle it had made.

THE QUEEN

The reign which was ended Tuesday was not merely the longest but the greatest and most glorious in English history. Nearly sixty-four years ago, a young girl succeeding to the throne of the Georges, appealed to the chivalry of the nation, and captured the sympathies of the British people as none of her ancestors had ever done. It is the testimony of those best qualified to judge that never monarch ascended a throne with a greater sense of responsibility to God and man, or with more resolute determination to discharge faithfully the duties of a sovereign. The purification of the Court of St. James' and the elevation of the tone of society were as natural consequences of the accession of the young Queen as the vanishing of the morning mists before the rising sun. But few of the devoted statesmen and warriors who stood around the throne at that time could have dreamt that the day would come when personal influence of Queen Victoria would become not only a great power in the council of the nation, but a great power in the councils of Europe. Yet, what was more natural? Here was a woman of exceptional intellect, in constant and confidential consultation with the great statesmen of the United Kingdom, and in constant correspondence with the continental sovereigns. To no single person was it given to know more of the actuating motives of the leaders of both political parties in Great Britain; and this educational process was continued for over three score years. The dominating feeling of the people towards the Queen was in the early years of her reign, sympathy, in the later period, profound confidence in her political sagacity and fidelity to the constitution, and in the twilight of her life a deep and heartfelt gratitude. From 1837 to the present day loyalty to Queen Victoria has been part of the religion of her people, and the only religion of some of them. It is not too much to say that the personal [illegible] the Queen has checked the rising tide of destructive democracy. The constitutional monarchy has become in the estimation of the British people the best bulwark of their liberties. They have looked abroad and they have seen crude experiments in democratic reform; they have seen one form of tyrrany succeeded by another, with occasional intervals of sanguinary chaos. Meanwhile from precedent to precedent the great structure of British constitutional liberty has been advancing. The Queen's accession came at a critical time, when the spirit of revolution was in the air of Europe. Had another George ascended the throne, the course of English history might have taken a new direction. By showing constitutional monarchy at its best Queen Victoria gave the common sense of the nation an opportunity to assert itself. Her Majesty's unwavering fidelity to the constitution, so far from weakening the influence of the Crown has made it greater than ever. In place of the constant assertion of personal authority, irritating to a people jealous of their liberties; we have had a great reserve power available for great occasions, and more responsive to the popular will than any scheme of factional representation. Queen Victoria has set a standard of respect for the Constitution that can never be departed from by any of her successors. For this reason, while the hearts of millions throughout this vast empire are grieving to-day for the loss of a great and well-beloved monarch, there is no fear of any constitutional crisis. The throne is as much the rallying-point of British patriotism to-day, as it was yesterday. The King has not only the deep sympathy of the great nation over whom he is called to reign; but their confidence and esteem.

It is a pathetic circumstance that the last year of Her Majesty's life should have been saddened, and, indeed, that her death should have been hastened, by the war now so unhappily waging in South Africa. Pathetic, because through her reign, she has labored so consistently and with frequent success to preserve peace at home and abroad. Pathetic, because the most intense desire of her latest years was that she might lay down the sceptre and depart this life, with her country at peace. That she was spared the awful responsibility of declaring war, is some consolation. But Her Majesty could not escape the harrowing worries caused by the flower of England being cut down on the plains of Africa; nor the anxieties caused by the unaccustomed reports of reverses to British arms. That the Queen would have shrunk from the responsibility of declaring war, on account of her personal distase for war, had it become her obvious duty, nobody would imagine. Queen Victoria was, as her own poet laureate has said: "Ever loyal to the loyal in herself" and the duties most faithfully performed were no doubt the most distasteful.

In all lands over which the British flag flies, in the cottage as in the most stately homes, the great Queen will be sincerely mourned. In Hindoo temples and in Mohammedan mosques as in the Christian churches, there will be lamentations for Victoria, the Servant of God, and prayers for the greatly bereaved royal family.

THE RISKS WOMEN TAKE FOR THOSE THEY LOVE

We thrill at the story of "Curfew shall not ring to-night." Yet it is melodramatic and commonplace beside the peril every woman runs who faces motherhood. Women are strangely self-forgetful. The exaltation of the fact of motherhood blinds them often to its peril. Yet the husband who can bear no tithe of the mother's pain or peril owes it to himself to see that his wife is in that condition of sound health which minimizes the risk both to mother and child. Many husbands have expressed their gratitude for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, because it makes the pain of motherhood practically nothing and reduces the risk to its lowest possible point.

"Five years my wife was in an almost helpless condition, suffering from female weakness," writes J. S. Everritt, Esq., of Hagerman, Washington Co., Fla. "Last September I decided to have her try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. She took several bottles of the medicine and gave birth to a ten pound son on January 31st, 1899. She is now sound and well and doing her housework."

SUNLIGHT TO KILL MICROBES

Dr. Henriot of the Paris Board of Health has startled the theatre-goers of the French capital by telling of the large numbers of harmful microbes that fill the air in the playhouses and lie in wait for the spectator. He has found that the worst places are those with the least air and sunlight. Plush seats and draperies cause a marked increase in the bacilli, but the organisms exist in abnormal numbers wherever the room is not frequently opened to the outside air and light. Ordinary ventilation merely scatters the microbes through the atmosphere without removing them. Dr. Henriot says the only sure preventative of the dangers that lurk in the theatres is to be found in better natural aeration and in the construction of large windows to let in the sunlight.

Apparatus like that used by the French scientist would undoubtedly show similar results, not only in our own theatres, but in our churches and even in residences from which the sunlight is excluded. It is one of the important discoveries of bacteriology that sunlight is the deadliest natural enemies. The light has as much to do with the purity of a contaminated river as has the aeration. Sunshine and lack of moisture will kill almost any kind of microbe in a short time. In a recent lecture before the Royal Institution of Great Britain Mr. Allan Macfadyen, of the Jenner Institute of Preventive medicine laid especial stress on the bactericidal effects of sunlight. He said a scientist could find no surer way of losing the cultures in his test tubes than by exposing them to the light of day.

Even diffused sunlight weakens the bacilli and renders them harmless. Direct rays of the sun are fatal to the typhoid bacillus in from half an hour to two hours, and to the diphtheria bacillus in a somewhat shortened. The rays at the violet end of the spectrum are the most deadly. Dr. Macfadyen stated that "the continuous daily action of the sun, along with desiccation, is an important physical agent in arresting the development of the disease germs that are expelled from the body." The health of the people will be much better protected when this scientific fact is generally understood and acted upon in the care of our homes, churches, and places of amusement.

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (none free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. A WONDERFUL KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

I. A. HOPKINS.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, GRAVEL, DROPSY, And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

[illegible]—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary trouble, which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I [illegible] had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I found [illegible] that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything [illegible]. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken [illegible] I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism [illegible] digestion became all right, I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been [illegible]. I am 53 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.

Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

[illegible], D. D., Washington, D. C., [illegible] writes that after trying [illegible] rheumatic [illegible] cured by Alkavis. [illegible] writes that Alkavis cured [illegible] failed. Rev. J. W. Hickman, Collyer, [illegible] Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble, of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new [illegible] "A Thousand Living Witnesses," [illegible] tells of the [illegible] in every state.

[illegible] this great discovery—Alkavis [illegible] cures all forms of kidney and bladder diseases, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 5[illegible] Fourth Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

LANDMARKS IN THE VICTORIAN ERA

1837—QUEEN VICTORIA

The Queen came to the throne in 1837. "Never was anything like the first impression she produced, or the chorus of praise which is raised about her manner and behavior." Greville declared that the young Queen, who might well be either dazzled or confounded with the grandeur and novelty of her situation, "seems neither the one nor the other, and behaves with a decorum and propriety beyond her years."

1838—THE QUEEN'S CORONATION.

The Queen was crowned in Westminster Abbey on June 28, 1838. Greville says that the different actors in the ceremonial were very imperfect in their parts, and had neglected to rehearse them. The Queen said to Lord John Thynne, "Pray tell me what to do, for they don't know." At the end, when the orb was placed in her hand, she said, "What am I to do with it?" "Your Majesty is to carry it, if you please, in your hand." "Am I?" she asked. "It is very heavy."

1839—THE PEOPLE'S CHARTER.

Social conditions at the beginning of the Queen's reign led to the rise of Chartism. 1,200,000 men signed the People's Charter, which was presented to Parliament in 1839, but rejected. The six points of the Charter were Manhood Suffrage, Annual Parliaments, Vote by Ballot, Abolition of Property Qualification, Payment of Members, and Equal Electoral Districts. There was much excitement and alarm at the advocacy of these points, but several of them have now been adopted.

1840—PENNY POSTAGE.

The Penny Postage was first established in England on January 10, 1840, by Rowland Hill. He found that 1s. 4 1-2d. was charged for taking a letter from London to Edinburgh, whereas the actual cost of conveying it was one-thirty-sixth of a penny. He suggested the penny stamp—"a bit of paper just large enough to bear the stamp, and covered at the back with the glutinous wash." Penny postage was carried in the Commons by 215 to 113, and without a division in the Lords.

1841—NEWMAN'S "TRACT NO. 90."

A great sensation was caused in 1841 by the publication of Tract No. 90, of "Tracts for the Times." Its author was John Henry Newman, who was promptly censured by the Vice-Chancellor of Oxford. "The movement of which some important tendencies were formally censured in the condemnation of this tract was one of the most momentous that had stirred the Church of England since the Reformation." In the sequel Newman joined the Roman Catholic Church.

1842—THE CABUL MASSACRE.

In 1842 over 4,000 men and many women and children began to withdraw from Cabul, safe conduct having been promised them. "When they were within sixteen miles from Jellalabad the number was reduced to six. Of these six, five were killed by straggling marauders on the way. One man alone reached Jellalabad to tell the tale Literally one man—Dr. Brydon—came out of a moving host which had numbered in all [illegible] when it set out on its march. The women and children were kept in captivity, and escaped this terrible [illegible]

1843—SECESSION OF DR. CHA[illegible]

A dramatic day for Scotland was that 18th May day in 1843, when 500 ministers of the Kirk of Scotland, headed by Dr. Chalmers, "went deliberately forth from their positions of comfort and honor, from home and competence, to meet an uncertain and perilous future, with perhaps poverty and failure," and formed the Free Church of Scotland. "It grew naturally out of the inevitable struggle between Church and State. . . . and its success is his best monument."

1844—MAZZINI'S LETTERS.

Mazzini was living in England in 1844, and there was a great outcry when the Government suspected him of making this country the headquarters for a conspiracy against Austria, and opened his letters at the post-office. Carlyle wrote to the "Times" in protest.

1845—THE RAILWAY MANIA.

Parliament granted powers in 1845 for the construction of 2,883 miles of new railways, with a capital of £44,000,000. "For a time it seemed to be a national article of faith that the capacity of the country to absorb new railway schemes and make them profitable was unlimited."

1486—REPEAL OF CORN LAWS.

Sir Robert Peel in 1846 changed his views in the Corn Laws, and in that year Bright and Cobden saw the end of their great agitation. In February Sir Robert Peel announced a fixed duty on corn for three years, and then its entire abolition. He declared that by the gradual removal of protection industry had been promoted, crime diminished, morality improved. He proposed that in February, 1849, oats, barley, rye and wheat should be admitted at a merely nominal duty, and that during the interval there should be a continuation of sliding scale, falling from 10s., when wheat was under 48s. a quarter, to an invariable duty of 4s, when the price reached 54s. The second reading of the bill was moved on March 23, and it passed on March 27. In the debate Disraeli first won a name.

1847—CHLOROFORM DISCOVERED.

Sir James Simpson discovered chloroform in 1847. In 1896 three quarters of a million doses were made weekly. "Where should we be without anaesthetics?" asked Mr. Lawson Tait, the great surgeon. "No human being could undergo in a conscious state such operations as I have seen of. At the head of the list for whom I claim the true credit I place the name of Simpson, the greatest genious our profession has produced for centuries."

1848—LOUIS PHILLIPPE IN ENGLAND

As soon as Louis Phillippe left the Tuileries in 1848 the mob gutted it. The French king made his way to the coast, and thence to England. His first lodging was at Newhaven, at the Bridge Inn. Later in the year he was sworn in as special constable, when fears were entertained of trouble from the Chartists.

1849—THE QUEEN IN IRELAND.

The Queen and Prince Consort paid their first visit to Ireland in 1849. The royal children the four eldest—were objects of universal admiration and attention. "Oh, Queen, dear," screamed a stout old lady, "make one of them Prince Patrick, and all Ireland will die for you."

1850—DOVER-CALAIS CABLE.

The first sub-marine telegraph was laid between Dover and Calais in 1850. About thirty miles of copper wire covered with gutta-percha were taken on board a steam tug and wound round a drum. Communication was maintained with the shore where the cable was being laid. The first message sent across by Mr. Brett, the originator of this cable, was to Louis Napoleon.

1851—THE GREAT EXHIBITION

The first Great Exhibition was held in Hyde Park. It was opened by the Queen and Prince Consort on May 1, and closed on October 11. 25,000 people were in the Exhibition on the opening day, and 700,000 lined the route to it from Buckingham Palace, 6,170,000 people visited it, in all. Paxton, the designer of the building (now the Chrystal Palace) rose, wrote the Queen, "from being a common gardener's boy."

1852—WELLINGTON'S DEATH.

The Iron Duke, aged eighty-three, died in 1852, at Walmer castle, while asleep. He was buried in St. Paul's, and his body was carried thither on a car made from guns taken by himself. So heavy was it, that it several times stuck in the roads. Over 50,000 people saw him lie in state in Chelsea Hospital. Tennyson sang his requiem.

O good gray head which all men knew,
O voice from which their omens all men drew,
O iron nerve, to true occasion true;
O fall'n at length that tower of strength
Which stood four-square to all the winds that blew.

1853—TRANSPORTATION ABOLISHED

Before 1853 criminals of all grades were liable to be sent across the seas for even slight offences. In 1853 a bill was brought which substituted penal servitude for transportation, unless the sentence was for fourteen years or over. In 1857 transportation was altogether abolished.

1854—THE LIGHT BRIGADE.

The Charge of the Light Brigade—"O what a charge they made"—was an incident of the Crimean War of 1854:

"Into the valley of death Rode the six hundred."

There were 670 men; 195 only were left mounted, 325 horses were killed; and all in twenty minutes. The brigade lost 12 officers killed and 11 wounded; 147 men were killed, and 110 wounded or missing. The whole incident rose out of a mistaken order.

1855—FALL OF SEBASTOPOL.

The Russian general in command at Sebastopol wrote when he and his troops left it: "It is not Sebastopol which we have left to them, but the burning ruins of the town which we ourselves set fire to." The siege had lasted nearly a year, and with the fall of Sebastopol the Crimean war came to an end. It is estimated that the enemy lost 28,129 men killed and wounded; while the allies lost 14,867.

1856—THE V. C. FOUNDED.

To reward the heroes of the Crimean War the Queen established the Order of the Victoria Cross. There were 62 of them and the Queen herself pinned the cross upon each in Hyde Park, which was crowded with spectators. The V.C. is made from guns captured at Sebastopol, and some 500 have been awarded.

1857—INDIAN MUTINY.

The terrible Indian Mutiny broke out in 1857. The native soldiers disliked to have their cartridges greased by the fat of animals prohibited by their religion. The foulest deed of the mutiny was the massacre, when Nana Sahib slaughtered with terrible cruelty the women and children of the English garrison. "When the house of the massacre was entered, its floors and its walls told with terrible plainness of the scenes they had witnessed. . . . . The floor was strewn with scraps of dresses, women's faded finery, frilling, underclothing, broken combs, shoes and tresses of hair."

Every Home in which there is a Piano

Should possess this Musical Library. The Music that pleases mother, father, young and old is here. The collection is crowded with the best selections for every occasion. When friends are invited or drop in unexpectedly, how often does it happen that there can be little or no music because the favorite pieces of the players are not at hand? With this collection of music in the house, no one will be excused from playing or singing because "I have no music with me." And thus such an evening passes delightfully which, without such a collection, might have been a musical, if not a social, failure.

PETERBOROUGH, JANUARY 24 1901

VICTORIA.

She wrought her people lasting good.
Her court was pure, her life serene;
God gave her peace; the land reposed;
A thousand claims to reverence closed
In her as Mother, Wife and Queen.
And statesmen at her council met
Who knew the seasons when to take Occasion by the hand and make
The bounds of freedom wider yet,
By shaping some august decree
Which kept her throne unshaken still,
Broad-based upon the people's will
And compassed by the inviolate sea.

He Likes the Times

Mr. Isaac Richardson, the well-known drover of Millbrook, called to pay his subscription to the Times on Tuesday. He said that the Times was by far the best paper in this district. He noticed that the paper was very generally read throughout the Millbrook district.

Mr. McHugh's Appointment.

The people of the Midland District have reason to feel pleased that the Government has selected Mr. George McHugh, ex-M.P., of Lindsay, to fill the vacancy in the Senate caused by the death of Sir Frank Smith.

Mr. McHugh is not only popular in his native town and county, but his good name extends far beyond the borders. Possessed of a genial temperment and a kindly disposition, he has the faculty of making and retaining friends, added to which he possesses ability to discharge the duties of Senator in a way that will do credit to himself and the district he represents.

Died in Toronto.

Yesterday morning Mr. G. W. Green, the well known manufacturer, received intelligence of the death of his father at St. Michael's hospital, Toronto. The sad news came as a melancholy surprise, for while Mr. Green had undergone an operation at the hospital, no serious results were contemplated. Heart failure was pronounced to be the cause of death. Mr. Green had been at the hospital for about two weeks, but had been home once during that time, returning on Tuesday last. The late G. W. Green had been a resident of Millbrook and was about sixty-seven years of age. There survive him four sons and two daughters, G. W. Green, of town; Guy, of Hamilton; Joseph, who resides near Chicago; Robt., in the Northwest, and Miss Lottie and Miss Nellie, of Millbrook. Interment will take place to-day at the family lot at Drayton, Ont.

The Late Mr. Chas. T. Spilsbury.

Mr. Charles T. Spilsbury, an old and much esteemed resident of Peterborough, passed away at four o'clock yesterday morning. He was born near Colborne, Ont., in 1824, and came to Peterborough when only 19 years of age, residing in North Monaghan, about three miles from town. In 1854 the late Chas. T. Spilsbury married Caroline Attrell, daughter of the late Thos. F. Attrell, Esq., a paymaster of the Royal Navy. Mrs. Spilsbury died some three years ago. After a residence of about 35 years in Monaghan, the family removed to Otonabee, where he remained 3 years, removing to Haliburton County and to Lindsay, finally settling in Peterborough about seven years ago. Of the family surviving there are two sons and one daughter, Dr. E. A. Spilsbury, of Ottawa; Dr. F. C. Spilsbury, of Buffalo, N.Y., and Miss Martha Spilsbury at home. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m., from the family residence, Fleming avenue, to the Little Lake cemetery.

THE NEW WARDEN

The County Council, in selecting Mr. George W. Fitzgerald to the position of presiding officer, have chosen a gentleman well qualified for the office. Mr. Fitzgerald has had considerable municipal experience, having been a member of the township council of Smith for several years, as well as a member of the County Council for a considerable period. Possessed of splendid business abilities, backed by a thorough knowledge of the duties pertaining to the office of Warden, he is the right man in the right place. His election does not in any way reflect on Mr. Peck, who was also nominated, but who was only defeated by the casting vote of the member entitled to record it. Mr. Peck should take it as a notice that his promotion is only slightly delayed.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN

—The annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society will take place to-morrow at the Council Chamber at 4 o'clock p.m.

If your stomach is weak it should have help. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength to the stomach and cures dyspepsia and indigestion.

Thomas Hoskins' Nerves.—Mr. Hoskins, a resident of Durham, Ont., for a score of years, was a martyr to stomach and nerve disorders. Schooled to prejudice against "patent medicines," he started using South American Nervine as, he says, "a last resort," but six bottles of this great remedy proved to be his salvation physically. It can be yours.—124

—Mr. Hector McConnell, barrister, of Morden, Man., is visiting relatives in town.

—Mr. S. Windsor and Mr. John Lane, of Apsley, were in town yesterday, and gave the Times a friendly call.

—Miss Reid, nurse at Nicholls Hospital, who is recovering from an attack of typhoid fever is a guest of Miss Robertson, 397 Reid street.

On Suspended Sentence.

At a session of the County Judge's Criminal Court, Cecil Castor, who was charged with stealing a bicycle from T. Parker, town, last December, was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

A fine picture of the members of the 57th Regiment Band is on view in the window of Lech's fur store. It is the work of Mr. R. M. Roy, photographer, and reflects much credit on the artistic ability of that gentleman.

Peterboro Navigation Co.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Navigation Company took place yesterday afternoon in the office of the Secretary, Mr. R. E. Wood. President Calcutt was unable to be present, and the meeting adjourned for one week without electing officers.

A New Manager.

Mr. Jas. S. Shook, formerly of Toronto, and lately of British Columbia, arrived in town yesterday to enter upon his duties as manager for the Dickson Company. Mr. Shook is a gentleman of large experience in the lumbering business, and is well qualified to undertake the management of the important interests of the Dickson Company. The Dickson Company, we are sure, will have a period of great prosperity ahead of it, under Mr. Shook's management.

This Is What They Say

Those who take Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, eczema, eruptions, catarrh, rheumatism or dyspepsia, say it cures promptly and permanently, even after all other preparations fail. You may take this medicine with the utmost confidence that it will do you good. What it has done for others you have every reason to believe it will do for you.

Constipation is cured by Hood's Pills. 25c.

An Appropriate Window.

The windows of Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co.'s store are attracting much attention. One window shows a large picture of the Queen, surrounded by white lillies and other white flowers. The picture is draped with crape, while the Union Jack is also conspicuously displayed. The whole space is filled with rich and beautiful black suitings, white shirts, etc., which greatly adds to the effect. The other window is also handsomely dressed with rich goods, black and white, which is exceedingly appropriate. Messrs LeBrun & Co., in these beautiful decorations, exemplify the respect and adoration which is filling the hearts of the people over the death of our beloved Queen.

Slayton Jubilee Singers

The Slayton Jubilee Singers gave one of their unique and attractive entertainments last night in the Opera House. The Company presented a varied programme of negro melodies, rollicking glees, whistling and impersonations. Every number on the programme elicited deserved applause, and the audience were delighted throughout. This is the second entertainment of the People's Popular Course, and it will go a long way to ensure the success of the others yet to follow. Mr. A. W. Boylead, who has been in town several days working up a good house, deserves much credit. To him is almost wholly due the great success which the People's Popular Course has met with in Peterborough.

THE DOCTOR'S WIFE.

Watches the Effect of Proper Feeding

"I have an excellent opportunity to know of the effect of food in sickness, for my husband is a practicing physician and has been recommending Grape-Nuts food for some time. I have watched the result, and have never known a case where it has not given satisfaction.

"One instance will perhaps suffice to illustrate. A professor in the high school here was in very poor health from stomach trouble. He finally got into such a condition that he could not eat any food whatever without suffering, and was so reduced in strength that he could hardly walk. He was put on Grape-Nuts food and gained rapidly and is now in good health. His cure was effected by the use of Grape-Nuts food." Mrs. Dr. Lyman, Croton, O.

1858—INDIAN VICEROY

As a result of the Indian Mutiny, the Government of India was transferred from the East India Company to the Crown in 1858. The Viceroy and Governor-General was made supreme, but he was to be assisted by a Council. Lord Canning became the first Viceroy.

1859—VOLUNTEERS ENROLLED.

Volunteer corps were first formed in 1859 and on June 23 the Queen held a great Volunteer Review in Hyde Park. 18,450 Volunteers passed before her. In the next month there was a great volunteer shooting match at Wimbleton, when the Queen gave a prize of £250. In the same year 20,000 Volunteers were reviewed by the Queen at Edinburgh.

1861—AMERICAN CIVIL WAR.

Civil war broke out in the United States in 1861, the chief point of issue being that of slavery. A Southern Confederation was formed, and Jeff Davis became its president. "Mr. Lincoln announced that he had no intention to interfere with the institution of slavery where it existed, but that no state could lawfully get out of the Union."

1862—ESCAPE OF ALABAMA.

The Alabama was a privateer, built on the Mersey. She was built for the Southern States, and so successful was she that she captured nearly seventy vessels belonging to the Northern States. She was, however, sunk near Cherbourg. The English Government denied any responsibility for the damage done by the Alabama, but expressed a willingness to arbitrate on the matter. The award went against England, who had to pay about 3 1-4 millions sterling.

1866—ATLANTIC CABLE LAID.

An electric telegraph was successfully laid across the Atlantic ocean in 1866. The Great Eastern carried and paid out the cable from Valentia to Newfoundland, and having successfully done this it recovered a cable which had been lost in 1865. Then for the first time in the world's history there ran along the bottom of the ocean messages and greetings from the Queen to the President.

1867—NEW REFORM ACT.

The Reform Act of 1867 was described by Lord Derby as a leap in the dark Under Mr. Gladstone's criticisms it was entirely changed. It abolished compound householders, admitted lodgers to the franchise, reduced the county franchise, and made a redistribution of seats.

1868—TELEGRAPHS PURCHASED.

In 1868 it was decided to buy out the telegraph companies, and so to make the communication by telegraphy a State monopoly. In 1869 the Marquis of Hartington brought in the bill. The cost of the transfer was £6,750,000.

1870—SCHOOL BOARDS.

Mr. Forster introduced his Elementary Education Bill in 1870. Its object was to establish School Boards with power to compel children from five to twelve to attend their schools. Existing schools were for the most part to receive Government grants if found efficient.

1871—OFFICERS' COMMISSIONS.

1871 saw the abolition of the purchase of officers' commissions in the army, and the substitution of promotion by merit. The House of Commons was in favor of the change. Mr. Gladstone did not wait for the Lords' opinions but advised the Queen to abolish purchase by Royal Warrant, as purchase had hitherto been permitted by that method.

1872—SECRET VOTING.

In 1872 open or public voting in the elections for the House of Commons was the rule. In future it was to be secret, or by ballot. "The objection to the open vote was that in a vast number of instances the voter could not safely vote according to his conscience and his convictions." The Bill passed the Commons in 1871, and the Lords in 1872.

1873—DEATH OF LIVINGSTONE.

The great explorer and missionary David Livingstone died on May 1, 1873, but this news did not reach England till the next year. In the heart of Africa, to which he had given his life, alone and on his knees, the traveller about whom all England was thinking yielded up his spirit. His body was brought to England by his faithful black servants, and lies in Westminster Abbey.

1874—THE CLAIMANT SENTENCED.

The claimant to the Tichborne baronetcy and estates, worth £24,000 a year, was sentenced in 1874 to penal servitude for fourteen years. His was the longest trial on record, and the report of it occupies many volumes. The law proceedings are said to have cost the estate £92,000. The Attorney-General spoke twenty-six days in the Chancery suit.

1875—SUEZ CANAL SHARES.

Messrs. Rothschild were authorized by the Government in 1875 to buy for £4,080,000 the Khedive's shares (176,602) in the Suez canal. Their present value is £24,312,000 and the yearly receipts from them amount to over £800,000.

1876—BULGARIAN ATROCITIES

The Turkish atrocities in Bulgaria led Mr. Gladstone to publish his famous pamphlet on "Bulgarian Horrors and the Eastern Question." He followed this up by a speech at Blackheath, which was called the most eloquent and impassioned of his political orations. He declared that the massacre of Glencoe, the atrocities of Badajoz, and the recent revolt in Jamaica, though they formed a dark page in history, would not, even if concentrated into a single point and a single spot, be worthy "to appear upon one of the pages that will hereafter consign to everlasting infamy the proceedings of the Turks in Bulgaria."

1877—FALL OF PLEVNA.

Russia declared war against Turkey in 1877. Plevna was fortified by the Turks, and for a long while the Russian attack was repulsed, though the Russians numbered 90,000. At last Osman Pasha tried to cut his way out, but had to surrender. When the Grand Duke Nicholas met him he declared that the siege was "one of the most splendid military events in history."

1878—BERLIN CONFERENCE.

When Russia dictated terms to Turkey in 1878 Disraeli insisted that the terms should not stand till they had been revised at a European conference. England applauded and admired. At the Berlin Conference England was represented by Disraeli and Lord Salisbury and won a diplomatic victory. War was avoided, and Disraeli returned, "bringing peace with honor."

1879—ZULU WAR.

15,000 Zulus surprised and attacked the English camp at Insandula in the Zulu war of 1879, and 1,837 British soldiers were killed. Lieuts. Melville and Coghill, however saved the colors. Lieutenants Chard and Bromhead successfully defended Rorke's Drift. Sir Garnet Wolseley defeated Cetewayo at Ulundi. In this war the Prince Imperial was killed.

THE QUEEN AND THE WAR.

Was it Grief for South African Slaughter Laid Her Low?

All through the active part of the Boer war, before the fall of Pretoria, the Queen sent messages of hope to her soldiers.

Early in the siege of Ladysmith the Queen was sanguine of Gen. White's ability to pull through successfully and wrote to Lady White assuring her of her undiminished confidence in her husband's generalship.

In October, 1899, when British army losses in South Africa were heavy, the Queen sent this message to the Marquis of Lansdowne, the Secretary of State for War:

"My heart bleeds for these dreadful losses again today. It is a great success, but, I feel, very dearly bought. Would you convey my warmest and heartfelt sympathy with the near relatives of the fallen and wounded, and my admiration of the conduct of those they have lost.

V.R.I.

To the Governor-General of Canada, at Ottawa, the Queen sent her thanks to the Canadian Volunteers, as follows:

"Her Majesty, the Queen, desires to thank the people of her Dominion of Canada for their striking manifestation of loyalty and patriotism in their voluntary offer to send troops to co-operate with Her Majesty's imperial forces in maintaining her position and the rights of British subjects in South Africa. She wishes the troops Godspeed and a safe return.

CHAMBERLAIN.

In closing Parliament, Oct. 27, 1899, the Queen said in her speech:

"I congratulate you on the brilliant qualities which have been displayed by the brave regiments upon whom the task of repelling the invasion of my South African colonies has been laid. In doing so I cannot but express my profound sorrow that so many gallant officers and soldiers should have fallen in the performance of their duty."

To the departing Gordon Highlanders on Oct. 19, 1899, the Queen made this address at the Ballater Barracks, near Balmoral, after reviewing them:

"I am pleased to see you looking so well and fit for duty. You are going on foreign service, and I wish you all god-speed. I hope you will return safe and well."

At the reassembling of Parliament Jan. 30 1900, the Queen in her speech said:

"I am deeply grieved that so many valuable lives should have fallen a sacrifice, but I have witnessed with pride and with heartiest gratification the patriotic eagerness and spontaneous loyalty with which my subjects in all parts of my dominions have come forward to share in the common defence of their imperial interests. I am confident I shall not look to them in vain when I exhort them to sustain and renew their exertions until they have brought this struggle for the maintenance of the empire and the assertion of its supremacy in South Africa to a victorious conclusion."

Laid at Rest.

The remains of the late W. H. Melville were interred yesterday in the Little Lake cemetery. The funeral was conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES

Latest Budget of Sporting Events of Interest.

At the meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association Tuesday it was decided to order the postponment of all matches scheduled for the date of the Queen's funeral.

On account of the death of Her Majesty the annual dinner of the Toronto Canoe Club, which was to have been held tomorrow evening, has been postponed.

Many games of hockey were abandoned Tuesday owing to the death of Her Majesty, and, while a general postponment was impossible, the clubs and associations throughout the city and country are certain to follow the lead of the O.H.A., and call of all contests fixed for the date of the Queen's funeral.

STOP LOSING MONEY!

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 50 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 144 W. 42d street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our statement!

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. We average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

MAY NOT LIE IN STATE

Remains of the Dead Sovereign Will be Taken to Windsor Today.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 23.—Unless the King otherwise shall direct, it is probable that the Queen's body will be taken on board the royal yacht Alberta to-morrow, for conveyance to Windsor. The dining-room at Osborne House has been transformed into a mortuary chapel. The body has been removed from the bedroom and lies there at present. The servants will be admitted to view the remains. There will be nothing in the nature of lying in state here, nor so far as known at Cowes will there be any lying in state in Windsor. A guard of Royal Reservists is watching the body. The arrangements for the obsequies will be made at the Privy Council after consultation with the King.

Orders have been sent to Windsor to prepare the apartments for royal arrivals.

THOUSANDS FLOCK TO HEAR.

Great Success Attending the Preaching of Evangelists Kennedy and White.

The Times has received a letter from Evangelist H. D. Kennedy, son of Mr. Dawson, who a few days ago completed a series of very successful evangelistic meetings in Harriston. At these meetings there were upwards of 300 converts, many of whom are leading business men. Calls came so fast that Mr. Kennedy and Mr. White has to separate, Mr. Kennedy going to a village near London, where 40 converts were made. On Sunday last the two evangelists began a series of meetings in the Presbyterian church, Owen Sound. This church holds 1,500 people, and was packed to the doors. After a two weeks' stay in Owen Sound they go to Dr. Cook's (Methodist) church, Wallaceburg, for three weeks. The evangelists have had to refuse calls from Pembroke, McCaul St., Toronto, Dundas and London. They are booked ahead until May.

BRITAIN TO GO INTO DEEPEST MOURNING

It is Expected that all Persons upon the Present Occasion Will go into Mourning.

London, Jan. 24.—An extraordinary gazette published an order in Council that it is expected that all persons upon the present occasion, the death of her late Majesty of Blessed and glorious memory will put themselves into deepest mourning. Another order in Council substitutes "King" for "Queen" and "Edward" for "Victoria." It also inserts "our gracious Queen Alexandera, George, Duke of Cornwall and York, and the Duchess of Cornwall and York.

Berlin, Jan. 24.—Court Von Waldersee in a despatch to the War Office from Pekin dated January 21 says "there are many bands of robbers in the province of Ch. Li." The British lost two men while engaging the robbers near Shan Lai Kwan.

London, Jan. 24.

The vagaries of an apparently harmless lunatic occasioned some excitement at Victoria Station. During the entraining of the King for Osborne House, a well dressed individual, bearing a letter addressed to His Majesty, was permitted to pass the barriers. He said he wished to present the letter to the King personally. The man was handed over to the police. The envelope contained only a telegraph form, on which were the words, "I wish to see my beloved Queen."

London, January 24.—King Edward attended a memorial service in honor of Queen Victoria, conducted by Father Bernard Vaughan, which took place yesterday evening at Craigynos Castle, Wales. The musical portion was arranged by Madame Patti, and was extremely beautiful.

Paris, Jan. 24.

At the opening of the Chamber of Deputies to-day, the Premier, M. Waldeck Roussian said: "In announcing to the Chamber the event which has just closed a reign, in which is bound up almost a century's history, the Government wishes to contribute to the homage and respect which the world renders to the memory of Queen Victoria and gagueing the sorrow of the English nation by the affection displayed for its Sovereign, the Government bows respectively before the affliction with which England is stricken. The Premier's remarks were cheered. The President of the Chamber, M. Deschauel, said the Chamber joined in its regret the Government had just expressed."

Rome, Jan. 24.—King Victor Emmanual has ordered that the Court go into mourning for a fortnight.

Brussel, Jan. 24.—The Belgian Court will go into mourning for eight weeks.

London, Jan. 24.—London was given today a glimpse of mediaeval times. The quaint ceremonies with which King Edward VII was proclaimed at various points of the metropolis exactly followed ancient precedents. The officials purposely arranged the function an hour ahead of the published announcement, and the inhabitants when they awoke were surprised to find the entire way between St. James' Palace and the city lined with troops. About 10,000 soldiers—Life Guards Horse Guards, Foot Guards, and other cavalry and infantry regiments—had been brought from Aldershot and London barracks after midnight. All the officers had crepe on their arms, and the drums and the drums and brass instruments were shouldered with crepe. The troops made an imposing spectacle, but they were entirely eclipsed by the strange spectacle presented by the officials of the College of Arms.

The ceremony began at St. James' Palace, where at 9 o'clock Edward VII was proclaimed King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and Emperor of India. The proclamation read as follows:

"Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to call to His mercy our late Sovereign Lady Queen Victoria, of blessed and glorious memory, by whose decease the Imperial Crown of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland is solely and rightfully come to the high and mighty Prince Albert Edward; we therefore, the Lords, spiritual and temporal, of this realm, being here assisted with these of Her Majesty's Privy Council, with numbers of other principal gentlemen of quality, with the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen and the Citizens of London, do now hereby with one voice, consent oftongue and heart, publish and proclaim that the high and mighty Prince Albert Edward is now, by the death of our late Sovereign of happy memory, become our only lawful and rightfull lege lord, Edward VII, by the grace of God, King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, defender of the Fith, Emperor of India, to whom we do acknowledge all faith and constant obedience with all hearty and humble affection, beseeching God, by whom all kings and queens do reign, to bless the Royal Prince Edward VII with long and happy years to reign over us."

A few streets further on the proclamation was read again, and the processoon advanced by way of Ludgate Hill to the Royal Exchange, in front of which the final proclamation was made.

Soldiers and policemen formed an almost solid line down Cheapside, where the pageant was to pass. The people behind them, crowding for a sight over their shoulders, were of all classes, from prosperous brokers to East End costers. The mass was subdued and remarkably orderly. The roofs of the Exchange, the Bank, and the Mansion House and all the windows and the balconies overlooking the scene were filled with people. Big policemen kept a clear space in front of the Exchange. At about ten o'clock the procession, which, though gorgeous, was disappointingly short, swept down from Temple Bar at a rapid pace and was received silently. The officials entered the Exchange by Cornhill, and appeared on the top steps, the Lord Mayor with the sword-bearer leading and the sheriffs, the aldermen, the recorder, and the City Marshal following.

A flourish of trumphets impressed silence upon the crowds, and the Lord Mayor, uncovering, stepped forward.

ALL HATS CAME OF.

and in the misty rain the men remained bareheaded throughout the ceremony of nearly an hour. The Lord Mayor's voice was strong, and his oratorical words were distinguishable a block away as he read the warrant for the Privy Council to the Herald. Thereupon the spectacularly-attired Herald, bareheaded, for the third time delivered the proclamation. Probably no one fifty feet distant heard voice and shouted "God save the King!" putting particular stress on the words.

When the Lord Mayor had finished reading the warrant with the words, "His Majesty King Edward VII" the crowd cheered feebly and without unision, seeming to feel that too great a display of enthusiasm for the King might appear to partake of disloyalty to the memory of the departed Queen.

It was only when the Herald shouted "God save the King!" that the populace responded heartily with cheers, many people echoing the shout of "God save the King!" and waving their hats.

COMPLICATIONS IN SIFTON CASE

Death of Mr. Justice Rose Will Have a Peculiar Effect.

London, Jan. 24.—No case ever came before the Canadians Courts which has been more replete with sensations than the Sifton Murder trial. Now a new complication has arisen, caused by the death of Mr. Justice Rose.

At the last trial Walter Herbert pleaded guilty of murdering Joseph Sifton Gerald Sifton at the same time pleading not guilty, and postponement was granted.

Justice Rose did not impose the sentence of death on Herbert, because a man under sentence of death is legally dead, and for that reason Herbert could not give evidence against Gerald Sifton.

But Mr. Justice Rose is dead. Herbert was not sentenced, and legal authorities say that Herbert cannot be sentenced by another Judge on that pleading. He can plead again as he desires, and if he changes his mind, it will be very difficult for the crown to secure a conviction.

Edgar Morden has not been arrested for perjury which was expected after the vedict in the will case, and this is the way his freedom is explained here. It is said that old man Sifton actually did make a will in Morden's house, on the night before he died, but only a small portion of the property was willed to Mary McFarlane, the balance going to the dead man's brothers.

Edgar Morden showed this signature to Gerald Sifton, and Edgar Morden offered $500 for it. Then Morden conceived the idea of a forgery. It is because that it is known that a new will does exist that no information has been urged against Morden.

Bryan Going to Europe

Chicago, Ills., Jan. 24. — A special from Omaha says W. J. Bryan will soon start for Europe. It is his purpose to call upon ex-President Kruger, during a tour of the Continent. He may visit all the British Isles, and especially Ireland. The success of his newspaper, The Commoner, has been so great at the outset, that he feels warranted in going abroad in quest of material for a series of letters for his new paper. It is said that it is his intention to treat on Imperialism, as he shall find it, and to make a special study of colonial dependencies.

An Appropriate Window.

The windows of Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co.'s store are attracting much attention. One window shows a large picture of the Queen, surrounded by white lilies and other white flowers. The picture is draped with crepe, while the Union Jack is also conspicuously displayed. The whole space is filled with rich and beautiful black suitings, white shirts, etc., which greatly adds to the effects. The other window is also handsomely dressed with rich goods, black and white, which is exceedingly appropriate. Messrs LeBrun & Co., in these beautiful decorations, exemplify the respect and adoration which is filling hearts of the people over the death of our beloved Queen.

OTHER BUSINESS.

On motion of Messrs. Casement and Anderson all papers in connection with the Chemong lake bridge were ordered to be laid on the table.

A message had been received from the Warden of Victoria county, asking if it would be convenient for the Peterborough Council to meet the Victoria Council answer on Thursday. A favorable answer was ordered to be sent to this message.

The matter of the High School boundary or limits at Norwood village as affecting the township of Asphdoel, was brought up by Mr. Pearce, who went into the question in detail.

Mr. Andrews, reeve of Asphodel, and Mr. P. McNulty, councillor, were present and also presented the case to the Council.

Mr. R. E. Wood also addressed the Council on behalf of ratepayers, and then the matter was referred to the Committee on Schools, with power to consult the County Solicitor.

A petition of Samuel Scott and others regarding a special grant towards cutting down a hill opposite lots 10 and 11, on the side line of the 10th concession of Asphodel, was on motion of Mr. Pearce and Dr. Jeffs, referred to the Roads and Bridges Committee.

The Council then adjourned and went into committee.

THURSDAY'S BUSINESS.

Thursday forenoon was taken up with committee work. In the afternoon a deputation consisting of the warden and members of the Victoria County Council waited on the Council in regard to the bridge matter asking for a grant from Peterborough County.

The matter was discussed at length and referred to the proper committee to report.

The Council then adjourned.

WARDEN ENTERIA.

The Popular County Chief Magistrate Gives a Supper

Last night Mr. George W. Fitzgerald, the popular Warden of the County, entertained the members of the Council and a few friends to a supper at the Morgan House. The table was laden with mine host Munroe's best, and a most delightful evening was spent.

The affair was altogether informal, but was none the less enjoyable. Songs, speeches and stories were the order of things, during which Warden Fitzgerald was voted a "Jolly Good Fellow," with universal acclaim.

Death of Mrs McDonald.

Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald, relict of the late Donald McDonald, formerly of Peterborough, died at her daughter's residence, Seymour street, Kamloops, on Dec. 27, 1900, aged 73 years and 11 months. The deceased lady was born at Iberville, Que., and took up residence in Kamloops, B.C., about ten years ago with her daughters, Misses Lizzie and Ida MacDonald. Her only son, Mr. Alex. MacDonald, the well-known C. P. R. conductor, is also a resident of Kamloops. Another daughter resides at Campbellcroft, near Port Hope. The funeral took place at 2.30 on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 29, at Kamloops, B.C.

Burnt River Bridge.

A deputation from the Victoria County Council arrived in town yesterday, and met the Peterboroguh County Council in the afternoon.

The deputation was composed of Warden Jas. Graham and Messrs. Robt. Brynes, Fred Slaver, George Johnston, Dr. Woods, E. A. Stallock, Alex. McGee, Geo. Baily, Chas. Fairbairn, John Austin, Wm. Adams, and Jas. Robertson, county councillors and County Clerk McNeillie.

The Victoria gentlemen were here to discuss the maintenance of the bridge over the Burnt river, near Kinmount, and which is between the two counties. The matter was referred to the Roads and Bridges Committee.

PEACEFUL AND CALM LIES THE GREAT QUEEN

The Body Attired all in Black--A Very Pathetic But Informal Scene.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 24.—The scene has been moved from here to London, but in this little seaside town the thoughts of the people are all centered, not on events passing in London, but on the house of mourning overlooking the waters of the Solent, where lie the remains of the queenly woman who was regarded by the people as a personal friend.

There is no mistaking the reality of the sorrow of Cowes. "The Queen was always good to us," they say. She knew personally many of the townspeople and took a real interest in their families, their troubles and their joys. She would call many of them by name, and often stopped in her drives to talk to them. Almost every house has a flag half-mast high, and the store windows are draped with black and white.

Yesterday the Queen's body was embalmed and laid out in the dining room, which has been turned into a mortuary chapel. Outside two officers are on guard. Within two Indian attendants remain with the ladies in waiting, who are constantly present. The body is attired in black. The face is perfectly peaceful, and the remains have been placed with the arms folded. A beautiful gold cross has been placed on the breast and all about are quantities of lovely flowers.

The honor of first seeing the body of the Queen was conferred on her personal retinue, and such a simple, pathetic scene as occurred this afternoon could have occurred in no other monarchy. All the servants and tenants were admitted, and in fours they filed through the room. It might have been the body of any country lady whose tenants were bidding her a last farewell. Bent old men and women, children and families who had grown up on the estate, who regarded Queen Victoria as a friend and patron rather as a sovereign, passed in turn. Their grief was the sorrow of one who had lost a friend.

FROM THE KING AND CONSORT.

New York, Jan. 24.—British American New York: Princess of Wales thanks you from her heart for sympathy in her and the nation's irreparable loss."

The above was received by a coterie of British born Wall street men who sent a message of condolence to King Edward VII. and Queen Alexanda. For the last seventeen years these men have sent a message of congratulation to Queen Victoria on her birthday, and every year the message was answered. When it became known that Queen Victoria was on her death bed, a message was sent, and replied to as above.

FRENCH TRIBUTES TO VICTORIA

Indignation Aroused in Paris Over Recent Vile Attacks

Paris, Jan. 24.—The filthy and scurrilous articles which have appeared in the crapulous French journals have aroused a storm of indignation and protest from the nation which sees its fair fame for chivalry and honor besmirched by the vile grossness of the newspapers. Prominent and representative Frenchmen of every religious or political party have joined in the chorus of denunciation, while the more self-respecting newspapers publish articles condemning the disgraceful publication in Le Matin, Le Francais, Le Petit Son and other low boulevard sheets. La Liberte, referring to scurrilous handbills headed "Last Will and Testament of Victoria," sold on the street, says

"It is shamefully scandalous that such pamphelets should be permitted to appear. We have a right to criticize English politics as much as we please, but neither Fashoda nor the Transvaal, nor the attitude of the British press in regard to our army and our generals during a certain memorable trial, justify these gross insults to the sacred memory of the Queen. We have hitherto enjoyed a reputation for chivalrous courtesy, of which we might with pardonampies of our rulers. We at least ought to retain this last French virtue."

Henri des Hous, in Le Matin, for instance, writes a most eloquent tribute to Queen Victoria, and concludes with these words: "It is not rash to predict that the death of the noble woman who exercised a patriarchal influence over nearly all the reigning houses of Europe, will cause grave changes in the world. It is the most important event of our age. The fall of Bismarck was merely a trial incident in comparison with it."

PROPHETIC FORECAST.

The most remarkable utterence was that of Gibriel M. Hanotaux, member of the French Academy, for several years Minister of Foreign Affairs, and perhaps the ablest public man in France. He relates in glowing language the noble, womanly purity of the Queen's character, calls attention to her statesmanlike wisdom and political prudence, and sums up with a forecast which possesses prophetic force

Mr. Hanotaux says:

"France was the dominating factor of the eighteenth century, Great Britain of the nineteenth century, and the indications are that the United States will be the foremost nation of the twentieth century. In France the long reigns of Louis XIV. and Louis XV. contributed in a large measure to the violence of the French revolution, and perhaps the long reign of Victoria, which marks the apotheosis of England may be followed sooner than generally expected with a serious change in the relative positions of nations." M. Hanotaux concludes with the words: "Impartiality and moderation at home, prudence and hamanity abroad, were the principles that guided the Queen's statecraft, and history will record it as an everlasting honor to Queen Victoria to have imparted these principles to other nations, to have adopted these principles for her own guidance, to have imparted them to other rulers, and to have left them as an example and a lesson for her successors, for her own people, for posterity and for himanity."

THE FUNERAL WILL BE A MILITARY ONE

According to Qneen's Wishes and will Take Place at Windsor Castle on Saturday, Feb. 2nd.

Cowes, Ile of Wight, Jan. 24, 12.33 p. m.—The funeral of the Queen has been fixed to take place at Windsor Castle on February 2nd, and the body of the late Queen will be removed from Osborne House on February 1st. It is the expressled desire of the Queen that the funeral should be military in character. Several officials arrived from Windsor this morning bringing in the State regalila.

Orders have been issued to the Channel Squadron and all other available ships to assemble at Spithead February 1st, the date of the removal of Queen Victoria's body from Osborne. It is understood that the warships will form a double line, through which the royal yacht bearing the body will pass.

TAR AND FEATHERS USED IN WELLAND

Citizens Accused Peter Neff of ill-Treating His Sister.

Welland, Ont., Jan. 24.—Peter Niff, a resident of Humberstone village, was taken from his house Tuesday night by a mob of citizens, tied hand and foot, and given a dressing of tar and feathers. Afterwards they took photos of him, and have him 12 hours to get outoftown.

The cause of the citizens' indignation was over Neff's alleged treatment of his sister, with whom he lived. Miss Maggie Niff is an orphan, living in a house which is her own property. She lived alone until some months ago, when her brother Pete and his wife took up their residence with her, but without her consent, according to the story of the sister's friend.

Peter proceeded to make his sister's life miserable, and under a threat induced her to make over the property to him. The neighbors objected, but Neff carried his point, and yesterday the papers were all prepared. These were to have been signed the next day. Last night a mob gathered and decided to chase Neff out of town. Neff pleaded and promised, but he had to go through the ordeal and one after another the angered men plastered the tar and the feathers on him.

Neff left town, but he is looking for revenge. County Constable J. R. Dowd is investigating the case, and some arrests may be made. Some of the most prominent residents and business men of the place are said to be mixed up in the affair.

A Union Memorial Service

The Ministerial Association held a special meeting yesterday morning at the Y.M.C.A. and decided to hold a union memorial service in St. Paul's church on the day of the obsequies of our dead Sovereign, Queen Victoria. Rev. H. Symonds will deliver an address.

CHINA WANTS THE TROOPS TO LEAVE

And Demands Immediate Feturn of the Public Buildings

Pekin, Jan, 24.—The note which accompanied the agreement delivered by the Chinese plenipotentiaries reiterated the Chinese objections already published, adding thereto a request for the immediate return of the public buildings, the total cessation of military expeditions, a definition of the limits of the legations, and for the removal of the troops as early as possible.

The German and the French officials seem to think it unwise for the troops to leave Pekin for several months.

The Chinese are anxious to have the indemnities payable to the different nations adjudged before an international commission. A majority of the Ministers here seem to think that their Governments may make separate arrangements with China.

The Ministers will shortly hold a meeting to consider the next step to be taken. No formal reply will be sent to the Chinese objections, but they will be considered.

As a result of the sending of the British gunboat Plover to Blonde Islands, eastward of Lietung, to suppress the pirates, whose depredations upon native craft were becoming serious, the expedition succeeded in destroying the offending piratical junks.

Admiral Alexieff, the Russian commander, has written to Vice-Admiral Seymour, claiming that inasmuch as the islands are in Russian territory, the British action was unwarranted. Admiral Seymour replied to the effect that though be knew Port Arthur and Talienvan were in Russian territory, he did not know that this was the case regarding these islands, and that he was therefore unable to coincide with Vice-Admiral Alexieff's views; he could only refer the question to his Government. Admiral Seymour thinks that the Russian pretensions to islands ninety miles from Port Arthur ought not to be allowed.

LATEST FROM LAKEFIELD.

Budget of Interesting Events From Our Pretty Northern Village.

The most important event of the week was the banquet on Monday night tendered to the returned heroes from South Africa, Sergts. E. M. Thompson and Hayward, Trooper G. E. Hendren, of Lord Roberts' Body Guard, Pte. Marling, by the citizens of Lakefeld. The banquet took place in the town hall, and was largely attended. The hall was most tastefully decorated, and the tables, under the direction of the ladies of the RedCross Society, looked very tempting. The excellent menu provided was by Mine Hose Craig, of the Craig House, and was so excellent in quality and quantity as to leave nothing to be desired.

The chair was occupied by Reeve Hull, while the places of honor were filled by the returned heroes.

The banquet was well served by sixteen young ladies of the Red Cross Society, who were dressed in white, wearing sashes of red, white and blue bunting. For such excellent service they deserve great credit.

While the menu was being served, a number of piano selections were rendered by several of the young ladies, including Miss Hendron, Miss Montgomery, Miss McEwen and Miss Atwood, which were rapturously applauded.

The speeches were patriotic and frequently applauded. The whole affair was ably conducted and thoroughly enjoyed by those who were present.

NOTES.

—There is a great deal of sorrow over the death of the Queen.

—Miss Jennie Quinn, of Brandon, Man., is visiting her father.

—Mr. McKenzie, of The Grove, has removed his boys' school down to the residence of Capt. Halifax.

—The wiring between Lakefield and the Point has been completed.

THE TOWN IN MOURNING

Public Buildings and Store Windows Draped in Black.

That the death of the Queen is being keenly felt is everywhere evident. Yesterday the outside of the Post Office and Customs House was draped with black, while the County Council Chamber, and other places were also similarily decked. Many store windows are draped in black, several of them showing a picture of Her Majesty in heavy black colored frames. Everywhere a feeling of sadness prevails.

MARRIED IN LINDSAY

A Prominent Peterborough Young Man Married in Lindsay.

A very pretty, though quiet wedding was celebrated in Lindsay on Wednesday, when Mr. Robert H. Bradburn, son of the late T. Bradburn, Esq., town, was united in marriage to Miss Alice Isabella Hamilton, daughter of Mr. James Hamilton, of Lindsay. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few intimate relatives of the contracting parties, and the nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Mr. MacMillan. The bride was given away by her father, and was attired in a costume of silk crepe de chene over pink silk. She was attended by her sister, Miss Jessie, who was similarly attired. Mr. W. T. Hall of town, acted in a like capacity for the groom, whilst little Miss Alice Gillespie was maid of honor. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding dinner was served, after which the newly married couple left for San Francisco where they will spend the winter.

The Times joins in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Bradburn many years of happy married life.

LANDMARKS IN THE VICTORIAN ERA

Great Events from the Queen's Coronation to the Present Day.

1880—MR. BRADLAUGH AFFIRMS

Mr. Bradlaugh, M.P., presented himself in the House, and claimed exemption from taking the oath, preferring to make an affirmation. The question was referred to the House, which refused to allow the affirmation. Then Mr. Bradlaugh exclaimed: "The order of the House is against the law, and I positively refuse to obey it." He was ordered into custody, but ultimately allowed to affirm, a special enabling resolution being passed.

1881—MAJUBA HILL.

Sir George Colley had 554 men on Majuba Hill on February 27, 1881, and was awaiting Sir Evelyn Wood to bring up reinforcements. A storming party of 200 Boers took the hill, their approach being covered by an accurate and incessant fire. Colley himself was killed, and the British lost 92 killed and 134 wounded, while the Boer loss was one killed and five wounded.

1882—PHOENIX PARK MURDER.

On May 6 Lord Frederick Cavendish, after attending the installation of Earl Spencer, took a car for the Chief Secretary's lodge. Overtaking Mr. Burke, a permanent Castle official, Lord Frederick dismissed his car and walked on with him through Phoenix Park. Two men came towards them. One gripped Mr. Burke by the waist and stabbed him in the back, and as Lord Frederick defended him with an umbrella, he received a fatal thrust also.

1883—THE MAHDI.

In 1883 the Egyptian Government sent an army of 11,000 men, under Colonel Hicks, to restore the Khedive's authority in the Equatorial Provinces. On November 1 the force was attacked, and on the fourth day the whole of it was annihilated. The insurrection spread, and the Khedive, under British advice, decided not to reconquer the lost Soudan Provinces.

1884—GORDON

On Mr. Stead's suggestion, Gordon was sent to Kartoum to restore the ancient families whose territories had been seized by the Egyptian authorities, to their former power, and so extricate the Egyptian garrisons and civil employees, with their families, and remove them to Lower Egypt. On arrival he found the country less disturbed than he expected, and felt that he could not leave until some form of government had been settled upon.

1885—FALL OF KARTOUM.

The seige of Kartoum began on March 13th, 1884. It fell on January 26, 1885, and Gordon was killed. Two of the last entries in his diary are these: "All that is absolutely necessary is for fifty of the expeditionary force is to get on board a steamer and let their presence be felt." "If the expeditionary force does not come in ten days the town may fall; and I have done my best for the honor of our country. Good-bye." The siege lasted 317 days, and after the garrison and townsfolk had endured extreme privations for several weeks, Gordon was shot down near the palace, and 4,000 people were butchered.

1886—IRISH HOME RULE BILL.

Probably there was never such a scene of anxious expectation in the modern history of Parliament as when Mr. Gladstone introduced his first Home Rule Bill. Only 400 M.P.'s out of 670 can find seats in the House, and though seventy or eighty additional seats were provided, they did not suffice to meet the demand for seats. On the second reading of the bill, Ministers were in a minority of thirty. "I believe," said Mr. Gladstone, "that what binds me to political life is justice to Ireland, and not only to political but physical life."

1887—THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

The fiftieth anniversary of the Queen's accession was kept throughout the Empire with extraordinary enthusiasm. On June 21 the Queen went to Westminster Abbey to a thanksgiving service, accompanied by a number of European monarchs, princes and other distinguished persons. The most conspicuous outward commemoration was the erection of the Imperial Institute.

1888—COUNTY COUNCILS.

Mr. Ritchie, as president of the Local Government Board, succeeded in 1888 in the formation of County Councils. The levying of county rates, the maintenance of roads, bridges, asylums, the conduct of registrations, and nearly all the duties of members of quarter sessions were transferred to purely effective Councils chosen by the ratepayers. London was constituted a county with a council.

1889—DEATH OF JOHN BRIGHT.

John Bright died in 1889. Lord Hartingington described him as one of "the noblest figures that we have ever known in Parliament." He had no regular physician; but Mr. Gladstone was always urging him to see Sir Andrew Clark. He did so when too late. Browning also died in 1889.

1890—EXIT BISMARK.

Bismark resigned in 1890. "Switzerland without the Alps—that is what Germany seems without Bismark." So wrote Mr. Stead at the time. "Nor have we for one moment for nearly thirty years ceased to hear the steady footfall of Bismark, sentinel first of Prussia, then of Germany, and afterwards of Europe, as he paced his weariless round, keeping watch and ward over the affairs entrusted to his care.

1891—FREE EDUCATION

From September 1, 1891, when Mr. Goschen was Chancellor of the Exchequer, primary education became free in England. The immediate cost of remitting school fees was estimated at £2,000,000. Ten shillings per head on all the elementary scholars in school between the ages of three and fifteen was granted.

1892—FOUR NOTABLE DEATHS

1892 was an influenza year, and notable for the death of four distinguished men. First, of the Duke of Clarence, heir to the throne, then of Cardinal Manning, the great Roman Catholic prelate; then of Charles Spurgeon, the mighty preacher; and then of Lord Tennyson, the Poet Laureate.

1893—HOME RULE REJECTED.

Mr. Gladstone was returned to power in 1892 with a majority of 40. On February 13, 1893, he introduced a second Home Rule Bill, which passed its second reading by 347 to 304 votes. It was forced through Committee by means of the closure, but was thrown out by the Lords, the voting being 419 to 14.

1894—GLADSTONE RETIRES.

The Pall Mall Gazette announced Mr. Gladstone's retirement. At his last Cabinet Council the old man exclaimed to his colleagues: "God bless you all." This was said "with all the fervor of a mind accustomed to give to every word its full value," and greatly moved those who heard it. On February 24 the Queen sent for Lord Rosebery.

1895—JAMESON'S RAID.

On December 26, 1895, Dr. Jameson, the Administrator of Rhodesia, crossed the Transvaal border with 500 men of the Chartered Company's Mounted Police, who had gathered at Mafeking to support the Uitlanders of Johannesburg. The Boers surrounded them, and on Jan. 2, 1896, the force surrendered. Dr. Jameson and five officers were subsequently sentenced in England.

1896—ROSEBERY RESIGNS.

Lord Rosebery in 1896 resigned the Liberal leadership. Writing to the chief Liberal Whip, he said: "I find myself in apparent difference with a considerable mass of the Liberal party on the Eastern Question, and in some conflict of opinion with Mr. Gladstone. . . . I consequently beg to notify to you that the leadership of the party, so far as I am concerned is vacant, and that I resume my liberty of action."

1897—THE DIAMOND JUBILEE.

The Queen celebrated her Diamond Jubilee—the 60th year of her reign—in 1897. Amid scenes of tremendous enthusiasm and excitement she went to St. Paul's Cathedral on June 22 to a thanksgiving service held on the Cathedral steps. She was accompanied by an escort of princes and representatives of foreign powers, by colonial Premiers, and representatives of colonial troops. Before leaving Buckingham Palace she transmitted throughout the empire the message: — "From my heart I thank my beloved people; may God bless them."

1898—GLADSTONE DIED.

Gladstone died on May 19, 1898, at five o'clock in the morning. Mrs. Gladstone was with him to the end, and held his hand in hers. The last words which Mr. Gladstone was heard to say was "Amen," in response to a prayer which the Rev. Stephen Gladstone was reading by his bedside. Before that he had said several times: "Kindness, kindness, kindness —everywhere." His death provoked universal regret, and he was buried in Westminster Abbey.

1899—TRANSVAAL WAR BEGINS.

On October 11—12, 1899, the Boers crossed the Natal border and began the war with Great Britain, which was not ended when the century closed. Mafeking, Kimberey and Ladysmith were besieged. Battles were fought at Eland's Laagte, Farquhar's Farm and Nicholson's Nek, at Belmont, Graspan and Modder River. Lord Methuen was repulsed at Magersfontein, and Sir Redvers Buller at Colenso, and then Lord Roberts was appointed Commander-in-Chief (December 16), with Lord Kitchener as Chief of Staff.

1900—TRANSVAAL ANNEXED.

1900 was a year of war. The three besieged towns were relieved. The Orange Free State was annexed, and became the Orange River Colony. On June 5 Lord Roberts entered Pretoria, and the Transvaal was annexed on September 1. These annexations made an addition of 167,000 square miles to the empire, while the population was about one million. Mr. Kruger sailed for Europe in October. In December Lord Roberts handed over the control of the war to Lord Kitchener, and returned to England.—The London Mail.

"My Wife Became Anxious."

There is cause for anxiety when a cough hangs on for a year and can't be shaken off. The quickest way to relieve that anxiety is to begin at once the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a cough remedy, but it is also a great deal more. In far advanced stages of disease, when hemorrhages have been frequent, and there have been emaciation and weakness, "Golden Medical Discovery" has produced a perfect cure. It increases the supply of the life fluid—blood. It cleanses the blood from impurities, and sends a current of rich, new blood to build up the weak places in the body with new life.

The "Discovery" is strictly a temperance medicine, non-alcoholic and non-narcotic.

"For one year I was troubled with a cough," writes Mr. H. E. Curtis, of Sumner, Bremer Co., Iowa. "As I continued to cough during the summer, my wife became anxious, and wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce for medical advice. It seemed to us that we could not go to a better source for advice, and so it proved, as the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which was recommended, proved just the medicine to effect a cure. Dr. Pierce and his medicines are 'As good as wheat,' as the farmers used to say."

Bad taste in the mouth is removed by using Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

THOUSANDS FLOCK TO HEAR.

Great Success Attending the Preaching of Evangelists Kennedy and White.

The Times has received a letter from Evangelist H. D. Kennedy, son of Mr. Dawson, who a few days ago completed a series of very successful evangelistic meetings in Harriston. At these meetings there were upwards of 200 converts, many of whom are leading business men. Calls came so fast that Mr. Kennedy and Mr. White has to separate, Mr. Kennedy going to a village near London, where 40 converts were made. On Sunday last the two evangelists began a series of meetings in the Presbyterian church, Owen Sound. This church holds 1,500 people, and was packed to the doors. After a two weeks' stay in Owen Sound they go to Dr. Cook's (Methodist) church, Wallaceburg, for three weeks. The evangelists have had to refuse calls from Pembroke, McCaul St., Toronto, Dundas and London. They are booked ahead until May.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (none free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. Home Novelty Mfg. A WONDERFUL

KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

I. A. HOPKINS.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, GRAVEL, DROPSY,

And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary troubles which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right. I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been benefited by its use. I am 58 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.

Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

Rev. W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Mrs. Wm. H. Hardy, East Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured her after six doctors failed. Rev. J. W. Hickman, Collyer, Trego Co., Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble, of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book, entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state. Not only does this great discovery—Alkavis (the Kava-Kava Compound)—cure all forms of Kidney and Bladder diseases, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE. If you are a sufferer, write to-day and we'll send a Free Case of Alkavis and Book, "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. [illegible] Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

THE RICHEST NATION

IF DIVIDED EQUALLY WHAT EACH ONE'S SHARE WOULD BE.

An American Family Would Own 155 Acres of Land and 13 1-2 Feet of Railroad—It Would Pay But $6.68 a Year in Taxation—Only 60 Cents for Our Navy.

If the Government of the United States be considered merely as a business firm, its stockholders just now are pretty well to do. Their wealth is very large, considering the number there are of them. The expenses of carrying on trade under the Stars and Stripes seems small when devided, and their debts are trifling indeed.

Not many years ago it was said that Uncle Sam had land enough to give every one a farm. In theory this is true to-day. If all Territories in the United States, not even including Alaska and our so called new possessions, were to be divided, there would be a farm of thirty one acres for each one. Every man, woman and child in the country would own this much real estate.

Now, since the average American family consists of five people, there would be 155 acres to the family. In making these calculations the population is estimated at 70,000,000. The area of the United States is 3,600,000 square miles.

Not all of this land is good enough to "farm it" on, but most of it can be made good enough by Yankee ingenuity.

The value of all the real estate in America is $39,544,333,000. These figures fail to give any definite idea. They are too big. Let us suppose, however, that pure socialism prevailed and that this enormous wealth was equally divided. The share of every individual would be $564.50. The share of every average family would be $2,824.50. And this does not include personal property, which would greatly increase the sum. These figures are by far the highest to be found in any country in the world. In Great Britain, for instance, each man is a land owner owning to the extent of about $190. British house property would give a share of but about $300 to every man.

Practically, in Great Britain there are few small land-owners, or none. A laboring man who owns his cottage is a rarity; one who owns the land on which it stands almost an impossibility.

The taxes which the individual pays seem trifling. All the taxes last year were $471,365,140. The share of each individual was but $6.73. Britain's taxes during the same period amounted to £2 10s. each, or nearly twice that of America. It must also be considered that our rate was unusually high owing to the expenses of the war. A good deal of complaint is heard of the extravagance of the Government, but the share of the individual is small. The total expenses of the Government last year if divided would have placed a burden of $6.68 on the individual. This is a share of the sum of $487,803,000.

The individual contributions to the various departments also sound curious in view of the great things which have been accomplished. We are all proud of our navy, which during the past year has been larger and more expensive than ever before. But each individual was only required to contribute just sixty cents to maintain this department and our great fleets of warships. The total expense, to be sure, was $48,099,000. The maintenance of the army last year was one of the most expensive items the Government has ever called upon to meet. It cost us just $80,000,000. The war with the Philippines and the maintenance of an army in Cuba and Porto Rico, besides the regular expense of the department, could be met, however, if each individual contributed $1.14. The expense of running the entire Government cost each of us exactly $1.92.

The United States, as every one knows, is the richest nation in the world. Our bonded debt is $1,032,000,000. Each of us is in debt on this score just $14.74. Looked at in this way our national debt, large as it seems, is a trifling thing. The real estate holdings of the individual, according to this distribution, are alone worth more than forty times his indebtedness. It is no wonder that the world considers loaning money to America a good risk.

Our country is the land of railroads. As every one knows we have more railroads by far than any other country in the world. The mileage of the United States is 180,000. The share of the individual is 13½ feet of rail. Still another way to state our great wealth is to calculate the amount of gold and silver which would come to us if all were equally divided. Each of us would have $70 in silver bullion as his share and $13.50 in solid gold.

A Story From Gibraltar.

During the war stories in plenty have been current of the strategems and treachery which have imposed upon British officers charged with very serious responsibilities. Changing the venue, we have the following story from Gibraltar. Some time ago a consumptive German gentleman arrived there with introductions from influential people in England. The governor and other officials received him hospitably and every consideration possible was shown him on account of his health, but, of course, he could not be granted permission, as he requested, to go to the top of the rock for the sake of the purer air, as there is a regulation that "foreigners" are on no account to be permitted to walk about the top of the rock." Further acquaintance, however, with the German gentleman, through the medium of dinners and other social functions, resulted in a relaxation of the strict rule, and he was granted a pass. The result of the visit is now to be seen at the German war office, which is in possession of the most perfect plans from photos of all the works and defenses of Gibraltar.—Saturday Review.

How Are Your Nerves.

If you are weak and you feel nervous and easily "flustrated," can't sleep, and rise in the morning unrefreshed, your blood is poor. Strong nerves depend upon rich, nourishing blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the nerves strong by enriching and vitalizing the blood. It gives sweet, refreshing sleep and completely cures nervous troubles. Begin taking it to-day.

Nausea, indigestion are cured by Hood's Pills.

The Union Jack

which floats over Britain and all her colonies is emblematic of the adage, "In union there is strength." The patriotic ladies of Canada can exemplify that adage and indulge a patriotic sentiment, by assisting their English, Scotch and Irish cousins who produce the pure machine-made GREEN teas of Ceylon and India. Tea drinkers will find the Blue Ribbon, Monsoon and Salada Salon teas a pleasant change from Japans.—Colonist.

A Young Rascal

Jesse Airris was arrested and brought before Magistrate Dumble yesterday charged with stealing money from Mr A. G. Parker, manager of the Bank of Montreal, and from Mr. R. F. McWilliams. Jesse is only 14 years old, but is as bad a boy for his age as can be produced. His stealings amounted to about $16, and with this he bought a return ticket to Buffalo, where he went, returning Wednesday evening. He was arrested soon after his arrival at the Y.M.C.A. building and had only 10 cents left. In Buffalo he purchased a pair of mitts and a hat. His pockets were well filled with tobacco and cigarettes. He made a full confession, and was remanded for sentence. It appears that Airris has been loitering around the Y.M.C.A. a good deal, especially around that portion of the building where the men leave their clothes whilst they are engaged in gymnastics. Money was missed and Airris was at once suspected. He was employed at the Times some months ago, but was discharged for stealing.

The score at half time was 5—0 in Norwood's favour and the game finished 11—2 in Norwood's favour. Pettigrew made a splendid rush from the centre, scoring a goal. Nicol made a fine drop from centre, scoring another goal. Norwood will now play Campbellford.

Mr. A. Wigmore has secured a position as clerk in Kirkpatrick & Buck's corner store.

When the sad news of the death of our beloved Queen reached the village the bell was tolled the rest of the afternoon and the flags were raised at half mast.

BENSFORT.

The cold snap of last week stopped a number from taking their usual trip to Peterborough on Saturday.

A party of young people from Peterborough spent last Friday night at Mr. Wm. Sissons. After a pleasant evening and a social hop they left for home. It was day light and eighteen below zero.

We noticed a few frozen noses and ears on Saturday.

Mr. Wordsworth Perrin intends building a new house next summer.

Farmers are on the look-out for farm hands for the coming season. They appear to be as scarce as usual.

The Farmer's Institute meeting at Centreville was largely attended this year. It is a sort of a mystery why still more do not turn out to these meetings.

The "Virginia Farmer" says the forest caterpillar is at an end as they left the trees very early in July. The cacoons appear to be empty or nearly so. On close examination only the shells of the worm will be found.

A party of young people are to spend Wednesday evening at Mr. Gillespies, of Peterborough. They are looking forward to a good time.

Miss E. M. Perrin, of Lindsay, is visiting her aunt Mrs. John Riddell.

Mr. E. Nimmo, of Ripley, has been visiting friends here.

Agricultural implement agents are busy hunting up customers in these parts.

Mr. W. Overend has purchased some timber off Mr. Geo. McLelland and has Mr. Wm. Smith employed to manufacture it.

Mr. D. N. Dodds is busy taking out cedar again this winter.

Miss Annie Sisson, of Ballyduff, has been home visiting at her fathers.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

Dr. Dean has removed from our village. We heard that Dr. Keith will take his place during this month We may well ask the question why it is that our young M.D.'s remain so short a time in the village. The locality should be a good one for a good man.

Dr. Turner, of Millbrook, was in our village last week along with Dr. Keith. Dr. Turner intends continuing his telephone line from Ida to Mount Pleasant. Dr. Brereton, of Bethany, spoke of running a telephone line to this village also.

We regret to hear that Mr. M. McIndoo, one of the old and respected citizens of Cavan, is ill, also Mr. Robt. Mills, formerly a resident of Cavan, who now resides in Peterborough. We hope to hear of their recovery soon.

There are many ill with whooping cough in this locality now.

There was a good supply of speaking talent at the Methodist Church last Sabbath. Revival services at Cavanville prevented Mr. Coon from being present to occupy the pulpit. Those who occupied the pulpit in his absence came from Peterborough. The text chosen was taken from 1. Kings, 2 chapter, last clause of verse 2. The discourse was suitable for the beginning of the 20th century and was appreciated by those who heard it.

Midland has forwarded their protest and deposit against Waubauchene. They claim that Waubauchene played several men who were over age.

CURLING.

It is expected that the first of the Tankard games will be played to-day. Mr. J. D. Flavelle, with the following rink, will play in Peterborough: L. V. McIntosh, J. D. Flavelle, skip. The other rink, made up of J. W. Anderson, T. W. Greer, G. A. Little and W. McLennan, skip, will play in Lindsay.

STOP LOSING MONEY!

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 50 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 146 W. 42d Street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our Statement!

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. We average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

W. J. GREEN FOR TAX COLLECTOR

Chosen for the Position by the Town Council Last Night.

The Town Council met last night to perform the somewhat difficult and delicate task of selecting a Tax Collector from among the numerous applicants for the position. The Mayor and all the members were present, but it was a committee meeting and was held behind closed doors. When the doors were reopened the only information obtainable was that Mr. W. J. Green, merchant tailor, was the lucky man, and that the selection had been made by ballot. As the meeting lasted more than an hour, it is probable that there were a good many ballots before the result was reached. As one of the Aldermen said, "We don't want the impression to get abroad that we were unanimous." The appointment of Mr. Green, however, will no doubt be satisfactory to the ratepayers, as he is well known, and well qualified for the position.

SALE OF CHINESE GIRLS.

Auction of Human Chattels in San Francisco Prices Range From $1,700 to $2,500

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 25.—Five Chinese slave girls were sold at public auction in 'Frisco's Chinatown yesterday, as publicly as though they had been in Canton, where such human slavery is a recognized institution.

These girls were the property of Gong Gow, an old Chinaman who had kept, for many years, one of the disreputable dens in Chinatown. He wanted to go back to China, so he advertised the furniture and chattels of his establishment at auction. According to Chinese customs the creditors of Gong appeared and pasted bills on the door of his place, specifying their claims. Every Chinese who bid at auction agreed to pay the claims against the girl he fancied.

When the sale began there was a large crowd. The girls were exhibited and the auctioneer enumerated their good points. They stood stolidly by as they were used to such proceedings, having been sold in Canton before they were brought here. They fetched fancy prices as the restriction act is so rigidly enforced now that it is difficult to get pretty Chinese girls into this country. They sold at $1,700 to $2,500 each, and they were at once removed to the quarters of their new owners, who will begin to draw a large revenue from their earnidgs. The place where they lived is to be occupied by the Canton Merchants Club as well as by a gambling resort, with eight tables and very beautiful furniture and artistic decorations.

ARE IN MOURNING FOR THE QUEEN

Public Buildings Throughout Canada Robed in Black.

The Hon. Mr. Tarte, Minister of Public Works, Issues Orders to Show in Every Possible Way the Nation's Grief

The Hon. Mr. Tarte has issued orders that all public buildings throughout Canada be draped in heavy mourning. Work began on the Post Office on Thursday and was completed yesterday. Everywhere throughout Canada the Government buildings are being covered with emblems of grief. Mr. Tarte, who has been accused by a certain class of being disloyal, has shown in a very decided manner that he is a true subject of His Majesty, and has given the best possible answer to his accusers, who are, fortunately, few in number. The grief of the Canadian people for their beloved Queen is universal, and the action of the Minister of Public Works deserves universal praise.

In addition to the Government buildings, all public buildings are being shrouded, as well as many private institutions, such as the C.P.R. ticket office, the Ontario Bank, and several other places. All festivities are practically suspended until after the funeral, which is announced to take place on Feb. 2nd. There will be a public holiday on that date, when funeral services are to be held in St. Paul's Church, conducted by the clergy of the town.

ALL EUROPE HAS TAKEN UMBRAGE

Graceful Act of President McKinley Arouses Bitter Resentment.

New York, Jan. 26.—According to the New York Herald President McKinley's action in having the flag over the White House placed at half-mast on the day of the death of Queen Victoria has assumed an international aspect, if not embarrassing to the Administration at least distasteful to the diplomatic representatives of continental Europe. It has caused comparison between the conduct of the President on the occasion and course followed in the past when rulers of foreign states have died.

The flag on the White House was not lowered on the day of the assassination of King Humbert of Italy nor on the occasion of the deaths of M. Faure, President of France; of the Empress of Austria; of President Carnot of France; of Czar Alexander of Russia, and Emperor William of Germany, though administration officers emphatically declare that in lowering the flag over the White House the President did not thereby establish a precedent.

Members of the diplomatic corps contend that failure to pay a similar mark of respect in future on the day of the death of a foreign ruler will not be a significant breach of etiquette to which offence can justly be taken. The President's direction that the flag be placed at half-mast was given, it is authoritatively stated, not because Victoria was the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and the Empress of India, but because of her greatness as a woman and of the many occasions on which she showed friendship for the United States.

It is added that a precedent has not been created any more than her long reign established a precedent.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH ANNUAL MEETING

Annual Business Meetieg Held on Thursday Night.

The Reports showed the Affairs of the Church to be in a Prosperous Condition Interesting Proceedings.

There was a large attendance at the annual business meeting of the congregation of St. Andrew's Church, held on Thursday night. The reports presented were very encouraging, and show the affairs of the church to be in a satisfactory condition.

Rev. Mr. Parker, the esteemed pastor, presided, and opened the proceedings with an appropriate address, which was followed by a selection from the choir.

SESSION REPORT.

Mr. Alex. Campbell, clerk, read the session report, in which he referred to the increased attendance, and the splendid work that is being done by the Sabbath School teachers, the Christian Endeavour Society, the Young Men's Guild, the Mission Band, and the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. The report also mentioned the loss which the church sustained through the removal to Toronto of Dr. and Mrs. Bell and other church workers. The report goes on to say:

There were 21 baptisms during the year, 13 boys and 8 girls.

There were added to the church, in 1900 sixty members, 35 by certificate, and 25 by profession. There were 10 members dismissed during the year, with 3 exceptions all leaving to take up residence in other places.

POOR FUNDS.

The Poor Fund shows receipts of $18.37 and payments of $11.29.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Mr. John Lang presented the report of the Sunday School. The average attendance was 163—18 teachers, 4 officers and 36 in the infant class, being an increase of 5 in the school and 2 in the infant class. The financial statement shows total receipts of $362.38 and expenditure of same amount, less $19.34 on hand. The following is the staff of the school:

Supt. Alex. Campbell.
Asst. Supt.—Mr. Stevens.
Treas.—Mr. Walden.
Sec.—A. W. McPherson.

BOARD OF MANAGERS.

Mr. Andrew McFarlane, chairman of the Board of Managers, submitted the report for the year. In brief it is as follows: No arrears of subscription; shortage for the year, $315.91, which added to the indebtedness of last year, shows a total of $952.32. The report referred to the necessity that existed for a more united action to wipe out this debt.

YOUNG MEN'S GUILD.

The Young Men's Guild, through Mr. W. VanEvery, submitted their report, which showed the work of the society to have been very general and satisfactory.

Y. P. S. C. E.

Mr. Walden, president of the Y.P.S.C.E., read the report which was also very satisfactory.

Reports were also read from the Mission Band, the Women's Foreign Missionary Society and Boy's Brigade, which will appear in Monday's issue, together with a resolution that was passed expressing unbounded loyalty to King Edward VII.

The following motion was passed unanimously: Moved by Mr. T. C. Elliot, seconded by Mr. John McClelland,—

That whereas we have come face to face this week with a great bereavement, it has pleased the Almighty to take unto His mercy, our Sovereign Lady Queen Victoria, one whose character we revere, whose motives were pure, noble, high and true, whose influences were always lent for the elevation of mankind and for the peace of the world, we mourn her demise. H. R. H., the Prince of Wales, is now called to the throne of King Edward VII. We beg to give utterance to our continued loyalty and allegiance to the occupant of the British throne, and we earnestly pray that God will bless him in his personal welfare and guard him in the discharge of the duties of his high office.

FROM THE FAR NORTH.

Mr. W. H. Conner Arrives in Town From Near the Artic Circle.

Mr. W. H. Connor of Edmonton, Alberta, N.W.T. is registered at the Snowden House. He brought a letter of introduction to Mr. Dixon Jewett from Mr. Jas. Harper formerly with Mr. Adam Hall, of town. Jimmy says we should consider it an honor to have Mr. Connor visit us, inasmuch as he trades farther north than any other white man, his business taking him two thousand miles north of Edmonton, almost within sight of the Arctic Ocean. Mr. Connor is well acquainted with Rev. Thos. Marsh, son of the Rev. Mr. Marsh, of Lindsay, who is a missionary on Hay River which flows into Great Slave Lake. Mr. Connor also guided Miss Marsh and Miss Veitch of Lindsay to Mr. Marsh's missionary settlement on Hay River last year. Mr. Connor speaks in glowing terms of Rev. Mr. Marsh and of his work among the Indians. He has frequently seen moose that dress 1200 pounds, and the buffalo are plentiful.

Mr. Connor is negotiating with the Peterborough Canoe Company for a steamer, which he proposes to take to Edmonton and thense by waggon, in sections, to the great lakes in the far north.

THE OLD SONG.

'Tis hard to put a New Song on lips that loved the Old,
And hard to write a New Name on hearts that ever hold
The Dear Old Name on Memory's Throne; where'er her song was heard
The sovereign touch of the Great Queen's name the soul of her people stirred.

Now sorrow stalks the Empire round across the darkened days
The solemn tones of mourning sound to hush our Song of Praise.
"The Queen—God Bless Her"—the word to-day is barbed with memories keen
Of times we girt the world in loyal singing "God Save the Queen."

The Old, Old Song we learned in youth must leave the lips forever,
Victoria's gone, but her name lives on in love that faileth never,
A sound of woe in all her lands and under the sea between Throbs the voice of the mourning British folk who weep for their Own Dead Queen.

THE HOUSE OF PROVIDENCE

Statement by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor.

Who Returns Warm Thanks to the People for Generous Assistance—The Present Debt $5,853 A Noble Work.

On Sunday last, the 20th inst., at High Mass, His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor made a statement of the receipts and expenditures for the building of the House of Providence, which was completed during the past year. It has been His Lordship's desire to make this home for the poor as perfect as possible in all its appointments. The sanitary arrangements and the heating are in accordance with the latest and best methods. The Sisters of St. Joseph have charge of the institution. At present fifty inmates, old pepole and orphans, find a shelter and home within its walls.

The only fund on which His Lordship depended for the erection of this beautiful and substantial edifice has been the charity of the public. A little over a year ago, while the building was in course of construction, the Bishop appealed to the parishes of the diocese and received a cheerful and generous response. Not only did the wealthier and more populous parishes co-operate in the good work, but the new and struggling missions in the northern portion of the diocese also sent their offerings to help the undertaking.

The following is a summary of the receipts and expenditure up to the present:

Peterboro, (including collection at blessing of corner stone)	$2,064 67
Grafton	396 00
Lindsay	390 20
Hastings	376 45
Douro	369 70
Cobourg	367 75
Ennismore	358 00
Campbellford	309 00
Norwood and Havelock	186 50
Young's Point, Keene, Lakefield and Chandos	152 00
Burnley, Warkworth and Harwood	150 00
North Bay	150 00
Bracebridge and Gravenhurst	100 10
Downeyville	91 00
Wooler and Brighton	75 90
Fenelon Falls, Galway and Bobcaygeon	61 70
The various missions in the Northern District, etc.	728 20
A benefactor	500 00
A friend	100 00
A friend (British Columbia)	60 00
A Catholic Judge	25 00
St. Joseph's Community (Mother House)	100 00
St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterboro	50 00
St. Joseph's Hospital, Port Arthur	50 00
	$7,216 07
Cost of building, including stone and brick work, carpentering, painting, plastering, plumbing, heating, electric lighting and architect's fees	$11,775 03
Paid so far for beds, bedding, tables and other furnishings	1,293 20
Total cost of building and furnishings	$13,068 23
Deduct amount of contributions	7,215 07
Leaving a present debt of	$5,853 16

His Lordship took this occasion to thank all the contributors, among whom he said there was a goodly number of Protestants. He thanked them all. He hoped the Almighty would bless them abundantly. What they had given to the poor our Lord Jesus Christ will not allow to pass unrewarded. The prayers of the humble, the widow and the orphan, will precede them to the throne of Almighty God and obtain for them mercy and grace. In fine, he wished them every blessing, both spiritual and temporal.

The work of Bishop O'Connor in providing so suitable a home for the poor of the diocese deserves all the encouragement he has received. We feel certain that His Lordship's reliance on the public has not been misplaced, and that a few years will see the House of Providence free from debt, a monument of the zeal and energy of the Bishop of Peterborough.

THE LUMBER TRADE.

An Effort Being Made for Greater Protection

Ottawa, January 26.—M. Beecher, of Vancouver, who is in the lumber business, is in the city seeing the members of the Government with a view of inducing the Government to place a duty on lumber going from Canada to the United States. The manufacturers of lumber on the Pacific coast have strong competition from the United States, and Mr. Beecher wants to off-set this. If the duty on United States lumber was increased, then the North-West and Manitoba market might be supplied from either British Columbia or Ontario. An effort has frequently been made to increase the duty, but the Manitoba and North-West farmers have always rebelled, and were able to stay the hand of the Government. It is not believed that the Government will take action.

LOVE FOR A GIRL GETS MAN IN TROUBLE

Young Lady's Lover Gets a Through Beating.

And is Laid Up for Repairs—Likely to be Brought up for Threatening to Shoot and Carrying Firearms

A very exciting occurrence took place in the west end a few evenings ago. It appears that a young man had been paying attention to a young lady who was employed down town in a store. These attentions were not received with favor by the fair one. Despite repeated rebuffs he pressed his suit, and finally asked the young lady to marry him. This she refused to do, and even refused to speak to him. It is said that after this he rang her up on the telephone and begged of her to reconsider her resolution; but she fully made up her mind to prevent all further advances, and determinedly told the man that he must be a stranger to her.

After this, it is alleged, the man began to annoy the young woman by shadowing her house, and even threatened to shoot the brother's head off if she did not renew her friendly relations with him. The other night the brother received a telephone message that the fellow was going to lay outside the house and blow the lady's brains out. Shortly after dark on the evening in question the family was notified that a man was hiding in a vacant lot near the house, and that he came from his hiding place whenever a woman passed by and carefully scrutinized her and then returned to the lot again. It is also stated that the man crawled up to the window several times and peered in.

When the young lady's brother heard of this, and recalled the telephone message, he invited a friend who was visiting him to accompany him in making an investigation of the man's actions. When the brother discovered that the man was none other than his sister's rejected suitor, he pitched into him and began pummeling him, in which, also, his friends took an active part. During the disturbance the fellow pulled a revolver out of his hip pocket, and attempted to fire, but the weapon was knocked out of his hand before it went off. He was so badly used up that he had to be helped home, where he now lies with black eyes and broken nose.

The Times is advised that a charge will be laid against him of carrying firearms.

QUEEN'S WILL TO BE KEPT SECRET

Opened in Order to Learn Her Wishes Regarding Funeral.

New York, Jan. 25.—Queen Victoria's will has been opened and examined by the duly constituted authorities, says a World despatch from Cowes. Nothing ever will be made public officially as to the provinces of the instrument or the amount of her private fortune. It is generally supposed that this preliminary inspection was made in order to follow exactly Her Majesty's direction in regard to her funeral.

It is known that the Queen made a will early in her reign, which was repeatedly altered and added to as children and grandchildren were born, and as her estates advanced in value. This proceeded until 1896, when Her Majesty decided to have an entirely new document drawn, and with great personal care this was accomplished.

Those in a position to make any sort of a guess declare that the Princess Beatrice, window of Prince Henry of Battenberg, will be the principal beneficiary. She is the Governor of the Isle of Wight, and will probably inherit Osborne House and the whole estate surrounding it. Then the Duke of Connaught and his sons, who have been great favorities with Victoria, will receive a large portion of the fortune. The Duke will probably become the owner of Balmoral and the Scottish property.

The grandchildren who are expected to receive the largest bequests are the two children of Victoria's youngest son, the former Duke of Albany. The Queen's second daughter, Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, is not rich, and it is expected that she and her four children will be liberally provided for.

Edward VII., who will be amply provided for by the country, and the Duke of York, who comes into the Duchy of Cornwall, will probably not be sharers in the late Queen's private fortune.

REPLY TO THE PRESIDENT

King Edward's Message in Answer to McKinley.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Following is the text of the reply which the President received from King Edward VII. in answer to the message of condolence on the death of the Queen:

"Osborne, Jan. 24, 1901.
"The President, White House, Washington, D.C.

"Am most grateful for the kind sympathy in the irreparable loss which the nation and I have sustained. I felt convinced that it would be shared by you and the American people.

(Signed) "EDWARD R."

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

A Resolution of Condolence Passed at its Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society of the Town and County of Peterborough, held yesterday in the Town Council Chamber, it was moved by Mr. Burnham, seconded by Mr. Dennistoun and resolved,—That this Society humbly request His Excellency the Governor General to express the profound sorrow felt by the members of this Society, in common with the people of Canada and of the Empire at large, upon the occasion of the death of Her Most Gracious Majesty, Queen Victoria, and further to express the profound personal affection cherished by us, in common with all our countrymen and countrywomen, for a Sovereign whom we regarded in an especial sense as Queen of the Dominion of Canada as well."

The resolution was carried unanimously. A full report of the proceedings will appear in Monday's Times.

QUEEN WILL NOT LIE IN STATE

Remains Viewed Privately by a Limited Number Yesterday.

Message of Condolence Sent to King Edward Arrangements for the Funeral are Progressing

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 25.—The body of Queen Victoria was removed to-day to the mortuary chapel in the dining room at Osborne by a party of bluejackets from the royal yacht. The only persons who will be admitted to review the remains to-day will be those whose names appear on the Queen's visiting list, officers of the army and the navy and a few prominent residents of the island.

The Marquis of Landsdowne, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs; Field Marshal Earl Roberts, Commander in Chief of the forces, and Mr. William St John Brodrick, Secretary of State for War, will be among those who will view her Majesty's remains.

It has been definitely decided that there will be no public lying in state.

The arrangements for the funeral are gradually being evolved. The remains of the Queen will be taken to Portsmouth on board the royal yacht Alberta and will remain on the vessel during Friday night (February 1).

LONDON FULL OF ROYALITY.

London, Jan. 25.—So many royal personages and representatives of foreign nations are coming to take part in the funeral of Queen Victoria that the royal palaces will be quite inadequate to accommodate them, so that various hotels and great residences in London are being secured for their occupation during their stay in the capital.

QUEEN'S WILL OPENED

New York, Jan. 25.—The World professes to know that Queen Victoria's will has been opened, and examined by the duly constituted authorities. The Journal says that nothing ever will be made public officially as to the provisions of the istrument, or the amount of her private fortune, and that the preliminary inspection was made in order to follow exactly her Majesty's directions in regard to her funeral. It is known that the Queen made a will early in her reign, which was repeatedly altered and added to as children and grandchildren were born, and as her estates advanced in value. This proceeded until 1896, when her Majesty decided to have an entirely new document drawn, and with great personal care, this was accomplished.

These in a position to make any sort of guess declare that the Princess Beatrice, widow of Prince Henry of Battenberg, will be the principal beneficiary. She is the Governor of the Isle of Wight, and will probably inherit Osborne House and the whole estate surrounding it. Then the Duke of Connaught and his sons, who have been great favorites with Victoria, will receive a large portion of the fortune. The Duke will probably become the owner of Balmoral, and the Scottish property.

The grandchildren who are expected to receive the highest bequests are the two children of Victoria's youngest son, the former Duke of Albany. The Queen's second daughter, Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, is not rich and it is expected that she and her four children will be liberally provided for.

Edward VII., who will be amply provided for by the country, and the Duke of York, who comes into the Duchy of Cornwall, will probably not be sharers in the late Queen's private fortune.

THE SULTAN'S TELEGRAM.

Constantinople, Jan. 25.—The text of the Sultan's telegram to King Edward VII. expressing sympathy at the King's loss is as follows:—"I have received with deep regret the news of the death of her August Majesty the Queen, the mother of your Majesty. Profoundly moved by this mournful event, I hasten to express to your Majesty my most sincere condolences." The Sultan has telegraphed to Emperor William and to Empress Frederick similar expressions of sympathy.

WHY SALISBURY WAS NOT THERE

London, Jan. 25.—The yellow story circulated in New York yesterday to the effect that King Edward VII. and Lord Salisbury are on bad terms has been emphatically disposed of. "There is no truth in the rumor that a change in the Primership is contemplated," says The Daily Mail. "Mr Balfour's presence at Osborne House is due to the King's kindly desire to spare Lord Salisbury fatigue and trouble." Lord Salisbury's age and infirmities, with the fact that Mr. Balfour is a relation, makes this quite reasonable.

GERMAN SYMPATHY SHOWN

Berlin, Jan. 25.—The Navy Gazette publishes a general order in which Emperor William expresses his sympathy for the "Sister navy of Great Britain, to which the German navy is bound by oft-tried comradeship." His Majesty directs that officers and officials of the navy shall wear mourning bands upon their left arms for a fortnight, and that the ships' flags shall be flown at half-mast until after the funeral. His Majesty also directs the German navy to observe the same ceremonial upon the day of the Queen's obsequies as is observed by the British navy.

MESSAGES FROM PARLIAMENT.

London, Jan 25. Both Houses of Parliament met this afternoon, received identical messages from the King, and voted condolence with his Majesty on his bereavement, and congratulation on his accession to the throne.

The Lord Chancellor (Lord Halsbury) and the Speaker, Mr. William Court Gully, read the message in their respective houses. It was as follows.

Edward Rex: The King is fully assured that the House of Commons will share the deep sorrow which has befallen his Majesty and the nation by the lamentable death of his mother the late Queen. Her devotion to the welfare of her country and her people and her wise and beneficent rule during the sixty-four years of her gracious reign will ever be held in affectionate memory by her loyal and devoted subjects throughout the dominions of the British Empire."

Mr. Will Crowley left at noon yesterday for Norwood, where he officiated as referee in the Trent Valley League match between Norwood and Campbellford.

Mr. G. H. Knowlson, of Lindsay, refereed the Trent Valley League match in Bobcaygeon last night between Bobcaygeon and Fenelon Falls.

Mr. Roger Davidson has been appointed coach for the ladies' hockey team in Keewatin. Roger will have a picnic.

Lindsay Post:"It is rumoured that several citizens have volunteered to pay the expenses of Shannon, the hockey player, from Detroit in order to strengthen our team in their game with Peterborough. It is hoped that he will be able to be on hand for the game."

STOP LOSING MONEY!

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 50 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 146 W. 42d Street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our statement!

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. We average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try," and that the owner is betting on him.

TELEPHONE POINTERS

One of the many good points of a telephone is that a message cannot fail to reach its hearer correctly. Another good point is that it reaches all points, and that everybody in the city or country worth doing business with has a telephone. Another good point is the economy of time and money. Another point — can you afford to be without one, at home or office?

EFFECT OF BRITISH RULE.

A clever reviewer, discussing the effects of British rule throughout the world, says that in Asia it has created the Indian Empire—a vast political system at once military and humane—and thereby given a fair example of how a subject race may be governed alike in its own interests and in that of its rulers. . . . In Africa the dark places of the world have been entered and policed by Europe. In Australia and New Zealand a nation sprung from England to manhood before the world knew that it was born. England alone has worked as a world-power throughout the century. Its achievements stands apart from the efforts of other nations, surpassing them in unity of purpose as in the scale of magnitude. In Canada, Australia and New Zealand, in India, and in Egypt, the changes wrought in the name of England have stimulated the progress of the race. In South Africa material advances have been accompanied by a racial conflict which has culminated in a bitter and devastating war. For this war England is deemed responsible in the eyes of the world, and she had pledged her Empire that its issue shall be for good and not for evil.

MAY MEAN PEACE.

In one respect the accession of the Prince of Wales to the throne of Great Britain may prove of immediate international importance. Both the German Emperor and the Czar of Russia are his nephews—not to mention the numerous minor crowned heads among his relatives and connections—and he is on terms of friendly and confidential intercourse with both of them.

Such a triumvirate, representing the three greatest European powers, should be able to command the peace of the world. Though the time has gone by when national movements could be determined by monarchs, rather than by nations themselves, the German Emperor does not yet believe this and the Czar still has a position of tremendous power. In the present attitude of England, the nation will welcome an assertion of personal influence by the new King. All Europe indeed, is very much adrift, and these three men could do a great deal to set things right.

By constant intermarriages the royal families are gradually being combined into one, a sort of governing trust. In time no doubt, they will become extinct but meanwhile a family gathering takes on the character of an imperial conclave and the world ought to get some advantage out of this "community of interest."

The School Board of section No. 7, Usborne, Huron county, contested the payment of a teacher's salary on the ground that the seal of the Board had not been attached to the agreement. Chief Justice Sir Wm. Meredith said the law was not so absurd as to take notice of such a plea. It is a good thing that it is not. The School Board did not set a very good example to the pupils in trying to avoid paying a just debt on such a miserable quibble.

CORONATION OF EDWARD V

A Quaint Account of the Coronation Ceremonies of the Last Edward over 350 Years Ago.

The last time the accession of an Edward to the throne of England was proclaimed was in 1546—over 350 years ago. Edward VI of England was the last King of that name, and the quaint account of the coronation ceremonies is especially interesting at present on the occasion of the proclamation of another Edward as King. The coronation number of the London Sun, published on June 22nd, 183[illegible], contains the following description of Edward VI's coronation:

"Edward VI was crowned February 20, 1546.

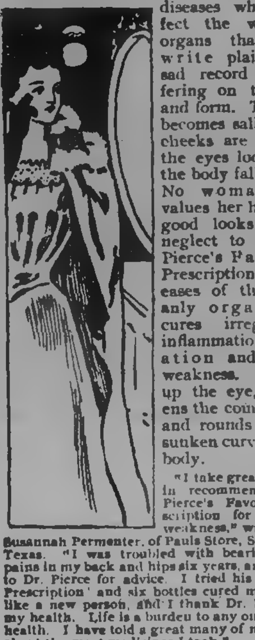
"'He rode through London into Westminster,' said Holinshed, 'with as great rollatics as hight be, the streets being hung, the pageants in divers places erected, to testifie the good willes of the citizens. . . . As he passed on the south part of Paule's churchyard, an Argosine came from the battlements of Paule's church upon a cable, being made fast to an anchor by the deanne's gate, lieing on his breast, aid himselfe neither with hand nor foot, and after ascendest to the middest of the cable, where he tumbled up and plaied many prettie tones, whereat the King and the nobles had good pastime.'

"At the coronation, when the three swords of the three kingdoms were brought to be carried before him, the King observed that there was yet one wanting, and called for the Bible. 'That,' said he, 'is the sword of the spirit, and ought in all right to governthus, who use these for the people's safety by God's appointment. Without that sword we can do nothing; we can do nothing. From that we are what we are this day: have we received whatsoever it is that we at this present do assume. Under that we ought to live, to fight, to govern the people, and to perform all our affairs. From that alone we obtain all power, virtue, grace, salvation, and whatsoever we have of divine strength.'"

Every Movement Hurts

When you have rheumatism. Muscles feel stiff and sore and joints are painful. It does not pay to suffer long from this disease when it may be cured so promptly and perfectly by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine goes right to the spot, neutralises the acidity of the blood, which causes rheumatism, and puts an end to the pain and stiffness.

Biliousness is cured by Hood's Pills.



Wrinkles Come

To many a face which should still be smooth and fair. Worry doesn't bring them. There are no cares and anxieties to furrow the face. They are the signs of physical suffering, graven by the hand of Pain. It is the saddest result of the diseases which affect the womanly organs that they write plainly the sad record of suffering on the face and form. The skin becomes sallow, the cheeks are sunken, the eyes look dull, the body falls away. No woman who values her health or good looks should neglect to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for diseases of the womanly organs. It cures irregularity, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It lights up the eye, brightens the complexion, and rounds out the sunken curves of the body.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for female weakness," writes Mrs. Susannah Permenter, of Pauls Store, Shelby Co., Texas. "I was troubled with bearing down pains in my back and hips six years, and I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice. I tried his 'Favorite Prescription' and six bottles cured me. I feel like a new person, and I thank Dr. Pierce for my health. Life is a burden to any one without health. I have told a great many of my friends about the great medicines I took."

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (none free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. THE GOLF WIDOW.

Up to Date No Silver Tongued Orator Has Pleaded Her Cause.

For several years now the golf widow's situation has been most pathetic, but she gets very little sympathy from any one save the other golf widows, and they are too busy sympathizing with themselves to feel another's woes. The attitude of the general public toward the stricken one is: "Serves her right. Any one who is fool enough to play the game deserves any hard luck she gets." Your true zealot is proverbially hard-hearted.

A married woman to-day must play golf or give up her husband. Even when she plays she probably has only the melancholy satisfaction of occasionally seeing the fluttering of his golf coat across a far bunker; but that is something. It's a devoted and self-sacrificing man who plays golf with his own wife, save at rare intervals, when no man friend is in sight or when he feels inclined to show his proud superiority by a little valuable instruction. Flattery, judiciously administered, will also bring the family together on the links occasionally. If a wife can only seduce herself to a condition of awe-struck appreciation, and knows just enough about the game to wonder and adore in technical sporting terms, she may be allowed to trail around the links with her husband, but it takes tact to achieve this proud distinction. The most she can hope for under ordinary circumstances is to lunch or dine with her golf-smitten husband, and hear him fight his battles over again; but that is better than dining and lunching alone, and she may prevent complete and final estrangement.

The wife of a cummuter has an especially hard time. He is so hurried and he really doesn't have time to go home at all save for purposes of sleep. Yet, after all, the city man does the same thing, and it is harder for his wife to follow him to the links than it is for the wife of the commuter to follow him, so perhaps honors are easy. The business man doesn't go home from the office to change his clothes. Not he. He keeps golf tog in his locker at the club. As early as he can possibly cut business he leaves the office, races for a train, goes straight to the links, plays until dark and dines at the club house, where he and the other men tell what would have happened if what did happen hadn't happened. Later he goes home so tired and sleepy that he doesn't stand upon the order of his going to bed, but goes at once, unless he stays awake long enough to tell his wife about his phenomenal drive from the sixth tee and the spectacular long put by which he halved the seventh hole. If she doesn't know the tee from lemonade so much the worse for her.

The golfer goes to the office early, so that he can get away early, and in the gray dawn he talk across the breakfast table about the virtues of his new brassey and the approach he has learned from Vardon. Then he goes off, wondering whether the weather will be too heavy for good work across the green, and calling back over his shoulder that he will not be at home for dinner unless it rains hard.

Countless golf widows are praying for rain as ardently as a Texas farmer in time of drought. A wet season is their only hope, and the wetness must be of the wettest variety. No ordinary drizzle will stop a golf game. No thunder shower will daunt a golf fiend

"Over at home," says Willie, (every well regulated and warranted golf professional is a Willie, though there is some slight variety in our names), "no one wad think o' stopping for a Scotch mist, and any Scotch mist is a deal worse than this bit of drizzle."

And the American devotees of the ancient royal game turn up their coat collars, take a grip upon their clubs and their stoicism and paddle around the links, warmed by the thought that they are living up to Scotch tradition and that the quality of the clubhouse "Scotch" is beyond reproach.

So only a summer of continuous and pouring rain can restore the golfing husband to the arms of a non-golfing wife, and, if there is anything in prayer, it's a lucky thing for the general public that the golfers are praying for fair weather as earnestly as the golf widows are praying for foul, and that the former class outnumber the latter.

Saturday and Sunday used to be the days for domestic joys, with the tired business man. They are field days now, and the insidious thing about the game is that there's no age limit immunity from attacks of the disease. Anything from the infant to the octogenarian is fair prey for the golf germ, and only paralysis or blindness can make masculinity immune. Local attacks of morality have stopped Sunday playing in certain clubs and there has been a good deal of eloquent arguing for and against it. There's no denying that a day on the links is a tremendous physical invigorator for a man confined to an office during the week, and when one gets into the morals of the problem the issues are sadly complicated, but there's the golf widow. Some concession ought to be made to her; but, up to date, no silver-tongued orator has pleaded her cause.

On the whole, the best thing the deserted wives can do is to get into the game, whether they like it or not. They may hate violent exercise, and the sun may give them headaches and ruin their complexions, and they may find golfing so fatiguing and time-consuming that it leaves no time or energy for social duties or care of home and children; but, if they are going to leave all things and cleave to their husbands, they will have to do their cleaving on the golf links. If health or home cares absolutely prevent their playing the game, they will have to summon their feminine fortitude and resign themselves to the role of golf widow.

"Mrs. Strongmind is a warm advocate of women's rights, is she not?" "Oh, yes. If she had her way, man would not be eligible for anything more important than the vice-presidency."—Brooklyn Life.

LORD MINTO SWORN AGAIN

Members of Government at Ottawa Take Oath of Allegiance.

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—The capital is in mourning to-day. In addition to the public buildings, many private houses are draped in black.

The entrance to the Parliament Buildings will be draped, and this will also be done in connection with all the public buildings in the Dominion. The Lieutenant-Governors of the different Provinces have been advised to this effect. In the case of British Columbia, Lieut.-Governor Joly did not wait for instructions from Ottawa. The Provinces will send resolutions of condolence to His Majesty and the Royal Family.

As soon as the news had been received, by the Associated Press despatches that the title of the King was Edward VII, there was a meeting of the Cabinet, and the usual proclamations were issued. Lord Minto was in attendance and took the oath of allegiance from the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. All the Cabinet Ministers took the oath from His Excellency.

It is likely that the day of the funeral of the Queen will be proclaimed as a day on which all business is to be suspended throughout the Dominion. The Provinces will in all probability name the same day. The stationery for official correspondence in Government circles will be bordered with black. All social functions at Government House and elsewhere have been abandoned, and genuine grief prevails everywhere.

A Timber Purchase

The Orillia News-Letter says:—Following out his prediction of two years ago that lumber was becoming more valuable every year, Mr. A. Tait, president of the Huntsville Lumber Co., last week bought another timber limit for the company. The limit was bought from Mr. Peter Ryan and contains 17 square miles. This makes the fifth limit which the Huntsville Co. have purchased within the past couple of years. President Tait is a firm believer that timber is money and will grow more valuable year by year.

Appendicitis.

Many readers of The Times are interested in the disease known as appendicitis of which there has been many cases in this neighborhood. We find from the annual report of Harper Hospital, Detroit, that out of 147 operations for appendicitis in that institution last year, only eight of the cases resulted fatally. In sixteen cases in which no operation was performed, three were fatal. The chief value of these figures is to show the comparative safety of the operation. To generalize from the figures would be unsafe without a knowledge of the general health of the patients apart from their specific disease.

Any person taking up an estray animal and neglecting to cause the same to be advertised an appraised shall be liable to a fine of $20.

PIE AND HADES.

Change of Food Brings Health and Brilliant Complexion.

When the human body is furnished with food which satisfies its demands, the desire for unnatural food, such as an excess of sweets, pie, cake, and all sortsof unwise preparations, disappears. A California woman's experience on food is valuable.

She says: "I have for years been addicted to meat, particularly pork, pie, hot biscuits, griddle-cakes, etc. Have been in ill health for the past 12 yearsandunder the treatment of a number of doctors. Very serious kidney and bladder troubles set in, finally liver and stomach trouble appeared.

"My liver was so swollen it was impossible to lie on my right side, and every thing I ate soured and distressed me beyond the power of words to express. I was irritable as a tarantula, and weary all the time, brain so dull that it wasalmost impossible to pull myself together enough to dress.

"Finally I tried a watering-place, but that did no good. While there I was attracted to Grape-Nuts breakfast food. At that time I just barly tipped the scales at 100 pounds, and looked like a wreck and was one. I found that the Grape-Nuts food did not distress my stomach and I followed the directions a month, eating it regularly.

"My appetite increased, and nature finally began to come around. I noticed I lost my taste for meat, also for pie and pastries. My stomach, liver and kidneys noticeably improving, until now, at this writing, I am thoroughly well and can stand a smart blow on the small of my back or on the stomach, which would have nearly or quite killed me a year ago.

"I sleep good, no more nightmares, and thoroughly enjoy my food, Grape-Nuts at breakfast, with lots of berries and other fruit. My brain is clear and bright; am not irritable, and do not know that I have either stomach or nerves. The world seemed like a picnic. My flesh is firm and white, and my complexion looks like I had been through a course of beauty doctoring. New blood, you see, and plenty of it.

"I was weighed last week on the same scales and tipped the beam at 139 1-2 pounds, nearly 40 younds gain. I do not claim that Grape Nuts cured my taste for the pork and the other indigestible foods, but I do know that Grape-Nuts filled every requirement of Nature to rebuild where I have been so long tearing down, and the body, being satisfied with the perfect nourishment, did not demand the foods I had eaten, which destroyed instead of building up. Consequently the taste for them naturally dropped out, one by one, so gradually that I myself scarcely noted the difference. My case is well-known and can be verified by hundreds of people. Do not publish my name," but any one interested can obtain it by writing to the Postum Cereal Co. Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

ENNISMORE.

After a lingering illness of over two years, death claimed as a victim last Saturday morning, 19th instant, one who has lived for many years in Peterborough county in the person of Mr. John Kearney of Ennismore, who passed away at the ripe old age of 82 years.

The deceased gentleman was well known for his unbounded hospitality, and was held in the highest respect and esteem by all with whom he was connected in any manner. He was the only brother of Mr. James Kearney of Young's Point, and was born in the county of Donegal, Ireland, in the year 1819. He came to Canada in 1836 and settled in the Township of Smith, near Young's Point, on a farm. In 1836 he married Ellen Horan, of Ennismore, who survives him, and their seven children, Patrick Kearney, of Seattle, C. J. Kearney, now in the Yukon Territory, Mary, Maggie and Lizzie of Chicago, and James and Annie, who still reside at home.

The largely attended funeral, showing the high respect in which the deceased gentleman was held, took place on Monday. The funeral proceeded from the family residence to the Ennismore church, where high mass was celebrated at nine o'clock by Rev. Father McCall, thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery at Young's Point for interment. The remains were laid to rest by the side of his brother, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick conducting the services at the grave.

The pall bearers were, Messrs. Michael Crough, Michael Cavanagh, John Young, Francis Young, of Ennismore, J. E. Kearney and P. A. Kearney of Young's Point. Requiscat in pace.

THE DREADED GRIP.

Many Persons Down With This Malady Which is Only Beginning.

A mild type of grip is epidemic, and has many victims just now in Peterborough and surrounding district. The physicians predict that it will assume a more virulent type as the season advances, and that its maximum prevalence will be reached in March.

Grip symptoms have been thus described by an eminent authority. Slight chills, accompanied by shivering; then soreness of the eyes and headaches; these followed by frequent sneezing, heat and soreness at the top of the larynx, along the course of the windpipe, with hoarseness and dry cough; flying pain in the back, knees, and various parts of the body, weight and anxiety in the region of the heart, depression of spirits, together with sudden and extraordinary prostration of strength."

To avoid the grip, Dr. Cyrus Edson has advised the observance of the following simple rules:

Keep dry, warm, and well fed, wear warm underclothing.

Don't be afraid to wear rubbers. It is more important to keep the feet dry and warm than any other part of the body.

Get a full eight hours' sleep, and take a cold bath on arising, if you can stand it.

If you can't stand the bath, hire a masseur. If you can't afford massage, have the body rubbed down.

Avoid excesses of all kinds, especially in eating and drinking, but don't go too long without food.

As a cure for the disease the following remedy has been recommended:

Phenacetine, 2 scruples; salol, 2 scruples; quinine salicylate, 1 scruple; mix into 20 pills. Take one pill every hour four four hours, and then one every two hours for three or four doses.

The Times, however, advises the reader not to take any chances on the game. If you have the symptoms above described it would be better that you consult your physician and then strictly observe his directions until he give you permission to resume work.

"He That Stays Does the Business."

All the world admires "staying power." On this quality success depends. The blood is the best friend the heart has, and "faint heart" never won anything. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best friend the blood ever had; it cleanses the blood of everything.

If you would be strong in the race of life and "do the business," you must "stay." Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the struggle easy. It gives clear, strong blood; hence perfect health ensues. It never disappoints.

Stomach Trouble—"I had pains in my sides and kidneys. Stomach and liver troubles caused my distress. I had doctored without avail and used many medicines unsuccessfully. My sister advised Hood's Sarsaparilla and in a short time it cured me. I am now stronger and sleep better. I shall never be without Hood's Sarsaparilla in the house." MRS. FRANCKE, 309 Ossington Avenue, Toronto, Ont.

No Strength—"My whole system was run down. I was weak and could hardly get around to do my work. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and after using five bottles I found that my strength had returned and appetite much improved." MRS. KELLEY, 318 Dufferin St., Toronto, Ont.

The Canadian Cordage and Manufacturing Company, Limited, was organized for the purposes set forth in their Charter under "The Ontario Companies' Act." A snyopsis of its powers are as follows: To Manufacture, Buy, Sell, Trade and Deal in Rope, Cordage, Twine, Oakum and other products, and Manufactures of Hemp, Jute, Flax, Manilla, Sisal, Cotton, Paper and other Fibres, and to Manufacture, Buy, Sell, Trade and deal in Wood and any and all articles manufactured wholly or partly from wood

POLICY AND MANAGEMENT.

The object of the directors is:

(a) To sell the shares to farmers, users and sellers of binder twine, rope and cordage in every part of Canada.

(b) To sell the stock preferably in small blocks of from one to eight shares, and to get the greatest possible number of shareholders for small amounts.

(c) To have nothing whatever to do with any trust or combine.

(d) To manufacture first-class binder twine, rope and cordage, and sell them at the lowest market price.

(e) To keep the absolute control of the Company in the hands of farmers and users of binder twine.

The directors of the Company prefer that no person will subscribe for more than eight shares of stock in the Company. The object of this is to prevent a few wealthy shareholders from controlling and owning a majority of the stock and reaping the profits of the Company.

The Company would prefer to have each shareholder take from one to two shares, as it is not for the purpose of getting money the company wants to sell the stock in small blocks to shareholders but it is to get the greatest possible number interested in the success of the Company, because it gives the Company more supporters and agents and customers, and that will be its strength and success.

As a further inducement to consumers of binder twine, the directors propose that any shareholder of the Company who will procure and send in an order to the Company for 500 lbs. of binder twine or upwards will be entitled tohave the order filled at wholesale prices.

By adopting this policy the Company will secure a large market among its own shareholders in every part of Canada, and a still larger market among the neighbours and friends of the shareholders, who may be influenced or induced by them to purchase their twine from the Company.

That will tend to do away with expensive agents and travellers, and it is expected that in this one item alone great expense will be saved

The Company are negotiating for the best men in the business to manage it, who are keen, shrewd business men, who thoroughly understand the business and are thoroughly up to date

By carrying out these principles there is no reason why the Company should not succeed in a very short time in building up a very large and valuable trade.

EQUIPMENT.

The Company will be equipped with the most modern and the most improved machinery that can be obtained, and this will enable the Company to turn out the best quality of goods. The binder twine machinery will cost in the neighbourhood of $60,000, and the rope machinery will cost in the neighbourhood of $30,000, and the machinery for making cordage from soft fibres about $15,000, and the building and the other equipments, about $10 [illegible]

The Company propose to manufacture about five tons of binder twine per day, and about three tons of rope per day, but owing to the fact that the whole season's binder twine has to be carried in stock for nearly a year before the season for selling begins, it takes a large amount of capital to do so without the necessity of borrowing money from the bank and paying discount to the bank, which should properly be saved for the shareholders.

There is no reason why this Company should not pay a large dividend with an economical business-like management, equipped with the latest and best machinery, manufacturing twine of first-class quality and selling at the lowest market price, with a constant and increasing market, unhampered for the want of capital and with [illegible] in the persons of its shareholders, working for its success in every Province of the Dominion.

UNLIMITED MARKET.

There is an unlimited market in Canada for binder twine, rope and cordage, and the demand is increasing year by year, owing to the increased number of self binders, etc., that are being used. For instance, according to the report of the Department of Trade and Commerce for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1899, at page 179 it appears that during the following years, the following quantities of cordage twine for harvest binders, etc., were imported into this country:—

In 1896	3,023,894 lbs.	In 1897	3,39[illegible] lbs.
In 1898	8,678,823 lbs.	In 1899	10,62[illegible]

LOCAL ADVISORY BOARDS

It is the intention of the Directors of the Company to establish Local Advisory Boards in every county. These Advisory Boards will be composed of shareholders, whose duty will be as follows:—

(a) To supply the head office of the Company with information and advice, which they or any of the shareholders in that particular county consider to be in the Company's interest.

(b) To supply the Company with such information as in their judgment will help to increase its customers and extend its trade

(c) To recommend to the Company the names of responsible persons who will undertake to sell twine to farmers and users of twine.

The Company is a limited liability one, and hence no shareholder of the Company is in any way responsible for any amount beyond the amount for which he subscribes.

Any person who desires to apply for stock in the Company may fill out the application hereunder written, cut it out and send same, addressed: "Dominion Cordage and Manufacturing Company Limited Peterborough."

KING'S VISIT TO PETERBOROUGH IN 1860

Incidents Connected With the Royal Visit Over 40 Years Ago.

THE MAGNIFICENT DECORATIONS IN HIS HONOR

The Prince Arrived Over the Old Cobourg and Peterborough Railway and Alighted in Ashburnham.

The visit of King Edward VII to Peterborough in 1860, when he was heir apparent to the throne, was an occasion of great rejoicing and festivities. As soon as it became known that Peterborough was to be thus honored, meetings were held of the Town and County Councils, and the sum of $2,400 placed at the disposal of a Committee who were appointed to make the necessary preparations to give His Royal Highness a fitting reception. To afford any adequate idea of the extent and completeness of the arrangements made on this occasion, we cannot do better than quote the following paragraphs entire, from the Peterborough Review extra, issued on the following day.

"There are three arches erected by the Committee, one in Ashburnham, nearly opposite Mr. Roger's store; one on Hunter street, opposite St. John's church, and one on George street, above McGregor's Hotel. They are very fine structures, and their appearance is strikingly imposing. That in Ashburnham is of a Roman design. On the east side of it, and surmounting the main arch, is the Prince of Wales Plume, under which is the word "Welcome," in large letters. The rest of the arch is handsomely covered with evergreens. On the west side are the Royal Arms, over the words, "God Save the Queen," the body of the arch, like the reverse side, being covered with evergreens.

"The view, in approaching this arch, is very fine. The Town Hall, Market Block and Caisse's hotel are seen in the distance impinging upon the bright shrubbery of Clonsilla Hill in the rear, and giving the impression of a large city across the river.

"The arch opposite the church is a Tudor arch. Along the centre, and immediately under the battlements, on the east side, are the words, "Welcome to Peterborough." On the south tower is a panel surrounded by a wreath, combining the rose, thistle, shamrock and maple leaf, and within the wreath is the letter 'P.' On the north tower a similar panel has the letter 'W.' The west side was allotted by the Committee to the Temperance organizations, who decorated it according to their taste. On the centre, under the battlements, is the word, 'Temperance,' surmounting a scroll with the words, 'Perseverance and Industry.' Over the north side arch is the motto, 'Union is Strength,' over the south, 'Knowledge is Power.' On the north tower, the emblem and motto of the Good Templars: a fountain, and the words 'Faith, Hope, and Charity,' are fixed in a panel. On the south tower those of the Sons of Temperance: a triangle and star, with the words "Love, Purity and Fidelity." The evergreen was beautifully interspersed with flowers, greatly relieving the appearance, and adding materially to the effect.

"The third arch, that near McGregor's hotel, is decidedly the finest of the three. It is in the Gothic style. On the north side of it, that first approached by the Prince, immediately above the centre arch, are the words, 'Welcome, Thrice Welcome to Canada,' surmounted by a shield supported by beavers, and having upon it the Royal Arms. On the east tower, near the top, is a cornucopia, over the words, 'Canada, the Brightest Gem in the British Crown.' On the west tower is a sheaf of wheat, over the word, 'Agriculture,' and a panel with the words, 'Albert, Our Future King.' On the south side of the arch, over the main entrance, are the words, 'Victoria,' 'Albert,' over these the Royal Arms in a shield, supported by beavers. On each tower is the Crown, Bible and Sceptre, and under them, on one, 'God Save,' and on the other 'the Queen.' Lower down, the towers are panelled, one panel enclosing the words, 'Our God and Our Country'; the other, 'The Queen and Constitution.' This arch, approached by the procession from the north, had a most imposing appearance. Through it, George street with its hundreds of flags of every size and color, and its festoonings and mottoes of evergreens, and the lumberers' arch, manned by a score of lumbermen, appeared like a glimpse of fairyland. The 'coup d'oeil' was magnificent, exceeding, according to the statement of gentlemen in the Royal party, anything they had yet witnessed in their tour.

"At the intersection of George and Simcoe streets and George and Hunter streets, large poles had been erected, tastefully wreathed with evergreens, surmounted by a large flag, and having festoonings of flags extending from the pole to the buildings on the four corners. From the string of flags were wreaths of evergreens to the poles, the whole having a very fine appearance from whatever direction approached.

"On the Court House green a pavilion had been erected, for the presentation of the addresses, covered with canvass awning, and beautifully festooned. It was handsomely carpeted, and a chair covered with scarlet cloth, placed on it for His Royal Highness. In front of it seats had been fixed for 1,000 children; and the rising ground of the Court House park afforded easy standing room for 50,000 people.

"It is impossible to speak in terms of too high praise of the zeal manifested by the citizens generally in giving to their buildings the best possible holiday appearance. Foremost, however, among the private decorations was the lumberers' arch. It was placed upon George street, near Charlotte street. The lumber was furnished by Messrs. Snyder and Dickson, the tens by lumberers generally. Mr. Shaw had charge of the erection, and under his guidance, the whole was completed within fourteen hours of the time of its commencement. It was a triple arch, the lumber being so piled as to give to the curves a beautiful appearance. On the top of it were a couple of deer, on each side of these a bark canoe, and as the procession approached, twenty-five lumbermen, dressed in red shirts and black pants, very pictures of able-bodied, well developed men, were ranged along the top. On the face of the arch, immediately above the centre, was a Prince of Wales plume, with the words, 'Welcome, Prince of Wales,' and on one side the words in a scroll, 'The Source of Our Wealth,' on the other 'Ships, Colonies and Commerce.' We detract nothing from the other decorations when we pronounce this one to have been the finest, as it was the most characteristic of the place, of them all. There was neither nail nor saw used in this erection.

"Starting from the station in Ashburnham, the streets were all lined with spruce trees, and from the buildings hung flags and evergreen festoonings. The bridge was prettily decorated with rows of flags along the different spans, and emerging from it, the Tudor arch, with its battlements and flags, loomed in view.

"The post office building was covered with evergreen festoonings and wreaths tastefully arranged. Over the door was the Prince of Wales plume, and on each side the letters A. E. Above this, extended the whole length of the building, were the words, in bold letters, 'A Thousand Welcomes to the Prince.' Continuing on towards George street, every building was decorated. McKellar & Camerons had the appropriate motto, 'pro Regina et Patria.' Ormond & Gilmour's was wreathed with evergreen and red maple bows. Facing Hunter street were the Royal Arms and the triple plume and the mottoes, 'Our Queen and the Land we Live In,' and 'Thrice Welcome to England's Future King.' Facing George street were the words, 'Victoria, Albert,' and, in the corner window, a very handsome Prince of Wales plume made with flowers. Turning up George street, Swayne's cabinet shop was handsomely wreathed with evergreens. Over the entrance was a triple plume of spruce branches, and above it a beaver, with the motto, 'labor omnia vincet.' Opposite this, McGregor's hotel was elaborately decorated with wreaths and festoonings of evergreens, interspersed with rosettes of red, white and blue, and having a beautiful crown, projecting from one of the galleries. Following still the line marked off for the procession, Miss Bailey's house on Water street displayed the word 'Welcome' in evergreen, and Messrs. Johnston's the words, 'Long Live the Prince.' All along Water street the same tasteful display was visible. Over Dr. Burnham's gate the word "welcome" was placed, and the fence wreathed; and along George street to the arch was planted with spruce trees. Passing the corner of Hunter street again, and continuing down George street, Kemp's medical hotel had a very pretty balcony of evergreens raised above the shop door, draped with flowers, and having upon it a very handsome crest of flowers. On the balcony were the words, "Welcome, Albert Prince of Wales." From the building was hung a handsome white banner with the Royal Arms painted upon it. Cluxton's, Stevenson's and Bradburn's four story buildings were very handsomely decorated. A large flag waved from the building, and from the roof, overhanging the street, a great number of flags and streamers were suspended. A handsome festooning of red, white and blue fell from the cornice, and along the face of the buildings, on white cloth, were the words, in large letters, "Welcome, Albert Edward, Prince of Wales." Below this were the words, "Rejoice, Canada is honored this day," and the Royal Arms with a wreath of evergreen around it. Further down, the market block had around the roof, above the cornice, a chain of evergreens, with posts every six feet, surmounted by flags. Across the street from the building to the opposite side were hung flags, one very fine one with the Prince of Wales' plume upon it. From every window a flag was suspended, and on the top of the building a couple of large flags were raised on tall flag staffs. In front of the Review office was a beaver surrounded by maple leaves and a crown of flowers, and over the door of the Toronto bank was a handsome white triple plume. The Examiner office was almost covered with evergreens. It had the word, "welcome" in spruce, and a couple of sheaves of wheat capped the whole. Caisse's hotel had a flag from every window, and a couple on the roof. The awning in front was very handsomely wreathed with evergreens, and at intervals along it were placed colored lamps. From Ryan's and Poole's flags were hung. Going around the market square, the Town Hall was wreathed with evergreens, and along the verandah, at intervals, were placed flags. The Bank of Montreal was very handsomely decorated. Round the door was a wreath of evergreens surmounted by an evergreen triple plume. On the face of the building, in letters beautifully formed of spruce, and placed on crimson cloth, were the words "Welcome, A.E. Prince of Wales." Messrs. Nicholls & Hall's premises were festooned with red, white and blue cloth, and flags, and evergreens, and had a very imposing appearance.

"Besides this, every building had something to indicate the warmth of the reception. Hosts of "Welcome" and "Bien venus" printed on paper could be seen, and away in the country as far as the eye could stretch, flags flying indicated the loyalty of the people. Throughout the whole town there was scarcely one house without its flag or green bow, along the line of the procession there was only one dark undecorated spot. It was a stone building near Lannin's hotel."

"The day for which all this activity of preparation had been shown was as fine a one as could be desired. During the preceding night the streets had been watered, and along the route of the procession

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE IN ENGLAND

The Emperor Goes to Portsmouth to Meet His Son.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 26.—Emperor William left Cowes at 8 o'clock this morning on Royal yacht Alberta for Portsmouth to meet Crown Prince Fredrick Wilhelm, who started from Potsdam for England yesterday morning. The Emperor drove in a closed carriage before the town wa sastir and only half a dozen persons witnessed his departure from Trinity Pier. On the return of the Albert at 11.20, his Majesty and the Crown Prince were standing on the bridge of the boat. The Duke of Connaught boarded the yacht and welcomed the Crown Prince. So soon as Emperor William debarked, his flag at the mainmasthead was lowered. Carriages were in waiting for the party. Emperor William looked decidedly pale, and careworn. The party drove to Osborne, returning the silent salutes of the bareheaded group along the route. The German Imperial yacht, Hohenzollern, arrived here to-day.

CROWN PRINCE IN LONDON.

London, Jan. 26.—Fredrick William, the German Crown Prince, wa smet at the landing at Port Victoria this morning by an equerry of the King and a member of the German Embassy, who accompanied him to London on his way to Osborne. The Crown Prince wore a black suit and a felt hat, and remained in his saloon carriage during the few minutes which were occupied the changing engine sat Victoria Station. As the train started for Portsmouth he uncovered his head in response to the salutes of a little knot of onlookers.

Emperor William awaited his son at Portsmouth dockyard, and greeted him most affectionately. The Emperor and the Crown Prince spent an hour in inspecting the dockyard, after which they embarked on board the Royal yacht Alberta for Cowes.

VANDERBILT'S GOLD.

He Bought Out the Best Coat a Montreal Furrier Had Price $4,000.

Montreal, Jan. 27.—Four thousand dollars is the price Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, the youth who has at his disposal the bulk of his late father's millions, paid yesterday to John Henderson and company, the St. James street furriers, for a sable coat which he presented to his bride. The clerk showed the young man a garment marked at $200, but Mr. Vanderbilt asked if they did not have something better. "Let us see the costliest coat you have in stock," he added. When the purchase was made the bridegroom affixed his name to a cheque for the amount with an unconcern that almost knocked the clerk off his feet.

When the bridal couple returned to the Windsor Hotel, Mr. Vanderbilt was accosted by a Canadian artist who had just returned from Pekin and who brought with him some rare and remarkable jewelry, part of the loot taken by the allies. The bride admired the relics, and a deal was quickly made with the artist. The amount could not be learned, but it was up in the hundreds.

Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt left this afternoon for Quebec, where they will spend a few days in enjoying the winter sports.

EMPEROR WILLIAM NOW FIELD-MARSHALL

Duke of Connaught Presents Him With a Sword on His Appointment.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 27.

This morning Emperor William received from the hand of the Duke of Connaught his sword on his appointment as a Field Marshal for the British in the presence of the household of King Edward and the dead Queen, as well as a number of British and German naval officers. His Majesty has expressed great delight at the appointment. He will entertain King Edward and the members of the Royal family at tea on the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern to-day. He celebrated his birthday at Osborne and received congratulations from the members of the German Embassy in London.

THOUSANDS DIED.

Pekin, Jan. 27.

There has been great distress in the province of Shan Si, owing to the famine, and thousands have died. The Court has ordered rice relief to be issued in large quantities. A report reached the foreign envoys that native Christians suffering from the famine were to be discriminated against, and to be punished if they begged for food. Mr. Conger, Sir Ernest, Mr. Satow and Mr. Pichon, the United States British and French Ministers protested to Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang against such discrimination, and the Court issued an edict dated yesterday, ordering all relief officials and Chinese soldiers to treat Christians exactly the same as others throughout the Empire under penalty of decapitation. The foreign envoys consider this a most important decree if it is carried out.

London, Jan. 26.—The Daily Chronicle, in the course of an editorial on the "threatening aspect of Russian policy in China," refer sto the report that Emperor William will be appointed a field-marshal of the British army, and says." We hope that the report is correct. A German aliance is one we cannot afford to throw away. Who can tell ho wsoon we may need its prestige, if not its active co-operation?"

NEGOTIATIONS SUSPENDED.

Pekin, Jan. 26.—Owing to Queen Victoria's death, there has been a temporary cessation of the negotiations. The various nations to-day fired minute guns in honor of her Majesty.

The request of Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang for the transfer of the Forbidden City to the Chinese in order that preparations may be made for the Emperor's return have been referred by the generals of the Ministers, who have replied that they see no reason to alter the previous determination that the Chinese must show deeds proving their desire to comply with the demand sof the joint note of the powers before any concession will be granted.

The Russian authorities have refused to have any share in the fortification of Ching Wan Tao, claiming that it merely guard sthe mines and other property belonging to the English, and that it is England's duty to bear the whole cost of the work.

COST OF CHINESE OPERATIONS.

Berlin, Jan. 26.—It is semi-officially announced that $49,250,000 is the estimated amount required for the China expendition during the financial year of 1901. The amount of the Imperial loan and the date of issue are uncertain, but there is no question of negotiating it in the United States or Great Britain.

THE MIGHTY EMPIRE DRESSED IN BLACK

Every Englishmen is Wearing Black Clothes and Black Neckties.

London, Jan. 26.—The after effect of Queen Victoria's death on business is remarkable and widespread. It particularly effect sdealers in all sorts of clothing and furnishings, and all good sconnected with amusements, festivities, theatricals and dinners. Black is the only color displayed in the shop windows throughout the Empire. The milliners' stores are filled with black bonnets, and other establishments a funeral show of black clothes, gloves, neckties and hats.

In London every Englishman who can afford it is wearing black clothes, a black necktie, and black gloves. The women are all attired in black, and the officer sof the army and navy have crape bands on their arms. All army flags are draped with black. Naturally there will be loss on stocks of colored goods, particularly in the case of London firms accustomed to depend on court and society business.

On the other hand dealer sin black goods will be able to sell their entire stocks at a very great profit. In fact a famine in black goods threatens the British markets. British colors are already exhausting the resources of the French and German manufacturers. It is said that Lyons, Dresden and other continental centers are already refusing more orders. One of the principal wholesale firms in London, it is announced, ha salready declined 2,000 orders. The same story comes from other factories, which are running night and day to supply demands. Says one wholesale dealer:

"It is difficult to say how and where the demand will end. Assuming that the period of mourning will be prolonged for whole seasons, trade will be revolutionized and some branches will be paralyzed."

Another authority estimates that by the week end £500,000 has been spent in mourning.

ASHBURNHAM CIVIC SOCIETY

An Association that has for its Object the Advancement of the Village

A very important meeting was held on Monday evening, with the view to the formation of a village society for which the above name has been suggested.

There were present Rev. H. Symonds, Rev. C. L. Thompson, Reeve Adams, County Commissioner Pearce, and a number of others leading citizens of the village.

Rev. Mr. Thompson briefly stated the object of the meeting, and called upon Rev. Mr. Symonds to give fuller particulars.

Rev. Mr. Symonds said that for some time he had felt the need of some sort of organization to discuss social and civic questions, in which all residents of the village were interested. Such an organization would be in no way denominational but would be open to all the men of the village.

Such questions as union of the village with the town, the beautifying of our streets, the building up of the village, etc., might be discussed. In this way much good would result to all concerned.

At the close of Mr. Symonds' remarks, a resolution was carried unanimously that the meeting approve of the formation of some such organization.

It was decided to call a public meeting of all the men of the village on Friday evening Feb. 8th in the Council Chamber, Ashburnham to further discuss the matter and arrange the details of organization. A committee consisting of Rev. Mr. Symonds, Rev. Mr. Thompson, and Messrs. Peck, Adams and Matchett was appointed to arrange a suitable programme for this public meeting.

It was felt by all present that this organization will be of incalculable benefit to its individual members and to the village in general, and it is therefore hoped that the Council Chamber will be filled on the evening of February 8th, when the public meeting is held. It will begin at the usual hour, 8 o'clock.

BRITISH TROOP TRAIN TAKEN BY THE BOERS

They Capture a Post of Dublin Fusiliers and Blow up a Culvert.

London, Jan. 27.

The War Office has received from the Commander-in-Chief in South Africa a despatch dated Pretoria, Jan. 26, reporting numerous engagements, the following being the most important. "Cunningham was engaged at Middlefontein and Kopperfontein yesterday with Delarey's force. Babington, while moving north from Venterdorp, threatened the enemy's flank, whereupon the Boers retired west. Cunningham's casualties were two officers wounded, four men killed and thirty-seven wounded. In the engagement at Lichtenberg, Jan. 17, some Yeomanry were captured. These have since been released, with the exception of a Major and 3 men. No details are yet at hand. Smith-Dorrien had a successful engagement of five hours' while on the march from Wonderfontein to Carbina, where the Boers had lately been concentrating. The enemy were in considerable strength and held the river, but were driven out. Our losses were one officer killed and two officers and thirteen men wounded. Lord Kitchener confirms the report that a British train with troops and military stores on board was waylaid and captured at Slijpklijp, near Fourteen Streams last Friday, but says the Boers retired on the arrival of the armoured train sent in pursuit.

Kimberley, Jan. 25.—A train with troops and military stores on board was waylaid, and captured by the Boer sat Slijkfijp near Fourteen Streams this morning. The republicans captured a small post of Dublin Fusiliers, then blew up a culvert, and waited for the train. An armored train ha sgone in pursuit of the Boers.

CAPE POLICE SURRENDER.

Cape Town, Jan. 26.—Twenty Cape Police surrendered to the Boers at Devondale, north of Vryburg, on January 21st without firing a shot. It is reported that Gen. Prinsloo was wounded in the fighting of January 16th.

WOULD BLOW UP KITCHENER.

London, Jan. 26.—DeWet is determined to redeem his vow to kill Kitchener. A despatch from Pretoria states that the pilot engine in front of Lord Kitchener's train, on Thursday, was derailed near Middleburg by the explosion of a mine, which had been laid by the Boers. The Boers, who were in force opened fire and the British replied heavily. Ultimately the Boers were driven off. The British sustained no casualties.

CYCLISTS USEFUL.

The value of cyclists at the front is being more and more recognized, and several of the irregular corps are having special cyclists' squads attached. The cyclists of the Prince of Wales' Horse number 40, and those of the Scottish Horse, 50. The other corps will have similar strong detachments. Over 300 have joined the Cape Colony Cycling Corps. Fifty more cyclists of this corps have left for the front. They were addressed by General Brabant, who said that he himself, as a horseman, had recognized the growing value of cyclists, and their smartness as the vanguard of an attacking force in seizing strategic positions and outstripping horsemen. He regarded them as a strong arm of this command.

DIED FIGHTING LIKE TIGERS.

The particulars of the splendid stand which the Commander-in-Chief's bodyguard made in the terrible disaster which took place on January 3rd, while Colonel Laing, which 150, men was moving to Reitz, have just come to hand. The troops were surrounded in a valley in column, and came under a terrible cross fire. The bodyguard galloped to a donga and fought like tigers. About this time Col. Laing was shot through the heart by a Martini-Henri bullet. Then commenced a scene and closer. Our men never flinched, firing with coolness and determination. The officers who took the dead man's rifles and lent every aid in the thick of the fight, were falling fast, killed and wounded. Lieut. Bateson galloped through, and reached Col. White, to whom he reported the desperate fight of the bodyguard. Col. White despatched a force to the rescue, but it arrived twenty minutes after the remnant of the bodyguard had been taken prisoners. Most of the wounds received by the bodyguard were from Martini-Henri and expanding bullets. The dead were buried by ten o'clock at night.

CAPTURED DELAREY'S PAPERS.

The remnant of Canadian volunteers who remained at Pretoria and were formed into a new corps called Howard's Scouts, made an important capture on securing a horse belong to Commandant Delarey, which ha sbeen so hastily abandoned, owing to the hotness of our pursuit, that a number of the Boer generals papers were found in wallets strapped to the animal's back.

FOR AN HOUR 22 KEEP OFF 300.

An account of a plucky fight in which an escort of twenty Bushmen and two other soffered a splendid resistance to three hundred of the enemy come from Pretoria. A convoy, consisting of twelve waggons, six from farms, and six Governent vehicles, and provisions for the troops at Rhonoster kop, left Bronkhorst Spruit, kop, escorted by a guard of 20 Bushmen, under Capt. Thomas, and two men of the West Riding Regiment, who were returning to duty. About six miles from the kop the escort was suddenly attacked by the Boers, who numbered fully 300. The enemy were lying concealed in gullied in a hill, the bottom of which the convoy had to pass. The Bushmen offered a splendid resistance, twenty-two men keeping 300 of the enemy off for an hour. By this time one Bushman and one man of the West Ridings had been killed and 11 men wounded. The rest were forced to surrender. The Boers searched some of the waggons, but not finding anything to their liking and fearing the arrival of troops, they rode off, releasing their prisoners. Capt. Thomas evaded capture.

DESPATCH FROM KITCHENER.

A despatch received at the War Office from Gen. Kitchener, dated Pretoria, Jan. 24. mentions unimportant contests with Delarey's and Hassebroeck's commands. A score of Boers have been captured, and General Methuen has cleared Griqualand and Kuruman. The invaders have done little harm in Cape Colony. They have not been joined by the inhabitants with whom they are daily becoming more unpopular.

MEMORIAL SERVICES THROUGHOUT ENGLAND

All Places of Worship Held Services in Memory of Qneen Victoria--Thousands Unable to Obtain Admission.

London, Jan. 27.

Yesterday throughout the Kingdom all places of worship held services in memory of Queen Victoria. At St. Paul's Cathedral there was an unusual scene before nine o'clock in the morning. An enormous crowd, wholly attired in black, streamed from all directions to the vast edifice, and by 10 o'clock it was packed. Thousands, unable to obtain admission, stood vainly waiting on the steps and around, listening to the low organ strains and muffled peal. The service began at half-past ten. The Most Rev. Frederick Temple Primate and the Archbishop of Canterbury, preached a most touching sermon. There was a similar scene at Westminster Abbey, where all the services throughout the day were attended by enormous congregations. The large assemblag on the Chapel Royal at St. James' Palace, included Princess Frederick of Hanover, Prince Francis of Teck, a host of titled people, many members of Cabinet and others distinguished persons. All the Roman Catholic and foreign churches in London held special memorial services. The members of the French Embassy attended French Church, and very elaborate services were held at the chapel of the Russian Embassy, by command of Emperor Nicholas. Everywhere particular attention was paid to the musical part of the service. For instance at Lincoln's Chapel Brahm's "Requiem" was performed. The Venerable William Macdonald Sinclair, Archdeacon of London and Canon of St. Paul's Cathedral, preached a commemorative discourse at Canterbury Cathedral.

PETERBOROUGH, JANUARY 28, 1901

THE PRINCESS OF WALES.

The Princess of Wales was fifty-six years old in December last. She is a splendid type of woman, and was Princess Alexandra of Denmark prior to her marriage to the Prince of Wales, thirty-eight years ago.

A very pretty and romantic story is told of how the Princess of Denmark became the wife of Prince Albert Edward of Wales. The Prince chanced to be whiling away part of a long summer afternoon with two or three congenial friends when one of them, a colonel, produced from his pocket a photograph.

The Prince immediately became struck by the beauty and simplicity of the young person in the picture, and soon became possessor of it. Within a very short time he had despatched a confidential emissary to the Denmark to carry his suit to the Princess. The emissary was struck by the simplicity of the royal personages, but particularly by the grandeur and beauty of the young princess. Because of her simple home training the Princess was best fitted for the pomp and honor of her station. She is a brilliant woman, strictly conservative, of commanding presence and stature. She was a favorite companion of the Queen and was very popular.

She is the best loved of all the royal leaders after the Queen. Her character is at once strong and sweet and she shows a kindly consideration for all who approach her.

As a mother she is ideal. Her children were reared and educated as befits their station and their discipline is a matter of comment in England. She is a thoroughly practical woman fond of the best literature and an accomplished musician. She is said to be one of the handsomest women in Great Britain.

In Courtland, N. Y. they have adopted a new scheme for doing away with the evils of the drink habit. There the drinkers will have to take out a license before they can be served with any intoxicant at a licensed saloon or hotel.

Incorrigible.

A poor little street Arab was brought into a hospital by the police. He had been run over by an omnibus and was badly injured. The chaplain was sent for, as it was thought improbable that the boy would live many hours. With little tact the chaplain began the interview thus: "My boy, the doctors think you are very much hurt. Have you been a good little boy?"

Boy (much bored)—You git aont!

Chaplain (shocked)—But I am afraid you are not a good little boy, and you know you may perhaps be going to die.

Boy (anxious to end the interview)—Well, tain't none o' your business any-'ow. Wot's me death got to do with you? 'Ave you got a pal in the corffin line?

It is pleasant to be able to relate that the boy finally recovered.

Now and then the doctor is believed to be almost omniscient. A patient in a military hospital was constantly getting into hot water because he smuggled food into the wards. One morning his medical officer was about to examine his throat with a laryngoscope. Seeing the little mirror all ready for use the man's chum whispered an anxious warning from the adjoining bed. "I say, Bill, you'd best 'ave a care. 'Ee moight 'appen to see wot yer 'ad for supper lawst noight."—Cornhill Magazine.

La Grippe

A mild type of grip is epidemic, and has many victims just now in Peterborough and surrounding district. The physicians predict that it will assume a more virulent type as the season advances, and that its maximum prevalence will be reached in March.

Grip symptoms have been thus described by an eminent authority: Slight chills, accompanied by shivering; then soreness of the eyes and headaches; these followed by frequent sneezing; heat and soreness at the top of the larynx, along the course of the windpipe, with hoarseness and dry cough; flying pain in the back, knees, and various parts of the body, weight and anxiety in the region of the heart, depression of spirits, together with sudden and extraordinary prostration of strength."

To avoid the grip, Dr. Cyrus Edson has advised the observance of the following simple rules:

Keep dry, warm, and well fed; wear warm underclothing.

Don't be afraid to wear rubbers. It is more important to keep the feet dry and warm than any other part of the body.

Get a full eight hours' sleep, and take a cold bath on arising, if you can stand it.

If you can't stand the bath, hire a masseur. If you can't afford massage, have the body rubbed down.

Avoid excesses of all kinds, especially in eating and drinking, but don't go too long without food.

As a cure for the disease the following remedy has been recommended:

Phenacetine, 2 scruples; salol, 2 scruples; quinine salicylate, 1 scruple; mix into 20 pills. Take one pill every hour four four hours, and then one every two hours for three or four doses.

The Times, however, advises the reader not to take any chances on the game. If you have the symptoms above described it would be better that you consult your physician and then strictly observe his directions until he give you permission to resume work.

Ought They to Marry

And bring children into the world to suffer from an inherited blood taint? People do not realize that foul blood may lurk under a fair skin, and that the fire smoldering in the blood of the parent may break into flame in the flesh of the child. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery puts out the smoldering fires of scrofula. It cleanses the blood from disease taints, strengthens the weak lungs, heals the diseased stomach.

"Dr. Pierce's medicine has done wonders for my two sons," writes Mrs. M. Hartrick, of Demster, Oswego Co., N. Y. "Both had scrofula. I have lost two daughters in less than five years with consumption and scrofula. My eldest son was taken two or three years ago with hemorrhage from the lungs. It troubled him for over a year. He took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and has not had one in over a year. My younger son had scrofulous sores on his neck; but has not had any since he commenced to take your medicine."

TELEPHONE POINTERS

One of the many good points of a telephone is that a message cannot fail to reach its hearer correctly. Another good point is that it reaches all points, and that everybody in the city or country worth doing business with has a telephone. Another good point is the economy of time and money. Another point — can you afford to be without one, at home or office?

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. A WONDERFUL

KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

I. A. HOPKINS.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, GRAVEL, DROPSY,

And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary troubles which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief, that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right, I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been benefited by its use. I am 53 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.
Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Mrs. Wm. H. Hardy, East Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured her after six doctors failed. Rev. J. W. Hickman, Collyer, Trego Co., Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble, of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state.

Not only does this great discovery—Alkavis (the Kava-Kava Compound)—cure all forms of Kidney and Bladder disease, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 503 Fourth Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

ATTRACTIVE EXHIBIT.

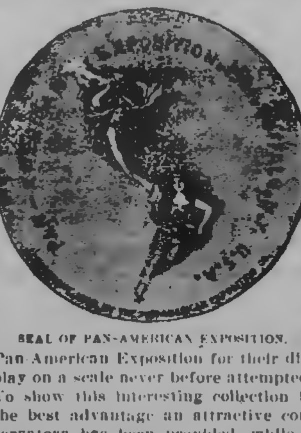
That of Foods and Their Accessories, Including Pan-American Spices.

A very dainty pamphlet has been issued by the Division of Foods and Their Accessories of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo. The food work at the Pan-American comes under the general department of Horticulture, Forestry and Food Products, of which Mr. Frederic W. Taylor is superintendent. Mr. G. Edward Fuller, as assistant superintendent, has entire charge of the Division of Foods and Their Accessories, and he has prepared himself for unusual work in this line by special travel and study such as no one else probably ever undertook with the same object. This pamphlet calls the attention of jobbers of teas, coffees, and spices and all dealers in food products generally and their accessories to the interesting, useful and educational work in their lines of business which is going on for the Pan-American Exposition of 1901.

The assistant superintendent, Mr. Fuller, says: "In the far east there are foods and condiments of which we are almost utterly ignorant here, and one of the aims of the food exhibit will be to educate the people of the western hemisphere to the cultivation of the products which flourish in the east. It will be my aim to show how simple and profitable it would be, for instance, to grow in the West Indies what is grown in the East Indies. The climate and soil conditions are remarkably similar, and the conditions are favorable.

"The best proof obtainable or desirable that the soil and the climate of the West Indies is as favorable as that of the East Indies for the production of spices is already available. The products now received from the West Indies are not equaled by those from any other section of the world. At the present time they grow better allspice, ginger and red pepper there than anywhere else on the globe, and the vanilla bean, which is queen of spices, as the nutmeg is king, is found nowhere in the world in such perfection as in Mexico. The coffee grown in Mexico has a flavor obtainable in no other coffee, not even the Mocha or Java surpassing it. Emperor William of Germany appreciates that fact, and all of the coffee used in the royal household is sent from our nearby republic. Venezuelan cacao, from which chocolate is made, is superior to the East Indian product.

"With the view of massing together in one effective, instructive and useful exhibit the economic plants, vines and trees of tropical Pan-America which produce teas, coffees, spices and kindred things, it has been decided to appropriate considerable space at the Pan-American Exposition for their display on a scale never before attempted. To show this interesting collection to the best advantage an attractive conservatory has been provided, while a museum, as an annex to this, will contain finished products as well as rare and curious articles to illustrate a variety of features under the head of 'Foods and Their Accessories.'



SEAL OF PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

"It is a fact well known to experts in exhibition matters that a scattered display of special articles loses force, while a condensed exhibit of a line of things pertaining to a specific subject becomes educational. Now, as the object is to increase the production and promote the consumption of the things called for, much trouble and expense is justified in making this collection unique and unparalleled.

"It is intended to make the exhibit of red peppers the finest and most extensive collection ever made, with the object of demonstrating by special exhibit connected with the 'accessories of food' that Pan America can produce all the red peppers consumed in Pan-America. It is perhaps only known to experts that vast quantities of red peppers are imported from Europe, Asia and Africa every year because Pan-Americans are not actively alive to their own interest in this important matter."

One of Many Enthusiasts.

Joe Mitchell Chapple, editor of The National Magazine published at Boston, was in Buffalo recently and became much interested in the Exposition. On his return to Boston he wrote to an official of the Exposition as follows: "I was indeed sorry not to have seen you when in Buffalo, but I did see the Exposition and was astonished beyond measure. I wish that you would send on anything that you think might be of interest to our readers and make it as attractive as possible, and I shall keep on hammering away at the Exposition editorially until it opens, because I am thoroughly enthused over the subject."

Brazil to Be Represented.

The Brazilian government early in the season sent out invitations to all agricultural and industrial societies to prepare articles for exhibition at the Pan American Exposition at Buffalo in 1901. A large number of coffee producers have agreed to send a full line of samples of the best Brazilian grades of this commodity.

This is what you must do when you have catarrh in the head. The way to cure this disease is to purify the blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla. INK AS A WITNESS

Results In One Case Which Amazed the Attorneys.

In a case in the supreme court it was alleged that interlineations had been made in the papers after they were filed, and the papers were submitted to expert chemists to decide whether the interlineations had been made after the papers were filed or at the time the paper was drawn. The process followed by the chemists was simple, though tedious.

Hypochloride of soda was the only chemical used by the expert, but the result was the same as that arrived at by the other experts. Tests were made on each line of the document. The soda bleached the ink, and, as the writing in some parts was done many years ago, the first drop of soda was placed on a line which was not in controversy. The writing slowly faded, and it was 51 seconds before it was bleached.

A drop on another interlineation faded the writing in 40 seconds, on another in 51 seconds, and the interlineations made when the paper was first written faded in about 50 seconds on an average. Suddenly the ink of one of the interlineations faded in 15 seconds, and the conclusion was at once reached that it was fresher ink than the others, as the ink had not had time to thoroughly permeate the fiber of the paper.

Several interlineations were found to fade in from 13 to 16 seconds, and these were marked as having been made at a more recent date.

After all interlineations had been so marked, the next step was to ascertain as nearly as possible at what date the interlineations were made, and for this purpose many manuscripts in which similar ink was used on the same kind of paper were taken. The exact date of the writing of each manuscript was known, and soda was dropped on each, beginning with the date of writing of the manuscript in controversy. The time necessary to fade the ink gradually decreased from 52 and 50 seconds as the soda was dropped on the manuscripts of more recent years.

When the fading took place in 20 seconds, manuscripts but a month apart in writing were used, and the fading in 14 and 15 seconds was thus fixed in a certain month. The examining chemists knew nothing of the points in the controversy, and the report was made that certain interlineations were probably made in the specified month. The attorneys in the case were amazed, as the month named was that in which they believed the more recent writing had been done.—Indianapolis Press.

Uses For Bicycles.

There are many uses to which an old cycle can be put. It is said that a theater manager has made rather an excellent chandelier out of his old wheel. He also uses an old tricycle for producing the effect of wind, hail and railway trains. A navvy is said to have made a clock almost all out of parts of an old machine. The bell strikes the hours, and a length of solid rubber tire holds the pendulum, which is a bicycle fork. At one small place a man has turned a discarded wheel into a kind of pump, and the tires do duty for the pipe hose. Another has made a treadle sewing machine out of his wheel. A grocer has turned part of a cycle into a coffee grinding machine, and a bell ringer, being rather feeble in the arm, has an old cycle which he has raised and fixed in one position, and so by a pulley arrangement he can when gently pedaling ring the bell vigorously. Many folks use their old wheels for flower stands, and there is a man who is making quite a decent living by turning old bicycles into conveyances on which washerwomen can take home the weekly load.—London Globe.

The Crusades and Embroidery.

The crusades had a marked effect on the demand for embroidery, as besides the decoration of their cloaks and pouches the kings and their followers wanted gorgeously worked hangings for their tents and heraldic blazons for their banners. The last were difficult of execution, and new stitches were invented, and applique work was introduced about this time. The Spaniards are said to have learned the use of spangles and other metal and bead ornaments as applied to stuffs from the Saracens. Later precious stones and pearls were used, and in 1414 Charles of Orleans spent about £40 for 960 pearls which were to be used in ornamenting a great coat on the sleeves of which were embroidered the verses of a song beginning with "Madam, I am all joyous." The musical accompaniment of the words was also embroidered.—Spectator.

Worth Seeing.

A Newcastle laborer recently resolved to treat himself to a night at the theater, and, entering the pit by the back of the orchestra, he happened to see the double bass viol set up against a music stand.

Having never seen anything of the kind before, he leaned his arm on the orchestra rail and stood transfixed with amazement. The pit was filling rapidly, and an acquaintance, tapping him on the shoulder, said if he didn't take a seat they would soon be all occupied.

"Wey, wey, hinny," he exclaimed excitedly, "neever heed a seat. Aal I want is a look o' the chap that's gaan to put that fiddle oonder 'his chin."—London Fun.

Patient—No, I don't know that a complication of diseases would be any better to die of.—Detroit Journal.

A well-known water-front character in Bath, Me., recently spent a month in jail at Wiscasset and rather enjoyed it. The warden treated the man leniently, allowed him to go fishing and enjoy other reliefs to the monotony of prison life and used him as a mail messenger and errand boy. One night the prisoner was delayed on a mission to the post-office and did not arrive at the jail until after six, when the institution is closed for the night. The warden was waiting for the delinquent and gave him a small lecture, ending by saying: "If you are as late as this again I shall lock you out!" The prisoner was careful to be on time after that.

A Household Remedy.

I feel I ought to say to you I owe largely my present health to your Ozone. I had la grippe several times, which left me in a very bad condition. I felt that I was an old man, though young in years. I could not walk far at a time, nor could I eat or sleep. In fact I felt all my powers as a man materially weakened. Was advised by a friend to try Ozone. I am pleased to say that in a short time I was my former self again. Your remedy seems to have the power to drive out of the system all traces of disease. I found it toned up my blood and stomach splendidly. Wishing your remedy could be used in every family, I am, yours very truly, (Signed) R. S. Thomson, corner Teraulay and Elm sts., Toronto.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Services in all the Protestant Churches Refer to the Queen.

Yesterday the services in all the Protestant churches were of a memorial character, and were very impressive.

St. John's Church was draped in purple, after the style of the Royal chapel in England on occasions of mourning. Flags were placed in the entrances, banded with crepe. The sermon by the Rev. Mr. Davidson, was appropriate and very impressive.

At St. Paul's the organ gallery, including the pulpit and organ, was covered with black, as was also the front of the gallery at the south. While the congregation were being seated, the "Dead March in Saul" was rendered by Mr. Crane, the organist. Dr. Torrance preached an eloquent and practical sermon, on the life of the late Queen. There were many tear-stained eyes in the congregation when reference was made to the Queen's motherhood.

The Charlotte Street Church was also appropriately draped, a large picture of the Queen, with black border, being shown in front of the pulpit. Rev. Mr. Wilson occupied the pulpit, and preached a very impressive sermon.

In St. Andrew's Church Rev. Mr. Potter preached a sermon that will long be remembered for its impressiveness and its depth. The church was in black.

The George Street Church last night was crowded to hear Rev. Mr. Wilson, who conducted a memoral service for the Queen. The church was artistically draped.

Rev. Mr. Bastow, in the Baptist Church, also preached on the subject of the late Queen. His sermon was particularly heart-stirring and eloquent.

Memorial services were also held at All Saints', St. Luke's, St. Mark's, the South Baptist Church, all of which wore emblems of mourning.

STURDY BLACKSMITHS.

Learn Facts About Coffee.

Two blacksmiths of Northampton, Mass., Messrs. Thayer and McGrath, both discovered that coffee was the cause of heartburn and sour stomach continually troubling them in spite of active exercise.

They left off the coffee and began taking Postum Food Coffee. The trouble disappeared at once, and both men are now enthusiastic over Postum.

If powerful men like blacksmiths are affected by the drugs contained in ordinary coffee, it would seem folly for brain workers to try to withstand the effects of it.

Hiram Day, a man seventy-five years old, also of Northampton, had used coffee for a great many years, and developed serious bilious troubles. A few months ago he left off coffee and began using Postum Food Coffee. He has recovered his health and considers Postum in every way superior to ordinary coffee.

Edson P. Clark, also of Northampton, Mass., a pencil manufacturer, was troubled with dyspepsia and kidney disorders. He was induced to leave off coffee and use Postum Food Coffee in its place. He says he has never been as well in twenty-five years as he is at present, and gives the entire credit to Postum.

Nearly every coffee user is ill in some part of the body. Coffee does not directly affect the same organs in every man or woman, but the effect is first on the stomach, and from that to the nervous system. When the nerves are out of order it may show in the different organs like the kidneys, liver, heart, lungs, bowels, or some other part of the body, or the trouble may show itself in a general nervous and unbalanced condition. When coffee is dispensed with, and nature begins to set up a cure, it is very greatly helped in this work by the use of Postum Food Coffee, for it contains certain elements that the life force uses to build up the cells and the gray matter in the nerve centres. Any person can prove this easily by trial.

there was comparatively little dust. About nine o'clock the children were arranged in their seats, and about ten the Rifle Company marched over to the Railway station. An immense crowd had gathered and about half-past ten the Temperance bodies arrived on the ground, dressed in their regalia, and having their flags unfurled. The train arrived about half-past eleven. As it approached, the crowd sent up a cheer such as has seldom rent the air in this neighborhood, and a general rush was made for the platform. With the greatest difficulty the space for the carriages was kept clear. As soon as His Royal Highness, who was dressed in plain clothes, entered his carriage, the Rifle Company presented arms. Some little delay occurred in getting the procession started, owing to the crush of people; but it was soon got over, and left in the following order:—

Marshal, on horseback,
Two Deputy Marshals, on horseback.
Warden and Counties Council, in carriages.
Mayor and Town Council, in carriages,
Sheriff and County Judge, in carriage,
Carriage with
PRINCE AND GOVERNOR GENERAL,
And the Rifle Company as a Guard of honor marching on each side of the carriage.
The Duke of Newcastle, Earl St. Germains, General Bruce and other of the Prince's suite in carriages.
Members of the Legislature, in carriages,
Executive Committee, in carriages,
Band.
Two Marshals on horseback,
Temperance Organizations, Inhabitants.

The procession moved forward in this order through Ashburnham, the road on each side being crowded with people, who cheered heartily, and crossed the bridge. As it passed through the arch on Hunter street, the people who were crowded on the high sloping ground on either side, sent forth cheer after cheer, the ladies in the windows waved their handkerchiefs, and threw bouquets to the Prince, and the wildest enthusiasm prevailed until he reached the Court House grounds. Here he alighted from his carriage, and, with his suite, ascended the dias; the County Council taking up a position at his right, the Town Council and Committee at his left, and the Rifle Company on each side of the platform in a space reserved for them. As soon as he appeared on the platform, the thousand children who occupied the seats immediately in front, and who were most nicely dressed, sang the National Anthem, under the direction of Mr. Glover and Mrs. Heathfield.

"The singing was very good indeed, and the appearance of the children most commendable. The Prince and those with him seemed much delighted with the view from the dias. The fine sloping ground in front, gave to the 15,000 people assembled an ample opportunity to see the Royal party, and to be seen to the best advantage by them, and we doubt whether, since his arrival in this country, he has stood before a happier, a more industrious, or a more loyal people."

After the singing, addresses were read by William Lang, Esq., Warden, on behalf of the county, and by Augustus Sawers, Esq., Mayor, from the town, to which the Prince replied:—

"Gentlemen,—I thank you sincerely for the address which you have presented to me.

"In the Queen's name I acknowledge the expressions of your loyalty to her crown and person, and for myself I am grateful to you for this welcome to your neighborhood."

A deputation from Cavan also presented an address, signed by John Swain, Esq., Reeve of that township, for which His Royal Highness expressed his cordial thanks.

"After the presentation of the address, the Govern General, having intimated that the limited time at the disposal of His Royal Highness, would compel him to move rapidly through the town, the Rifle Company marched directly to Port Hope station, to receive the Prince when he came up. The procession passed through the principal streets, the crowds cheering lustily as before, and as the Prince's carriage passed under the lumberer's arch, the men on it raised such a cheer as proved that the capacity of their voices was quite equal to the magnificent proportions of their persons. In a little less than an hour from the time the Prince arrived, he entered his car from the platform on Hunter street, and left, leaving after him thousands of hearts beating not only with a warm loyalty to his Royal Mother, but a whole souled personal attachment to himself."

"In the evening, Caisse's hotel was brilliantly illuminated, and fire-works were set off from the buildings. A large crowd of persons were in the streets to witness the display, which lasted until about ten o'clock, after which all went quietly home; the events of the day having passed over without any disturbance of the public peace, and without a single accident or mishap to detract from its enjoyment. It was indeed a day of pleasure without one particle of alloy. Long will be the visit of the Prince of Wales to Peterborough be cherished as the brightest, happiest day she has known."

You Cannot Guess Winners

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

"Better the Feet Slip Than the Tongue."

Slips of any kind are to be deplored, but there is one slip Nature never forgives. It is the carelessness of ignoring the signal that the body is in danger of wreck. It may be that the kidneys or the stomach or the head gives the warning sign. But remember, the blood feeds every organ of the body.

Make no slip, but first tone up the system through the blood, and health will surely follow. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best preparation man has devised to make pure, life-giving blood. It never disappoints.

Swellings—"I had a swelling on my chest. It caused me great pain and many sleepless nights. Physicians advised an operation but my daughter urged that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla instead. I did so and after using six bottles, the swelling went away and I have not had any more pains." MRS. J. W. CRONKWRIGHT, 432 Front St., Belleville, Ont.

Erysipelas—"I would strongly urge the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla for erysipelas or any scrofulous disease. I have received great benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla for the former complaint. It is an excellent blood purifier." MRS. H. D. WEST, Church Street, Cornwallis, Nova Scotia.

TEMPRANCE WOMEN WILL BE MARTYRS

The Kansas W.C.T.U are Determined to Close Saloons.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 28.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, who has already wrecked four saloons in Kansas, has decided to suspend saloon-smashing temporarily. This afternoon she said: "I have started the smashing, and now I leave it for other women to continue while I get some rest. I am now forming 'Mothers and Sisters' clubs in various towns where I visit. The purpose of these clubs is to warn their men relatives not to enter saloons. If the men persist, then the women will either sue the saloon men or smash the saloons, just as they see fit. There are a thousand of us now, and I expect in this manner to soon have three or four thousand women banded together for the purpose of driving the murder shops out of Kansas."

Mrs. Nation was egged out of Enterprize last night after smashing one saloon, engaging in a hand to hand fight with several women and making fiery speeches in the streets. She went to Hope and there organized one of her clubs and then took the noon train for Ottawa, Kansas, where she will organize another.

Saturday afternoon two hundred temperance women held a meeting, when it was practically decided to wreck every saloon in Wichita unless they closed up immediately. The meeting was led by Mrs. Wilhoit.

Mrs. Tyron, one of the speakers, said: "There will be bloodshed in this town if the men fail to do their duty, and that blood will be from the bodies of us women, who are willing to sacrifice our lives in the temperance cause."

AT ST. PETERS CATHEDRAL

Impressive References on Sunday by Ven Archdeacon Casey

Ven. Archdeacon Casey at the different masses in St. Peter's Cathedral on Sunday, referred in a very touching manner to the death of Queen Victoria. He stated that her death was one of the saddest events that had come to the country in the age of man. It was the death of one who for over sixty years ruled the greatest empire the world had ever seen. All nations grieved over the death, but it was for her subjects, to grieve, for she was their gentle and beloved Queen. There were times in English history when turbulent elements arose to inflame the minds of men, but England remained loyal to their good Queen, and these turbulent men were unable to inspire disloyalty in British hearts. During Queen Victoria's long and glorious reign the British empire expanded, her population increased, as did the loyalty of her subjects. True she had grand and brilliant statesmen to assist her, such as Wellington, Palmerston, Disraeli, Gladstone and Salisbury, still, we are told, her advice was very often sought. During her glorious reign legislation was enacted which gave liberty to all, and the franchise was also extended to every man.

When she ascended the throne, Canada was in the throes of a rebellion, but it was her hand which signed the constitution which made the two Canadas one, and in the end a united Canada. As Canadians, we owe much to her. At the time of her accession to the throne slavery existed in her dominions—slaves were sold in Bristol and slave ships traversed the seas. But her hand signed the document which liberted every slave in the empire. When slaves crossed the line from the United States to Canada, the moment they set their feet on Canadian soil they were free men. Peace, the speaker said, had marked her reign, for that was one thing she desired at all times. True there were several wars during her reign, but she was at all times opposed to war. The great Crimean struggle of 1854 was one in which England entered with reluctance. Coming to the present struggle in South Africa, it was Kruger's celebrated ultimatum that caused the war, as England was forced by this act to defend her subjects, and keep back the Boer troops from taking possession of British territory. When Lord Roberts returned to England it was with a heavy heart the late beloved Queen listened to his recital of the horrors of the struggle, and reports say it was her grief that hastened the end.

It was not alone as a Queen that she was admired and loved, but because she was good and great, and one whose name will live forever in the hearts of her people. She was a young maiden when she ascended the throne. She stated herself that she was young and inexperienced, but she would put her trust in God, and events had shown that that trust had not been misplaced. She was faithful to her husband, and her married life was an example to the English people as well as to the royalty of Europe. Her home was an example to every household. She was a model wife and mother, and far different to the so-called "new woman."

When her widowhood came the world mourned with her. Her husband was a noble character, and an honour to the English Empire, and there were few families where filial love was shown with more affection than in the home of England's Queen. As a maiden, queen and mother Victoria was a model, and the one desire expressed by her son, Edward VII, was that he might walk in her footsteps.

Although she did not die in the bosom of the church, and whilst public requiems could not be chanted, all were asked to pray that God would give rest to her soul, and while in prayer to remember the future, and pray that the reign of the new sovereign would be one of prosperity and peace.

The Archdeacon's eulogy of the dead sovereign was an eloquent one and made a very deep impression on the congregation.

WANT THEIR PAY

Deputation of Toronto Members of C Battery to Interview Local Members

That "a bird in hand is worth two in the bush" has been demonstrated to many of the members of "C" Battery, Royal Canadian Field Artillery, just returned from active service in South Africa. A deputation of the Toronto member of this battery is preparing to interview the local members of the House of Commons with reference to the reported refusal of the Militia Department to allow the battery the difference between Imperial and Canadian pay, viz., 46c per day. This amounts to a matter of over $100 to each of the members of "C" Battery. The Government claims that the men have already received more than they are entitled to.

Soon after arriving in South Africa the battery was attached to the Rhodesian field force, and was sent by way of Beira, through Portugese East Africa, and Rhodesia to the relief of Mafeking. For these special services the Rhodesian Government voted to the whole of Col. Plumer's column a special bonus of about thirty pounds sterling per man, and of course, the Canadian battery benefitted by this grant. It is on this that the Government bases its theory that the men are not entitled to receive the Canadian pay.

The fact remains however, that about one-third of the members of the battery have already drawn this pay. Several of the married men and others, assigned it, before leaving for South Africa, to their relatives who have been drawing the same, monthly or otherwise, while the men have been away. Needless to say, those of the men who did not secure their money, but trusted to the honesty of the Government, are wondering at their own want of foresight.

Troops Mutiny in Venezuela

Fort De France, Martinique, Jan. 28. The Venezuelan troops in the Hoyo barracks at Caracas mutined on Jan. 15 and killed their Colonel, the Lieutenant Colonel, and seven men, and then fled in various directions.

Tow hundred and ten of the men were captured again. There was no fighting in the town, and the exact cause of the mutiny is not known.

The situation, so far as it affects the Bermudez Asphalt company, grows more critical every hour. All the negroes and other laborers are menaced and impressed by the local authorities, or they desert, thus leaving the plant at the asphalt lake without assistance. The American colony in Venezuela continues to protest against the indifference with which American lives and interests are regarded.

WILL NEVER CEASE TO IMPRESS THE IMAGINATION OF THE WORLD

The Crown Prince of Germany, Frederick William, was Invested with the Order of the Garter by King Edward VII.

London, Jan. 28.—All the morning papers comment with keen satisfaction upon the exchange of courtesies between King Edward and Emperor William.

"History is being made with lightning speed in these days," says the Daily Telegraph, "days crowded with majestic and epoch-making incidents which can never cease to impress the imagination of the world, and perhaps to affect its fortunes. There is not a single Briton but cherishes the hope and the confidence that the close and moving contact into which Emperor William and the British people have been brought will result in the absolute removal of a great misunderstanding."

CROWN PRINCE HONORED.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 28.—The Crown Prince of Germany, Frederick William, was invested with the Order of the Garter this morning by King Edward VII. The investure occurred in the Council chamber of Osborne House. It was a brilliant function. The high officers of the household, military, and civil functionaries, and the Emperor's entourage, including a party from the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, were present in full uniform.

While the Crown Prince knelt before the King to receive the insignia, His Majesty addressed a few cordial words to the Prince, and then, turning to Emperor William, in touching terms he thanked him for his visit at this time of sorrow and bereavement, and dwelt on the personal and other ties uniting the two countries of Germany and Great Britain.

It is said that Emperor William will bestow the Order of the Red Eagle on Prince Arthur of Connaught, the son of the Duke of Connaught.

The Grand Court Marshal of Prussia, Count Von Eulenburg, is on his way here to join the suite of Emperor William. The latter accompanied the Crown Prince on a long ramble through the Osborne House grounds to-day, later boarding the Hohenzollern to transact urgent State business.

THE BURLEIGH POWER SCHEME

Mr. J. Alex Culverwell Asks for Cobourg Franchise of the Streets.

For some time the citizens have regarded the Burleigh Falls Power scheme as a sort of fake that would never amount to anything. It was thought that Mr. Culverwell, the manager, was unable to float the enterprise, and it was therefore a financial failure. But it would appear that this is incorrect. The Company, according to report, is very much alive, and its prospects are good.

Recently Mr. Culverwell appeared before the Cobourg Council in regard to supplying that town with electricity. A special meeting of the Council was held on Wednesday last to consider the Company's proposal. Mr. Culverwell addressed the Council in reference to the matter. He said that he represented the Central Ontario Power Co., proprietors of Burleigh Falls power, with head office at Peterborough, of which Hon. R. Harcourt is president and Eugene Coste, M.E., 1st vice-president. The company were desirous that the Council should pass a by-law immediately to allow the company to put up poles and wires for the purpose of transmitting power from Burleigh Falls into the town. He stated that Mr. W. R. Riddell, a member of Crossen Car Works Co., and Mr. John Dick of the Dick-Ridout Co., were among their shareholders. The Central Ontario Power Co. have a charter from the Government for $750,000. They have 6,000 horsepower available during day time. They did not ask exclusive privileges, but wanted exemption from taxation as was given to the manufacturers of Cobourg.

Mr. John H. Dumble, Town Solicitor, was present.

The Council spent some time discussing the question. It was decided that the Mayor and Town Solicitor meet Mr. Culverwell to further discuss the matter and bring a prepared by-law in to the Council meeting on Monday evening.

FROM THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Resolution of Sympathy Over the Queen's Death Sent to Lord Minto.

The Board of Trade sent the following resolution of condolence to His Excellency, the Governor-General:

To His Excellency the Right Honorable Lord Minto, G. C. M. G., Governor-General of Canada:

May it please Your Excellency:

The Peterborough Board of Trade most respectfully requests Your Excellency to forward, through the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, its expression of profound sympathy and heartfelt sorrow to His Majesty King Edward VII and the members of the Royal Family in the irreparable loss which they have sustained by the lamented death of our late Sovereign Lady, Queen Victoria.

CLIMBING TO THE TOP.

Mr. J. W. Leonard, of the C. P. R., to go to the Intercolonial.

The many friends of Mr. J. W. Leonard in and around Peterborough, will be delighted to learn that he has been appointed General Manager of the Intercolonial Railway, by the Dominion Government.

Mr. Leonard commenced his career on the Grand Trunk, at Peterborough, going to Lindsay on the Victoria, and thence to the Credit Valley, and on that line being absorbed by the C.P.R. he retained his position with a greatly increased area of road and responsibilities. The following is an extract from an article in Saturday Night:

"This selection," says Saturday Night, "if it has been made or is to be made will startle the public as an unusual manifestation of wisdom on the part of those who control Dominion Railways.

"Perhaps there isn't another man in the world of his age who is so well loved by his subordinates as the unassertive and sweet-tempered fellow known by his friends as Jim Leonard. He is barely past forty, his face is unseamed with care, and his hair has no tinge of grey. As gentle as a woman in his manners, as firm as the everlasting rock in his purpose, this quiet and unostentatious young man has grown to be regarded as one of the coming men, if not the coming man, in railroad circles. At no time has he ever sought or received any notoriety. he has simply been an operative and administrative railroad man. It is strange nowadays to find a man with such big interests who retains a nervous system that cannot be aired. Every sectionman and engine-driver and fireman on some two thousand miles of track looks to Jim Leonard as his friend. In construction or re-construction he is noted as the swiftest thing that ever came along a pike, yet when he goes up against the City Council or Legislature he is the quiet, unobstructive man who never says anything, and waits till he has an opportunity to act."

Want to Join Baden-Powell.

Ottawa, Ont., January 29.—Among the applicants reaching the military department for positions on the Baden Powell Police Force in South Africa are many from the United States. Fifty applications were received at the department yesterday and half of these came from New York.

NATURAL GAS IN PETERBORO.

There is Strong Belief that it Exists in the Locality.

There is every reason to believe that coal oil or natural gas, or perhaps both, exist in this neighborhood. On many occasions, when wells were being dug, small pockets of natural gas have been discovered and many evidences of petroleum have also been found.

About 35 years ago the opinion prevailed to such an extent that a company was organized and boring began. A depth of a couple of hundred feet was reached, when the drill broke and could not be removed, so that work was discontinued.

More recently the work of excavating the plungers for the lift lock developed the fact that natural gas exists, for it burned for days while the work was in progress. Rock was also removed dripping with petroleum.

If some of our moneyed men would take the matter up, and sink a test well near the lift lock, many who have made this matter a subject of thought are of opinion that great results would follow. Here is a chance for the exhibition of local enterprise.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Becoming the Popular Idea Throughout the Country

That people are becoming alive to the advantages of municipal ownership of public franchises, is almost everywhere apparent. Peterborough is preparing to take over this water works and later on the electric lighting, and the present council is expected to move in this matter.

Woodstock, is a town of 10,000 inhabitants. While not a large place in its very progressive. Some time ago the Woodstock Electric Light Company was called to sell its plant to the city and after demurring the deal was effected and the business was passed over to the municipality. Hereafter the plant will be run as a city undertaking.

Kingston, with a population of 20,000, has notified the Kingston Light. Heat and Power Company of its intention to proceed in a lawful manner to arbitrate to acquire the whole plant. The Company's contracts expire in 1901 The property, valued at $300,000, will probably soon be in the possession of the municipal authorities. If Kingston can own its electric light plant there is on reason why Bridgeport should not also go into the same kind of business.

The city of Winnipeg, Manitoba, has been carrying on its electric light plant very successfully during the past year. Consumers are receiving a cheaper and better service than when a private corporation was in control. We have given merely a few instances, picked up at random.

Municipal ownership is not a fad. The idea has come to stay. Common sense and economy prompt the change. It is no longer an experiment. Men of affairs believe in municipal ownership.

A MIRACULOUS CURE.

Healer Schlatter Makes a Lame Man as Good as New.

Williamsport, January 29.—Francis Schlatter, the divine healer, who created such a sensation at Denver some years ago, is in this city. This afternoon he made his appearance in front of the Court House, and his manager announced that Schlatter was ready to relieve the sufferings of any afflicted person.

A big crowd soon gathered, and after a little inducement a number of people tried his power. All asserting that Schlatter had helped them. While Schlatter was engaged in his work M. B. Wolf, a well-known pensioner, hobbled painfully down Third street with the aid of a crutch and cane. Wolf was wounded during the civil war. The injury healed at the time, but both limbs gradually stiffened until Wolf has been unable to move out alone.

At the solicitations of several acquaintances Wolf presented himself before the healer. Schlatter held Wolf's wrists for a few minutes and afterwards placed his right hand upon the back of the afflicted man's neck.

To the surprise of everybody Schlatter then took the crutch and cane from Wolf and commanded him to walk. The latter hesitated, but finding that he was able to stand upon his feet he made an effort. He handled his limbs a little awkwardly at first but walked away from the crowd.

Friends crowded around him, astounded at the exhibition, and extended congratulations. Wolf says that he he is entirely free of pain.

To-night he was down the street exhibiting the flattened bullet which passed through him nearly forty years ago.

SATURDAY TO BE A DAY OF GENERAL MOURNING

All the Banks will be Closed and Business Suspended.

London, Jan. 28.

It was officially announced late this evening that King Edward had ordered Saturday to be observed as a day of general mourning. All the banks will be closed and business suspended. Everything so far is provisional and subject to the approval of the King, who will come to London to-morrow to look over what has been proposed, and to give his decision. By the order of the King the Office of Works directs that all draperies displayed by citizens shall be of purple. The procession from St. George's Chapel Royal at Windsor, to Frogmore has been abandoned, and the coffin will remain in the chapel until the day of interment, which will probably be Monday. Emperor William has commanded Count Von Wedel, Master of Horse, to bring six of His Majesty's chargers from Berlin, and the Kaiser, the Crown Prince and the other German officials attending at the funeral will ride in the procession. The gun carriages to be used at Cowes and Windsor and London will be painted the color of khaki and fitted with rubber tires. King Edward has commanded Mr. A. Forester, the well known artist of Black and White to draw the lying in state for him. The King and Queen, with the Kaiser, will attend the memorial service in St. George's chapel, Windsor, Sunday.

Cowes, Isle of Wight Jan. 28.—The funeral procession will leave Osborne House Friday at 2 p.m. The route to the pier will be lined with troops and the Royal Personsonages will follow the coffin on foot. An order issued by Admiral Sir Charles Frederick Holham, shows that thirty eight British vessels will take part in the naval display.

Berlin, Jan. 28. The announcement of the appointment of Emperor William as a Field Marshal in the British army has been received by the Press with comparatively little comment. Not withstanding the Kaiser's wish that the anniversary of his birth should not be observed for any celebrations, it occurred yesterday in different parts of Germany.

BUFFALO MOURNS FOR HER MAJESTY

Memorial Services on the Death of Queen Victoria Were Held.

Buffalo, Jan. 28.—Memorial services on the death of Queen Victoria were held last evening in Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church. The congregation was unusually large, and the altar and chancel were draped with the flags of the United States and Great Britain.

The pastor, Rev. Frank S. Rowland, in his prayer, gave thanks that Victoria had lived; that she had made her life so beautiful that it was an example to the whole world; that she had done so much for the uplifting of her millions of subjects and for the influence that her life had had upon the century just passed. He gave thanks also for the accession to the throne of so noble a King as Edward VII, and asked that the British nation might be as peaceful and progressive under his rule as under the rule of his illustrious mother.

Henry P. Emmerson, Superintendent of Public Schools, followed with a brief address, and introduced Mr. James L. Hughes, Inspector of the Public Schools of Toronto. Mr. Hughes began by saying that the Queen's death was not an occasion for sadness. Why should sadness prevail at the death of a noble woman, who, in the eighty years of her life, had performed her every duty, and had now gone to her rest? he asked. It was time, said Mr. Hughes, to rejoice, gloom is out of place.

"England has lost a Queen," continued the speaker, "and the world a ruler—a ruler who stood for unity and love; and ever home has lost a friend. But the loss of the Queen was inevitable. We should rejoice," said Mr. Hughes, speaking from the view-point of a Canadian, "that a man so true, so able, and learned a man, who had reverence for his father and love for his mother, is now King. We have a good King, one who has said he will follow in the footsteps of his mother. He could have no better example. The reign of Victoria was filled with stirring events—war, colonial troubles, social and other problems. But the Queen did her duty as she saw it, with calmness and dignity, and never without consideration for others. She gave more radiancy to the throne than the throne gave to her, and, though a monarchial ruler, she won the love and admiration of her democratic people. Again, while she occupied one of the greatest thrones in the world, her real joy was in her home life; she was happiest when at Balmoral or Osborne."

Mr. Hughes then spoke of the lessons that might be learned from the Queen's life. He pointed to her many accomplishments, saying she had learned six languages, was a mathematician, one of the best musicians in her realm, a splendid singer, and was clever at etching. He told also of the Queen's love for nature, of her early home life, of the time she spent in bringing up her children, and of her supreme faith in God. Mr. Hughes closed his address with the recital of a number of interesting anecdotes about the Queen, chiefly of her interviews with Palmerston, her interest in the children of her servants, and her ability to touch the hearts of the people and win their love.

An unusually large audience filled the Delaware Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church in the morning. The pastor, Dr Charles Edward Locke, delivered a sermon appropriate to the death of Queen Victoria, on the subject, "Lessons from the Beautiful life of England's Gracious Queen." The text was, "Righteousness exalteth a nation," Provers, xiv, 34.

Scrofula the Cause.

Eczema, catarrh, hip disease, white swelling, and even consumption have their origin in scrofulous conditions. With the slightest taint of scrofula in the blood, there is no safety. The remedy for this disease in all its forms is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which goes to the root of the trouble and expels all impurities and disease germs from the blood.

The best family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

TO DISCUSS QUESTION OF PEACE

The Burgers' Peace Committee has Sent to Louis Botha to Ascertain if He Will Receive Delegates.

London, Jan. 28.—The Burghers' Peace Committee has sent to Louis Botha to ascertain if he will receive delegates to discuss the question of peace.

The Boers blew up a culvert near Greylingstad. De Wet is reported to be in this district, and is said to be supplied with dynamite.

The conditions imposed by the German Government for the emigration of Boers to German South-west Africa include the defence of the territory against internal and external foes, the sending of their children to schools where German is taught, and that children born to them in South-west Africa must become Germans politically.

OUR NEW KING EDWARD VII.

"Victoria, by the grace of God, Queen, defender of the faith," etc., on Tuesday, January 22nd, and "Edward VII, King of Great Britain and Ireland and Emperor of India," on Wednesday, January 23rd! What a verification of the Scriptural warning, "Thou knowest not what a day may bring forth." The pressing necessities of State are responsible for the sudden exaltation, by forms and ceremonies, of our new King. As all legal matters in Great Britain, and the Empire generally, are undertaken, "in the name of the King," it follows that if the Crown authority is non-existent, public business must stand still. To avert what would become by delay an embarrassment of a serious nature, the law officers of the Crown, on learning of the probable early demise of the Queen, had anticipated the fatal ending by taking the necessary steps for the induction of the Prince of Wales. So, when Her Majesty had passed away at 6.30 on Tuesday evening, by 1 o'clock the following afternoon Edward Albert was in attendance at St. James Palace, London, there to meet the great gathering of Privy Councillors in levee costume to assume the functions of royalty. In the throne room were members of the royal family, cabinet ministers, peers, commoners, bishops, judges, the Lord Mayor of London, the Dukes of York and Connaught. In addition to this array of notables, the Premier, Lord Salisbury, Lord Rosebery (Premier after Mr. Gladstone), Mr. A. J. Balfour, of the Cabinet; the Duke of Devonshire, with Lord Strathcona, and, says the cable despatch, "a host of the most prominent personages in the land, were there to receive the King's formal oath "binding him to govern the Kingdom (and Empire) according to its laws and customs, and to hear him assume the title of King Edward VII of Great Britain and Ireland and Emperor of India." The oath was administered to the King by Lord Halsbury, the Lord Chancellor, and afterwards to the various members of the Council, who took their respective oaths of allegiance to the new sovereign, and this so interesting, yet necessary, formality closed.

A special issue of the "Gazette" has been issued in London announcing officially the death of the Queen, the proclamation of Edward VII as King, and his speech on his succession; the latter appeared in full in the newspapers of Thursday. After alluding in suitable language to his revered mother's death, our new king pledges himself as "fully determined to be a constitutional sovereign in the strictest sense of the word, so long as there is breath in my body", as also, "to work for the good and amelioration of my people." This public pledge will be received by all loving subjects with the highest satisfaction. After stating his "trust to Parliament and the nation to support me in the arduous duties which devolve upon me by inheritance," the King gave a second pledge of a most gratifying character, namely, "I am determined to devote my whole strength during the remainder of my life," to the arduous duties before me. What more could be said; what language be stronger to evidence the King's solemn resolve to emulate the example of his royal mother?

The King explained that his assumption of the title of "Edward" in preference to that of "Albert" was by the express desire of Victoria. She wished that there should be but one "Albert" in the people's remembrance, namely, that of "Albert the Good," her deceased Prince-consort. The name of Edward appears six times in English history, commencing with Edward I., A.D. 1274, and disappearing under the Tudors in 1547. This ancient title is now revived under the Guelphs, and may be continued for many years to come. The last of the Edwards—the Sixth of that line—cannot be said in any sense to have governed England. The only son of Henry VIII, by his third wife, Jane Seymour, he was designated in his father's will to succeed him. Born in 1537, he succeeded his father in 1547, being but ten years of age, and during his short life the Crown was carried on under a Council of Regency, so that this last Edward was King only in name. He died of consumption in 1553, in his seventeenth year. Thus, after 348 years, the name of "Edward" is reintroduced into the catalogue of the Kings of England by our late Prince of Wales as Edward VII, and long may he reign.

The "light that beats upon the throne" is no mere speculative fancy. The search-light of public opinion now turned upon our new King exposes him to the gaze of the world. His position is no enviable one; he requires all the firmness and prudence with which nature and training may have endowed him to steer his course clear of the breakers. Coming to the throne as the immediate successor of the august Victoria, his situation is the more trying. Every allowance should therefore be made for Edward the VII in his career. If he only succeeds in following in the footsteps of the great and good Victoria, we may hope ever to be able to sing "with heart and voice."—

GOD SAVE THE KING.

It is plain from the way they are getting over ground in the way of invasion that if the Boers are on their last legs, they are making good use of them.

The Welcome

At the door from a happy, healthy wife, is something which the husband looks forward to all through the day's labor. He may be tired, but his step lightens and his face brightens as he quickens his pace to receive the smiling welcome of his wife. What a difference in the home-coming of the man whose wife is nervous and gloomy, having neither heart nor strength to be glad. Many such a husband has worked a transformation in his home-life by learning of the cures performed by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures diseases of the delicate organs, builds up the nerves, induces refreshing sleep, and transforms the sickly woman into the happy helpmeet.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

"My wife was sick for over eight years," writes Albert H. Fulte, Esq., of Altamont, Grundy Co., Tenn. "She had uterine disease and was treated by two physicians, but got no relief. At last I read in one of your Memorandum Books, about Dr. Pierce's medicines, and we decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent to the drug store and got one bottle, and the first dose gave ease and sleep. She had not slept any for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her I sent for five more bottles, and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was sound and well. We now have a fine boy at our house."

"FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION"

AND SICK WOMEN WELL.

EDITORIAL NOTES

As a matter of fact, whether they spell it "grip" or "grippe" it is as like as two "p's."

The Globe prints an article on the proposed leather trust. When a leather trust runs up prices it does not need the admission that it's taking it out of the country's hide to prove it's a skin game.

* * * *

Maryland's alleged plan to disfranchise the negroes, not by altering the State Constitution, but by a new ballot law which will remove all emblems from the official ballot, abolish the sample ballot and prohibit any voter from getting assistance in the marking of his ballot, would certainly achieve its purpose—and a good deal more. Such a law in that State would confine the voting to map-makers, expert accountants and lexicographers.

The opponents of the snow-cleaning by-law, who say that our sidewalks are all right, should show their consistency by walking thereon. But bones are of more value than consistency.

It may be true, that the "wicked stand in slippery places," but they cannot walk on our ice-clad sidewalks. Neither can the righteous for that matter.

* * * *

Testimony now being evolved from the Booz inquiry seems to suggest West Point as a good place for pulling off the Jeffries-Ruhlin contest, which is not it seems, to be permitted in Cincinnati. Another suggestion is found in the difficulty in getting the cadets to talk of these encounters. If the professional pugilists would cultivate a similar silence they might be permitted to fight for a living.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures, size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of these gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. A WONDERFUL KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, GRAVEL, DROPSY, And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

I. A. HOPKINS.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary troubles which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right, I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been benefited by its use. I am 58 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.

Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

Rev. W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Rev. Wm. H. Hardy, East Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured him after six doctors failed. Rev. [illegible], Trego Co., Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book, entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state.

[illegible] this great discovery—Alkavis—[illegible] Compound—cure all forms of kidney and bladder diseases, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 4[illegible] Fourth Av., New York. Please mention this paper.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

ANNUAL MEETING AND ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Mr. J. J. McBain Again Re-Elected President—A Comprehensive Report From Mr. J. H. Burnham.

The annual meeting of the local branch of the Children's Aid Society was held Friday afternoon in the Town Council Chamber with the President, Mr. J. J. McBain, in the chair.

Amongst the members present were Messrs. J. H. Burnham, Secretary; Peter Campbell, Treasurer; George Cochrane, Agent; Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. H. Symonds, Rev. W. L. Armitage, R. M. Dennistoun, Mrs. Birdsall, Mrs. Warde and Mrs. J. W. Garvin.

Mr. McBain asked the advice of the members concerning a tank and some singles belonging to the society, but of no use at present. He was authorized to sell them.

Mr. Burnham, before reading his annual Secretary's report, referred to the death of two little waifs who had died during the year at the Shelter, although receiving all possible care and attention. They were buried in the Little Lake Cemetery with all the customary rites and usages. The lot had been donated to the Society by the Cemetery Company. The report was submitted as appended.

SUMMARY.

Number of cases investigated, involving 41 children, 29 from the town and 12 from the county, 32.

Number of children received into Children's Shelter, 22.

Number of children placed in foster homes, 6.

Number of cases in police court, 4.

Number of poor children assisted, not included in above, 30.

Deaths, 2.

PARTICULARS OF SOME CASES

1. B—— a little boy, three years old; mother dying of consumption; father cruel and neglectful, appearing only when wishing to make a disturbance; the mother's one wish to place the child in Society's care. Good home secured; mother died content.

2. W——, girl, illegimate of about 14 years of age; living with father in shanty in back country; mother dead; most cruelly ill-used; brought to the shelter bearing marks and scars of savage usage. Placed in good home.

3, S——, four year old child left alone and half fed; parents doubtful and unable to support them; case thoroughly reviewed; three children placed out.

4. M——, baby boy, abandoned; died of cholera infantum at Shelter; received best of care.

5. F——, boy, six years; deserted by depraved mother; father dead; has double cataract; at Shelter and going to school.

6. S——, boy, seven years, weak minded; mother crazy; father dead; trying to get him into asylum at Orillia.

7. O——, family four children given wood, food and clothing.

As appears by summary at head of this report a large number of destitute children have been assisted, viz., 30. These are exclusive of those otherwise dealt with. This branch of the work is of the utmost value. The charitable disposed are many, and it only remains to investigate carefully before calling upon the charitable for food and clothing. This of course is always done. Money is rarely given.

Rescue work with us may be devided into four parts, viz.—1, Waifs, 2. The Abused; 3, The Criminal. 4, The Diseased.

Of waifs, (those becoming alone and unprotected in the world), it may be said that the system of children's aid is the only means in existence for their effectual protection.

Of the abused the cases are becoming fewer, owing to the prompt enforcement of the law. Formerly there was no one whose business it was to look after the persistently abused, and as a consequence many people escaped who deserved sharp calling down. These cases do not properly speaking come within the duties of the police.

Of the criminal, unfortunately, more may be said. The Magistrate for the town, Mr. Dumble, announced recently his determination to be more severe in future with youthful delinquents.

For the diseased and weak-minded and for the illegitimate there will have to be further privision made by the Government. This branch of the work needs looking after at head-quarters.

A large amount of philanthropic work has been done in connection with the Society by the ladies, such organizations as "The King's Daughters" being of especial value.

The ladies of the Children's Aid Society appointed for the purpose of investigating the question of illegitimacy have formally requested the Secretary to take over no more illegitimates. The Government has refused to make any provision for them as a class. What then is to be done with [illegible] the police we are as formerly, und[illegible] To [illegible] special obligation and to the [illegible] Charity Officer, Mr. Miller. The Town C[illegible] county magistrates have taken [illegible] pains regarding the welfare of the [illegible] children brought before them. To the [illegible] medical profession the Society is again deeply indebted and it is only fair to [illegible] single out Dr. Pigeon for especial thanks [illegible] in view of the labour expended by h[illegible] in connection with several cases of severe illness.

Of the Agent, Mr. [illegible] Cochrane, who also allows the Society to make use of his private office, and of [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. Henry, the caretakers of the Shelter, it is to be said that they have done all in their power to fill the duties of their positions.

Respectfully submitted,
J. H. BURNHAM,
Secretary.

The report was received and adopted on motion of Mr. Dennstoun and Rev. Dr. Torrance.

On motion of Mrs. Garvin and Mrs. Birdsall a refund will be allowed in the case of a child taken, for which clothes were provided before it was noticed that the child was afflicted with cataract.

Notes of thanks were tendered to the Little Lake Cemetery Company and to Dr. Pigeon for kindness extended.

The Treasurer's report was received and referred to the Auditors. A synopsis is appended:

Rev. J. C. Davidson moved a vote of thanks to the officers of 1900. They have worked hard and faithfully and had the Society's work at heart. It the members in general had not taken as much interest as was to be desired in the work, it was because they had such perfect confidence in the ability of the officers and felt the work was safe in their hands. He though no words could be used which would be too strong for the splendid work which had been done and the beneficient results attained. It was with great sorrow that the Society had learned of Mr. Burnham's intention of resigning his office. Under him the work had been carried on with a vigor and enthusiasm that had given it a splendid start. Mr. Burnham's name would always be identified with the Children's Aid Society.

Rev. Mr. Symonds re-echoed the sentiments expressed by Mr. Davidson concerning Mr. Burnham's resignation.

Mr. McBain, previous to leaving the chair, stated that a number of the members of the Town Council had stated to him that they were perfectly in accord with the usage of making an annual grant of $300 to the Society. Mr. McBain urged that the County Council be pressed to increase their annual grant from $100 to $200.

LO AND HIS BUFFALO HORNS.

How the Red Man Utilizes a Product of the Slaughter House.

The Montana Indian is something of a schemer himself. He comes to town and sometimes walks all over the place without saying a word to any one. Sometimes he brings in a few sets of polished mounted cow's horns, which he sells for a dollar or two a set. He never frequents saloons. He looks into clothing store windows, but never bucks the slot machines in cigar stores. He frowns as he passes a restaurant, but smiles while walking through the sweetscented alleys back of cheap boarding houses.

In a horse trade he takes the prize, if there's one to be taken, for he was never known to get the worst of such a bargain. The reason of this, however, may lie in the fact that he begins the negotiations with nothing to lose and everything to win. However, he has the reputation of a schemer.

Where his schemes shine brightest is in the scale of polished "buffalo" horns. He lives out near one of the slaughter houses on the south side, and there he secures his "buffalo" horns, all sizes, curves and consistencies. He picks out a set of ox horns of symmetrical proportions, scrapes the scales off and boils the horns in a solution of glycerine, wood ashes and water. This treatment softens the horns, so hat a case-knife will easily remove all the exterior accumulation. Then fine sandpaper is used to give the first polish, followed by a thorough rubbing with a flannel cloth slightly saturated with oil. A varnish or shellac is then applied, and the horns are in condition for mounting. Then the work is turned over to the squaw, who does the really artistic work. Red flannel and braid, beads sometimes, and a strip here and there of buckskin, a few brass-headed tacks and the mounted "buffalo" horns are ready for the market.

Mr. Buck comes to town and the tenderfoot asks him where he "ketchem buffalo horns."

"In Yallowstone Park," grunts the big buck.

"How much?" asks the intending purchaser.

"Two dolls."

"Too muchee."

"No, no; cheap; thus dolls, ugh."

The tenderfoot inspects the work and satisfies himself that they are really the horns of an almost extinct species of the majestic Western animal, and he hands over the coin and walks away proudly with his prize

The Indian moves off down the street, turns the first corner and disappears up an alley.

Hard on the Gentler Sex.

There is much of the slave and the tyrant hidden in the nature of woman. Thus woman is not yet capable of friendship, but only of love.

In the love of woman is injustice and blindness to all that she does not love.

There are two things a true man likes—danger and play. He likes woman because she is the most dangerous of playthings.

[illegible] man should be reared for the vocation of a warrior; a woman for the recreation of the warrior. All else is rubbish.

A woman's principle of honor is to love more than she is loved, so as not to be second.

In any game where love or hate is not at stake women play a mediocre part.

All women behind their personal vanity cherish an impersonal contempt for woman.

As a rule, a mother loves herself in her son more than the son loves himself.

The chief danger that besets artists of genius lies in woman. The worshiping woman is their ruin. Hardly one has character enough to resist his ruin when he finds himself treated like a god. Man is a coward in face of the ewig weibliche, and no one knows better than the small woman.

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims,—The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of the city; and last, but by no means least, the Sunshine, located two miles east of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

A Bad Fall.

Lest We Forget.

Ladies of Canada:

The bond of union between the mother country and her colonies is strong. In time of necessity the colonies have always been loyal. Patriotic Canadian ladies, while they cannot bear arms in time of war, can assist their brother colonists in a substantial way. Ceylon and India produce the finest GREEN teas. Drinkers of Japan teas should try them. Monsoon, Salada and Blue Ribbon packets are known to all.—Colonist.

In Deep Mourning.

Peterborough is putting on its trappings of woe. The Customs House, the Post Office, the City Hall, and other public buildings, not to mention the shops, are being draped; and by Saturday, the day of the royal funeral, the town will show by outward and visible signs the grief which her citizens feel. We are glad to see that amusements and social functions are being cancelled or postponed; also that the citizens personally are, by badges or otherwise, paying the respect due to our late beloved sovereign.

Some New Publications.

"Picturesque Views" is the title of the latest publication issued for the Grand Trunk Railway. It is in the shape of a souvenir of the entire system, comprising over 100 half-tone views of what is claimed to be the finest scenery on the American continent, extending from Portland, Me., to Chicago. The chief attractions are the scenes of hunting, fishing and camp life, and the views of the country which are shown in detail some of the aristocratic summer resorts. Other features are the telescopic views. The book is handsomely bound and well worth the retail price, which is fifty cents a copy.

Rapid Railway Travel.

Representatives of the Grand Trunk Railway Company had in their charge the other day two children who, probably, made the quickest trip ever recorded between Truro, N.S., and Council Bluffs, Ia., covering the 2,033 miles in exactly sixty-six hours and thirteen minutes. The little tots were alone and made the trip to join their parents, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. J. Simpson, in the city on the banks of the Missouri River. They left Truro, at 3.45 o'clock in the afternoon on the Maritime Express, arriving at the Bonaventure station at 5.30 o'clock the following afternoon. While here they were entertained by representatives of the company, and at 10.30 o'clock in the evening they boarded the "Fast Flyer," arriving in Dearborn station, Chicago, at 8.45 o'clock the following evening. They continued their journey the same evening, leaving for Council Bluffs at 10.30 o'clock, and reached their destination at 3.45 o'clock the next afternoon. Their journey was uneventful, but they seemed to enjoy every minute of the time they were on the trains, as the men in charge as well as the passengers showed them every attention. The total time occupied from Truro to Council Bluffs was seventy-two hours, from which, of course, the stops at Montreal and Chicago are to be deducted; as well as the difference of an hour in Eastern and Central time. The foregoing shows one of the possibilities of modern railroading.

CLOSING OUT SALE.

W. J. Green will sell privately, or job out, his entire stock of Merchant Tailoring Goods and Gent's Furnishings commencing Saturday, 26th of January, and will sell balance by auction, commencing at 7 o'clock on Wednesday and Friday evenings next, shop furniture, Tailors' plant and safe. LIFE-GIVING POWER AND VIRTUE IN EVERY DROP,

Paine's Celery Compound

Has Never Disappointed the Sick.

IT EVER RETAINS THE CONFIDENCE OF THE PEOPLE.

Wherever once used, the sick and suffering of all classes of our Canadian people are made to realize that Paine's Celery Compound does not belong to the ordinary patent medicine ranks, such as nervines, bitters and sarsaparillas. Paine's Celery Compound is as far beyond these ordinary preparations as the diamond is superior to cheap glass.

Paine's Celery Compound possesses extraordinary virtues and powers peculiar to itself, for health-giving and strengthening life. It has saved men and women—young and old—after all other medicines failed. It has so much astonished physicians by its curative powers that they now prescribe and recommend it.

Professor Edward E. Phelps, M.D., gave Paine's Celery Compound to the world as a positive cure for sleeplessness, nervousness, liver and kidney troubles, neuralgia and rheumatism.

Thousands of thankful letters from people of every rank, give proof of the fact that Paine's Celery Compound "makes sick people well."

If you sigh and long for a new health, a better life is your sure reward if you use the medicine that has cured others. The use of one bottle will convince you that there is power and virtue in each drop. Beware of substitutes; see that your druggist gives you "PAINE'S" the kind that cures.

FOREIGN MISSION.

Editor Morning Times,

Dear Mr. Editor,—In many respects the 19th Century, and especially the Victorian Era has been remarkable but in none more so than in the unexampled expansion of Foreign Mission enterprise. The following figures and facts make this apparent, and kindle bright hopes, almost exlation, in the minds of all who look and long for the universal reign of the Prince of Peace.

At the beginning of the Century there were six Mission Societies. Now there are 537, including Womens Auxiliary Societies.

The total amount contributed for this work a hundred years ago was $75.000. Last year, contributions amounted to $19,000,000

There are 1000,000,000 of people in the world, and the Bible has been translated in whole or in part, into the language of 1200,000,000, so that three-fourths of the worlds population can now have the Bible in their own tongue.

There are now 22,000,000 children attending Sabbath School, and of these, about 1,000,000, are in Foreign Mission FFields; and of these 410,000, are in Mission College Institutes and High Schools.

At the beginning of the Century there were no native Evangelists, whilst now there are 77338 natives teaching the Gospel to their own people.

There were then no Bible Societies. Now there are 80; and the British Foreign Bible Society alone issues four and one half millions of Bibles or portions of Bibles a year.

There are fourteen great National Student organizations comprising fourteen hundred separate organizations, with a total membership of nearly 80,000 students are professors who are studying missions and preparing for Foreign Mission work.

There are Foreign Mission communion rolls 1317,684. names. If we include others who have abandoned their idols and who, although not on the communion roll, are under christian instruction the total is 4,414236.

The first Women' Foreign Mission Society in England, was organized in 1834. The first in America was organized in 1861. There are now 208 Womens' Societies, and they contributed last year about $4,000000.

Then one-third of the world was unknown. The social moral and spiritual conditions are now known. There is rapid communication by railroad, steamship and electricity. Printing is rapid and inexpensive.

Beginning with such facilities, knowledge, and organization, what will the present century bring forth! All things are possible to Him who leads hosts to certain victory. Let us be co-laborers with Him.

R. P. MacKay,
Foreign Mission Secretary.

Airris Gets a Term

He was sentenced to an indefinite term not exceeding five years in the Penetang Reformatory. Young Airris is only 14 years of age, and richly deserves what he got.

The company hope to increase their business and to ultimately employ 200 hands.

HOCKEY.

The Peterborough Intermediates played the return match at Lindsay last night, winning by the score of 8-3. The local team did not succeed in getting a special train and went up on the regular last evening, and will arrive home this morning. They were accompanied by quite a number of local enthusiastics. On account of the narrowness of the score that the local team won over them here, the Lindsay boys thought that the game was theirs, being only defeated by two goals in the game here. At half time the score stood 6-0 in favor of Peterborough. In the last half Lindsay made a most desperate effort to overcome the big lead our boys had run up against them, and succeeded in scoring three goals, Peterborough securing two, making the score 8-3 in favor of Peterborough. The ice was in excellent condition, and the game free from roughness. The referee's decisions were satisfactory to both teams.

STOP LOSING MONEY!

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 50 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No. 146 W. 42d Street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our Statement!

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. We average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

DUKE OF YORK ILL OWING TO THE STRAIN

It is Feared that the Heir Apparent Cannot Attend the Funeral.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 29.—King Edward left Cowes for London this morning.

The Duke of York is still suffering from the strain of recent events, and has been confined to his room since Thursday. It is feared he will be unable to take part in the ceremonies of Friday.

The only American wreath which has arrived at Osborne so far is one from Mrs. Sidney Everett of Boston, who is staying on the Isle of Wight. It is inscribed:

"In token of lifelong veneration and reverence."

The outer coffin arrived last night. The non-commissioned officers destined to carry the coffin rehearsed to-day with a dummy coffin filled with sand and weighing over half a ton.

The main wing of Osborne House is expected to become the residence of Princess Beatrice (Princess Henry of of Battenberg) in her capacity as Govenor of the Isle of Wight. The other part of the house will be reserved for the King.

Gen Sir Dighton Brobyn (comptroller and treasurer of the household of the Prince of Wales since 1877), is mentioned as likely to succeed Lord Edward Pelham-Clinton as master of the household. The office is the personal gift of the King.

Crown Prince Frederick of Denmark is expected to arrive in London tomorrow.

Prince Henry of Prussia sailed from Kiel yesterday on board the German battleship Baden, accompanied by the coast defence ship Hagen.

Prince George of Saxony is prevented by influenza from coming to the funeral. Prince John George will take his place.

SPRING WILL SEE WARFARE IN CHINA.

Empress Dowager Said to be Organizing Great Force

Chicago, January 29—A special to the Record from Vancouver, B.C., says: Capt. P. C. Lockhart, correspondent of the London Times in China, who accompanied General Gaselee's relief force, left for New York en route to London. Speaking of the situation in China, he said:

"I think that so far as Li Hung Chang himself is concerned he is perfectly sincere in his position as mediator, but my observation leads me to judge that any agreement the Chinese make now would be kept by them no longer than it suited their convenience. The Empress Dowager will by spring have a tremendous force of men armed with rifles at her command and neither she nor Prince Tuan has the slightest chance of falling into the hands of the allied forces. Next summer will see the great struggle between the well organized Boxers under the Empress and Prince Tuan and the allied forces in their attempt to seat the young Emperor firmly on the throne.

1,986 FREE SHAVES IN A SINGLE DAY

Big Practice Barber Shop in New York Dispenses Free Shaves.

New York, Jan. 29.—These are the halcyon days for the hobo. These are charity beds and charity restaurants for the genus tramp all over town. If he is sick he has both the hospitla and the dispensary at his disposal. If his teeth bother him he is a most welcome visitor at any of the dental colleges, where the young students need practice, and now down on West Broadway a great barber shop has been opened, where all who come may be shaved, shampooed or have a haircut absolutely free of all cost.

This barber shop is a curious institution. It is not elaborately furnished, but all the necessary articles are there, and sometimes there are more barbers hanging aroung to attend to people than there are customers to attended to, although not often. The place is run in connection with a barber school, several of which have been started in this part of the country in the past few years. The students at the school are trained to shave and cut the hair of dummies, and as they have competent intructors it is not long before they master the rudiments of the business. Then they get a dummy razor and practice with it on the face on an intructor. This gives them confidence, and after a few days of practice they are turned loose in the shop.

A WORLD'S RECORD.

Hoboes flock there and the fifty-eight barbers attend to their wants with courtesy, invariably inviting them to come again when the shave or the haircut is accomplished. When all the chairs in the place are occupied ordinary kitchen chairs are used, the backs being softened by pillows or wads of towels. The manager of the place says that it is the largest shop of its kind in the world and on his books he has a record of one day's business which he defies anybody to duplicate. On one day last month, he says 1,986 people were shaved in the place. On that day the establishment was open from 6 o'clock in the morning until after 10 at night. It is nothing unusual, he says, for his men to attend to the wants of 1,000 people in a day.

CUTS NOT UNUSUAL.

The quality of the shave or haircut that the patrons of this establishment get is not at all bad. The customers know that they are being practised on, of course, but most of them don't mind that although some show signs of nervousness when the student begins to strap a razor. It isn't unusual for a man to get cut once or twice in the course of a shave, but as a rule this is only a passing annoyance, and each barber has a stick of caustic handy. The greatest trouble comes from the fact that the barbers want to decide what shall be done to the patron after he gets into a chair and will not allow him a voice in the matter. Some hoboes object to having their beards trimmed while a student who happens to be short on beard-trimming practice will insist on doing it. Some want a shave and object to a haircut, while the barber wants to administer both. As a rule the patron comes around to the barber's way of thinking in the end,, in all but one thing. The tramps will not stand for facial massage. There is a great demand for it in first-class shops, where all the students hope to find employment some day, but the tramps object to it. They say that it hurts in the first place, and in the second place it does them no good.

All of the men who go to thisshop to be shaved are not hoboes by any means. A great many are poor workingmen, who are not unwilling to save their dimes by accepting a free shave or haircut, even if it isn't as finished as the one they would get from a professional.

JUSTICE CAME QUICKLY TO BERLIN KIDNAPPERS

The Principal Sentenced to 7 Years in Penitentiary

Berlin, Jan. 29.—Justice came quickly to the Berlin kidnappers and this morning Judge Chisholm sentenced William Ahl, the principal, to seven years in the penitentiary. Neufisher, the instrument, to six months in the Central Prison, and Klinberger, the driver, to three months in jail.

The story of the kidnapping is not entirely clear. A German lady who had recently come from the Mother Land to Berlin, Ont., suddenly lost her little daughter.

There are two stories told. Neufisher, the actual kidnapper, who is a dull boy, 18 years of age, says that the German lady has a husband who lives in Germany, and is separated from his wife; that he was desirous of getting his child, and that he induced his friend Ahl to get possession of it.

The story is told in Berlin is that Ahl was enamoured of the German lady, who was about to leave Berlin, and contrived this bungling method to keep her at home.

At any rate, Ahl paid Neufisher $5 and expenses to take the German lady's daughter away. Klinberger drove them from Berlin to Galt. They got as far as Elgin, Ill., when the arrest was made. Ahl is a barber.

THE HORSE THIEF CAUGHT.

He Was Run in at Marmora and got a Year in the Central.

The horse thief has at last been caught. After stealing a horse from Mr. Westlake's livery here, and from Scott's livery at Norwood, and one from a livery in Marmora, the fellow has been run down.

It appears the thief's name is Albert Hubert. He is a machinist by trade, and boarded for a time with Mr. James Middleton, Smith, when he was working for the Lakefield Cement Company. He subsequently worked in Lakefield, and while there paid the fare to Peterborough of a young man named Bert Freeburn, apparently for the sole purpose of being introduced to a liveryman, so that he could get away with a horse. Hubert hired a horse from Mr. Westlake, and at once drove to the office of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co., where he told his companion he had secured employment. He sent his companion into the office to ask for work, and while he was gone he drove off, taking with him a pair of new boots belonging to Freeburn. He then drove to Norwood, putting the horse up in one hotel and staying at another. Next day he hired a horse from Scott's livery, when it is supposed he drove to the Norwood factory and stole the butter, some of which he sold in town, hiding the rest near the old quarry, where it was subsequently found.

Hubert then worked his way to Marmora, where he was caught after stealing another horse. He was tried and sentenced to one year in the Central.

On Monday County Constable Cochrane, at his own expense, sent Mr Middleton to Belleville, to identify the prisoner. This was done, and the papers are now being prepared by County Crown Attorney Wood, for the purpose of having him brought here for trial.

A DAY OF MOURNING.

All Business to be Suspended on Saturday Next.

Mayor Denne has caused posters to be issued from The Times' job rooms, proclaiming Saturday next Feb. 2, a day of public mourning, and requesting the business men of the town to close their stores and other places of business for the day.

The military will assemble at the drill shed in the morning, and march to St. Paul's church at 11, headed by the band. The gallery of the church will be reserved for them.

It is very likely that the George street Methodist church will be in readiness for an overflow meeting. Rev Mr. Bastow, president of the Ministerial Association, stated yesterday that this would probably be the programme.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

Some of the Experiences of the Canadians.

Trooper Elmhirst, of Keene, Arrived Home Sunday—He Relates Some Incidents Connected With the War.

Trooper Fred Elmhirst, of Keene, arrived home Sunday morning. He was a member of the Winnipeg corps, and was supposed to have returned to the Prairie Province with his company, but managed to give his comrades the slip at Halifax, and thus save himself a long and useless journey.

Trooper Elmhirst visited the Times office on Monday, and related some of his adventures on the veldt. He reached South Africa last March, and went through to Pretoria with Lord Roberts' victorious army, being attached to Gen. French's division. He was under fire 45 times, and had some close calls.

On one occasion he was doing picket duty and was stationed a couple of miles from camp. He was alone, and was sitting on his horse in perfect quietude. Suddenly he heard the sound of a horse approaching. He waited, and when the horse and rider got almost up to him, he ordered the stranger to throw up his arms, which was done with such alacrity that his rifle fell to the ground. It was a Boer sentry, who had got beyond his lines. Mr. Elmhirst relieved him of his spurs, rifle and ammunition, and marched him in front of him into camp, where he took the oath of neutrality, and was allowed to depart. He saw the fellow several times afterwards, and he appeared to be thankful that his life had been spared. Had it been the other way about, and the Boer happened to have had the "drop" on Trooper Elmhirst, there would doubtless have been one less Canadian in South Africa about that time.

Trooper Elmhirst says that "Gat." Howard is a corker. There is no man in South Africa who has had closer calls and come out with a whole skin.

Trooper Gifford, of Lindsay, had a narrow escape. One day a division to which he was attached entered a huge corn field under fire, and the shells were falling thick and fast. Gifford said he wanted to have a taste of fighting before he left for home. A shell happened to explode in front of his horse, throwing the animal and its rider, and raising an immense cloud of dust. It was said that this satisfied our Lindsay friend, who was badly shaken up.

Trooper Percy Price was regarded as one of the best men in the force. He was as brave as a lion, and did some good work. He is a splendid rider, and was never as happy as when mounted on a good charger. Price had some very close shaves from being captured, and had some marvelous escapes from bullets.

The Boer women are treacherous. Trooper Elmhirst says that many houses have been entered by the British, when the women have been found quietly sitting sewing, apparently quite unconcerned. When asked if any armed men were in hiding, they would invariably say no. Probably sticking out from under a bed would be seen a rifle, with the smoke slowly curling out of the empty barrel, which had been used only a few moments before on the British. Ask a Boer how many head of cattle he has, and the answer would probably be, from seven to nine hundred. Many of these burghers do not know within a hundred or two how many they own. They are exceedingly indolent, spending the time sitting in the shade smoking. The Kaffirs do all the hard work of the country and do it without reward. They herd the cattle and other stock, depending for their subsistence on what they can shoot while at work.

The Boer women are not bad looking, but are not good figures. They are stout and heavy, and are without form.

Trooper Elmhirst saw Dan Spence laid in the grave. The story of Spence's death is already well known to our readers. Before leaving the locality he plucked a couple of wild flowers from Spence's grave and placed them in the folds of his testament, which he carried in his pocket, intending to send them to Spence's relatives in Toronto on his return to Canada. The testament and flowers were stolen from the pocket of his coat while it was hanging in the rink at Keene, one evening last week. Mr. Elmhirst, however, hopes that the book will be returned to him.

The returned soldier, when asked if he was frightened when in battle, replied that he was, and he believed that all soldiers are. There is a fascination and excitement about war that is enjoyable, however. The horse that he took with him from Canada carried him almost into Pretoria. He ran into a barbed wire defense, one dark night, and was so badly cut up that the animal had to be killed. He lost 3 horses all told.

Mr. Elmhirst thinks that Kitchener will corral Dewet one of these days, which will practically end the war. When asked about the country, he said that Cape Colony, Natal, and the Orange River Colony was not much of a country to live in, but the Transvaal was as fine a country as any man wanted.

SERVICES AT ST. JOHN'S

A Special Service to be Held There at 4 O'clock on Saturday Afternoon.

The memorial service at St John's has been arranged for 4 p.m., on Saturday, so as not to conflict with the union services at 11 a.m., and in which the congregation of St. John's are much interested. The Bishop of Toronto directs that a Church of England service be held, and, in consequence, the members of the church here have already expressed a feeling, doubtless shared by all, that in consequence of the relationship between the late Queen and the Church of England, it was only proper that a special service should be held on Saturday, in addition to the union service. This service will be of a somewhat different character, and there will probably be no sermon. All Saint's congregation will co-operate, and probably St Luke's Full announcement will be made later.

Mr. Rudkins Promoted

Mr. Wm. Rudkins, who has been filling the position of Deputy Collector of Inland Revenue here since his appointment some months ago, has been promoted to that of Collector for the district, and Mr. Thomas Rorke, of Norwood, appointed Deputy Collector. Mr. Rudkins, who is very popular, is receiving the congratulations of his friends, in which the Times cordially joins. The district includes East and West Peterborough, North and South Victoria and Northumberland and Durham.

HIS MAJESTY WAS LOUDLY CHEERED

Special Service in Commeration of the Queen to be Used Saturday.

London, Jan. 29.

For the first time since his accession the King's train to-day was preceded by a pilot engine. His Majesty was vociferously cheered on his way to Marlborough House. The Privy Council has ordered the Archbishop of Canterbury to prepare a special form of service in commemoration of the Queen to be used Saturday in all churches in the Kingdom.

The Duke and Duchess of Aostal, the former is cousin of the King of Italy, and the latter a daughter of the late Count of Paris, will arrive here January 31. Mr. Joseph Chamberlain was among the King's visitors this afternoon.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 29.

The coffin will be borne from Osborne House by the Queen's Highlanders, Friday at 1.45 p.m. to a gun carriage. The household of the late Queen, the Royal servants and the tenatry will be drawn up on the carriage drive. The Queen's Pipers will lead the procession through King's Gate to Trinty Pier. There will be an imposing military display along the route, massed bands and drummers, playing funeral marches.

Behind the coffin will walk Admiral Sir Michael Culme, Secretary Mour, first and principal aide-de-campe to the Queen since 1899, the King, Emperor William, the Duke of Connaught, Crown Prince Frederick William of Germnay, the Duke of York, Prince Henry of Prussia, Prince Christian of St. Lesurg Polstein, and other Princes. Then will come Queen Alexandra, the Duchess of York and other Princesses.

Blue jackets will bear the coffin from the pier to the Royal yacht Albert, where Admiral Culme Seymour four naval aids—de—camp, and two ladies in waiting will accompany the remains. The King, the Queen, Emperor William, and other members of the Royal family will embark on board the Royal yacht Victoria and Albert.

A QUEEN AT DAYBREAK.

Victoria Awakened From Sleep to Hear the News.

HOMAGE TO GIRL IN NIGHT GOWN

Lord Chamberlain Knelt Before Her as She Entered Room Where He Awaited, and Hailed Her as Sovereign.

Victoria was awakened out of a deep sleep at 5 o'clock in the morning of June 20, 1837, to learn that she was Queen of England. She received the news clad in her nightgown, her bared feet in slippers, and her hair falling loosely over her shoulders.

On that eventful morning she was a young girl. Only 27 days before, on May 24, she had celebrated her eighteenth birthday, when she became legally of age.

King William IV had died at 2 a.m., in Windsor, three hours before Victoria was notified of her accession in Kensington Palace, where she lived with her mother, the Dutchess of Kent.

WAS NOT EXPECTING IT.

In expectation of the King's death a carriage had been kept ready at Windsor. As soon as the King breathed his last the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Lord Chamberlain, Lord Conyngham, left the death chamber, and entering a carriage were driven with all speed to Kensington.

Victoria had retired the night before with no thought of the vast change that a few hours would make in her life. Kensington palace was wrapped in slumber when the two emissaries arrived. What followed is told in the "Diary of a Lady of Quality," in this way:

"They knocked, they rang, they thumped for a considerable time before they could rouse the porter at the gate; they were again kept waiting in the courtyard, then turned into one of the lower rooms, where they seemed to be forgotten by everybody. They rang the bell and desired that the attendant of the Princess Victoria might be sent to inform Her Royal Highness that they requested an audience on business of importance.

KNELT BEFORE HIS SOVEREIGN.

"After another delay and another ringing to inquire the cause, the attendant was summoned, who stated that the Princess was in such a sweet sleep that she could not venture to disturb her.

"Then they said, 'We are come on business of State to the Queen, and even her sleep must give way to that.' It did.

"In a few moments she came into the room in a loose white nightgown and shawl, her night cap thrown off and her hair falling upon her shoulders, her feet in slippers, tears in her eyes, but perfectly collected and dignified.

"The attendant notwithstanding the urgings of her visitors, had not called her mother. The Dutchess of Kent had aroused the young girl and sent her alone into the room where Lord Conyngham and the Archbishop were waiting.

"The Lord Chamberlain knelt down and presented a paper to the astonished girl announcing the death of her uncle and notifying her that she was his successor.

"The girl could say nothing and the Archbishop announced that he had come by desire of Queen Adelaide, widow of King William, who wanted Victoria to know of the peaceful death of her uncle.

"The Queen's first words were addressed to the Primate. She said, 'I beg your grace to pray for me.' which he did.

"Victoria's first written communication as Queen was despatched an hour later to Queen Adelaide in reply to a request that she might remain at Windsor until after the funeral. She addressed this letter to 'Her Majesty the Queen.' Victoria was told that it should be directed to the Queen Dowager.

"'I am aware of that,' answered Victoria, 'but I will not be the first to remind her of her altered position.'"

FIRST CABINET MEETING.

At 11 o'clock on that same morning she had to preside at her first Privy Council. An extemporized throne had been placed at the head of the table, around which were grouped the greatest men in the kingdom. Without any embarrassment she read to them her first speech, which had been prepared by some older and wiser head.

Her only embarrassment came when the old men, whom she had been taught to revere from infancy, knelt before her to swear allegiance and kiss her hand.

An hour after the Privy Council she was called upon again to preside at a gathering of the Cabinet Ministers.

THE BOERS WILL CONTINUE FIGHTING

They will Fight Until Situation is Strong Enough for Success of Diplomatic Steps.

Cape Town, Jan. 29.—Hon. R. Solomon, the Attorney-General of the late Schreiner Ministry, has been appointed legal adviser to the Transvaal Colony Administration. His appointment is commended as demonstrating the desire of the Imperial Government to conciliate the Dutch.

LATEST PLAN OF THE BOERS.

Berlin, Jan. 29.—A despatch to the Lokal Anzeiger, from The Hague, says Mr. Kruger's ailment consisted of a muscular contraction of the eyelid, which the recent slight operation entirely cured. The despatch adds that according to reliable information the Boers do not at present intend to take diplomatic steps, but will continue fighting until the general situation in South Africa is strong enough to make the success of diplomatic steps certain.

LOOTING NEAR KIMBERLEY.

London, Jan. 29.—Boer raids still continue in the neighborhood of Kimberley. Yesterday the Boers looted a number of cattle belonging to supporters of Cecil Rhodes from farms near here. The Boer invaders in the Kuruman district have been received coldly by the Dutch residents.

BRITISH AMBUSH BOERS.

The British are at last learning to beat the Boers at their own favorite game Last week as Gen. De Wet and Paterson, with 500 men, were crossing the railroad between Ventersburg and Halfontein, in the Orange River Colony, twenty-five British in ambush killed five of the Boers.

OCCUPIED CAROLINA.

Word comes from Pretoria that Gen. Smith-Dorrien has occupied Carolina after a stout resistance.

During Colonel Plumer's advance to the southeast he met with slight opposition near the source of Bronkhorstr spruit, which is about 40 miles from Pretoria.

THE KING THANKS HIS ARMY.

Prince Edward has cabled his warmest thanks to "my gallant army in South Africa" for their telegram of sympathy. General Kitchener, in acknowledging the receipt of the despatch, expressed in behalf of the army in South Africa "our feelings of the utmost devotion and loyalty to your Majesty."

PAUL KRUGER NOT ILL.

Mr. Van Boeschoten, the private secretary of Dr. Leyds, the European agent of the Transvaal, says the report of the illness of Mr. Kruger is a pure invention.

Halifax, Jan. 28.—The Royal Mail steamer Montford reached port this evening from Liverpool after a somewhat boisterous passage. Among the passengers were a number of returned South African soldiers.

BROKE BRUIN'S WINTER NAP

AND THEN KILLED HIM WITH A SHARP HATCHET.

Brave Feat of a North Country Lumberman—A Thrilling Struggle for Life in the Snow.

Lindsay Post,—"Bob" Menzie, of Fenelon Falls, is an employe of the Rathbun Co. and is well-known in Lindsay and throughout the entire north country as one of the most experienced river bosses and shanty foremen to be found in the Midland district—if he wasn't Manager Baker would not value him as he does. He is at present in charge of one of the firm's camps at Pine Lake in Monmouth township, and in order to prove clearly that typhoid fever, falling limbs, glancing axes and rolling logs do not constitute all the dangers of a woodman's life, Mr. Menzie last week figured in an adventure of a more startling nature.

Thursday morning last the camp gang had been busy cutting in a corner of the limit, and just before quitting for dinner an enormous tree was felled. After dinner the men were sent to another point some distance away, and Mr. Menzie set out to make a rough estimate of the morning cut, taking with him the measuring rule and a light axe. When he came to the forest giant cut just before the noon rest he paced the trunk to the butt and vaulted over the mass of roots. While in air he heard a snort, and when he landed he found himself within three feet of a large bear, the animal being in the act of scrambling out of his winter den under the roots of the massive cedar. Bruin's sleep had been rudely broken by the shout of the choppers and the upheaval of the roots about his cosy bed, and he was a very angry bear. To say that Bob was surprised would be a very mild description of the state of his feelings, but he was game for the fight, and pushing his hat back he swung his axe and struck at the bear. He only gashed his side, and Bruin retaliated with a left-hander that stripped his assailant of considerable clothing. Now, as his friends doubtless know, Bob, is not naturally given to profanity, but he cuts loose occasionally under strong provocation, but when he saw one side of his new $12 Cardigan jacket trailing in the snow, his language became truly fervid and picturesque, and he made reference to the dam at Fenelon Falls, and in fact to all the dams on our northern waters.

Bruin made the next demonstration, and it was an alarming one, Rearing to his full height he advanced as if about to give Menzies a loving hug, but the latter was good and ready, and as Bruin stepped forward he swung his axe sideways and buried the sharp blade in the back of the neck. The bear dropped with a groan, but the next instant scrambled to his feet and started off, but being blinded by the blood pouring from the wound he travelled in a small circle, and thus gave his enemy a chance to deliver another blow with such good effect that the spine was severed, and a few more taps ended the exciting struggle.

When a teamster came along half-an-hour later with a load of logs he left the road in answer to a helloo, and found Menzie sitting on the dead bear and calmly smoking a Jap cigar. It took the two men some time to drag the carcass to the sleigh. When the men trailed in for supper they found a 250-lb bear hanging in the doorway, and the story of the killing kept all hands awake an hour longer than usual. Bob bore his honors with his accustomed modesty, but the boys say that for a few days they notived a big difference in him; he was quiet and reserved like, and seemed to have lost his grip of the language to some extent owing to the strain of his brief conversation with Bruin, but he is now as fluent as ever.

Mrs. Langtry was Mobbed

London, Jan. 29.—Mrs. Langtry was mobbed at Hatham, London, on Tuesday, because she continued to play "The Degenerates" after the death of the Queen had been announced. She said that she had no authority to ring down the curtain and blames it on her manager.

Churchill the Fearless

Buffalo, Jan. 29.—Whether Winston Churchill is an able man or not may be questioned, but he certainly is fearless. He was here on Saturday and to reporters he talked about the war and wars. He took an optimistic view of the war and concluded in this way:—"There are some people who draw a parallel between the Boer-British and the American-Philippine wars. Some even go as far as to be pro-Boer in sympathy, even while saying that the Philippine war is a just one. The Boer war is a just one. I am free to say that, in my opinion, the Philippine war is not. The results will be the same in both cases—for Britain will win in Africa, and America will win in the Philippines, and we will have the comfort of knowing that when our war is concluded we at least didn't go out and solicit our war. We had ours forced upon us."

The minutes of the last meeting were read, and on motion confirmed.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

Mr. Anderson, chairman, on motion of Mr. Anderson and Dr. Jeffs, presented the report of the Committee on Roads and Bridges, as follows:

The Committee on Roads and Bridges beg leave to report, recommending as follows:

5. In answer to the communication from the executive committee of the Municipal Good Roads Association asking the opinion of this committee on certain questions, your committee beg to advise as follows:

(a) If aid is to be granted by the Government towards the improvement of leading highways, your committee are of the opinion that County Councils should designate the roads to be improved and supervise the construction.

(b) This committee would favor the cost of constructing the road to be divided between the Government, the county and the local municipalities.

(c) Your committee would recommend that the statute labor on lands adjoining said roads should be commuted.

(d) Your committee would recommend that the county control all machinery to be used in road making, each county to be allowed a portion of their Government grant to the purchase of such machinery.

6. Your committee recommend that the report of the County Engineer be received and adopted.

7. That the matter of repairing the Gannon's narrow Ferry, referred to in the County Engineer's report, be left in the hands of the Warden, Mr. Shaw and the County Engineer, with power to act.

8. That all matters in connection with the Mud Lake bridge be referred to the Joint Committee.

9. That the matter of repairing the Otonabee and Lock bridges be left in the hands of the Joint Committee with power to act.

10. That the matter of repairing the northern approaches to Taylor's bridge, Belmont, be left in the hands of Dr. Jeffs, with power to act.

11. That Mr. Anderson be instructed to have the approaches to the Keene bridge put in proper condition.

12. That the matter of building the Ennismore approach to the proposed Mud Lake bridge be left in the hands of Mr. Anderson, with instructions to him to confer with the Reeve of Ennismore and with power to act.

13. That a special grant of $75 be given to each of the municipalities of Harvey, the united townships of Galway and Cavendish, the township of Chandos, the united townships of Burleigh and Anstruther, and the united townships of Belmont and Methuen, for expenditure on the roads and bridges therein, and that Mr. Shaw be commissioner for Harvey, Galway and Cavendish, Mr. Eastland for Chandos, Burleigh, and Anstruther, and Dr. Jeffs for the township of Belmont and Methuen, each to furnish a certified statement in detail of the manner in which said moneys are expended.

14. That a special grant of $300 be given towards the ninth line road in the township of Dummer, provided the township of Dummer grant $300 and the Ontario Government grant $300 for the same purpose, and provided at least $100, in addition, is contributed by interested parties for the same purpose.

15. That no action be taken upon the petition of Samuel Scott and others asking this Council for a grant of $150 towards cutting down the large hill on the side line between lots ten and eleven, in the tenth concession of the township of Asphodel providing the latter township grant a like sum and other parties contribute $40 to the same purpose.

16. Your committee regret that after mature consideration they are unable to make a special grant towards the Kinmount bridge, owing to the fact that this county has a very large number of bridges under its jurisdiction which this county has voluntarily assumed, although not compelled by law to do so, and a high and increasing expenditure on account thereof, and also owing to the present large expenditure on account of the Mud Lake bridge.

17. That the whole Council be the special committee of this Council with respect to the Mud Lake bridge.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. ANDERSON,
Chairman.

The report was adopted on motion of Messrs. Anderson and Shaw.

The report was adopted on motion of Messrs. Shaw and Pearce.

PRINTING COMMITTEE.

Dr. Jeffs, chairman, presented the report of the Printing Committee as follows:—

The Committee on Printing beg leave to report, recommending as follows:—

1. That the County Clerk be instructed to grant to the Norwood Register and Lakefield News alternately the printing of the lists of convictions and assessment schedules, required by law to be published and printed, at the same price as last year.

2. That all other county printing be divided by the clerk between the Peterborough Examiner, Peterborough Review and Peterborough Times, in as equal a manner as possible, save and except that the county clerk shall apportion between the Lakefield News, Norwood Register and Havelock Standard whatever printing of letter heads, posters and other work he can conveniently give them.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. H. JEFFS,

The report was adopted on motion of Dr. Jeffs and Mr. Peck.

Our County Map.

We have a few copies of the newmap of the county still left, which we are selling at $2.00 each, splendidly mounted. Call and get a copy before it is too late.

Like a flash of lightning, sudden and startling, disease strikes down many a man. Yet there have been warnings upon warnings, unheeded. Food has lain like a heavy weight in the stomach after eating. There have been belchings, bitter risings in the mouth, nervousness, sleeplessness and growing irritability. Instead of listening to these warnings, recourse has been had to some of the nerve numbing palliatives that cover but never cure disease. Many serious diseases begin in a diseased condition of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. For such diseases there is one medicine which rarely fails to effect a complete cure. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures ninety-eight per cent. of all who give it a fair and faithful trial. It is a temperance medicine and contains no alcohol.

"I was afflicted with what the doctors called nervous indigestion," writes Mr. Thos. G. Lever, of Lever, Richland Co., S. C. "I took medicine from my family physician to no avail. In looking over one of Dr. Pierce's Memorandum Books, I found my case described exactly. I wrote to you and made a statement. You sent me a descriptive list of questions, also some hygienic rules. I carried those out as best I could, but thought myself incurable as I suffered so much with pain under my ribs and an empty feeling in my stomach. At night would have cold or hot feet and hands alternately. I was getting nervous and suffered a great deal mentally, thinking that death would soon claim me. Always expected something unusual to take place; was irritable and impatient, and greatly reduced in flesh. I could scarcely eat anything that would not produce a bad feeling in my stomach. After some hesitation, owing to my prejudices against patent medicines, I decided to try a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets.' After taking several bottles of each, found I was improving. I continued for six months or more, off and on until I was cured."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a positive cure for constipation.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (none free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00. Write to day for a dozen and make money. A WONDERFUL

KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

I. A. HOPKINS.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, GRAVEL, DROPSY,

And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary troubles which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right, I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been benefited by its use. I am 58 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.

Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

Rev. W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Mrs. Wm. H. Hardy, East Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured her after six doctors failed. Rev. J. W. Hickman, Collyer, Trego Co., Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble, of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book, entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state.

Not only does this great discovery—Alkavis (the Kava-Kava Compound)—cure all forms of kidney and bladder diseases, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 98 Fourth Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

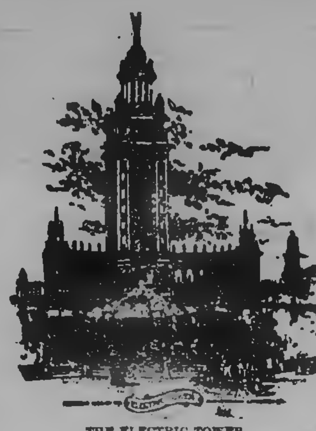
BRILLIANT IN COLORS

PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION WILL GLOW WITH WONDERFUL RADIANCE.

Electrical Illuminations and Other Features In Which Buffalo's Fair Will Excel All Former Enterprises of This Description.

Even the Buffalonian cannot comprehend the exquisite character of the great Exposition he is building. Is it any wonder, then, that the distant native still asks what it is to be? Indeed it is to be everything that is graceful, harmonious and beautiful. Form and color will join their wonderful forces to please the eye and delight the sense.



THE ELECTRIC TOWER.

"Magnificent" is not too strong a word to express the character of the completed work. He is a man of dull imagination who, now visiting the grounds, cannot picture in some degree the comeliness and stateliness of the finished enterprise.

The Pan-American Exposition is intended to be in every way an artistic triumph. From the very beginning it has been the purpose of those who have been intrusted with the making of this Exposition to present to the world the most artistic creation ever conceived for a like purpose. The arrangement of the buildings, the style of architecture, the decorative work, the embellishment of the grounds and the electrical illumination are some of the features that will stand out prominently in the Exposition picture. There are 33 acres in the courts around which stand the principal Exposition buildings. While the whole Exposition plot of 350 acres will be as beautiful as nature, with the artistic help of man, can make it, the several courts will be the particular center for formal decorative work. The courts are arranged in the form of a cross, the north and south courts bearing the names of Court of Fountains, Plaza, Fore Court and Approach and being nearly 3,000 feet in extreme length. The Transverse Court is known as the Esplanade and is 1,700 feet from east to west. Two subordinate courts open into the Esplanade, known as the Court of Lilies and Court of Cypresses. The combined area of these courts is approximately two and a half times the area of the courts at the World's Columbian Exposition and for this reason gives a far greater opportunity for artistic treatment.

It has been said of this Exposition that it would outrival all former enterprises in a number of important features. The first of these is in the court settings just described. The second is in the plastic ornamentation of buildings and the elaborate use of sculpture for decorative purposes. As a third may be mentioned the hydraulic and fountain effects. These are of a most elaborate character and are to be seen in all of the courts. A fourth feature is the horticultural decorative work. Sunken gardens and formal floral ornamentation will be employed at every point where the bright colors of foliage and flowers will add to the beauty of the scene. As a fifth feature may be noted the color decoration of the buildings. This is a very elaborate undertaking, the result of mature study upon the part of the best mural painters of the world. Considered a very difficult, if not embarrassing, problem at first, it has been worked out by patient study until results very pleasing and happy have been achieved. A sixth point of excellence will be the electrical illumination of all the courts. Then the brilliance of the gardens and the radiant beauty of the buildings will be heightened by the glow of 200,000 electric lamps arranged with artistic conception and illuminating with fantastic hues the numberless fountains and pools and turning the scene into one of unrivaled splendor.

The style of architecture is what is described as a free adaptation of the Spanish renaissance. It is particularly appropriate for the purposes of an Exposition since it gives opportunity for the employment of many architectural features of a festive character. Thus the visitor may see many lofty towers and lanterns, graceful domes and minarets, airy pavilions and other decorative work that will produce a sky line free from any suggestions of monotony or severity.

The Electric Tower, standing in a broad pool between the Court of Fountains and the Plaza, is to be the center piece for electrical illumination. This tower is 80 feet square and 375 feet high, with circular wings curving from the east and west sides to the southward and forming a semicircular space in which are to be many beautiful fountain features. From the southern face of the Tower a cascade will gush from a niche, 70 feet from the ground, and fall upon a terraced base. At night this cascade and the fountains and pools will be illuminated in fantastic colors. Floating lights upon all the pools will form an interesting feature of the general scheme of illumination.

Some 30 or more American sculptors of renown are at work upon the decorative groups which are to have a place at this Exposition. These are to be nearly all original productions under the master direction of Karl Bitter. It will be the most elaborate use of decorative sculpture ever undertaken at an Exposition, there being more than 125 groups. These will adorn the fountains, bridges, entrances to buildings and other salient points.

Besides the pools and fountains, within the several courts will be a grand and stately canal which will surround the entire group of buildings. In the southern reaches of this canal are artificial bodies of water known as the Mirror Lakes, from which lagoons extend in several directions, thickly set with aquatic plants of rare species.

In addition to the sunken gardens and other floral features of the courts will be the horticultural exhibits in the southern part of the grounds. These will consist of several acres of beds of the finest productions of the best nurseries and greenhouses of the western world. The competition for supremacy will be very keen and the lover of flowers will have a rare opportunity to make a comparison of the merits of the productions of competing growers.

MARK BENNITT.

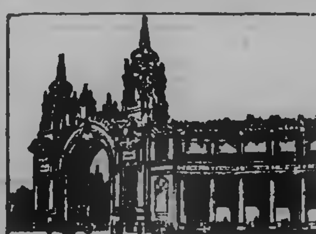
BAY STATE AT BUFFALO.

Fine Historical Exhibit Will Be Made by Massachusetts.

The historic commonwealth of Massachusetts will have a most interesting exhibit at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo.

It is being collected through the cooperation of various societies, such as the Sons of the Revolution, Daughters of the Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Daughters of the American Revolution, the Society of the War of 1812 and kindred organizations. The chairman of the Massachusetts Pan-American commission, Mr. Walter Gilman Page, is a leading spirit in these societies and is anxious that the wealth of historic material possessed by Massachusetts should be adequately represented at the Pan-American Exposition.

The matter of a building has not yet been definitely decided, but it is probable that the old Providence House, which was one of the historic buildings of Boston, will be reproduced as a home for Massachusetts exhibits at the Exposition in Buffalo. This building was typical in its style of the old fashioned Boston architecture and, in addition, possessed a special interest from its historic associations. It formerly stood on the Washington street end of Providence court, partly on the site of what is now Clark's Tavern.



THE PROPYLÆA.

One of the members of the Massachusetts commission to the Paris Exposition, who recently returned from the French fair, secured there about 450 valuable exhibits, which will be transferred to the Pan-American at Buffalo. Ex-Mayor Frederick Fosdick of Fitchburg and City Treasurer E. T. Tifft of Springfield returned recently from a visit of a few days in Buffalo very enthusiastic over the prospects for the success of the Exposition and are anxious to have the good old Bay State well represented there.

Buildings Going Up.

The magnificent buildings which are to house the exhibits of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo next summer are fast progressing toward completion and will soon be ready for the collections which are on the way from all quarters of the American continent. The scene upon the grounds of the Exposition, in the northern part of the city, including part of the famous Delaware Park, is a busy one, and every day sees some definite progress made in the construction work. Conditions have been very favorable to rapid work, and the Pan-American Exposition bids fair to break the record in the matter of swift construction of Exposition buildings and their entire completion before the time arrives to open the gates to the general public.

Connecticut at Pan-American.

The state of Connecticut is getting together a large display that will represent her farm, fruit and dairy interests at the Pan-American Exposition next year. Benjamin H. Lee of Hartford is the commissioner in charge of the work, and he is assisted by a committee composed of N. S. Platt, chairman, New Haven; Professor C. S. Phelps, secretary, agricultural station, Storrs; J. A. Dubon, Poquonock; Professor A. G. Gulley, Agricultural college, Storrs; E. H. Jenkins, agricultural station, New Haven; J. B. Noble, dairy commissioner, Hartford; B. C. Patterson, master of state grange, Torrington.

The Government's Building.

The Government buildings at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo are being built by Rasmussen & Strehlow of Omaha. The contract calls for a group of three buildings connected by curved arcades. The main structure is to be 400 by 130 feet, with a dome 250 feet high, and the smaller buildings each 150 feet square. All departments of the government will make up to date exhibits, which the members of the Government board are now busy collecting and getting into shape.

A NATION'S LOSS

As orphaned children sadly mourn
The loss to which they're called to bow,
Thus death has touched a tender tie,
And all our hearts are bleeding now.

All nations sympathize, and mourn
The death of one so good and great—
The model Queen of all the queens,
Whose life enhanced, adorned the State.

In every change through which she passed—
Through story scenes or calmest hours—
She stood serene—was more than Queen,
And gave the realm her brightest powers.

If others mourned, she, too, was grieved;
If joy was theirs, her smile was seen;
Her people lay so near her heart
Their sorrows would depress the Queen.

Urbanity and sympathy,
Humility with dignity,
A life's devotion, pure and bright—
Have not a peer before her day!

Her work is done. Her cares are past;
From such a life we garner flowers;
This one will brighten history's page
The gain is hers—the loss is ours.

The Engineering Club

The subject for last night's meeting of the Engineering Club was the Roetgen, or "X" Rays, which was taken by Dr. Brown, who has performed some splendid and interesting experiments with his apparatus during the last year. There were quite a number present, and much interest was manifested.

Barrooms Should Close

The Times has been requested to suggest that all bar-rooms be closed on Saturday, the day of the Queen's funeral. We are sure the hotel men will act on the suggestion, and keep tight closed all day. Toronto hotel keepers led off, and did not have to be asked. We know our own hotel men are not less loyal than the hotel men of Toronto.

CLOSING OUT SALE.

W. J. Green will sell privately, or job out, his entire stock of Merchant Tailoring Goods and Gent's Furnishings commencing Saturday, 26th of January, and will sell balance by auction, commencing at 7 o'clock on Wednesday and Friday evenings next, shop furniture, Tailors' plant and safe. All to be sold at a bargain. Everything must go inside of 8 days.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

—It is thought probable that a new issue will be made of stamps bearing the lineage of King Edward.

—The public are reminded of the fact that Saturday is a day of mourning. The market this week will be held on Friday.

—The second of a series of "At Homes," under the auspices of the Ramblers' Club, will be held on the night of February 12th.

—Harmony Lodge, I.O.G.T., entertained the members of Dan Spence Lodge, Royal Templars of Temperance last night. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

Salt rheum, with its burning, stinging sation, is due to poor blood and is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

No Heart too Bad to be Cured.

—Testimony could be piled high in commendation of the wonderful cures wrought by Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. No case stands against this great remedy where it did not relieve the most acute heart sufferings inside of thirty minutes. It attacks the disease in an instant after being taken. —131

The Times was favored with a call yesterday from Mr. I. R. Stewart, of the Bobcaygeon Independent. Mr. Stewart reports business booming at the office of Advanced Thought, where the Good, the True and the Beautiful are to be found.

No Mourning Paper.

The Times received a letter yesterday from a leading wholesale stationer that there was a great scarcity of mourning paper in the city, on account of the great demand for it by reason of the Queen's death.

The Result of Drink

David Hoban, a young man who should know better, on Monday night got a jag on and proceeded to paint things crimson round town. He was run in by the police, and yesterday morning was fined $5 and costs. Then Hoban had to face a second charge of having assaulted Joseph Smith. For this he was fined $2 or ten days

Scrofula the Cause.

Eczema, catarrh, hip disease, white swelling, and even consumption have their origin in scrofulous conditions. With the slightest taint of scrofula in the blood, there is no safety. The remedy for this disease in all its forms is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which goes to the root of the trouble and expels all impurities and disease germs from the blood.

The best family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

A Memorial Military Display.

The proposal to have a memorial military display in Peterboro on the day of our late Queen's funeral is a good one. In many respects it will form a fitting portion of the ceremonies by which the day of mourning is to be observed. Though the late Queen-Empress was a lover of peace she always evinced a warm personal interest in her army and it was characteristic of that life-long regard for the brave men who fought for Queen and Empire that her last wish was that her funeral should partake of the character of a military display. It is consequently appropriate that effect should be given to that wish throughout the empire. We suggest that all the returned South African volunteers in the district be invited to participate.

HARD LINES.

To Make a Man Toe the Mark.

To take both tobacco and coffee away from a man seems pretty tough, but the doctor ordered me to quit both, as my health was very poor, and I had got where I could do but little work.

About a month after quitting I commenced on tobacco again because I could hardly stand it. I got along without the coffee for the reason that I had taken up Postum Food Coffee, which I found very relishing to the appetite, and wonderfully beneficial.

I have gained twenty-five pounds by its use, and to-day I am a well man. I discovered in this way that it was the old fashioned coffee that hurt me and not the tobacco. When I first tried Postum I did not relish it, but found that it was not made right, that is, they did not boil it long enough. Next time it came on the table it was fine and I have been using it ever since.

Mr. Fletcher, an old soldier of this place, was troubled with dyspepsia. I told him of my experience and my cure, and told him to quit coffee and use Postum Food Coffee. This was some time ago. I saw him yesterday and he told me he had not felt better in twenty years, and nothing would induce him to go back from Postum to the use of common coffee. He had the same trouble in getting it made right to start with.

John Ashford, of Dillon, was also troubled with dyspepsia. I told him of my cure by the use of Postum Food Coffee, and warned him to be careful in having the Postum cooked long enough when he did try it. To-day he is perfectly well, and his appetite never better.

I could give you the names of a number of others who have been benefited by using Postum Food Coffee. I believe you are a true friend of suffering humanity.—Thomas Spring, Deavertown, Ohio.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

Business Disposed Of at the January Session.

PETITIONS.

Mr. Costello, chairman, reported for the Committee on Petitions as follows:—

The committee on Petitions beg leave to report, recommending as follows:—

1. That the Provincial Secretary be instructed that this Council would approve of a small grant of public money being set apart to enable general hospitals of the Province, at their option to provide for the treatment of pauper inebriates.

2. That a memorial be passed by this Council, praying the Ontario Legislature to amend the law so as to save counties the expenses of advertising the lists of convictions.

3. That in answer to the communication from the clerk of the county of Victoria, asking this council to consider the address of His Honor Judge Dean on the subject of a fusion of the High Court and County Court and General Sessions, your committee would recommend that an amalgamation of the above courts is desirable and would recommend that legislation be effected to decrease the risks and costs of litigation.

4. Your committee recommend that the Ontario Legislature be memorialized to amend the law so as to provide that the parties to an action, civil or criminal, which may be heard by a jury, be required to notify the sheriff not less than ten days before the sittings of the court, stating that they will require a jury, or not, and in the event of no, request that no jurors be summoned to attend.

5. That this Council memorialize the Ontario Legislature to so amend the school law as to give the Public School Leaving examination a permanent and distinct place in the Public School system of the Province.

6. That this Council memorialize the Ontario Legislature to so amend the Municipal Act, R.S.O., 1897, Chapter 223, so that the word "hawker" shall also include all persons, as well as the agents of such persons not resident within the county, who sell or offer for sale goods, or carry or expose samples or patterns, or solicit orders for any such goods.

7. That this Council memorialize the Ontario Legislature to so amend the Municipal Act so that a vote shall be taken in every township on the question of the abolition of the present system of statue labor and the substitution therefor of a statue labor tax, and also to provide some more effectual method of having the township roads open after snow storms and kept open during the winter months.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

PAUL COSTELLO,
Chairman.

The report was adopted on motion of Messrs. Costello and Shaw.

A Successful Affair.

A very interesting missionary programme was given at the Epworth League on Monday night, the topic for the evening being "China." The chair was occupied by Mr. W. F. Stubbs, while Mr. W. Staples performed the duties of pianist. Three papers on the geography of China, the people and industries, and the Government of China, were read by Mr. Walden, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Doidge. An artistic and well drawn map was supplied each present, which assisted very much in the study of the geography of the country. Mr. Bert Turner and Mr. Walter Maguire rendered some vocal selections which were well received. The programme was very enjoyable and the young men who contributed the entire programme are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts.

BOARD OF HEALTH

Met on Monday and Elected Mr. McPherson Chairman.

The inaugural meeting of the Board of Health, of the Town of Peterborough, was held in the Town Clerk's Office Monday afternoon. There were present, Dr. Moher, Dr. Burnham, Dr. Bingham, J. P. Metheral, Geo. Schneider, J. McPherson and His Worship Mayor Denne.

On motion of Dr. Burnham, seconded by J. P. Metheral, Mr. J. McPherson was appointed Chairman for the ensuing year.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and on motion adopted.

Dr. Bingham gave a short verbal report as to the sanitary condition of the town, after which the discussion turned to the matter of vaccination. The general opinion is that there is comparatively little attention paid to the necessity in this line.

On motion of Dr. Moher, seconded by Dr. Burnham, the Medical Health Officer was asked to have notices printed in the local papers drawing attention to the importance of vaccination.

The Board then adjourned.

At a meeting of the Board of Health on the 28th inst., it was moved by Dr. Moher, seconded by Dr. Burnham, and carried, That the Health Officer have an item inserted in the press as to the necessity of parents having their children vaccinated.

In complying with my instructions it is only necessary to call the attention of parents and guardians to the uncertainty and danger of an outbreak of small pox at any time, and although the town is now, and has been for years, absolutely free from that loathsome disease, nevertheless as Peterborough is connected with outside places by so many lines of railway, there is always present an element of danger. Vaccination gives perfect protection from small pox, and it is the urgent wish of the Board of Health that those who have the care of the young should have them vaccinated at their earliest convenience.

J. Bingham, M.D.,
Medical Health Officer.

HOCKEY.

The Belleville Intelligencer says:—"Some of those Peterboro Colts cut their eye-teeth long, long ago. Some of 'em look as though they might have been playing hockey when the Belleville players were in swadling clothes." My dear boy, you know it's a case of sour grapes. The Peterboro Colts are all under the regulation age limit.

Belleville juniors have filed a protest with the O.H.A. secretary against Peterboro's Colts, charging them with playing men over the junior age limit. Belleville's contention is that King and Cavanagh are over one and twenty and also charge Whitcroft with having gone to Campbellford and played there, and not for his health. It is understood that our club have no fear of the result, as they are not given to such practices.

STOP LOSING MONEY!

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 50 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 146 W. 42d Street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our statement!

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. We average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

A "Dead" Give-Away.

Municipal ownership may not be all that it is cracked up to be, but companies owning public franchises occasionally do some foolish things. The City Lighting Company, of St. Louis, is advertising its bonds for sale. It presents as an indication of the value of its stock a contract with the city of St. Louis for public lighting. It announces that an income more than enough to redeem bonds and interest, is absolutely guaranteed from the city of St. Louis. A statement of that kind is apt to make people think the city is paying about all its worth for its lighting. While this does not apply to Peterborough, where light is cheap, it nevertheless shows that in giving up the use of the streets to private individuals, the taxpayers make a big mistake.

'A Cheerful Look Makes a Dish a Feast."

"Cheerful looks" depend just as much upon physical well-being as upon natural disposition and temperament. If the blood is disordered, the brain is starved, and no "dish is a feast," for the reason that the vitalising elements do not reach the proper spot.

A step in the right direction is to purify the body by the use of a natural remedy. Hood's Sarsaparilla is Nature's remedy. It acts upon the blood, and whether the seat of the disorder is brain, stomach, liver or kidneys, the purifying process of this medicine is equally sure and successful. It never disappoints.

Back Ache—"My mother had severe pains in her side and back. She was obliged to give up work. A friend persuaded her to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon she was able to do her work, free from pain and had a good appetite." MAGGIE MORGAN, Nasonworth, N. B.

Nerve Food—"My wife was stricken with nervous prostration. She suffered from headaches. She became weak, low-spirited and her appetite was poor. I am glad to state that Hood's Sarsaparilla has completely cured her of all her ailments." G. BELLAMY, 321 Hannah St., Hamilton, Ont.

WEST INDIAN TROOPS BREAK INTO MUTINY

Negroes Guarding Cronje at St. Helena Commit Deeds of Violence.

London, Jan. 30.—Lord Kitchener reports to the War Office under date of Pretoria, Jan 29, as follows:

De Wet has been engaged by Knox forty miles north of Thabanchu. No details. De Wet intends again attempting an invasion of Cape Colony.

Smith Dorrien has returned from Carolina, having dispersed the Boers.

A force of Boers this morning entered Boysburg and damaged two miles. Commandant Marais is among the prisoners taken.

BOERS MAY GO TO INDIA.

Calcutta, Jan. 30.—It is reported that Lord Kitchener wishes to send ten thousand Boer prisoners to India. He proposes to locate them in the State of Nilgira, Province of Orissa, Bengal.

DEFENDS MURDER OF ENVOYS.

London, Jan. 30.—An agency telegram from the Hague gives the following account of Mr. Kruger's views on the conduct of De Wet towards the peace agents: "De Wet has never punished without having good reason for doing so. Kitchener's emissaries had probably been commissioned to invite one or more officers to desert the national cause. The same thing happened once before. After the capture of Pretoria, Roberts and Kitchener, on the pretext of sending peace messengers, sought by these low means to weak en the Boers. The present envoys may likewise have been spies, for the English agents have long been suspected of abusing their position."

$70,000,000 MORE FOR WAR.

The Daily News says that Earl Roberts, commander-in-chief of the Majesty's forces, does not contemplate the possibility of withdrawing a single soldier from South Africa for the next twelve months, and that the Government recognizes the necessity for asking the House of Commons for $70,000,000 during the ensuing financial year, in addition to what has already been voted for the war.

TRY TO LAND AMMUNITION.

A despatch from Cape Town states that a large and well-equipped Boer commando is in the neighbornood of Lambert's Bay, where it is believed that the Boers mean to make an attempt to land ammunition. A British cruiser is bound thither. Three Boer commandoes are reported to be combining with the intention of attacking Malmesbury.

NATIVES SUPPLY BOERS.

A trooper of the 16th Lancers, 3rd Cavalry Brigade, named Lardner, who was captured near Linley a week ago, arrived in Kroonstadt to-day. He was with the rear guard of Col. White's column, and was taken prisoner by De Wet, who has 1,000 men in that district. He was deprived of everything except his uniform, and detained till Wednesday. The enemy asked him for information as to the movements of the British, and said they had killed 20 of the column. They also told him that De Wet did not let his followers know his whereabouts, but that he was only an hour's journey away. Lardner reports that the Boers are in a dirty condition, and their clothes and boots are worn out. but they have very good horses, and supplies of mealies and fruit are brought to them by the natives. The commando consists mostly of foreigners. Lardner, when released, had a two days' walk to Kroonstadt.

SCHREINER'S PRISONERS.

Olive Schriner (Mrs. Cronwright), the author, and her husband are practically prisoners in their home. They are not allowed to leave the Hanover district, owing to the fact that martial law prevails there.

LIEUT. NELLES SERIOUSLY ILL

News came to Lieut.-Col Nelles yesterday that his son, Lieut. Nelles, was seriously ill with peritonitis at Bloemfontein. He has been in South Africa for five years. He joined the Strathconas recently, but later received a commission in the Commander-in-Chief's bodyguard. He served in the Northwest rebellion of 1885.

This evening the main committee will meet at the Auditorium.

SHOT BY JEALOUS HUSBAND.

Doctor Charged with Making Love to Another Man's Wife Fatally Hurt.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 30—In a jealous rage George Bowman, of Lower River Road, Coal City, fired two bullets this morning into Dr. John H. Haire, whom he accused of improper conduct with his (Bowman's) wife. The men live in the same house, and have quarrelled frequently. Bowman is employed at the Addison Steel Pipe Company, and Dr. Haire came to the place about six months ago.

When Bowman started to work he met Haire in the hallway. Becoming suspicious, Bowman slipped around to the kitchen and saw the doctor making love he says. He broke open the door and faced them with a drawn revolver. "Now I've got you," he cried, levelling his weapon at Haire.

The doctor fell with one bullet in his neck and another in his left breast. He cannot live. An hour later Bowman gave himself up to Mayor Johnston.

Dr. Haire three years ago was divorced from his wife, Mrs. E. V. Cherry Haire, of some local note as a newspaper writer.

Congregational Meeting.

The annual meeting of St. Paul's Church congregation was held last night, and was largely attended. A full report will appear to-morrow.

Peterborough Orange Lodge

Peterborough County Orange Lodge met last night in special session, with the purpose of taking into consideration the advisability of participating in the memorial services to be held on the occasion of Her late Majesty's funeral on Saturday next, but owing to the fact that in the past the Society and its motives have been misrepresented or misunderstood, it was decided to refrain from making any outward display, but it was ordered that all Warrants and Banners, etc., be draped and that memorial badges be worn at lodge meetings and other occasions. Badges are to be worn for a period of six months, and that the members attend indiscriminately the services to be held in the appointed churches, and that the exterior and interior of the hall be draped.

The arrangements which have been completed, provide that eight torpedo boat destroyers will lead the procession from Cowes, followed by the Royal yacht Albert, with the Queen's body on board. The Royal yacht Victoria and Albert with King Edward and Queen Alexandra and the English Royal Family, the Royal yacht Osborne with other Royalties, the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern with Emperor William, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and others, the Admiralty yacht Enchantress and a Trinity House yacht with the officials on board.

MEETING OF PRIVY COUNCIL

King Signed a Proclamation Suspending Business Saturday Throughout the United Kingdom.

London, Jan. 30.

During the morning King Edward presided at a meeting of the Privy Council. The business transacted was of a formal character. The King signed a proclamation suspended business Saturday throughout the United Kingdom. The closing down will be so complete that even the restaurants and saloons will be shut up for four or five hours in the middle of the day. Some of the afternoon newspapers will not publish Saturday.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 30.

King Edward arrived here soon after four o'clock. Count Von Eulenburg, Emperor William, Grand Court Marshal accompanied him. A large crowd of spectators were present.

Paris, Jan. 30.

The Duke of Orleans has decided to attend the funeral of Queen Victoria. He will arrive in London Saturday.

Paris, Jan. 30.

The Duke of Orleans has decided to attain the funeral of Queen Victoria. He will arrive in London Saturday, and on Sunday will deposit a wreath on the casket containing her Majesty's remains. The Dukes' decision is interesting in view of his message of congratulation to the Paris artist who carrealured Queen Victoria in a most insulting manner, which resulted in the Duke being ostracized in London.

FIELD MARSHALS TO RIDE

All who are able to Endure the Fatigue will Ride With Their Staffs.

London, Jan. 30.

The procession in London, as indicated by the War Office orders, issued this evening will be a gorgeous military pageant. Detachments of 10 regiments with an almost equal number of distinguished uniform embracing all arms of the service, will make a constantly changing picture. The uniforms of all the great armies of the world will appear for an addition to the brilliant intouages of the visiting Kings and princely envoyes, there will be the military attaches of the embassies and legations. All the field marshals of the British army able to endure the fatigue will ride with their staffs. The naval corps will also take part in the procession which will be two miles long.

The War Office directs that the Ethovens and Chapins funeral marches only shall be played. From the time the coffin reached London to its departure, guns will boom slowly in Hyde Park.

Confectioners Will Close.

The confectionery stores in town will be closed all day Saturday in observance of Her Majesty's obsequies. Citizens are requested to govern themselves accordingly.

THE CEREAL COMPANY

The Company Put up Ten Thousand Dollars.

AS A GUARANTEE OF FAITH

And the Company Will Begin Operations at Once

For the past few days representatives of the American Cereal Company have been in town completing negotiations for the purchase of the water power belonging to the Dickson Company. On Monday last Senator Cox arrived in town, in connection with the same matter. He left on Tuesday morning for Toronto, being satisfied that the deal would go through. The option on the property expires at noon to-day, and it was feared by many that some hitch might arise that would prevent the Company coming to Peterborough. We are pleased to be able to say that such is not the case. The only question, we understand, which arose in the matter, was the amount of power that was capable of being developed. The Cereal Company's engineers have carefully looked into this, and their report was satisfactory in the main.

Yesterday a marked check for $10,000 was paid over by the Cereal Company, which indicates that the deal is closed.

The Dickson Company surrenders the property on terms and at a price so reasonable that the new Company could hardly afford to let it go. It is very creditable to the former that their desire to see the town progress induced them to make so great a sacrifice. The members of the Company looked upon it largely from this point of view. It is understood that active operations are to be begun at once.

FILIPINOS SEEKING PEACE.

End of the War in the Asiatic Archipelago Now in sight.

Manila, Jan. 30.—Reports from southern Luzon say there is much disaffection in the insurgent camps. A thousand persons swore allegiance to the United States in a church at Malabon on Sunday.

Caillo's camp, near San Antonio, was surprised and attacked on Friday by a detachment of the Fifteenth Infantry. The insurgents escaped, but a score of houses were destroyed.

Detachments of the Fourth Infantry and Fourth and Sixth Cavalry, with a platoon of marines, have captured 140 identified insurgents and ladrones in Cavite Province.

Twenty wire repairers were attacked recently south of San Paolo by 300 insurgents, half of them armed with rifles. Two Americans were wounded, and one was captured, but was subsequently rescued by reinforcements of the Forty-ninth Regiment. One native was killed, seven were wounded, and several were captured.

A VICTORY FOR THE FORESTERS.

Dr. Coulter's Application for Injun.tion Refused.

Soundness of Order Proved and an Attack on the Order Made to Operate as a Boomerang on the Accuser.

New York, Jan. 28 — The application by Dr. Charles C. Coulter for an injunction restraining the supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters from continuing certain extravagant practices, and from interfering by threats or otherwise with the plaintiff and his attorney and witnesses in prosecuting certain actions brought by him, was to-day denied by Justice Blanchard in the Supreme Court. Dr. Coulter also claimed the organization was practically insolvent, and had expended over $400,000 in collecting an income of $2,500,000 last year.

The defendants denied all the allegations of mismanagement, and showed that the order had now 170,000 members in the United States and Canada and a surplus of $4,000,000.

SLAP AT DR. ORONHYATEKHA.

Another of Dr. Coulter's charges was that the accociation declined to accept black or yellow men as members, while it had elected as its supreme chief Ranger a Mohawk Indian.

The defendants, in reply to this, said that Dr. Oronhyatekha was a full-blooded Mohawk Indian, who was a licentiate of the Ontario Medical Council, an undergraduate of Oxford University, England, a graduate of Toronto University, and was last year the President of the National Fraternal Congress of America. He had been at the head of the order since 1881, when it had only 369 members, and had since been engaged in building, while Dr. Coulter now seemed to be employed in an endeavor to destroy it if he possibly could do so.

Justice Blanchard, in denying the motion for the injunction, said that all the allegations charging maladministration of the defendant and the doubtful solvency of the order had been fully met. He denied the motion with $10 costs.

The above will prove pleasant reading for the members of the order in Peterborough, many of whom have been connected with the institution for many years. The particulars of the action and statements of Dr. Coulter, who is well known in Peterborough, appeared in the Journal of Commerce, and were reproduced in these columns a short time ago. We, along with many other friends of the order here, are pleased to know that the accusations have been found to be groundless.

A SOLDIER PROVIDED FOR HIS FIANCEE

Late Captain Pearse Left Her the income on $12,000.

By the will of the late Capt. Pearse, of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, who died in Pretoria on the 17th of October last, his fiancee, Miss Sybil Dagmar Seymour, of Toronto, is to receive the income on $12,000 until she marries. When Miss Seymour marries, the said monies are to be equally divided between the deceased's two brothers, E. and D. Pearse of Yeaton House, Easchurch, England, and S. A. Pearcé, captain in the Seventeenth Madras Infantry, India.

The value of the captain's estate is $35,174, which consists wholly of stocks, as follows:—100 shares in the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co., valued at $5,625; 61 shares of Commercial Cable Co., valued at $8,721; 56 shares in the Imperial Bank of Canada, $11,880; 22 shares in the Toronto Electric Light Co., $2,948; 50 shares in the Victoria Phoenix Brewing Co., of British Columbia, $5,000 and a mortgage of $1,000.

By the terms of the will H. M. Pellatt is appointed executor, and is to invest the $12,000 as he deems wisest, and the income is to go to Miss Seymour. The balance of the estate goes to his two brothers equally, and the $12,000 in the event of the late captain's fiancee's marriage.

Remarkable Success of the South Burley Church Enterprise

The new Methodist Church in South Burleigh, which is under the pastronage of Rev. Mr. Berry, of Apsley, was formally dedicated to the service of God on Sunday last. Impressive and eloquent sermons were preached morning and evening by the Rev. J. P. Wilson, of the George Street Church. On Monday a tea was held, followed by a very interesting programme, consisting of addresses, music, etc. The gratifying feature of the proceedings was the fact that notonly was the entire debt of the church wiped out, but their is a surplus of $60 to the good.

The Times heartily congratulates Rev. Mr. Berry on the great success which has attended his efforts.

Widow of Baron Von Ketteler on Her Way to Germany.

Yesterday express for Montreal had on board Baroness von Ketteler, nee Miss Ledyard, widow of the late Baron von Ketteler, the German ambassador, who was foully murdered in Pekin last June by the Boxers.

To a Times representative the Baroness said that her health is completely restored. She goes as a German subject to her home, after spending a few days with friends in Montreal and New York. The Baroness was unaccompanied by any member of her own family, being attended by a trained nurse and a maid.

LOST ON RICE LAKE.

A Twelve Year Old Child Wanders Away in a Heavy Fog.

Great excitement was caused at Hiawatha the other day when it was learned that twelve year old Bessie Smith was lost on Rice Lake. The church bell was rang, and in a few minutes every able-bodied man in the village started out in search of the missing child.

The lake is about twenty miles in length, by from three to five in width, and on Thursday was trackless. The child wandered out on the ice during a fog, and was not missed for some time.

After hours of search she was found almost exhausted from cold, in the vicinity of Gore's Landing, which is on the opposite shore.

HIAWATHA.

—Hiawatha was well represented at the Keene carnival, the other evening.

—Every Indian who could leave home attended the feast at Chemong on Friday the 25 inst.

—We are glad to report that Miss Windsor, who has been ill with pneumonia, is progressing favorably.

—There was great excitement on Thursday noon, the 24 inst., when the church bell announced the fact that twelve year old Bessie Smith, was lost on the lake. All who could help hastened to the rescue, but the work was exceedingly difficult owing to the heavy fog on the lake. The child was found near Gore's Landing in an almost perished condition.

Mr John Flood Ill

Mr. John Flood, of Ennismore, who is well known and highly esteemed by many in town, is very ill with pneumonia. His condition is, we regret to say, critical. Mr. Flood's hosts of friends in town and country will be sorry to hear this, and will hope for his speedy recovery.

10,0000 BOERS MAY BE SENT TO INDIA

It is Reported that Lord Kitchener Wishes to Send His Prisoners to India.

London, Jan. 30.—The troops of negro origin from the West Indies serving under the British colors have one besetting sin, and that is their tendency at certian periods to break loose, and commit all manner of violence before they can again be brought under discipline. It is simply an overboiling of the savage blood, which cannot be kept in, and must exhaust itself by running amuck. Such occurrences are not uncommon in the Island of Jamaica, but the first instance recorded in St. Helena ha sjust been reported. It appears that the black West Indian troops stationed on that island (where Gen. Cronie and a large number of Boers are held prisoners) mutined early during the month, raided the capital, terrorized the inhabitants, injured many of them, defied their officers, and were subdued only when faced by the muzzles of rifles. The censor suppressed the news, but the Associated Press has received the story by mail.

The trouble started with a row on the night of January 1 between some bluejackets, and a party of the West Indians. On the following night the West Indians broke out of barracks, and raided the town with clubs, and razors tied to sticks. They ran amuck, cutting and beating women, children, and men indiscriminately, and attacked the Sailors' Rest, tearing out the doors and windows. All the efforts of the officers to suppress the mutineers were futile. When ordered to the camp they refused to obey, and threatened to dynamite the town. A strong naval force then was landed, the available troops were collected, and the streets were paraded and guarded all night long. At daybreak the troops were drawn up with loaded rifles in front of the place where the West Indians were barricaded. The latter were ordered to surrender, and were notified if they did not do so they would be fired upon. The mutineers were cowed, and allowed themselves to be taken to the camp, where they will remain under guard until a troopship shall arrive to remove them.

KEENE CARNIVAL

A List of Those Who Carried off the Prizes on Friday Night.

The annual winter carnival of the Keene Skating and Curling Rink Co. was held on Friday night, and was most successful. The affair was very largely attended by people from the vicinity of Keene, from Peterborough, and from even across Rice Lake. The following is a partial list of those who were in costume:

MOURNING IN DOURO

Rev Father Kielty's Tribute to our late Beloved Queen

Rev. W. J. Keilty, the esteemed pastor of St Joseph's church Douro, spoke at some length on the death of the Queen on Sunday last. He referred to her in the most eulogistic terms and quoted Archbishop Falconi to show in what esteem she was held by Catholics. When she was ill the following message was sent to the Governor-General from the Apostolic Delegate:

"His Excellency Mgr. Falconi, the Papal Delegate, has learned with deep regret of the serious illness of Her Majesty Queen Victoria. He prays God that a sovereign whose long and happy reign has gained for her, the esteem and affection of the people of the world, may still be spared to her anxious subjects. In the name of the Catholic Church His Excellency wishes to express his deep concern at the condition of Her Majesty's health, and to offer the sincere sympathy and prayers of the people whom he represents.

"Delegate of the Holy See."

Rev. W. J. Keilty also quoted the Delegate in the following tribute which he paid to the late lamented Victoria the Great and the Good:—

"Her Majesty was a noble, pious lady who during her reign won in the respect, love and veneration of her Catholic subjects, who have enjoyed the greatest measure of religious liberty in the Victorian Era. Surely if any should regret her Majesty's death it should be the Catholics. I speak from the Holy Father always held the personal knowledge when I say that Queen in the highest possible esteem."

INSPECTING THE CAMPS

Mr McWilliams Returns From a Long Trip to the West.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams, the efficient Crown Timber Inspector of Ontario, returned this week from a tour of inspection amongst the lumber camps of the Georgian Bay and Lake Huron District. He was absent three weeks, and visited 38 camps, driving hundreds of miles with the thermometer in some instances down to 35 degrees below freezing point.

Mr. McWilliams found everything in good shape, so far as his department is concerned. Several fine new mills are being erected at different points in the district, mostly by Michigan operators, who were forced, under the Ontario Government's law regarding export duty on logs, to cut their timber in Ontario. Mr. McWilliams says that everything is booming in the district. Men are being paid from $28 to $30 per month and board in the camps, and are hard to obtain even at these figures. Mr. McWilliams leaves in a short time for a tour of the camps of the other lumbering sections.

PETERBORO NAVIGATION CO.'Y

Annual Meeting and Election of Officers Yesterday.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Shareholders of the Peterborough Navigation Company was held yesterday afternoon, in the office of the Ontario Bank. The President, Mr. H. Calcutt, in the chair. After the reading of the minutes the following officers were elected:

President—H. Calcutt.

Vice-President—T. E. Bradburn.

Secretary-Treasurer—R. E. Wood.

Directors—R. S. Davidson, Adam Hall, H. Winch, Geo. W. Hatton and W. H. Robertson.

The Company is preparing for a large business next season. With practically new steamers, fitted with modern machinery, there is no doubt that the beautiful waters of the Otonabee will be a favorite resort for tourists and pleasure seekers.

IN SYMPATHY.

A Masonic Tribute to the Memory of our Late Beloved Queen.

At a meeting of Corinthian Lodge, No. 101, A. F. & A. M., held last night, the following resolution moved by Wor. Bro. Rogers, seconded by Wor. Bro. Burgett, was unanimously adopted.

That the Secretary be instructed to enter the following upon the minutes as expressive of the heartfelt sentiments of this Lodge:—

It is fitting on this occasion that we place on record some tribute, however inadequate, to the memory of our late lamented and much beloved Sovereign, Queen Victoria, whose demise has caused the world to pause in sympathy with the nation in its grief, whose long and happy reign has brought peace and prosperity to her people, and whose virtuous life has set for womanhood an excellently brilliant example.

By her wise statesmanship and judicious counsels, she consolidated her Empire, enlarged her territories, extended the bounds of freedom, progress and civilization, and established for the British monarchy the highest esteem and most permanent popularity.

By the purity of her life she elevated the standard of social morality, and by the simple touchingly loving sympathy of her nature she endeared herself in the hearts of all her people—alike the peasant and the peer.

To her person and her throne, her subjects in whatever land, of whatsoever race or creed, were truly loyal and devoted, and in her death experience a loss personal as well as national and bow in sorrow for the "queenliest of women and the most womanly of queens."

To the King, Edward VII, "a ruler of the blood," we bear true allegiance and have the fullest confidence that he will imitate his revered predecessor in safeguarding the constitution and preserving the great inheritance committed to his charge.

To him as Grand Master and ruler of the craft—a monarch who has not thought it derogatory from his dignity to exchange the sceptre for the gavel—we as Masons bow in gratitude and loyalty and feel assured that under his Sovereignty we shall ever have cause to sing with heart and voice "God Save the King."

Mr. Walton Re-Elected

At a meeting of the West Peterborough License Commissioners yesterday morning there were present Mr. Robert Graham, of Lakefield, and Messrs. M. H. Halpin, Robert Walton, and Inspector Geo. Cockrane. Mr. Walton was re-elected chairman for 1901.

LORD ROBERTS' WISDOM.

Lord Roberts did a thoughtful thing when he put a stop to festivities in England in connection with his return from South Africa. The war is not over. There are those who assert that the position to-day is almost as dangerous as when Kruger sent his ultimatum to England. The two republics are in possession of the British; an immense army sustains the power of England; but Cape Colony has been invaded; the Boers bulk in numbers and daring; British outposts are captured, are cut off, are surprised, swift descents are made upon level towns, and even Cape Town is threatened. One need not be an alarmist to consider the situation exceedingly painful and unsatisfactory. We who sit at home at ease know nothing of the difficulties which Lord Kitchener has to face. These will be overcome in the end, but the army is weary pursuing the enemy who possesses the cloak of swiftness, an enemy which is never caught, which eludes the most mobile troops in the British service, and which still can successfully prevent a pacification. Any other country would have come to terms with the Boers long ago. England has the bulldog tenacity but the British public are thoroughly sick of the war. The sacrifice of life has been great; the waste of money prodigious. It looks as if our Canadian troops should have stayed at the front a little longer; as if Lord Roberts should have remained at the helm till there were surer signs of the subjugation of the enemy.

LATEST PHASE OF MIND CURE.

A barber in Cleveland, O., has discovered a new cure for rheumatism. He was limping home from his shop the other evening when a holdup man thrust a revolver into his face and hissed "Hands up!" The barber forgot that he was a confirmed victim of rheumatism and that he could not run. He began sprinting over the ground with all the swiftness of his athletic youth. Since that night he has been entirely free from rheumatism. The moral is obvious. He advises all victims of rheumatism to loiter about dark and lonely spots in a large city until they have persuaded some holdup man to work the new cure upon them. It is gratifying to learn that the highwayman may thus become a physician, a change which may fairly be regarded as an upward step in the social scale. But before all rheumatic sufferers in the world commence going out on dark nights to seek the holdup cure it may be well to speak a word of warning. The unexpected juxtaposition of a revolver to one's nose does not always have the salutary effect it had on the Cleveland barber. With some persons possessing unimpaired legs it has been known to produce a sort of temporary paralysis, so that they could not run with or without rheumatism. If such persons should happen to be afraid of the masked physician and his revolver they might find themselves no whit relieved except as to their pockets. The mind cure, in all its many and picturesque forms, is not a thing to be dallied with except by people with the right kind of nerves.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The sentencing of Alvord, the chap who stole $600,000, to Sing Sing, establishes a new record for the States. Hitherto the custom over there has been to send high class thieves to Congress.

The death of Good Queen Victoria leaves but one female crowned head in the world—Queen Wilhelmina. It is to be hoped that her future husband will take good care of Willie, and not allow her to strain herself on washday.

This season may be winter, but fortunately so far few people have tumbled to the fact through slips on icy pavements.

Some spell it "grip" and others "grippe." This has a parallel in the circumstance that many people make more of a disease than others.

In Grandma's Day,

Women were straight and strong. They could walk or work side by side with the men of the family. They lived under healthier conditions; there was more simplicity and less strain. To-day it's different. The woman has all the care of the house and the wear of motherhood with duties superadded which were never dreamed of in Grandma's day. As a natural result she's worn out when she ought to be in the full beauty of mature womanhood. Women who would preserve their health and strength should guard the delicate womanly organs. When these are diseased the whole body suffers loss of strength and beauty. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the diseases that weaken women. Inflammation, ulceration and female weakness promptly yield to the power of this great remedy.

"I had been a great sufferer from female weakness for about two years," writes Mrs. Emma Richardson, of Goss, Wayne Co., Ky., "Could not do my work part of the time. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and felt as well as I ever did."

NINE BAD VOTES IN NORTH BRUCE

Which Leaves Mr. McNeill's Seat a a Shaky One.

Owen Sound, Jan. 28.—If Mr. McMaill is to hold his seat in NorthBruce he must strike off for corrupt practices at least nine Campbell votes to make up for an equal number which Mr. Aylesworth, for the petitioner, proved at the election trial on Saturday were cast by men who had no right to vote. Meanwhile, the official count is a tie one, and the trialstands until February 4th, at Southampton.

It wa sargued, on Mr. McNaill's behalf,, that all unitialed ballots should be rejected, but Chancellor Boyd held half, that all uninitaled ballots should be sustained,, on the ground that the voter should not be disfranchised because an officer had failed to do his duty. Judge Street did not express an opinion, and a formal decision on this point was reserved.

The judge sruled that Albert Frost's vote at Elderslie was an improper one. Frost applied for a ballot paper,, saying that he was absent when the list was made up. The Conservative scrutineer insisted upon his receiving a ballot, and produced al etter from Mr. O'Neill,, warning and deputy of the consequences of refusing to give a ballot—a $200 fine. Frost finally got the ballot after taking two oaths. He refused to disclose for whom he had voted, and the court ruled that he was not required to do so. Similar cases occurred in other divisions in Elderslie. There were five of them at one polling place.

A man named Williscroft. it was shown,, voted in Southampton after the poll had been declared closed. Mr. McNaill' sscrutineers insisted upon the ballots being given.

Alex. McFarlane swore that he voted in Bruce and in Grey,, but at thetime of the election he lived in Grey. John Moon also voted in the two ridings, but the judges held his vote good. Samuel Weat,herhead voted under his own name in place of E. L. Weatherhead,, his nephew Smauel's name not being on the list, and E. L. being in Michigan at the time.

John Martindale, a Stoke's Bay fisherman, who voted without being on the list, produced the form of oath as he had filled it out to meet hiscause. His oath was "And that you verily believe that your name wa somitted from the list by reason of your being neglected at the time such list was prepared, and for no other reason."

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. A WONDERFUL
KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

I. A. HOPKINS.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE,
GRAVEL, DROPSY,
And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary troubles which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right, I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been benefited by its use. I am 53 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.
Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

Rev. W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Mrs. Wm. H. Hardy, East Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured her after six doctors failed. Rev. J. M. Thompson, Colver, Tonganoxie, Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble, of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book, entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state.

Alkavis is a true specific discovery—Alkavis (The Kava-Kava Compound)—cures all forms of kidney and bladder diseases, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 408 Fourth Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

In the service of Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria for over fourteen years was W. Latimer, 84 Louisa street, Toronto, first as a trooper in the Scotch Greys, then as a stoker on board H. M. battleships "Triumph" and "Ajax."

The work as stoker told somewhat severely on Mr. Latimer's health, and he became troubled with kidney disease. His body was terribly bloated. His legs and feet swelled and he experienced fearful distress. He entered the English hospital in Montreal and underwent treatment with hot packs. This was eight years ago. This sweat treatment gave him only temporary relief. When he came to Toronto he engaged with the Polson Iron Works Co. as fireman. The old trouble came back. The physicians examined him and he was sent to Grace Hospital, corner Huron and College streets, for treatment for GALLOPING CONSUMPTION. Several doctors there diagnosed his case as hopeless, and he was ordered to the Home for Incurables. He was tremendously bloated; skin yellowish, clammy and puffy; suffered terribly from neuralgic pains, and had a very bad attack of dysentery. However, he refused to go to the Home for Incurables and went to his home to die. This was late this summer. He was advised to take Powley's Liquified Ozone, and procured a bottle. He noticed an improvement almost immediately, four doses stopped his dysentery, and he kept on. When he had taken four bottles he had entirely recovered. The swelling went down completely, his flesh became ruddy and healthy, and to-day he is a sound man. Mr. Latimer states that he had Bright's Disease of the Kidneys of the worst description and Dropsy, and that Powley's Liquified Ozone is what gave him a complete cure. "The above is a correct representation of my case in every detail. (Signed), W. LATIMER, 84 Louisa street, Toronto."

Powley's Liquified Ozone, the new system of treating disease, is concentrated oxygen. It destroys the germs of disease and nourishes the organs of the body. Ozone is nature's great life-giving principle. Consult or write the giver of this testimonial.

Mr. Latimer was terribly bloated with Dropsy and Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Ozone cured him permanently.

Powley's Liquified Ozone is $1.00 a large size bottle, 50c small size. At all druggists', or from the Laboratories of the Ozone Co. of Toronto, Limited, 48 Colborne St., Toronto.

A Warlike Ram and His Shadow

Hespeler, Jan. 29.—A young farmer living near here purchased a new cutter last week and brought the rig home. In the yard where it was left for a moment there was a flock of peaceable sheep and a warlike ram, which, when the owner had left, proceeded to investigate. The ram saw his own reflection in the shiny back of the sleigh and the reflection was as bold and warlike as the ram himself, and as each was looking for a fight the fight began. When the owner returned he found the back of the new cutter battered to pieces.

Railway Notes.

—The Grand Trunk freight department of Montreal lost all their records in the fire at Montreal last Wednesday night.

—The proposed Chatham and Kent radial electric line will have low rates—2c a mile when passenger pays on train, 1 1-2c. a mile on tickets bought at station, and 1c. a mile when he uses a mileage book.

—Tremendous prosperity marked the business of the American railways in 1900. The Financial Chronicle estimates that the expansion in gross receipts was over one hundred million dollars, or about 11 per cent. on the alleged capital invested.

German Commerce Expands Greatly

London, Jan. 30.—The foreign trade of England's two great rivals, the United States and Germany, continues to grow with giant strides, and every new publication of statistics furnishes new ground for alarm among English manufacturers and commercial men, who fear that England's commercial supremacy is in great danger. The figures for the United States' trade for the last decade, showing a phenomenal expansion, were published a few days ago. To-day the official statistics of the German foregn trade for 1900 are avaliable. They show the imports to be $1,459,328,000, an increase over 1899 of $124,521,000; and the exports $1,189,822,750, an increase of $16 720 500 over the previous year; largely agricultural products.

SABBATH SCHOOL CONVENTION

Of the Township of Smith and the Village of Lakefield

The annual Sabbath School Convention of the Township of Smith and Village of Lakefield was held in the Methodist church, Lakefield on Tuesday afternoon and evening. The attendance of delegates from the different schools was fair and considerable interest was taken in the proceedings. The afternoon session commenced at two o'clock, Mr. R. Roberts the president, in charge.

After the opening exercises reports were read from the schools, all of which were in a prosperous condition. A committee was appointed to nominate officers for the ensuing year.

Rev. Geo. Nickle delivered an address on "Home Department," and Rev. W. A. Gunton one on the "Bible and Lesson Helps, their Relation to each other," both of which proved to be very interesting. Mrs. J. M. Roberts read a paper on "Sabbath School Entertainments, helpful and otherwise." Mrs. J. W. Garvin, who is an enthusiastic Sabbath school worker, read a paper on "Primary Work." A number took part in the discussion following, which brought the meeting to a close.

At 7 o'clock a goodly number assembled in the church, the devotional exercises being conducted by Rev. G. Nickle. The nominating committee brought in their report, the following officers being elected:

Pres.—Mr. W. A. Evans.
Sec.-Treas.—Mr. P. Udy.
Executive Committee — The ministers, superintendents and secretaries of the Sabbath schools.

Rev. J. A. McCamus, followed with an address on "Reverence." Rev. E. J. Bridgman spoke on "Parental Example and Training — their necessary influence for good or evil."

Owing to illness Rev. J. P. Wilson of Peterborough, was unable to be present. Rev. C. A. Campbell delivered an address on Better Things." The question drawer brought out a number of questions, which were answered by Rev. E. J. Bridgeman and Rev. C. A. Campbell.

During the evening Miss Bickell and Miss McCamus sang solos in a very acceptable manner. The doxology and benediction closed the convention, which was a very successful one.

ARCHITECT'S FOOD.

Grape-Nuts Turned into Big Buildings.

The duties of an architect are so multitudinous, looking after the thousand and one details required in the construction of large buildings, that many of them suffer from the constant mental application, and require the best of food to keep up their work. The chief draughtsman in the office of R. T. Newberry, Architect, at 1237 New York Life Bldg., Chicago, by name, Henry C. Hengels, says:—

"After nine months constant application in the preparation of the necessary plans and details for the large hotel known as the Post Tavern and the Post Building, at Battle Creek, as well as several other large institutions, I found myself in a very debilitated and dyspeptic condition and unfit for work.

"Instead of medical treatment, I used Grape-Nuts food in place of the usual breakfast cereals. The first few days gave great encouragement, and after a week's use, quite an appreciable improvement manifested itself. Since then, daily use has entirely restored the digestive functions to their natural healthy conditions, and I have gained about one pound per week. I am now entirely well and strong again and am able to apply my self to work with more than usual vigor. I consider Grape-Nuts a most valuable food for all brain workers. The help this food has given me is incalculable."

FLYING THROUGH WATER

What it Means on the Atlantic Ocean Long Journeys are Shortened

At some time prior to 200 B.C., when Hero reports it, an ingenious ancient invented the first steam turbine. By the modern development of the same engine, His Majesty's ship Viper sped over the sea at the rate of forty-three miles an hour. If only the original inventor of the turbine could have been on board. By 1910, there seems little reason to doubt, the ordinary voyager will cross the ocean at a pace of forty miles an hour, perhaps even more.

It may be said that the feats of the Viper do not justify such bold assumptions as we indicate, and that Mr. Parsons' estimate of a special unarmored cruiser of 80,000 indicated horse-power, to travel at a rate of forty-four knots, or forty-five miles per hour, do not warrant the belief in a liner of a like speed. But the express speed of to-day is the normal pace of to-morrow, and in ten years' time the Parson's turbine will be developed as other types of engines have been.

AS TO WAR VESSELS.

It is not unnatural, especially at the moment, to give one's first thought to the application of these powers of speed to war vessels. A navy possessing the capacity for ranging the seas which the turbine engines confer would be immeasurably superior to its rivals. Mr. Parsons estimates that he can get double the horse power into the same space, and he saves one-third of the weight of the machinery. The most casual tripper who has wandered amazed through the intricacies of that marvel of close packing, a modern ship of war, can form an idea of what this economy means. To the naval designer it will come as a godsend of space, that he can fill with more machinery, which he has never before been able to find room for. The absence of vibration, and the straining of engines, too, will not only reduce the repair bill of the ship, a lengthy document, but will conduce to the more exact handling of the guns. These things one sees at once; what is not so apparent is the direct interest of everyone in the new development. For it means that the ends of the earth are brought nearer together, that whether we wish to travel ourselves, to transmit letters, or to send goods, the pace is quicker all round

THE FASTEST STEAMSHIP.

Every now and again we hear of a "best" trip of an Atlantic greyhound. These records are now near akin to those of cycling, for the margin of beating of the previous performance is but small. At the moment the Deutchland, of the Hamburg-American line, holds pride of place, and her speed is about 23 knots, or 26 1-2 miles per hour, but the saving over her nearest rivals, the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, the Lucania, or the Oceanic, is only at most half a day. It must be remembered, too, in this connection, that the saving is sometimes more apparent than real; for if it implies the landing of the passengers at the end of their journey at some inconvenient hour of the day or night, it is worth little. For this reason many experienced travellers prefer the fastest liners to the more strenuous traveling of the others. But if these liners, by means of the turbine engines, could add another two knots to their speed, the gain would be worth considering by all travellers; and if for twenty-three knots an hour thirty could be substituted, the advantage would be very real. For instance, the Deutchland takes six days from Southampton to New York at 23 knots; at 25 knots she would take about five days, and at 30 knots little more than four days. The question was put to a leading agent for American passengers whether it would pay to build a ship of the highest speed solely for this passage, charging special rates. "I believe it would," he replied; "the younger generation of travellers, especially Americans, want to move fast, and are willing to pay for it. One hundred and fifty pounds is freely paid by single passengers for the best accommodation on the Oceanic, and doubtless the other lines have similar charges. Such a flyer as you suggest would readily fill."

ON LONG JOURNEYS.

On the longer journeys the saving of time would be still more manifest. Three or four days gained en route to the Cape, five or six to Hong Kong, and a week or more to Melbourne, would make great changes in our travelling. And in addition to the increased speed, the ships would be more comfortable from the absence of vibration. The companies might reasonably look for enlarged returns, not only from the additional space at their disposal, from the economy in the engine room, but also from the fact that as they would no longer have the jar of machinery to consider, they would provide more cabins of an expensive class. For cargo boats the advantages are not so great. But the time is money in any business, and it is always useful to have a quicker transport of goods, or, in the alternative, to have the cargo carried at a cheaper rate, owing to the economy of fuel, and enlarged stowage capacity, made possible by the turbine engine.

To come nearer home, to the cross-Channel services, it may be said at once that those concerned in the management of these are watching the situation with interest. Mr. Wylie, continental manager of the London & Brighton line, at the recent first trip of their steamer, the Arundel, remarked that when next they had a new boat he hoped it would be on the turbine principle, and make the journey from Newhaven to Dieppo, sixty-four knots, in two hours. The cross-channel boat, which Mr. Parsons has designed, would enable this ideal to be realized. She would be 270 feet in length and accommodate 600 passengers, and, with 18,000 horse power, would have a speed of thirty knots. On the longer continental routes, from Dover to Ostend, from Queensborough to Flushing, Harwich to the Hook of Holland, Newhaven to Caen; on the stormy crossing to Ireland, and to the Channel islands, the speed element would be of advantage. But on the Dover to Calais, or Folkestone to Boulogne, where the transit only occupies an hour, the gain of a quarter of an hour at most could not be of material benefit. Yet here the comfort of the boat, the extra space and the economy of fuel, would have their value. It is these points also which would largely influence the companies in adopting the turbine system. For their time tables are based on their fastest boats, but must be suited to the slowest. They have to fit in with regular services of trains, and it is consequently no use running a very fast boat trip on one or two days a week and having to wait for the train after arrival. Besides which, the slower boats would be contemptuously regarded and neglected by the travelling public; so that unless the company was prepared to replace all its fleet by the faster vessels, it would be placed in an unpleasant position. This is, of course, the commercial aspect of the position, not uninfluenced by the fact that competition among the companies is not so keen as it once was. But the public point of view is, that it wants to travel quickly, and the company which is the first to adopt a development of so striking a character, will reap its reward. There is still a sufficient num- reward. There is still a sufficient number of persons who are not so much at home on the sea that a shortening of the period spent on it by even a little is not of some importance to them.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

A REMARKABLE WAR AGAINST SALOONS

One of the Most Exciting Agitations in the History of Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., Jan .30—One of the most exciting agitations that has ever taken place in a civilized community is now on in this State. The women, headed by Mrs. Carrie Nation, wife of a leading physician, has been wrecking saloons right and left. Yesterday she visited Governor Stanley and pointed out what she conceived to be his duty in plain language. She asked him to take a hatchet and assist her in demolishing the saloons, and when he declined on the grounds that he disapproved of the method, she said,—

"Then you are dishonest and a coward. You refuse to close the saloons by legal methods and you are too much of a coward to assist the women. You will have it said of you that the women of Kansas performed your duty for you because you were a coward."

The Governor told Mrs. Nation that she was forgetting that she was a woman, and that he would have her ejected from the office unless she used better language. Mrs. Nation then asked the Governor to change places with her for a week. She assured him that there would be no saloons in the State when he again took office. The Governor declined. Mrs. Nation then said:

"I suppose you see this black eye. I told one of my friends that you gave me that."

GOVERNOR CALLS HER A LIAR.

"You told a lie," shouted the Governor, flushing angrily.

"But you did give it to me," persisted Mrs. Nation. "because if you had done your duty and closed the saloons I would not have it. However, I forgive you, and you need not lose your temper because some whiskey seller hit me in the eye."

When Mrs. Nation entered Governor Stanley's office she was followed by a crowd of newspaper reporters and others. By turns she administered to Governor Stanley a tongue-lashing for his failure to uphold the laws against liquor selling or begged him for aid to carry on her crusade. She put her questions with fierceness and answered them herself without giving the Governor time to utter a complete sentence in his own defense.

Mrs. Nation accused Governor Stanley of branding her a lawbreaker, and demanded to know if he had a better method than she of ridding the State of saloons.

"Do you think my method is right?" she asked.

"No, I don't," replied the Governor.

"Well, Governor, have you a better one?"

As the Governor turned in his chair to make answer everyone listened intently.

"No, I don't think I have," he finally replied.

Continuing, he managed to edge in a few words more:

"What can I do? I am powerless. The law does not allow me to do what I desire. The law gives me no privileges. What can I do?

"If necessary, call out the militia," was Mrs. Nation's prompt reply.

"LAWBREAKER AND PERJURER."

Then this crusader began a phillipic that caused Governor Stanley's anger to rise, and the crowd grouped about his desk to look on in wonder.

"You can close every joint in Kansas if you will, Governor Stanley," she said with force. "You can do it if you want to, but you won't. But you are a lawbreaker yourself if you don't. You took your oath of office to keep the constitution. You refuse my request, you are not only a lawbreaker but a perjurer."

As Mrs. Nation proceeded she became more vehement, and her voice quivered. She rose from her chair and looked full in the face of Governor Stanley, and pointing her finger at him called him "Lawbreaker," and "Perjurer," without the least show of fear. She repeated these words of accusation again and again. He tried to make reply, but she gave him no chance, the words of invective pouring from her with a rush that would not be stemmed.

Finally, his temper gone, Governor Stanley arose from his seat, and shouted back:

"You cannot come here and talk this way to me. You cannot talk to me this way, I say. You are a woman, but I won't stand it. You will have to leave if you cannot."

"I am a mother. I am a grandmother, and I represent the mothers of the state."

ADOPTS A PLEADING TONE.

"You don't. You don't represent them." almost shouted the Governor.

The words flew back and forth with such fierceness that it was impossible to distinguish them. The room was in an uproar. Then Mrs. Nation talked more calmly, pleading with the Governor to aid her.

"You come with me and help smash saloons," she urged. And then she added:

"If you won't help us—if you won't help me, I'll go around and I'll smash, smash, smash, Governor. The devil seems to have a cinch on the men, but he hasn't a cinch on the hatchets and rocks.

Finally, Governor Stanley said:

"You get the prosecuting attorneys of the different counties to put the joint keepers in jail, and I'll use my powers as Governor to keep them in. I'll see that they are not pardoned out."

This promise instantly transformed Mrs. Nation. She fairly beamed with joy, and, thanking the Governor, started for the office of Attorney General Goddard. The Attorney-General was engaged, but she forced her way into his private office and introduced her subject with these words

"We want you to close these joints, these murder shops."

She demanded that he remove those officials who neglected their duty in allowing the saloons to run, and when he evaded her direct questions and referred her to the County Attorney, Mrs. Nation said:

"Mr. Attorney-General, you are not dodging, are you? Now, don't dodge."

LOST WRAPS AND VEIL.

With a parting injunction to do what he had sworn to on taking his oath, Mrs. Nation, followed by an army of people, with a bodyguard of newspaper men, started for the County Attorney's office.

"The Governor and Attorney General are dodging, she said, "but there's no dodging my hatchet."

She had lost her wraps and her veil during her raid on the state house, but she wasted no time looking for them.

To County Attorney Nichols she repeated her demands, and finally said she wished to swear out a warrant for the saloon-keeper's wife who had attacked her Saturday night. With a few words of warning, Mrs. Nation and her train were again on their way, this time headed for the office of Sheriff Cook.

The sheriff soon was in a rage, and at last, boiling over with anger under her scorching attack, he broke away, and rushing towards a newspaper man in the crowd, who had pointed at him, seized the offender's collar and made a motion to strike him. Others interfered, and Cook, returning to Mrs. Nation's side, asked her to his private office to continue the argument alone.

The Chief of Police was picked out for the next onslaught, but his office was found locked, and Mrs. Nation addressed a crowd that had gathered in the street near the city hall.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS NEARING COMPLETION

But will be Subject to Change of the Weather

London, Jan. 31.

The Earl Marshal "Duke of Norfolk" gave out the following programme this evening, subject to a change of weather, which may necessitate some of the visiting royalties using carriages instead of riding as indicated. On Saturday, Feb 2, a guard of honor will be mounted at the London stations, Victoria and Paddington and at Buckingham Palace at nine o'clock precisely. The Royal coffin will be removed from Portsmouth to London, arriving at Victoria at 11 o'clock. On its arrival in London the Royal coffin will be removed from the carriage by an officer and twelve men of the Grenadier Guards, placed on a gun carriage and the crown and cushion will be laid thereon.

The procession will then move in the following order, military corps with bands, the Earl Marshal. CHEAPER CABLES IN NEAR FUTURE

Remarkable Invent on of an Expert Berlin Electrician.

Berlin, Jan. 31.—Professor A. Slaby of the Berlin Technische Hochschule in the course of a remarkable interview on "the coming electric revolution," asserts that his recent invention, multiplex Wireless telegraphy, will produce a great transformation in existing methods. It will be possible, he declares, to apply the principle to submarine cables in such a way as to send hundreds, and even thousands, of messages simultaneously on the same wire, thus enormously cheapening rates.

Professor Slaby declares that the problem of direct production of electricity from coal will be solved. Germany will be, he predicts, the foremost nation of the twentieth century in technical production, and electricity will be the poor man's source of power and light.

Hand Valued at $3,000

Toronto, Jan. 31.—The jury in the Civil Assizes this morning assessed the exact value of a human hand at $3,000. This was the sum awarded to Ethel Fahey for the loss of the member in one of the presses of the Dominion Paper Box Company. The girl is under eighteen years of age, and worked for the company for two dollars a week. While in their employ she had her hand crushed, and her attorney claimed it was against the factory laws to allow her to work at such a machine at her age for that salary.

Through her solicitor, G. Waldron, the girl sued for $5,000 damages, and her father for $2,000 for medical attendance and the loss of the girl's services. The girl was awarded $3,000 and the father $100.

AN ANNUAL EVENT.

The Big Social in Connection with the Smith Dairy.

Interesting and Instructive Addresses by Mr. D. Derbyshire and James Whitton—The 4th Liners Know How to Give a Social.

The Fourth Liners of Smith know how to make anything they take hold of go. The annual social, under the auspices of The annual social, under the auspices of the Smith Dairy Company, is an event that everybody in the township looks forward to with a great deal of pleasure. This event took place on Tuesday night in the Temperance Hall, on the 4th Line, and was a supreme success.

The supper was all that could be desired. It was served with difficulty, on account of the crowd, but was enjoyed by all. It was ten o'clock when the next order of business was reached. Mr. R. Kennedy, of Lindsay, by special request, occupied the chair, and filled the bill to perfection. He opened the proceedings in a few witty remarks, and was followed by a duet, entitled, "Kiss Her Every Day," by Messrs. T. H. Graham and Alex. McGregor, which called for an encore. This was followed by a recitation by Mr. Joe Halpany, Peterborough, which brought down the house.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The chairman then read the following encouraging statement of the Central Smith Dairy Company for the year 1900:—

THE ADDRESSES, ETC.

Mr. Whitton followed with a splendid speech, and gave some interesting and useful information regarding the dairying industry. He thought the butter industry was being overlooked, and made a strong appeal to the farmers and dairymen to shorten their cheese season and to lengthen their butter season. He said that Peterborough was the banner district for butter and cheese of Eastern Ontario. He closed by asking the farmers to go more into winter dairying.

Mr. Ernie Hodgson rendered "Blue Bells of Scotland," on the violin, which was encored.

This was followed by a song, rendered in fine style, by Mr. Jas. Coote.

Mr. Derbyshire, president of the Eastern Dairymen's Association, was then called on and delivered a splendid address. After attending to the extreme pleasure of being present, he proceeded to deal briefly with the industry which had made the name of Canada famous throughout the whole world. Notwithstanding the very large percentage of the cheese trade which we have, it remains for us, he said, to press forward and gain even a greater percentage of that trade. In referring to the manner in which this could be accomplished, Mr. Derbyshire spoke of the necessity of the cleanliness of the cans, the pureness of the milk, the equipment of the factory and further, the necessity of an educated man in charge. He was satisfied from what he had seen to-night that the people of this section of Smith are going to step to the front. United action must be taken, for we cannot afford to have bad cheese, nor can we afford to have bad butter. The speaker made an excellent speech in which he clearly showed the great advantage of going into winter dairying.

Mr. Joe Halpany sang "I'll Make that Black Girl Mine," after which a dialogue was put on entitled "Bridget's Investment." Those taking part were Miss Darling, Miss Courtney, Mr. Jas. Young, Mr. Paterson and Master Darling. Bridget, poor Bridget, thought she was going to get an organ with ten pounds of tea, but discovered that she was swindled by a villainous agent. The various parts were well performed.

Mr. Hodgson rendered a number of Scottish airs on the obo, an infringement on the good old bagpipes, that captivated the hearts of all.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Derbyshire and Mr. Whitton for having attended and taken part in the proceedings. The chairman and Mr. Hodgson were remembered by votes of thanks, which were all gracefully acknowledged.

The affair broke up after midnight, after singing "God Save the King." Altogether the social of 1901 was most successful and if it is any indication of the condition of the company that institution must be flourishing indeed.

The officers of the company for the year are:—

President—R. J. Edmison.
Secretary—Geo. Gillespie.
Directors—Messrs. C. D. Moore, T. D. Young, R. Scott and A. McGreggor.

THE QUEEN'S WEDDING CAKE.

A Piece of Queen Victoria's Wedding Cake in Town.

Mr. John Greer, barrister, writes to the Toronto World as follows:—I noticed in yesterday's World that Mrs. S. M. Saunders of New York has an interesting relic of the reign of Queen Victoria, consisting of a piece of the Queen's wedding cake. If it is considered such a rare relic, it might be interesting to your readers to know that a friend of mine, who resides in this town, has also a piece of the same wedding cake, which I have seen on different occasions. It was given to the Rev. Mr. Reynolds, who was on intimate terms with the officiating clergyman at the Queen's wedding. It subsequently became divided amongst the members of a large family, and again sub-divided amongst their descendants, until now, and with the ravages of time, the piece in question is but a small crumb.

INDIANS OF CANADA INCREASE IN NUMBERS

They Now Number 99,0s01, Which is 29 More than Last Year

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—While the redman of the United States is gradually being exterminated by process of "civilization" his brother in Canada is actually increasing in numbers, which is a tribute to the justice and fairness of British rule. According to the official report regarding the Indian population of Canada for the year ending June 30th last, shows a net increase of 29 in spite of the fact that the births number 2,333 and the deaths 2,557, a difference of 224. The increase is probably accounted for by immigration from the States into a screner clime.

British Columbia headed the list of provinces with 779 births and 921 deaths. The Northwest Territories report 507 births and 587 deaths. In Ontario there were 456 births and 513 deaths. Quebec, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick show a gain of 27, 12 and 23 respectively. In Manitoba the births and deaths both numbered 234. The Indian population in the different provinces last year, as compared with the previous twelve months, was as follows:

Ontario	20,753	20,703
Quebec	10,690	10,785
Nova Scotia	1,667	2,018
New Brunswick	1,667	1,639
Prince Edward Island ...	315	308
British Columbia	24,696	24,523
Manitoba	6,815	6,754
Northwest Territories ...	16,933	17,714
Outside treaty	15,099	14,566
Total	98,981	99,010

The total decrease was 852 and the total increase 881, giving a net increase in population of 29. The increases of population were: Northwest Territories, 721; Nova Scotia, 65; Quebec, 96; New Brunswick, 28; Prince Edward Island, 7; British Columbia, 173; Manitoba, 61. The decrease in population outside the treaty district was 533. There was an increase, however, of 223 in the number of Indians in the Fort Resolution district.

VICE IS FLAGRANT.

The mortality was chiefly among young children, and is attributed to the carelessness of parents.

Mr. Smart's report also touches on the question of morality among the Indians. He says that vice exists in flagvrant forms among those who have not been reached by missionary effort. As a consequence of their tribal customs there is a common hereditary tendency among them to laxity with respect to the marriage bond and the relationship between the sexes, and this laxity becomes more pronounced according to conditions herin above described, and a state of gross vice is reached. On the other hand, there are communities in which an excellent tone prevails, and it is no uncommon thing to find the Indians themselves requesting the intervention of the department in cases in in which individual members may be guilty of conspicuous immorality.

The amount at the credit of the Indian trust fund on June 30 last was $3,893,622 as compared with $3,785,616 at the end of the preceding year. The receipts during the year, including interest and legislative grants, amounted in the aggregate to $379,697.36, and disbursements to $271,691.06. The balance at the credit of the "Indians savings" account has increased from $14,656.48 to $16,408.55 during the year. The expenditure from consolidated fund was $1,993,429.01.

INDIAN AGRICULTURE.

The Indians of the Northwest are paying attention to stock raising, they now own some 16,000 head. The total Indians' earnings for the year amounted to $3,212,040, an increase of $403,356 over the previous year. With respect to wages, the Indians of Ontario earned $69,238.98; Quebec, 20,259.75; B. Columbia, $19,518. In the last mentioned province the increase of miscellaneous earnings amounted to $147,855.

A WREATH FROM PRESIDENT McKINLEY

THE WREATH IS EIGHT FEET IN DIAMETER.

And of solid White Camellias, Arums, Lilies of the Valley, Tulips and Roses, with a Cluster of Mauve Orchids in the Centre.

London, Jan. 31.—The United States Embassy will send to Windsor Castle three magnificent floral pieces—wreaths from President McKinley and Mrs. Garfield, and a cross from United States Ambassador Choate. The President's wreath is eight feet in diameter, and of solid white camellias, arums, lilies of the valley, tulips and roses, with a cluster of mauve orchids in the centre. Mr. Choate's cross is of the same flowers. Mrs. Garfield's wreath is composed of arum, Neapolitan violets and greenery.

KING OVERWHELMED.

Members of King Edward's suite tell their friends that his Majesty appears overwhelmed by the sense of the responsibilities of Kingship. Whereas formerly he was genial, but exacting and irritable regard ng official matters, he has become profoundly grave, and exceedingly considerate to those about him in small as well as in important matters. He has worked many hours daily since the Queen's death, disposing of two or three week's arrears of public business, which she had not been able to attend to.

A BRILLIANT COURT.

Society expects that King Edward will make St James' the most brilliant court of Europe; hold night drawing-rooms, instead of the somewhat dreary afternoon functions of the past quarter of a century, and provide refreshments instead of leaving the guests to eat sandwiches in their carriages under the eyes of the crowd. Those who have been presented to Queen Victoria will be entitled to attend King Edward's drawing-rooms after submitting their names to the Lord Chamberlain.

TO REVIVE OLD CUSTOMS.

It is hoped that the King will revive the custom of monarch visiting the castles of the nobility, and also revive the holding of drawing-rooms at Holyrood Palace. Whether he will adopt the prerogative of kissing the cheeks of the ladies presented, followed by the Viceroys of India, and Ireland, is one of the topics of society gossip.

THIRTY-THREE THOUSAND MEN.

For the funeral 33,000 soldiers will be under arms. Three thousand men will march in the procession, and the remainder will line the route. The detachments of troops in the procession will represent every branch of the army, the navy, the Colonials, the Yeomanry and the Volunteers. The military display, however, will not be spectacular. All the men will wear overcoats, except the Irish Footguards on duty at Buckingham Palace. Twenty thousand soldiers are pouring into London from the country. School buildins will be utilized as barracks.

An army of workmen to-day was preparing Victoria Station for the arrival of the funeral cortege. The placards had been torn down, the wood and iron work required, and the stores in the vicinity displayed the Royal monogram on a black and purple background. All the possible details of the ceremony were rehearsed.

ANOTHER PRINCE FOR ENGLAND.

London, Jan. 31.—It seems as if there were to be another addition to the horde of foreign princelets who have fixed themselves upon the British nation. The accession of the daughter of the King of Denmark to the position of Queen of England will affect the future of Prince Charles of Denmark, who like his wife prefer sto reside in England. Prince Charles has long desired to enter the British navy. His grandfather, the King of Denmark, has consented, but his father, the Crown Prince, has objected. It in now understood, however, that the latter has approved this step.

MORE ROYALTIES FROM ABROAD.

London, Jan. 31.—A special train this morning brought to the Charing Cross station a number of members of Royal families upon the continent here for the purpose of attending the funeral of Queen Victoria. Among those who arrived were the Crown Prince of Sweden, Prince John George of Saxony, the Prince of Saxe Altenburg, Prince Waldeck-Pyrmont, and the Prince and Princess of Schaunburg Lippe, and their respective suites. They were conducted in Royal carriages to Buckingham palace and the various hotels. His Majesty King Edward VII. was represented at the station by one of his grooms-in-waiting.

PNEUMONIC SYMPTOMS.

New York, Jan. 31.—Rumors were current late last night in London, says a Herald despatch, that the Duke of Cornwall's measles are accompanied by pneumonic symptoms. The Duchess has arranged to return to her husband's bedside as soon as she can hurry back from the funeral. All official reports unite in minimizing the attack.

DISSENT IN VIENNA REICHSRATH.

Vienna, Jan. 31.—The newly elected Reichsrath met this morning, Dr. Wetgel, President of the Lower House, referred to the death of Queen Victoria in eulogistic terms, and asked the Deputies to mark their sympathy for Great Britain by rising to authorize the President to convey an expression of their sincere condolence to the House of Commons. The personal evoked an expression of dissent in some quarters.

PRINCE HENRY OF PRUSSIA.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 31.—Prince Henry of Prussia and his staff landed here at noon to-day. After an inspection of the guard of honor, the Prince proceeded to Osborne House.

The squadron of German warships, commanded by Prince Henry of Prussia, comprising the flagship Baden and the cruisers Victoria Louise. Hagen and Nymphe, reached Spithead this morning.

THE COFFIN SEALED UP.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 31.—The Isle of Wight is filling fast with visitors. Steamboats arrive in quick succession and excursions around the island and through the fleet are largely patronized. The coffin of Queen Victoria was soldered firmly this morning and enclosed in the outside casket.

Queen Alexandra pays frequent visits to the sick rook of her son, the Duke of Cornwall and York. Although the Duke undoubtedly has had a severe attack of German measles and considerable fever at night, it is expected he will be convalescent in a week.

AMONG THE QUEEN'S LAST ENQUIRIES

One of them was After Lord Kitchener and His Army--Residents Talked too Much.

Cape Town, Jan. 31.—The Boer attack on the Boksburg mines resulted in damage amounting to £300,000. The commissioner at Kroonstad reports that Andries Wessels, one of the peace envoys, was shot at Klipfontein, Jan. 28, by orders of Gen. De Wet.

Lord Kitchener reported from Pretoria January 15, that three agents of the Boer peace committee had been taken as prisoners to Gen. De Wet's laager near Lindley, and one, a British subject, had been flogged and then shot, The other two, burghers, were flogged by Gen. De Wet's orders. Gen. De Wet's action excited great indignation in Great Britain. One or two of the newspapers expressed the hope that Gen. Kitchener had been misled by false Kaffir reports. The London Daily Mail headed the report with the word "Murder," and declaimed against further attempt to coax the enemy into submission.

QUEEN'S LAST ENQUIRIES.

Cape Town, Jan. 30.—King Edward has cabled Lord Kitchener as follows. "One of the Queen's last enquiries was after yourself and the gallant army under your command."

RAND MINES DAMAGED.

Govenor Milner yesterday inspected the Rand Mine Guards, 1,000 strong, Five hundred of them subsequently went by train to Stellenbosch to undergo training.

Meanwhile their presence at the front is badly needed, for word now comes that the Boers have damaged the electric light plants to the amount of $300,000.

TALKED TOO MUCH.

Some of the residents of Murraysburg have been fined £100, with the alternative of six months' imprisonment, for using seditious and threatening language. The sentences were imposed by a military court. The commandant has warned the public regarding their future conduct.

LORD OF THE TRANSVAAL.

London, Jan. 30.—Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, formerly British Minister at Madald, writes to the press saying it would b edifficult to exaggreate the important of the proclamation of King Edward as "Supreme Lord of and over the Transvaal." It was a wise and beneficent step that was more likely than any other to lead to pacification, because it recognizes the entente morals of the Transvaal, keeping it as a separate constitute of the empire, and placing its laws, customs, traditions and religion under the supreme serarate rule and protection of the King. The pro-Boer papers have already commented upon the title approvingly, because it leaves the way open for a settlement enabling the Boers to enjoy autonomy as a vassal State. A despatch to The Daily News from Paris says that the title is regarded there as showing a wish to compromise with the Republics on the basis of Home Rule, as in the German Empire.

INTERESTING JOURNEY OF A PAIR OF SOCKS

Sent From Vancouver for the Canadian Contingent.

Vancouver, Jan. 30.—Mr. James M. Shand of Vancouver was one of many who last year donated socks for the men in South Africa. Being of a romantic nature, Mr. Shand placed in the toe of one of the feet coverers this note:

"Good luck to the man who wears these socks. Would like to hear from you."

Time went on and the men came back from South Africa and not a word was heard about those socks, and Mr. Shand forgot the incident. He was much surprised last week to get a letter from Wales which reads as follows.

"5 Blanche St., Broadway,
Cardiff, S. Wales,
January 6, 1901.

"Dear Sir,—I have served through the South African campaign with 'G' battery, Royal Horse Artillery, but owing to being ordered to India I was sent to join 'A' Battery, R.H.A., which battery was ordered to proceed to England in November last.

"We arrived in England on November 29, on board the Hawarden Castle, the troops on board being the Royal Canadian Rifles, Life Guards and 'A' battery, R.H.A. Whilst on board, being in very intimate with the Canadians, a couple of them were good enough to give me a few pairs of socks as I was in need of them.

"Since I have been at home I was putting a pair on one morning, when I found a card on the toe of one which you no doubt you will remember putting in and when I read what is written on the back I thought, 'Well, I will certainly write to you and thank you for your kindness in sending out those things for the troops, as it is just what was needed badly. When I had those things give me I had only one pair to my name. I have enclosed the card, which no doubt you will remember."

"From your affectionate friend,
"ARTHUR H. HYLANDS."

"James R. Shand, Esq.,
"Vancourver, B.C."

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

The Foresters' Tribute to the Memory of our Late Beloved Queen.

A union installation of officers of Court Chemong No. 530 and companion Court Queen, No. 276, took place last night. The installation ceremonies were performed by Bro. Hetherington, C.D., assisted by Bro. Higgins. After the installation, the following resolution, moved by Bro. Dr. Greer and seconded by Bro. G. W. Powell was unanimously adopted:

That we the members of Court Chemong and companion Court Queen, Independent Order of Foresters assembled for the purpose of installing our respective officers, are desirous of expressing our deep sense of grief on account of the death of our beloved Queen.

No ruler—no woman ever received greater homage or such universal respect, or was more beloved than Her Most Gracious Majesty. We believe that of her subjects, none were more loyal to her than the members of the Independent Order of Foresters, and while we deeply lament her removal, we are in great measure consoled by the knowledge that her place will be filled by a worthy successor in the person of her beloved son, King Edward VII, to whom we are pleased to pledge our most faithful allegiance.

May he long be spared to rule over a united Empire with the same degree of wisdom which characterized the reign of the late Queen.

After the reading of the above resolution a programme consisting of the following was rendered:

Song.........	Mrs. N. W. Mabee
Flute Solo.........	Mr. Dundas
Graphophone performance....	Mr. Douglas
Recitation.........	Miss Alberta White
Song.........	The Misses Melrose
Recitation.........	Miss Allison
Song.........	Mrs. W. D. Motheral

At the conclusion of the programme a sumptuous tea was served, after which the evening was brought to a close by singing "God Save the King."

THE BLIND CHAPLAIN'S PRAYER

It will have been noticed that the London dailies, almost without exception, remarked upon the prayer of Milburn, the blind preacher, chaplain of the United States Senate, at the opening session of that chamber on Monday last. He prayed: "With a multitude which no man can number we come with tremenduous anxiety and the profoundest awe to the bedside of the great, good Queen who lies on the border of two worlds. Living for more than three-score years in the 'fierce light which beats upon a throne' by her conduct and character she has won not only the loyalty of her own people but the veneration and homage of all true-hearted men and women around the world. And now, as it seems that she is to depart from the earth, crowned with the blessings and love of countless myriads of the human family, let Thy heavenly grace cheer and sustain her in this supreme hour. Likewise minister Thy tenderness and sympathy to all the members of her bereaved family, and to the people of her realm who feel as if their mother was departing from them. We confide her, her children, and her people to Thy almighty care and providence, through Jesus Christ our Saviour."

In an interview given prior to the Queen's death, Lord Charles Beresford is reported to have said: "The world's almost impulsive affection for Victoria is wonderful and most touching. Our own people have been growing to love the Queen more and more from day to day for many years. She has amazingly strengthened and blessed the empire, and her personal virtue, wisdom and charms have lifted the British crown far above the breakers of popular suspicion."

MINING INVESTMENTS

Exceptional Opportunity for Moderate Investments in a Free-Milling Gold Property.

During the past few years great progress has been made in the method and manner of developing mineral resources and conducting the business of mining. The industry has been placed on a legitimate basis and blind luck plays no part in mining any more, and today the business offers a more inviting field for the effort of practical men and conservative business men than any other department of industrial life. Unlike other enterprises the mining interests cannot be affected by competition or overstocked markets. In ftact there is no other business in the world that pays the amount of dividens that mining does, where there is the assurance of a rich and permanent true fissure vein. Mining is the safest business of the day; over seven times the actual value is produced by each man actually engaged in mining than is produced by each man engaged in any other vocation in life.

The secret of success in mining investments is to buy stock when development capital is required, as shares are then placed on the market at a low figure, provided however that the property is developed far enough so that it is known to be a true fissure vein carrying values.

One of the most promising opportunities of this kind which has come to our attention is the Ozark Gold Mining and Milling Company, of Moscow, Idaho. Their property is situated in the Florence Mining District, in Florence, Idaho, and lies at the head of the famous Baboon Gulch that has given up more free gold from its placer than any camp of its size in the world. History tells us that $62,000,000.00 came out of Florence in 1612 by Wells Fargo's Express.

This property is developed and has been worked and has yielded good results for the work done. The ore mills an average of from $14.00 to $16.00 per ton. The development work on the property so far consists of a thousand feet of tunneling and a working shaft of one hundred and ten feet; a five stamp mill, with all the necessary machinery, blacksmith shop, boarding house, fully equipped to run.

A hundred thousand shares of the treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable, are now offered at 25c. per share, par value $1.00, to equip the property with a hoisting plant and add to the development by sinking one hundred feet deeper on the ledge, and adding five more stamps to the mill, which will double its capacity. With these improvements the mine will pay dividends for years to come. The Company is incorporated under the laws of the State of Idaho, with a capital of one million shares. Its affairs are in the hands of men capable and reliable and will be handled as economically and as honestly as any business of any kind or character in the country.

The property has been examined and reported upon by prominent and reliable mining engineers and most favorably reported upon. These reports and other information will be sent by the company to such of our readers as may seek a safe and profitable investing opportunity.

This is What They Say

Those who take Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, eczema, eruptions, catarrh, rheumatism or dyspepsia, say it cures promptly and permanently, even after all other preparations fail. You may take this medicine with the utmost confidence that it will do you good. What it has done for others you have every reason to believe it will do for you.

Constipation is cured by Hood's Pills.

Temperance

Women hold up Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and "Favorite Prescription" as examples of what all medicines should be in absolute freedom from alcohol and narcotics. They are strictly temperance medicines. They contain no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic. False formulas of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and "Favorite Perscription" having been published by ignorant or unscrupulous persons, Dr. R. V. Pierce as president of the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., the manufacturers of his remedies, offers one thousand dollars for any bottle of these medicines which on analysis shall show the presence either of alcohol or of opium, cocaine, or any other narcotic.

Suits against the originators and publishers of these false formulas have been instituted, and in order to effectually stop the publication of these malicious falsehoods, Dr. Pierce asks that his friends will send him copies of any circular, pamphlet, or other advertisement, in which the statement is made that "Golden Medical Discovery" or "Favorite Prescription" contains alcohol, or opium or other narcotics. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

GOLDWIN SMITH ON KING EDWARD VII

He Will Ascend a Safe and Comfortable Thr

Goldwin Smith writes of Edward VII. in The Weekly Sun as follows:

Edward VII. has opened his reign with an address remarkable for good feeling and good taste. He sees more clearly than some indiscriminate panegyrists where his mother's real merit as a constitutional monarch lay. He has done well in preferring the English name Edward to the German Albert. The name of Edward the Confessor, saintly King of the Saxon line, was cherished by the conquered Saxon as the symbol of lost liberties and the watchword of effort for the renewal. Revived in the person of Edward I. it was a passport to the affection of the people. Of all English Kings the first Edward was perhaps be deemed the greatest; England, and not England only, but all nations under Parliamentary Government, are reaping the benefit of his large-minded policy at the present hour. His life, however, was arduous, stormy, full of strife; noble on his part, but still strife. Of the five other Edwards the history is chequered, with a predominance of the darker hue. Edward II, through his weakness, fell, and was hideously murdered. Edward III. was a brilliant soldier, but his victories, though glorious, were barren, or worse, and his reign closed in disaster and disgrace. Edward IV., a tiger in ferocity as well as in beauty, waded to the throne through the torrent of blood shed in the wars of the Roses. His son was murdered. The precocious promise of Edward VI was cut short by an early death, which probably snatched him from a troubled reign.

Edward VII. ascends, amid general applause, a safe and comfortable throne His duties will be gracefully to hand the reins of Government to the responsible charioteer; to impersonate the nation; to preside over its ceremonial; to authenticate legislation and appointments; to receive loyal addresses; to lay foundation stones. The engaging manner—his gift from his boyhood—and the social tact which have made him universally popular as Prince, and carried him unharmed through some critical passages in his life, will not fail him as King. He has at his side a Consort whose beauty, grace, and amiability at once won and have always retained the love of the nation. Everything promises him a prosperous and pleasant reign.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANAdians at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures, size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. A WONDERFUL

KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, GRAVEL, DROPSY,

And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. J. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary troubles which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right, I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been benefited by its use. I am 58 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.

Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

Rev. W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Mrs. Wm. H. Hardy, East Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured her after six doctors failed. Rev. J. W. [illegible], [illegible] Co., Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble, of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book, entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state.

Not only does this great discovery—Alkavis (the Kava-Kava Compound)—cure all forms of kidney and bladder diseases, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 102 Fourth Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

STORIES OF CONGRESSMEN.

When Morgan Wasn't Arrested. Stark and the Menagerie.

It is not generally known, perhaps, that Senator Morgan of Alabama was once threatened with arrest for alleged complicity in the assassination of Lincoln. Of course, Senator Morgan was not only innocent but actually did not hear of Lincoln's death until a week after it had occurred. He was then a farmer in Dallas county, his practice of the law having been prohibited by the Federal authorities, and he was ploughing corn when he heard that an order had been received by Gen. McArthur, at Selma, to arrest him and sent him to Washington for complicity in the Lincoln assassination. Senator Morgan went into his house, attired himself in his Confederate General's uniform, with starred epaulettes, belt, sword, and other accoutrements complete. Then he saddled his plough horse and rode to Selma, where he presented himself to Gen. McArthur.

"Good morning, General," he said.

"Good morning, General," replied McArthur, recognizing Morgan's rank. "For what am I indebted for this visit?"

"I have come to be sent to Washington," remarked Morgan. "I understand you have an order to send me there."

Gen. McArthur expressed surprise to learn that the existence of the order was known, and smiled when Gen. Morgan told him that ex-Confederates had not lost their habit of acquiring information. Then he remarked that the order would not be obeyed—or, at least, not until there had been a reasonable delay. This did not suit Morgan, who wanted to go to Washington to present some claims for destroyed cotton and was quite willing to travel at Government expense.

"I want to make one request of you," said Morgan. "When I went into the war I had $15,000 in gold in a bank in Selma. When I came back from the war I found that my gold had given place to $15,000 in Confederate money. With that $15,000 I bought half a box of tobacco. With some of the tobacco I secured coffee and sugar and shoes for my family, and the rest of it went for seventeen shoats. I kept those shoats until they were fat enough to kill, and now I have more meat than any other man in Dallas county. When I go to Washington, General, I want you to put a guard around my smokehouse."

"General," replied McArthur, laughingly, "you had better go home and guard the smokehouse yourself, and by the way," he added, "the restriction against your practice of the law will be removed."

Senator Morgan went back to his family and his plough, and he has never heard anything of the order from that day to this.

When a Congressman campaigns through his district he is sure to have some funny experiences. Sometimes he talks from the top of a sugar barrel, sometimes he utilizes a buggy as a platform, and sometimes, as did Representative Stark of Nebraska, he delivers an oration to the accompaniment of the noise of wild beasts.

It happened in the town of Fairbury, Neb. Col. Stark had been billed to speak in that prairie metropolis but the opera house was engaged by a traveling theatrical company, and the Republicans had leased the only other available hall. On the outskirts of the town a circus was wintering, and it possessed, among other things, a training barn. The Populists hired the barn, filled it with circus seats, secured some gasolene lamps and started their meeting. The chairman mounted an elephant tub and solemnly announced that they had gathered to dedicate a new temple of liberty and justice. Then Congressman Stark arose.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said he.

"Roar-r-r-r," went the lion.

"In this eventful campaign," continued Col. Stark, whereupon the hyena howled.

"I come to speak to you—"

The elephant trumpeted with majestic noise.

"In advocacy of the great principles represented by—"

The camel gave a huge snort, and a man behind the scenes hit the beast a whack that sounded like a frame house falling down.

"—our great and glorious leader, the peerless statesman and matchless orator, William J. Bryan—"

At that moment all the animals in the barn joined in a tremendous chorus. The lions roared, the elephants trumpeted, the hyenas howled, the camels snorted. A shiver of fear ran through the audience. "—at the mention of whose name," remarked Congressman Stark, after the noise had subsided, "even the wild beasts lift their voices in a tumult of appreciative joy!"

Anybody who heard Senator Allen of Nebrask deliver his famous fifteen-hour speech against the bill for the repeal of the Sherman silver bill would hardly believe that anything could stump him. Yet there is an experience in the Senator's life which shows that after all, he is like unto other mortals.

"I was campaigning in my State once," said the Senator, "when I had occasion to speak at a fair grounds. The grand stand was full, and the occasion seemed to be full of promise for an orator overflowing, as I was, with political gospel. Just as I had commenced, a man brought out an ostrich hitched to a sulky. I don't know whether you ever saw the trotting ostrich in the East, but out West he was a great attraction. Well, as soon as that bird began to run around the track, I wasn't in it. The ostrich monopolized the attention of every man, woman and child. When the bird stopped the people listened to me, but when he threw out his long legs again there was a roar of laughter and applause which drowned every word I uttered. Finally I gave it up. I let the trotting ostrich have everything his own way."

Teaching Boys to Chew Tobacco

Chicago, Jan. 30.—The sudden violent illness of several boy pupils of the Jenner school and the subsequent discovery that they were victims of narcotic poison has brought to light a combination of gum and tobacco calculated to lure children into the tobacco habit. The stuff is put in parcels like gum, labelled "Gumbacco," and is advertised as a "combination of the finest tobacco and chewing gum."

The confection makes a double appeal to the boy nature, being sweet to the taste at first, like gum, and by reason of boyhood's perverse misconception of the "manliness" of chewing tobacco. Lester Bodine, superintendent of compulsory education, who brought the matter to the attention of the press, is of the opinion that a tobacco manufacturer has deliberately set out not merely to market a product of itself profitable, but also to debauch the health of the young in the interest of future profits on tobacco.

Married in Toronto

A wedding of local interest was celebrated at St. Luke's Church, Toronto, on Wednesday, when Maude McLaughlin, only daughter of the late Jas. C. Nosworthy, Esq., of Bowmanville, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles J. Rodgers, organist of St. John's Church, Peterborough. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Dr. Langtry, pastor of the church.

Mr. Osler President.

The accession of Mr. E. B. Osler, M.P. to the presidency of the Dominion Bank, rendered vacant through the death of Sir Frank Smith is announced. Mr. Osler has long filled the position of vice-president, and is therefore familiar with the duties devolving on the chief of the Board of Directors. His many friends throughout eastern Ontario will be pleased to hear of his promotion.

Let's Talk it over.

Fair Canadians:

Your brothers and lovers are returning covered with glory. The whole empire attests the credit of their achievements. In Africa they met their cousins—the British tea planters—also fighting for the cause.

Dear Cousins: You can aid the comrades of your soldier brothers. Try Ceylon and India GREEN TEAS, if you now drink Japans. Leave the rest to your dainty palates. Salada, Monsoon and Blue Ribbon packets await you.—Colonist.

Michael, Stand Up!

Chief Roszel received a letter from Robt. H. Benson, of Duluth, Minn., stating that his son Michael was, a few years ago, a resident of Peterborough. He is anxious to find him. Mike is a carpenter by trade, and should this paragraph fall under his notice, or the notice of any one who knows of his whereabouts, a favor will be conferred on his father if they will communicate direct, or through the Chief.

A Quiet Wedding

A quiet though pretty wedding was celebrated on Wednesday evening at the residence of Mrs. William Vass, Chamberlain street, when her daughter, Alice, was united to Mr. Frederick W. Painter. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. L. Armitage, the bride being assisted by Miss Alice Worboy, and the groom by Mr. Arthur Vass, brother of the bride. Amongst the many beautiful and useful presents was a dinner and tea set from the employees of the wire department of the Canadian General Electric Co., with whom the bride was formerly associated.

WILL BE TRIED HERE

County Constable Cochrane has Hunted Hubert Down

When County Constable Cochrane starts after a criminal, he never lets up on the chase till his man is behind the bars. In the case of Hubert, whose arrest and trial took place in Belleville a few days ago, the particulars of which have already appeared in these columns, Mr. Cochrane spent his own money in working up a case against the alleged horse thief. County Crown Attorney Wood has applied for a writ of habeas corpus in order to get the man released from the Belleville jail and sent to Peterborough to stand his trial.

CLOSING OUT SALE.

Green will sell privately, or job out, his entire stock of Merchant Tailoring Goods and Gent's Furnishings commencing Saturday, 26th of January, and will sell balance by auction, commencing at 7 o'clock on Wednesday and Friday evenings next, shop furniture, Tailors' plant and safe. JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

—Talking of Want Ads, it's often said
That Fortune's in a sleep profound.
But it's only true that she rests until
The carrier brings the Times around.

—There will be no issue of the Times on Monday in order to give our employees a holiday to-morrow.

—Large quantities of ice are being harvested, mostly from the Little Lake. It is from 15 to 18 inches thick.

—The band concert has been postponed until Tuesday evening, instead of Friday, in order not to clash with Mr. Crane's concert.

Rheumatism in all its forms promptly and permanently cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla which neutralizes acidity of the blood.

—The programme to be given in the Opera House on Wednesday next, by St. Peter's T.A.S., will appear in to-morrow's issue.

—Mr. Harry Phelan has been appointed district agent of the National Life Assurance Company of Canada. He has control of the counties of Peterborough, Victoria, Haliburton and Northumberland and Durham.

—The Chief of Police has a pair of boots with rubbers on, the same which were left at the Keene Rink on the evening of the carnival. The owner can have the same by calling at the Police Station and leaving the boots he took instead.

—Everybody will be sorry for the poor Count and Countess de Castellane, who will have, for the present, to worry along on a paltry $200,000 a year. This g.f.j. knows how it is from personal experience to scrub along on less than $200,000 per annum.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. R. A. Dutton and Master Robert are in Barrie for a few days.

—Miss Pearl Hamilton has returned from Lindsay, where she was the guest of Miss Virgie McSweyn.

—Orillia News-Letter: Mr. J. B. McWilliams, of the Crown Department, Peterborough, was a guest of his cousin, Mrs. Maxwell Hall, this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leary returned home last night from a pleasant two week's visit to Collingwood, Owen Sound, Bracebridge and several other towns and villages in that section of the country. Mr. Leary drove his elegant little team of bob-tails and altogether was delighted with his outing.

An Indiscreet Teacher.

Ottawa, January 30—Some very unpatriotic references to the new sovereign, made to school pupils, may get a young lady teacher on the public school teaching staff in this city into trouble. She is said to have deplored His Majesty's accession to the throne, because he has been a patron of the turf, and mingled with the Monte Carlo type of men. A clergyman yesterday entered a protest at the inspector's office against such "treasonable" utterances before school pupils.

A January Wedding

A very interesting event occurred on Wednesday morning, at the residence of the bride's father, 494 Stewart street, when Miss Emma, youngest daughter of Mr. L. Sherlock, was united in marriage to Mr. W. B. Tapson, Bowmanville. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Mr. Wagg, of Charlotte Street Church, in the presence of a few of the most intimate relatives of the contracting parties. The services of bridesmaid and groomsman were dispensed with. The bride was attired in a travelling dress of seal crimson with hat to match. A sumptuous wedding breakfast was served, after which the newly married couple left for their future home in Bowmanville. The bride has many warm friends in Peterborough, all of whom will extend to her their best wishes for a happy and prosperous married life.

A Handsomely Draped Window

To get an idea of the correct draping in memoriam of our late beloved Majesty Queen Victoria, one should not fail to see the George street window of Ormond & Walsh's drug store, as dressed by Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons. King Edward VII's command as to an appropriate use of the Royal color—purple—has been carefully carried out, which in conjunction with black, makes an effective mourning drape in contrast to the pure black, as used on ordinary occasions. In the rear of the window in question, Her late Majesty's picture may be seen through a handsomely draped naval life buoy, the whole surmounted by a pair of rifles crossed, suggestive of the British army. Altogether the window may be classed as an ideal sample of what is correct in the way of mourning for a member of Britain's Royal household.

Announcement

We regret to report that the Hon. Dam Li, the great family journal's able correspondent at Shanghai, is seriously indisposed, having a fortnight since inadvertently swallowed one of his chopsticks, which lodged in his esophagus, or something equally as good. While we regret the incident, we are glad that it occurred at a time when nothing of importance is happening in China, as during a crisis we could ill spare Mr. Li's valuable services. Our readers will, we are sure, bear with us, under the circumstances, until such time as we can procure another special literary artist. It is needless to say that this g.f.j. does not write its own special war despatches. In saying this we do not mean to cast any reflection on our little local contemporaries, who are only obliged to do this when their daily supply of boiler plate matter fails to reach them from Toronto, which is not often.

PICTURE OF QUEEN VICTORIA AND KING EDWARD.

The demand for the fine large colored picture of the late Queen Victoria and King Edward VII.—splendid portraits of both the royal mother and son—which The Times is offering to its subscribers, is very great. We give one of these handsome plates to people who will pay for three months' subscription to the daily, or one year's subscription to the Weekly Times. These are pictures that should be in every home, as they are well worth framing. They are nicely lithographed in seven colors. We will also have, in a few days, equally fine pictures of the new Queen, which will also be given free on payment of three months' subscription to the Morning Times. By paying three dollars entitles the subscriber to four of these handsome pictures.

The Times has the exclusive control of these beautiful plates in Peterborough. Send your order in at once.

Of Interest to Farmers

An eminent Canadian lawyer is said to have given an opinion lately which if proven to be correct, will revolutionize a large portion of municipal law, says an exchange. It is, in short, to the effect that the owners of cattle doing damage to property are liable, no matter in what condition the fences are, or, indeed, whether there is a fence at all. This opinion is not without reason. If Smith owns an unfenced field and sows it with grain and Jones' cattle come and eat it up, surely it is not unreasonable to say that Jones should foot the bill. If he chose to have cattle he should keep them on his own property. He has no more right to go free of the damage because of there being no fence around the field than a thief would after robbing a house because the door was off its hinges.

If the number of entries received is up to expectations the skating rink will also be secured for the occasion, so that sixteen rinks can compete at the same time. The affair is in the hands of an energetic committee. Peterborough curlers will probably go.

STOP LOSING MONEY!

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the name of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 50 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. HIGHLANDERS LOYAL TO THE DEAD QUEEN

Cut Short their Concert in Utica, N.Y. When Word Came that Her Majesty was Dead.

On their second American tour, the Band of the 48th Highlanders were in the middle of a concert at Utica a week ago yesterday afternoon, when the news came that the life of Queen Victoria had ended. The second number had just been played. Bandmaster Slatter lowered the curtain and announced a postponement of the concert. The local manager, however, protested and declared that he would hold Mr. Slatter personally responsible for all financial loss.

"It was determined," said Mr. Slatter, to pay proper respect to our dead Queen, so with the advice of our own manager and of the men of the band. I took a long silent intermission, after which the band played the 'Dead March,' the pipers played a lament and I closed the concert out in very short order. Ever since I have played the Funeral March at each concert and 'finish by singing 'God Save the King.'"

The members of the band are wearing crepe on their arms.

Canada Mourns Her Dearly Beloved Sovereign

A ROYAL FUNERAL MID NAVAL POMP

With Grand, Impressive Ceremony---Throngs Witness the Departure of Dead Queen From Osborne House.

Cowes, Feb. 1.—With grand yet mournful display of naval pomp and power the body of Queen Victoria was borne this afternoon from its quiet resting place in Osborne House to Portsmouth, the heart of England's navy. Over the still waters between the roar of the six-pounders came the dirge of Chopin's and Beethoven's funeral marches. The crews, accustomed to cheer with the heartiness which belongs only to "Jackies," stood silently along the decks, and the flags which usually float defiantly in the breeze drooped half-way down the halyards. The most powerful fleet England could gather on short notice lay inert and silent, save for the mournful strains of the bands and the woeful sound of guns that betokened neither peace nor war, but death.

Past these and past the Hohenzillern, the huge though cumbersome Camperdown, the Rodney, and the Benbow, on through the line of British battleships, still on till Japan's Hatsuse, the biggest warship in the world, was left astern, and the German Baden was beam to beam with Vice-Admiral Sir Harry Holdsworth Rawson's splendid flagship, the Majestic, of the Channel squadron, the naval funeral procession slowly steamed. Ahead were eight destroyers, and seldom have these speedy craft drawn their long black hulls so sluggishly through the water.

THE CASKET ON VIEW.

Coming slowly after them was the royal yacht Alberta—half screened by the awning on the poop, the royal coffin placed of a crimson dais, the curtains of which were drawn back and tied to the four poles, leaving free to view the magnificent casket and the robes. Sometimes abeam, sometimes ahead, was the Trinity House yacht Irene, watching the course, while in the wake of the coffin came the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with King Edward and Queen Alexandra and the English royal family; the royal yacht

At 1.45 p.m. sailors from the Victoria and Albert raised the precious burden and bore it from the house. This duty was to have fallen to the Highlanders, but at the rehearsal they were so awkward that it was decided that the sailors should be so honored. Outside the royal residence Grenadier Guards were drawn up in a brilliant line. With a sharp click they presented arms for the last time in honor of their dead Queen. The pipers led the procession, making the woods ring with a weird refrain. Behind them came the royal family At the gate the military portion of the parade stood ready, a glittering medley of uniforms, and down hill the procession slowly wound its way. The roadway from the gate to the pier was lined with troops in close order. The troops remained in position until the minute guns from the fleet commenced to fire.

Thousands stood bareheaded and watched the strange sight with loyal humility and grief. At last the pier was reached, and the body was reverentily placed on board the royal yacht Albterta by seamen of the royal yachts. Osborne, with other royalties; the imperial yacht Hohenzollern, with Emperor William, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, and others; the Admiralty yacht Enchantress, and a Trinity House yacht with officials on board.

The parade to Portsmouth through the squadrons of British and foreign warship was carried out in the manner fully described in yesterday's despatches, and the Alberta was moored for the night. To-morrow the body will be taken ashore at Portsmouth, and thence conveyed to London and Windsor for the last tributes to the great Queen.

Cowes, Feb. 1.—Cowes was astir at dawn, and quickly became alive with visitors. Every stand, window, and roof whence the procession could be viewed was rapidly filled up, while the portion of the route open to spectators was soon impassable. Long before the hour for the funeral the hilly York avenue leading from Osborne was a picturesque sight. From the castle gate to the pier stood troops with elbows touching. Behind them were thousands of men, women, and children. The road was lined with poles with shields of black and silver upon them, bearing the Royal monogram or surrounded by flags. Stands for spectators dotted the route. Inumerable cameras were posted at advantageous spots. Hawkers were busy disposing of black-bordered In Memoriam cards and other souvenirs. Equerries, aides-de-camp, mounted grooms, and messengers dashed hither and thither, seeing that everything was in readiness. The guard around Osborne House was most rigid, and besides the police a long, thin line of red merged into the green and brown woods clustering around the Royal residence. The Queen's guard was drawn up in double rank before the Queen's entrance, with beads bowed over their reversed arms, as in the death chamber.

At 1.30 p.m., the bars of the main door of Osborne House creaked, and the petty officers of the Royal yacht Victoria and Albert then doffed their hats and entered. King Edward came from a side entrance, accompanied by Emperor William of Germany. Each wore an admiral's uniform.

The Grenadiers momentarily raised their heads, and came to the salute which the King returned, and the men again became mute figures.

Then through the glass doors could be seen the coffin coming, carried by the sailors who but a few moments previous had entered. It was preceded by pipers, was covered with the Royal robes and regalia, and accompanied on either side by equerries.

The King took his place immediately behind, and on his right the Emperor of Germany. The King's head was bowed. The Emperor was erect, his face expressionless. Then followed the other Royal Princes. A few seconds later emerged Queen Alexandra and eight Royal Princesses, all dressed in the simplest black, their faces entirely veiled with crepe. Several of the party—and especially Princess Beatrice—were sobbing bitterly.

In striking contrast to the black-robed owmen, followed the heads of the Royal Household in gorgeous uniforms. The coffin was placed upon the gun carriage. The pipers commenced their dirge.

The procession marched slowly down the winding cedar-hedged path until the gate was reached, where the glittering military escort was met. Then the massed bands broke out with a dead march, and the cortege pursued its slow way in the midst of intense silence save the solemn music of the bands.

As the khaki-colored gun carriage, followed by the King, with the Emperor of Germany and the Duke of Connaught on his right and left, passed down the hill all hats were doffed.

On reaching Trinity pier the same petty officers carried the coffin through the escort, to the roll of muffled drums, and placed it reverently in the pavillion of the Alberta. A few moments later the torpedo flotilla was in motion, and slowly left the Medina for the Solent. The massed bands played Beethoven's Funeral March.

As the Alberta passed abeam of the Alexandra the great vessel fired the first gun of the salute, which was taken up by the Rodney and the other warships.

From the island to the main land all the ships were manned, and from the bands floated the sad strains of funeral marches.

A SERIOUS CHARGE

Geo. C. Marsley, of Montreal, Pleads Guilty to Obtaining Money Under False Pretences.

On Wednesday last a respectably dressed man, apparently a French Canadian, called on Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector of St. John's, and procuring a cheque drawn on a firm in Toronto and payable to Geo. C. Marsley, asked the rev. gentleman to cash same, as the banks were closed and he wished to proceed on his journey early the following morning. The rector gave the man $3.50, thinking the cheque was genuine, but on investigation next morning, he learned that no such firm existed and the cheque was consequently worthless. He immediately communicated with Chief of Police Roszel who from the description given traced, by means of the local conductor, on Thursday, his man to Norwood. The Chief then telephoned Norwood's Police Magistrate, Mr. Pearce, who with the assistance of Constable Patterson, located Marsley in the village, whom they immediately placed under arrest. Yesterday Constable Adams went after the culprit brought him to town on the evening train, and he had a summary hearing before Police Magistrate Dumble in the Police Court at five o'clock. When asked to plead to a charge of theft, or rather, securing money under false pretenses, the prisoner said that being hard up and having no friends in town, he saw no other means of raising a little money than that taken by him, viz, to make out a cheque from an imaginary firm, payable to himself. He had not, he said, desired to defraud the rev. gentleman, but merely wished to raise sufficient money with which to reach the lumbering districts, where he could earn a little cash and remit the amount of his indebtedness to Mr. Davidson.

On the Magistrate's requesting the prisoner to make a straight plea to the charge against him, he pleaded guilty.

County Crown Attorney R. E. Wood here suggested that as he understood the prisoner was wanted at Montreal, it would be advisable to remand him on suspended sentence for one week. The Magistrate concurred with this view and Marsley was accordingly remanded for one week.

It has since transpired that Marsley registered at the National Hotel Wednesday night as Hugh Simple and produced a Grand Trunk weigh bill to the effect that one, Hugh Simple, had considerable baggage on the way to Peterborough.

About six o'clock last evening Chief Roszel received the following telegram from Nap. Lambert, Dept. High Constable, Montreal:

"If Geo. Marsley is arrested please keep him in good custody, as he is wanted here on a charge of stealing. We are going for him."

The Pastor's Pity.—A prominent pastor of a Durham, Ont., church writes: "I suffered intensely from Inflammatory Rheumatism. Just one bottle of South American Rheumatic Cure healed me. I pity those who suffer so much and do not know how near they are to a cure. I feel like proclaiming it from the house-tops." —138

PRINCE OF WALES' VISIT.

The Names of the Men who Helped to Make Peterborough what it is To-Day.

The Children Assemble in the Court House Grounds and Sing for the Prince Names of the Council of that Memorable Year.

It will no doubt be interesting reading to many, to know something of what Peterborough was like forty-one years ago—the year the Prince of Wales visited the town. We published only the other day the particulars of the Prince's reception here, which was read by many with interest. The County Council granted $1,600 towards the reception of the Prince, the town $800—in all $2,400, which was placed in the hands of a Reception Committee to be used in decorating the town and in providing entertainment. The following poster was issued by the Committee, of which Mr. White (afterwards the Hon. T. White) was secretary.

THE PRINCE OF WALES!

The children of the different schools of the Town of Peterborough and vicinity, and such other children as desire to join with them, who intend taking part in the reception of His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, on his approaching visit to Peterborough, will assemble, under the guidance of their teachers,

ON THE COURT HOUSE SQUARE,
ON FRIDAY NEXT,
AT NINE O'CLOCK A.M.

It is particularly desired that none should be later, as the comfort and safety of the children make it necessary that they should be arranged in seats allotted to them before the procession reaches the ground.

THOS. WHITE, Jr.,
Secretary of Com.

Peterborough, Sept. 3rd, 1860.

A public meeting was held, which was attended by the late Edmund Chamberlen, Wm. Lundy, Thos. Fortye, James Edwards, Thos. White, Robert Romaine, Charles Perry, Robert Nicholls, Wm. Hall and others, to complete arrangements for the Prince's visit.

PETERBOROUGH IN 1860.

The Council of 1860 consisted of Mr. Chas. Perry, Mayor, and Messrs. Toole, Walton, J. White, Holly, McDougall, Ogilvy, Ryan, O'Beirne, Chamberlen, Morrow, Ormond and Moloney.

A series of letters appeared about this time in the Toronto papers from the pen of Mr. T. H. Robertson, father of the Mr. W. H. Robertson, of the Times, advocating the building of certain locks on the Trent waters, particularly those at Rosedale, above Fenelon Falls. Mr. Robertson's letters evidently bore fruit, for these locks were built soon after. These letters were republished by the Peterborough papers, and excited much favorable comment.

Amongst the professional and business men of 1860, were the following.

James Hall (father of Sheriff Hall) sheriff.
W. Sheridan, county treasurer.
W. Crawford, Government land agent.
B. Green, soap and candle maker.
James Stevenson, stove merchant.
Thos. White, shoemaker.
A. Fowlis & Co. hardware.
Wm. Coulter, druggist.
A. M'Crea, physician.
Robert T. Brooks, architect.
Robert Dennistoun, barrister.
Dr. Holywell, physician.
Geo. Read, issuer marriage licenses, etc.
W. H. J. Vizard, attorney.
J. McKeown, physician.
A. T. Heathfield, musician.
Robt. Stevenson, paper hanger, etc.
Ormond & Gilmour, druggists.
A. W. Kempt, druggist.
Reed & McDougall, surveyors.
Fitzgerald & Drennan, surveyors.
Louis McGregor, American Hotel.
W. S. Conger, land agent.
Wm. Snyder, lumber merchant.
David Lemay (father of Mrs. H. LeBrun) confectioner.
C. A. Weller, barrister.
McKellar & Cameron, hardware
R. B. McDougall, dry goods.
A. Morrow, jr., groceries.
C. Bradfield, dry goods.
E. Poole, furniture.
White and Eastland, livery.
Geo. A. Cox, photographer.
Leon Caisse, hotel.
Wm. Cluxton, produce dealer.
A. Munro, insurance.
D. Pentland, dentist.
The Misses Denham, boarding school.
Duncan McDonald, wagon maker.
John F. Albro, insurance.
R. D. Rogers, Ashburnham, merchant.

Mr. Templeton Brown, father of our esteemed townsman, Mr. C. N. Brown, gave a concert on February 3rd, 1860. The report before us says that "Mr. Brown was in good tune, and his 'Three Ages of Love' is pronounced one of his greatest hits. Alone it was worth the entrance money."

On Sunday, February 19, the Catholic church bell fell from its position, and tore things up generally.

On the 20th February the Rev. V. Clementi, Lakefield, united in marriage Mr. T. B. Clementi, P.L.S., to Miss Clarissa Margaret, eldest daughter of the late John Toker, Esq., and grand-daughter of Capt. Rubidge, R.N. Mr. T. B. Clementi was the father of Mr. Fred Clementi, of the Grand Trunk, town.

On February 23 the marriage by Rev John M. Roger, of Mr. Wm. Cumming, Chief Constable, to Miss E. Moffatt took place. Mr. Cumming was the father of Mr. Will Cumming, of Montreal, Mrs. A. Elliott, and Mrs. W. H. Bradburn, town.

Cricket seemed to be the sporty game in the 60's. The cricket club was composed of the following members: C. A. Weller, H. T. Strickland, H. H. Loucks, T. B. Clementi, H. Calcutt, W. H. Wrighton and W. Y. Swayne. Mr. Calcutt was the swiftest runner in the club.

In the militia appointments we notice the names of Capt. Wm. Cluxton and James Linse, also the name of Lieut. Daniel Hopkins. The latter was the father of Mrs. Senator Cox, Toronto.

In May, 1860, the Otonabee River, from Lakefield to Rice Lake, was literally filled with cribs of square timber. The timber in those days was floated down stream to Trenton and there put into rafts. Each crib was run over the slides at Dickson's dam, manned by four men. Many, citizens spent their idle hours in the excitement of riding over the dam on the cribs.

We notice in the papers of the day the lake above Lakefield is spelled "Katchewahnoonkah." This is evidently pure Indian, and should be pronounced after a pinch of strong snuff.

We notice in August, 1860, the following paragraph in print: "Mr. George A. Cox, whose advertisement appears elsewhere, has shown us a very fine ambrotype—his own work. The artist deserves all the patronage his enterprise merits. Peterborough now has a good photographer. Mr. Cox is prepared to take pictures and furnish suitable scenery." The artist referred to is the popular and esteemed Senator.

An advertisement of an auction sale appears, with the names of John A. Macdonald and Chas. Stapleton, solicitor and auctioneer respectively, at the foot of the notice.

Deserves a Licking

The following item has been sent to The Times for publication; from Smith: "A local farmer hired a very inexperienced boy a short time ago to help about the place. One morning he told the lad to go and salt the calf in the pasture. The boy took about a quart of salt, rubbed it all over the calf, working it into the hair. A gang of colts in the pasture scented the salt and got after the calf. They licked the hair all off the calf's back and tried to lick the hide off, too. The farmer tried to catch the calf and wash it off, but the creature thinking he wanted to lick, too, kept out of his way." It is much more probable that the farmer felt like licking boy.

The family moved from there to Emily in 1866, where they still reside. She was beloved by all who knew her. Her many kind acts will leave in the memory of a host of friends, who will mourn with the breaved family the loss of one whom they had learned to esteem and whose memory they cherish.

Among those who are left to mourn her loss are a husband, one brother, Mr. Jas. Warrell, of Gorrie, Ont., two sisters, Mr. T. Stephenson, and Mrs. Rebecca Balfour, Omemee; one daughter, Mrs. James Jones, Cavan; three sons, Messrs. Alex., Fred and Bert, of Emily.

PRETORIOUS, THE BOER IN HANDS OF BRITISH

One of the Leading Commanders Has Surrendered De Wet Again Escapes.

London, Feb. 1.—A despatch from Pretoria announces that Pretorius, one of the leading Boers, has surrendered. Pretorius states, however, that the Boers are as determined as ever to fight.

GEN. FRENCH ENGAGES THE BOERS.

After Gen. French left the Springs, near Johannesburg, yesterday, 500 Boers crossed from Nigel and did some damage to mine property at Elandsfontein. From there they proceeded towards Reitfontein, and in passing threatened the East Rand mines. The British garrison repulsed them and captured the commandant, who had been wounded. Some other prisoners were also taken.

An armoured train also fired on the Boers with pom-poms from Reitfontein station, causing further loss to the burghers.

Another commando is reported to have gone westward along the Gats Raand, southwest of Johannesburg, in the Potchefstroom district.

DE WET ELUDES KNOX.

A telegram from Pretoria says that unofficial corroboration of yesterday's report that De Wet is now in the Colony has been received, and estimates his force at 1,500 men, with two guns.

ATTEMPT TO DESTROY MINES.

A despatch from Johannesburg states that four or five hundred Boers recently evaded the British patrols, reached Benoni, and attempted to destroy the mines. Some fighting resulted, and the Boers were beaten off, carrying away most of their wounded and leaving two wounded behind them. The British captured three prisoners.

INSULTED THE KING.

A Young Man Made Use of Language Which Led to His Arrest.

Montreal, Jan. 31—Two young men, John B. Laflamme and Napoleon l'Heureux, faced Recorder Weir this morning charged with creating a disturbance. Their arrest was brought about because of a reference to His Majesty, King Edward VII, which was made by Laflamme. The two were at the Grand Central theatre, Commissioners street, where some pictures were being shown on a sheet. One of them was the King, and as it appeared Laflamme made use of an expression which was decidedly lese majeste. Detective Picard overheard the remark, and he told the young man that he must consider himself under arrest.

The companion interfered, and there was a lively time for a minute or so. The two were finally locked up and this morning brought before the Recorder. His Honour said that he would like to consider the case carefully so he postponed giving his decision until to-morrow morning.

A PROCLAMATION

Will be Read to the Peterborough Garrison Today at Noon.

The following orders relating to the reading of the official proclamation of the accession of King Henry VII to the crown, have been issued:—

Headquarters Peterborough,
February 1st, 1901.

Orders by Lt.-Colonel E. B. Edwards Commanding 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers.

1.—In accordance with Militia Orders No. 21 of the 25th of January, 1901, the several corps constituting the Peterborough Garrison will parade in Review Order as the Drill Shed on Saturday, the 2nd of February, 1901, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon, immediately after the memorial service, for the purpose of reading the cablegram and proclamation relating to the death of our late Sovereign Lady Queen Victoria, and the accession to the crown of our Soverign Lord King Edward VII.

By order,
D. Walker, Lieutenant,
Acting Adjutant.

THE MEMORIAL SERVICE

Two Services to be Held this Morning for the Queen

The two memorial services will be held at 11 a.m., to-day in St. Paul's and the George street Methodist churches. The order of service in the two churhces will be identical, having arranged by the ministerial Association. Rev. H. Symonds will speak in St. Paul's, and Rev. J. Bastow in the George street church. Three thousand copies of the hymns and order of service have been tastefully printed, and may be retained as souvenirs.

In order that each service may have an official aspect, it has been arranged that the civic functionaries will attend St. Paul's, where seats have been reserved for them, and the military attend George street. The public generally are invited to attend either church.

In the afternoon the only service will be that at St. John's church at 4 o'clock, which will be of a quiet and devotional character. The singing will be led by the choir of St. John's and All Saints' churches. There will be special practice in preparation this evening in the Guild Hall.

Immediately after the morning services the proclamation will be read by Lt.-Col. Edwards in the drill shed.

A Musicale.

A number of the piano and vocal pupils of Mr. F. W. Walden will give a recital in George street school room on Monday evening, Feb, 4th at eight o'clock. Mr. Walden, Mr. Mulligan, Miss Clara Belleghem, will sing with Mr. Butcher in flute obligato. Proceeds in aids of Young People's Society local and district. Admission ten cents. All are cordially invited to be present.

Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder has proved a blessing to many a "man before the public" in cases of hoarseness, bad throat, tonsilitis and catarrh. Some of the most recent evidence of its efficacy comes from a well-known actor, whose home is in New York City. He says: "I have never found anything to equal this remedy for quick relief." 50 cents.—137

A MASONIC TRIBUTE

To the Memory of Our Late Beloved Sovereign, Queen Victoria

At the regular communication of Peterborough Lodge, No. 155, A. F. & A. M., held last night, the following resolution, moved by Rt. Wor. Bro. H. Rush, and seconded by Bro. W. Menzies, was unanimously adopted:

RESOLVED: That we, the officers and members of Peterborough Lodge No. 155, A. F. & A. M., in regular convocation assembled, deeply lament to chronicle—for the first time in the history of Freemasonry in Peterborough—the death of the ruling Sovereign of Great Britain. We therefore desire to engross upon our official records, this humble tribute to her memory.

That, as loyal British subjects and faithful craftsmen, we bow submissively to the will of the Great Architect of the Universe, in removing our beloved Sovereign, Queen Victoria, from her sphere of earthly royalty as the nation's head, the nation's guide, and the nation's example of all that was wise, and kind, and good.

That we are profoundly impressed with our loss—not only because our lamented Queen was the best and greatest sovereign who has ever wielded a sceptre in a thousand years, but because her exalted character and beneficient sway made her beloved by millions of loyal subjects of her own Empire, as well as by millions of the human race of every nation, kindred and tongue in the civilized world.

That, while we cannot refrain from giving expression to our unfeigned sorrow at her loss, we have abundant cause to rejoice that the Victorian Era will ever be regarded as the diamond link in the golden chain of time; that although the great epoch-making event of the Twentieth Century will be the loss of Victoria the Good, history affords no parallel for the signal blessings enjoyed as a result of her wise and benign rule—blessings which centuries cannot revoke, garnered from her sixty-three years of Christian womanhood, while enthroned as Mother, Wife and Queen.

That we desire most respectfully to offer to the members of the Royal family, our deep sympathy in the great bereavement which has come to them. That, to the successor to the Throne, His Majesty Edward VII, King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and Emperor of India, and to his Royal Consort, we, as subjects, tender the tribute of our fealty and loyalty; and to the King—our Grand Master and Illustrious Brother—as craftsmen, we tender our inviolable fidelity, accompanied with fraternal congratulations upon being called to his high and exalted position. May God's grace be given this noble scion of the illustrious family—the son and successor of our beloved Queen—and may the mantle which has fallen upon his shoulders bring him and his fair Consort a double portion of all that is good and noble.

FURTHER RESOLVED: That this resolution be engrossed and forwarded to the Governor General for transmission to the proper quarters.

Application to Parliament

Notice is hereby given that an application will be made by the Corporation of the Town of Peterborough and the Corporation of the Village of Ashburnham to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario at its next session for an act to validate and confirm By-law Number 912 of the said Corporation of the Town of Peterborough entitled "A By-law to fix the assessment of certain lands in the Town of Peterborough" passed the 3rd day of December 1900, and By-law Number 262 of the Corporation of the Village of Ashburnham entitled "A By-law to fix the assessment of certain lands in the Village of Ashburnham" passed the 3rd day of December 1900, and to repeal Section 2 of the Act of the Province of Ontario 63 Vict. Cap. 85 and for other purposes.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

Annual Congregational Meeting on Wednesday.

Yearly Reports Presented—A very Satisfactory Financial Statement—An Assistant Pastor Spoken of.

The annual business meeting of the congregation of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church was held on Wednesday evening, January 30th, in the school room of the church. There was not a large attendance.

Rev. Dr. Torrance opened the meeting with praise and prayer, after which he requested the meeting to appoint a chairman. Mr. R. E. Wood was on motion of Mr. T. A. S. Hay, seconded by Mr. W. Madill, elected to the chair.

REPORT OF THE SESSION.

The moderator read the report of the session which was adopted.

The report made special reference to the fact that the number of families on the roll was 449, an increase of 19 over last year, which was the largest number ever recorded. The losses by death were eleven.

REPORT OF MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Mr. Robt. Innes read an interesting report of the Missionary Society. The total amount collected was $925.12.

Dr. Torrance referred to the decline in the missionary contributions under the new system, which had been adopted two years ago. He favoured a return to the former method of personally canvassing the members by district collectors, which had proved very satisfactory.

Sheriff Hall did not approve of the old system. He thought the new members of the congregation had not been made acquainted with this scheme of the church, and had never been asked to contribute. He, moved seconded by Mr. Adam Hall, that the Secretary of the Missionary Committee be instructed to prepare a missionary circular to be sent to every member of the congregation asking them to assist in the mission scheme of the church.—Carried.

BOARD OF MANAGERS.

Mr. J. W. Bennet, the church Secretary read the following report of the Board of Managers:—

The revenue for the year 1900 has, we are pleased to say, been sufficient to meet the year's expenditure, and to admit of $200 being applied upon our $1,000 overdraft of 1899; but it must be remembered that there were no extraordinary expenses during the year, such as insurance, etc.

The further reduction of this overdraft to the sum of $500 is due to the application of the anniversary collection of $200 and Mrs. Malcolm McIntyre's legacy of $100 thereon.

With the view of entering upon the new century free of current debt, a systematic practical effort is being made to liquidate the remaining $500 thereof by special subscriptions, which are payable only in the event of the whole sum being subscribed. The prospects are fair that this will be an accomplished fact.

The above figures for the sake of convenience are given in round numbers. The exact amounts may be obtained from the Treasurer's printed statement submitted herewith.

The managers are grateful for the legacy of $100 received from the estate of the late Mrs. Malcolm McIntyre at a very opportune time, also for a similar amount from the estate of the late William Hall of Douro, for Missions. The latter amount has been duly transferred to the Treasurer of the Missionary Society.

Our financial difficulties of late are to some extent due to the gradual reduction of the open collections, so that they are now only about half of what they were ten years ago.

In a congregation so large and scattered as St. Paul's, where much more pastoral work is necessary than can be accomplished, the board would suggest that the congregation at its annual meeting consider the appointment of a young minister to assist Dr. Torrance.

The retiring members of the Board this year are Messrs. Adam Hall, W. G. Ferguson, T. A. S. Hay and R. E. Wood, all of whom are eligible for re-election.

Auditors should be appointed for 1901.

On motion the report of the Board of Managers was adopted.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

In point of magnitude and cost the Trans-Siberian railroad is certainly the greatest engineering work of the age. According to figures furnished by the Russian imperial ministry of ways of communication, the total cost of the railway will be $500,000,000, of which about $295,000,000 has already been expended.

The laborers of Sweden, who are employed by the government, have given to the public a few figures showing how difficult it is for them to exist on the small pay they receive. The pay of section men on the railway, common laborers and others, who do work that requires no special skill amounts to $202 a year. This is for ten hour's work a day.

Seven Presidents of the United States were members of the Masonic fraternity—Washington, Jackson, Polk, Buchanan, Johnson, Garfield and McKinley. Washington was master of his lodge at Alexandria, Va. Jackson was at one time grand master of the Grand Lodge of Tennessee, and Buchanan was deputy grand master of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania.

At Fortress Monroe and various other forts and arsenals throughout the United States are an enormous quantity of antique and obsolete cannon, Columbiads, howitzers, motars shells and other projectiles, gun carriages and equipment which the secretary of war is authorized to loan or give to soldiers' monument associations, municipal corporations and posts of the Grand Army of the Republic under an act passed in 1896 by Congress. Some of these guns are very old and all are more or less ornamental but they are otherwise worthless except for old iron.

Confectioners Will Close

The confectionery stores in town will be closed all day Saturday in observance of Her Majesty's obsequies. Citizens are requested to govern themselves accordingly.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION
MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

Mrs. M. F. Long, of Le Loup, Franklin Co., Kans., writes: "Words cannot express how grateful I am for your kind advice and good medicines. I have been in poor health more or less all my life. In the past nine years grew worse, and two years ago I was so poorly could hardly drag around. I consulted a specialist, and he said I had ulceration and that an operation would have to be performed. This did not seem necessary to me, so time went by, and at last I wrote to Dr. Pierce asking advice. I soon got a helpful answer advising me to try his medicines, the 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and also his 'Pleasant Pellets.' I began taking 'Favorite Prescription' and the other medicines as advised. When commencing I weighed 119½ pounds, and after taking one bottle of each I felt like a new woman. In one month I gained 8 pounds. After taking two bottles of each of the medicines, I began to look like a woman and not like a skeleton, and that weary tired feeling all left me."

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg
The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. A WONDERFUL
KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

I. A. HOPKINS.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, GRAVEL, DROPSY, And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary troubles which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right, I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been benefited by its use. I am 53 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.

Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

Rev W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Mrs. Wm. H. Hardy, East Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured her after six doctors failed. Rev. J. W. Hickman, Collyer, Trego Co., Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble, of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book, entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state.

Not only does this great discovery—Alkavis (the Kava-Kava Compound)—cure all forms of kidney and bladder diseases, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 508 Fourth Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

A SINGULAR START IN LIFE

How did I get my first start in life? Well, in a very singular manner—a very singular manner indeed. I will proceed to tell you.

Let me see. I am now rather advanced in years—seventy-seven last January— what some people call getting old; though, somehow, my heart feels as young as ever. Seventy-seven years, with nineteen off, leaves fifty-eight. Fifty-eight years ago in June; that would carry it back to the year 1841. Yes, that is right—that is the year I went out to Port-au-Prince, Hayti, as captain's clerk.

The captain and I not agreeing very well, I left him there, and while looking for another berth I fell in with a countryman of mine who wanted to take a trip into the interior, merely to gratify his curiosity.

"I have heard," he said, "that the scenery among the hills is the most beautiful in the world, and I am anxious to see it, but would rather not venture alone, and hitherto have found no one to be my companion. Now if you can spare a few days and will go with me I will not only bear all expense, but pay you a reasonable price for your time."

"I am your man," was my reply.

We immediately set to work and procured a good outfit—rifles, pistols, knives, tinderbox, wallets, knapsacks, canteens, and dry provisions, which we expected to eke out with fresh game, and the second day saw us on our travels into an uninhabited region.

I pass over the first few days of romantic exploration, during which we penetrated deep forests and dense jungles, where vegetation ran riot, forded numerous streams, climbed steep hills, scaled precipices, descended into dark valleys, and saw nature in all her wildness, grandeur and beauty, with enough of peril from wild beasts and poisonous reptiles to keep us keenly on the alert.

On the fifth or sixth day we discovered the finest scene at all—a succession of precipices, like so many terraces, one above another, down which poured and roared a series of cascades, with mountains towering far heavenward on three sides of the whole, and a tranquil river and a flowery valley on the fourth—altogether a combination of grandeur, beauty and sublimity that was really enchanting. We spent the remainder of the day here, built our campfire on one of the highest ledges, and slept listening to the music of the night-birds and falling waters.

On the following day we discovered the entrance to a beautiful grotto, which we immediately determined to explore.

Collecting some resinous sticks, and binding them together to serve for torches, we lighted our bunch, and entered where perhaps the foot of man had never before penetrated.

The entrance was narrow, a little higher than our heads, and my companion went cautiously forward with the light, and I as cautiously followed.

After getting in some fifty feet, in a zig-zag course, we suddenly came to a large apartment, hung with the most beautiful stalactites, which flashed and sparkled in the light with an effect which defies description, and we could easily fancy we were in a palace of diamonds.

"This is worth the labor of a lifetime to behold!" exclaimed my companion, enthusiastically.

"Gorgeous beyond my wildest dreams!" I replied.

This hall was very large, not less than three hundred feet in length, by two hundred in breadth, and in some places perhaps fifty feet to the roof, with an even, level floor.

While feasting our eyes on the surrounding beauties we gradually moved on, and came to where three dark passages led deeper into the bowels of the earth, the central one going straight forward, and the others turning off respectively to the right and left. We took the middle one, which was about ten feet wide, and as many high, and arched at the beginning with nearly as much regularity as if cut out by the hand of art.

After advancing a few paces we found it gradually narrowed, and began to descend somewhat abruptly, the air becoming more damp and heavy. Presently it expanded into a long, low hall of solid rock, which, unlike the first apartment, was dark and gloomy, affording the wildest contrast.

On exploring this apartment we found no less than six more passages, leading off in as many different directions.

We selected the largest and still went forward, though I confess I began to feel a little uneasy, for fear we might venture too far, lose our way, and not be able to get back.

"Don't let us risk too much for the first time," I said to my companion by way of courtesy; "for I have no desire to be buried alive."

"There is not the least danger," he replied. "I watch every turn, and could find my way out in the dark."

Soon after this we came to where the passage was so contracted that, at first, we were compelled to stoop, and then to crawl forward on our hands and knees.

Again I remonstrated, but my companion did not heed me.

We kept on in this manner for some distance and then the passage enlarged, and led up a steep ascent. After toiling up about fifty feet we came to another brilliant chamber of stalactites, and found a dozen more inviting passages leading we knew not whither.

Our first torch was by this time pretty well burned out, and, as we lighted one of the two others which I carried, I remarked:

"It would be tempting fate to go any further now. I propose turning back."

"Hark!" he said. "I do believe I hear running water, and I must see what it is. This way; follow me. There is no danger. I will guide you back in safety."

He again went forward as he spoke, and as he still carried the light I was obliged to accompany him, or remain in darkness.

We thus went on and on, through a rather open passage, and, as we advanced, the sound of falling water became more and more audible, till at length we came in sight of a bright running stream, that flowed over a clear bed, and fell down, with a sudden plunge and gloomy roar, into some dark abyss that was frightful to behold.

As we stopped and contemplated this wonder of nature, with the lurid torch lighting up the awful scene, I suddenly perceived what appeared to be several bright sparks of fire in the bed of the stream.

As the depth of the water was only a few inches, I fixed my eye on one, descended into the current, stooped down, picked it up, and held it to the light.

"What have you found, Benson?" asked my companion.

"What is it?" I said, handing it to him.

Never shall I forget his wild, eager look, as he fairly shouted:

"Gold! Gold! Gold! As I live, gold! Hurrah! Our fortune is made!"

In a moment I was as much excited as he; and, forgetting everything else, we both began a hurried search along the bed of the stream for gold. We found it in particles—here, there, and everywhere—sparkling like fire beneath the light of our torch; and while we gathered it, looking eagerly among the rocks on every side for some enriching vein, we indulged in the wildest dreams of wealth and ambition.

Time passed unheeded, our torch burned low, and yet we thought of nothing but gold.

At last coming back down the stream toward the edge of the dark abyss, my companion saw something that drew him forward in haste. I perceived his danger, and shouted:

"Have a care!"

The words had not done echoing through the subterranean gloom, when there was a sudden slip, the dashing forward of a human body, an agonizing scream, the ghastly gleam of a swiftly descending torch, and then I was alone in the bowels of the earth, in the most appalling darkness.

For a time I was bewildered and stupefied, and I sat down there in the rayless darkness, moaning and wringing my hands. Then I shouted the name of my companion many times, and begged him to answer me, though I knew it was all in vain. Echo alone responded—an awful echo—that finally died out far away in the terrific gloom.

At last I aroused myself to thoughts of my own preservation. Fortunately I had brought with me the means of striking a light, and one bundle of sticks was still in my possession.

I lighted the last torch, cast around me one terrified glance, and hurried away from the roaring water, that was singing the funeral dirge of my late companion.

My presence here now is a proof that I reached the outer world alive; but more than once I was in despair, believing I had lost my way. After that I had a long, weary journey back to Port-au-Prince, and it was not till near the close of the fourth day that I came in sight of the town. It rained a great being completely drenched, I was often ieal during those four days, and after exposed to a scorching sun.

The effect of all this was a fever, which kept me on my bed for six weeks, during which time my life was more than once despaired of; and it was nearly four months from my first attack before I was again fit for business.

My purse having now become pretty low, I bethought me of my golden cave, and at once endeavored to turn it to some account.

I mentioned my discovery to several different parties, telling them, at the same time, the sad tale of the loss of my companion.

Most of them listened with indifference, saying they did not think gold enough could be found there to defray the expense of searching for it; and I was about to give up the idea of making any money out of it, when I fortunately met a speculating Frenchman, who asked me what sum I would require to guide him to the cavern and relinquish all claim to whatever might be found within.

I named a sum equivalent to twenty-five thousand dollars, and after considerable arguing, he offered me twenty thousand, which I finally accepted.

I guided him to the grotto, conducted him to the subterranean stream—at which I shuddered as I again beheld it—showed him the little sparkles of gold, and received my promised reward. I never saw him afterward, but heard that he made a fortune by his purchase.

That twenty thousand dollars, so strangely acquired, I may say was my first real start in life. With that I began to trade in different articles, buying and selling, and two years afterward returned to England in a vessel freighted by myself.

I was prosperous in all my undertakings, and twenty years ago, retired from business, having what I considered enough of this world's goods.

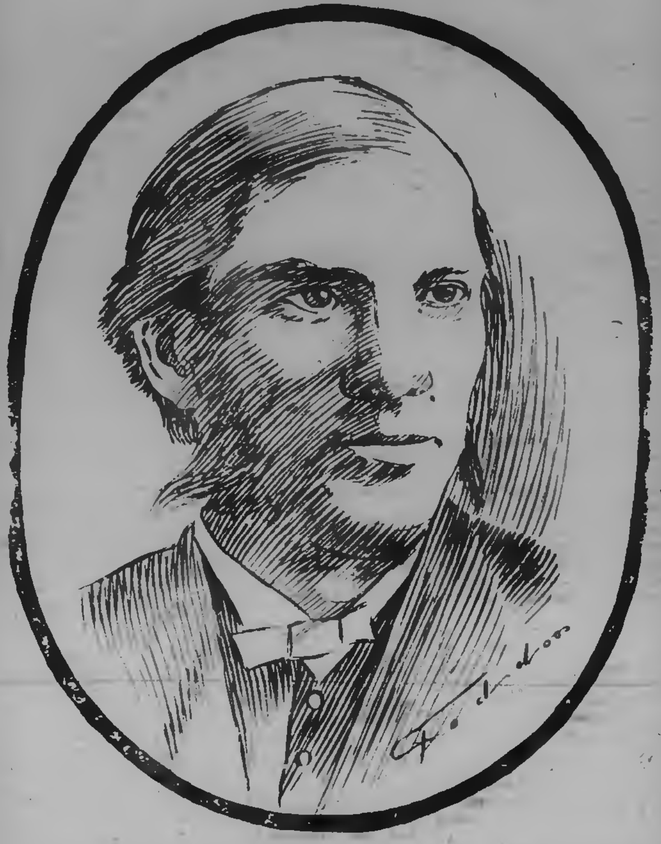
How Are Your Nerves?

If you are weak and you feel nervous and easily "flustrated," can't sleep, and rise in the morning unrefreshed, your blood is poor. Strong nerves depend upon rich, nourishing blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the nerves strong by enriching and vitalizing the blood. It gives sweet, refreshing sleep and completely cures nervous troubles. Begin taking it to-day.

Nausea, indigestion are cured by Hood's Pills.

A Clergyman's Testimony.

Powley's Liquified Ozone Saves the Life of the Rev. William Fawcett, D. D.



REV. DR. FAWCETT SAYS: "I feel to-day that I owe my life to Ozone."

I have used Ozone for stomach trouble and found it an excellent medicine for this weakness. I feel to-day that I owe my life to its being brought to my notice. I believe you have an excellent family remedy and wish you every success.

Yours very respectfully,
(Signed), WM. FAWCETT, D.D.,
103 Hazelton-avenue,
Toronto.

The Rev. Wm. Fawcett, D.D., is one of the most brilliant sons of whom Canada can boast. The son of the late Rev Michael Fawcett, one of the pioneer clergymen of Canada, he early distinguished himself in his calling. To-day Dr. Fawcett is pastor of one of the largest churches in Chicago

Some time ago the reverend gentleman was suffering so severely from stomach disorder that he had to resign his pastorate. After a vain attempt to find health in the leading cities of the United States, after spending money lavishly for the best advice of dietetic specialists, after travelling half the world over to take in the noted health resorts, he came back to his father's house, 103 Hazelton avenue, Toronto, to die. But it was not yet his time. He had heard about Powley's Liquified Ozone, and began taking it. In a few months he had recovered perfect health and resumed his duties in Chicago. Now he permits his testimonial to be published, that it may do good to those who may be suffering.

Powley's Liquified Ozone kills the germs of disease and supplies the blood with the oxygen which forms the red corpuscles of health. A great many people are unhealthy because their lungs do not extract the oxygen from the air they breathe. Now, Powley's Liquified Ozone, being liquid oxygen, supplies them with this principle, and makes them strong. Ozone is the new method of treating disease. The instant success it has attained stamps it at once as a preparation altogether different from any ever before placed at your disposal. Ozone is not a patent medicine. The prominent clergyman and citizens of Canada who have been cured by it of long-standing diseases do not lend their names to quack nostrums. You would do well to consult them and satisfy yourself as to its very great value.

Powley's Liquified Ozone is $1.00 large size bottle; 50c small size. At druggists', or from the laboratories of THE OZONE COMPANY OF TORONTO, Limited, 48 Colborne Street, Toronto,

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims,—The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of the city; and last, but by no means least, the Sunshine, located two miles east of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

Death of Mr John Flood

The many friends of Mr. John Flood, of Ennismore, will regret to hear of his demise, which occurred on Friday evening, at 7 o'clock. The deceased gentleman had been suffering from pneumonia for about two weeks, and although everything possible was done for him, he gradually grew worse until the end. Mr. Flood was 69 years of age. Born in Ireland, he inherited the hardy nature of the people of the Green Isle. He came to Canada when a child, and settled in Ennismore when but six years of age. Mr. Flood leaves a grown up family of nine children, and two dead, to mourn his death. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him. Of a quiet, genial and kindly disposition, Mr. Flood was generally beloved. He had the faculty of making friends everywhere, and his funeral, which takes place this morning to St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, and thence to Chemong Cemetery, will be attended by a very large number of truly sorrowing friends and acquaintances.

VICTORIA'S ANTHEM.

God kept our gracious Queen,
Long liv'd our noble Queen,
Victoria;
She was victorious,
Happy and glorious,
Long she reigned over us,
Victoria.

The Kingdom of Heaven
To her be it given,
Victoria;
She did defend our laws,
And ever gave us cause
To praise her in chorus,
Victoria.

Thou for sixty-three years,
In sunshine, clouds and tears,
Gave us our Queen,
Take her with Thee to stay
On this Thy holy day,
In happiness we pray—
Victoria.

Most wonderful power,
The whole world o'er,
God gave our Queen,
Did she not free the slave,
Poor oft from want did save,
And she was always brave,
Victoria.

And with a royal will
She signed the Corn Law Bill,
Victoria;
Poor might have bread to eat,
By lower price of wheat
A royal welcome treat—
Victoria.

The soldier's death warrant—
The Queen was no tyrant—
Victoria;
She spoke like his brother,
And felt like his mother,
In name of her father,
She sign'd him free.

Mason-Siddell affair,—
Danger of war was there,—
God bless our Queen;
In this she did her share;
Showed good sense everywhere—
Peace was her greatest prayer,—
Victoria.

Hard time for weavers came,
I remembered the same,
Victoria;
With royal compassion,
To bring them in fashion,
She wore gingham dashing,
Her weavers made.

I might muse in this way,
Until doom's very day,
Victoria,
Memorable ever,
Till we cross the river,
Live in heaven with her.
Victoria.

FOOD IN MEXICO.

American Food, Grape-Nuts, Replaces Native Food.

A gentleman from the City of Mexico, Paul T. Gadsden, writes that himself and some other members of his family could not live comfortably on the ordinary food in Mexico, and after using the native food for some months, finally got into a run down and exhausted condition.

He says: "An American feels most acutely the need in mind and body of some of the invigorating food" he has been raised on in the States. Several months ago when I was particularly feeling the need of some change in food, I noticed Grape-Nuts in the window of one of the large grocery stores here, and remembering how, in the States, some little nieces and nephews had grown fat and healthy on it, almost exclusively, I bought two packages, to see if it succeeded as well with grown up people.

"From that day to this it has never been absent from our table. With us, the exhaustion and enervation caused by this climate and the miserable diet, has entirely disappeared, and we are all in most excellent health, vigor and spirits."

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

Annual Congregational Meeting on Wednesday.

Yearly Reports Presented—A very Satisfactory Financial Statement—An Assistant Pastor spoken of.

It was announced that the balance due on the current account had been covered by private subscriptions since the Treasurer's statement was issued.

A hearty resolution of thanks was passed to Mr. Harrison one of the elders who had made such a successful effort in wiping out the yearly balance.

Mr. Sheriff Hall said that it had been decided at a meeting of the managers the question should be taken up at the annual meeting, and at a subsequent meeting of the office bearers of the church the question was also taken up and approved. In accordance with this joint action, the following resolution has been prepared for submission to the annual meeting:—

"Whereas St. Paul's congregation is composed of upwards of four hundred families, many of whom reside in the country districts within the radius of six or eight miles from the town.

"And whereas it has been found desirable that much more time should be devoted to pastoral work than is possible to be accomplished single handed.

"And whereas at an early date a large influx of residents is anticipated which will necessitate additional oversight and accomodation.

"And whereas many of our members residing in the southern and western parts of the town desire the resumption of mission work south of Charlotte street.

"And whereas the pastor feels that there is plenty of work in the congregation for two ministers, and the office bearers have heartily approved of an assistant being procured for Dr. Torrance.

"Therefor be it resolved that this congregation in annual meeting assembled approves of the principle of appointing an assistant to the pastor and authorized the office bearers to proceed to the selection of a fit and proper person, and to determine his salary, duties, etc."

Sheriff Hall, in moving the resolution, dealt with the various clauses in a clear and forcible manner. The necessity for providing a pastoral-assistant was strongly impressed upon himself, not only on account of the increasing duties of Dr. Torrance, but by reason of the growing field of the church in town and county, and the necessity of increased vigilance in regard to new members constantly arriving. Another important matter was that special attention was required to be exerted in the interests of increasing liberality on the part of old and new members towards the various schemes of the church which it was impossible at present to accomplish single handed.

Mr. T. A. S. Hay seconded the resolution, and referred to the work specially in the south western portion of the town had to be neglected to a large extent.

Mr. J. W. Garvin, Mr. J. C. Brown, Mr. A. C. McCallum, Mr. A. Johnston and Mr. Harrison also spoke in hearty sympathy with the resolution.

Mr. Peter Hamilton said that he could not say that he was in hearty sympathy with the resolution at present. He would like more time to consider the whole question. It impressed him as being a serious matter. He felt that it would be unwise to decide so serious a subject without the whole congregation being fully advised of it. He would suggest that a circular be prepared setting forth the whole facts, and that a copy be sent to each member and adherent, and at the same time asking what additional amount they were prepared to subscribe towards the new financial obligations involved. The congregation, he said had been blessed with a long period of peace and harmony, and the introduction of a new assistant minister might have to be looked upon with anxious concern. If it was possible to get the right man he had no doubt that great good might be accomplished, but he hoped that the meeting would decide to postpone the decision of the question until the congregation was more fully notified.

Rev. Dr. Torrance said he felt reluctant to take part in the discussion, but he candidly confessed that the views presented by Mr. Hamilton were precisely along the lines his own had been. The financial consideration was of the greatest importance, and to commit the congregation to engage an assistant without knowing how the increased expenses were to be raised was not wise. The congregation, he said, ought to be consulted as to what amount they were prepared to contribute towards this extra expense. "As to there being enough work in connection with the congregation to require the services of an assistant, I fully think there is. The pastoral work would be greatly relieved by an assistant, and whenever the congregation can see its way clear in the matter to appoint an assistant, I will gladly do all in my power to make it pleasant and profitable to all."

Mr G. M. Roger did not feel prepared to express an opinion just yet. He agreed that there were matters that deserved further deliberation. He would therefore move the following resolution:—

"That the Secretary be requested to prepare a circular setting forth the resolution presented this evening with regard to an assistant pastor, and that it be circulated among the congregation, and that an adjourned meeting be called for Wednesday, 6th February, to finally discuss and dispose of the matter."

The motion was seconded by Mr. W. Madill and carried.

OTHER REPORTS.

Mr. A. Johnston read the Sunday school report, which on motion was adopted.

The reports of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, and Ladies' Aid Society, were adopted and ordered to be printed in the year book with the other reports.

The retiring members of the Board of Managers were Messrs. Adam Hall, W. G. Ferguson, T.A.S. Hay and R. E. Wood.

On motion of Mr. Garvin, seconded by Mr. D. H. Moore, the retiring members were again re-elected.

On motion of Mr. G. M. Roger, Messrs. John Crane and W. Pringle were re-elected auditors for 1901.

Mr. Peter Hamilton moved a vote of thanks to the choir and choir leader Mr. Crane. He expressed his appreciation of the valuable services which the congregation received and alluded to the continued harmony which prevailed among the members of the choir. The motion was heartily carried.

Mr. Crane returned thanks on behalf of the choir and expressed himself highly pleased with his pleasnat eight years official connection with the musical services of the church.

After a vote of thanks to the chairman, the meeting closed with the doxology and benediction.

CURLING.

The Peterborough Thistles are now in the finals for the Tankard. Their splendid victory over the Oshawa and Cobourg Clubs on Thursday, will give them courage to win in the finals.

HOCKEY.

Last night's game leaves Peterborough in line for the Intermediate Championship, with the odds strongly in their favor. The Port Hope team, the strongest in the league, was beaten by 6—3, and the net result, is that unless Port Hope wins in the next game by three goals or more, the Peterboroughs will play in the "semi finals."

The game was fast and tolerably clean. Whatever "rough-house" work occurred was fairly devided between the teams. The match was won on merits. The Peterborough players lined up as follows:

Goal, Comstock; point, Glover; cover-point, Hollingshead; foreward, Graham Watt, Parnell and Ynch.

STOP LOSING MONEY!

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 50 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the Manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 146 W. 42d street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verily our Statement!

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. We average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

"To Do Ill Costs More Than To Do Well."

This might properly read, "It costs more to BE ill than to BE well." The source of all health is rich, strong blood. It is to the body what the mighty streams are to the earth. If the blood is pure, the body thrives; if the blood is weak or impoverished, then every pulse-beat carries weakness instead of strength.

Why make the cost of living more than it need be? Purify your blood and give your constitution a chance to do its level best. The only perfect blood purifier and vigor-maker in existence is the world-famed Hood's Sarsaparilla. It brings good, perfect health. It never disappoints.

THE QUEEN'S REMAINS REST AT FROGMORE

Final Rites in the Funeral of the Late Queen Victoria--A Private Service

Windsor, Feb. 4.—Hundreds of people poured into Windsor throughout the morning, and by one o'clock, the Long Walk was already black with spectators, mostly from the surrounding country, waiting for a last glance at the coffin containing the remains of Queen Victoria. The sun was shining brightly, and the final obsequies promised to be as stately as the initial stages.

The representatives of Royal families arrived from London at about one o'clock and drove to Windsor Castle.

The streets of the town were still hung with wreaths, sadly faded since Saturday. The stores were closed during the interment.

KINGS AT FROGMORE.

London, Feb. 4.—The Kings of Portugal, Belgium and Greece returned to Windsor this morning to attend the ceremony of placing Queen Victoria's remains beside those of the Prince Consort at Frogmore.

The Duke of Cornwall and York has recovered enough to sit up for a brief period to-day.

HINDOO LAMENTATION.

London, Feb. 4.—Despatches from Calcutta describe 100,000 Hindoos as assembling there in the open air, clad in white, and in many cases barefooted to sing hymns of lamentation.

A despatch from Durban, Natal, says that 500 Hindoos assembled around the Queen's statue in that city with the same object.

FOR THE NEW QUEEN.

London, Feb. 4.—The Times this morning says it is informed that the Kaiser has appointed Queen Alexandra to be honorary colonel of the Prussian Regiment of Dragoons, of which the late Queen was honorary colonel. Previous reports had said that the appointment had been conferred upon King Edward.

RELIEF C.LUMN ARRIVED TOO LATE

Boers Capture the Garrison at Modderfontein

London, Feb. 4.—The War Office has received the following despatch from Lord Kitchener:

"Pretoria, Feb. 2.—Our post at Modderfontein, on the Gats Rand, southwest of Krugersdorp, was attacked by 1,000 Boers. The relief column sent out from Krugersdorp failed to prevent the fall of the post. No details yet at hand, but officers and men captured at the post are arriving at Vereeniging.'

General De Wet had 3,000 men in his command when he crossed the Thaba N'Chu line going southward.

The Boers have collected in force in the Eastern Transvaal, in order to facilitate their escape. The horse sickness now prevails in several districts, and is making communication more difficult.

Organized attacks have been made along the eastern line, and a large combined movement has been arranged against those taking part in them, with the object of clearing the whole region of the Boers and of supplies. Columns commanded by Smith-Dorrien from Wonderfontein, Campbell from Middleburg, Alderson from Eerstefabriken, Knox from Koolfontein, Allenby from Zurfontein, Barnell from Spring, and Colville from Greylingstad, all in touch with each other are moving in an easterly direction.

There is a commando of 2,000 Boers on Portugese territory. It is supposed that their intention is to rescue the Boers there. The Portuguese authorities have decided to remove to Madeira such Boer refugees as decline to surrender to the British.

WEATHER NOTES

Probs.—Strong northerly to westerly winds, gradually clearing and turning colder. To-day—North-westerly winds, fair and colder; zero temperatures by night.

An area of low pressure which was just appearing over Arizona on Saturday, has moved to the Lake Region, there causing a north-east snowstorm. The storm will not be felt to any extent in the Province of Quebec. During the next few days a cold wave will spread from the North-west Territories across Ontario and Quebec to the Maritime Provinces.

BOERS REPULSED BY THE BRITISH

Five Hundred Engaged Near Middleburg—French Pressiug Others.

London, Feb. 4.—Lord Kitchener reports to the War Office as follows:

"Pretoria, Feb. 3.—Our casulties at Moddersfontein were two officers killed and two wounded. It appears that the post was rushed on a pitch dark night 1,000 Boers. The releif column sent out bering 1,400, with two guns.

"Campbell, south of Middleburg, engaged five hundred Boers, who were driven back with loss. Our casualties were twenty killed or wounded.

"French is near Bethel, moving east and driving the enemy, with slight opposition. Four of our ambulances while seeking wounded were captured. The doctors were released.

"De Wet's force is reported south of Dewetsdorp."

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY

The Old Day Will Probably be Observed Hereafter as Empire Day.

The proposal to make the 24th of May a perpetual Empire Day can not be too strongly commended. Empire Day is at present the 23rd of May. There will, therefore, be a change of but one day in the date; and the fact of its being the birthday of the sovereign under whom the Empire received the greatest accessions and made the greatest progress would give an added interest to the celebration year by year. It has been suggested that the date of the annual Thanksgiving should be that of the King's birthday, the 9th of November. This also appears to us an excellent suggestion.

Four years ago Senator W. J. MacDonald, of British Columbia, got a bill through the Senate to make the Queen's birthday a national holiday, to be known as Victoria day for ever, but the bill did not pass the Commons. The feeling prevailed in many quarters then that the proposal was rather premature. It is now learned that the Government is prepared to accept the proposal and will introduce a bill to that end this coming session of Parliament.

A Musicale

A very enjoyable evening was spent in the Lecture Room of the George Street Methodist Church last night, when a number of the pupils of Mr. F. W. Waldon, the popular and talented organist of the church, rendered a very interesting programme of vocal and instrumental music. The proceeds are in aid of Young People's Society local and district.

A DISASTROUS FIRE

STANLEY PIANO WORKS HAVE A BAD BLAZE

Damage Estimated at $17,000, Which is Partially Covered by Insurance Works to be Restored at Once.

One of the most disastrous fires which has taken place in Peterborough in a long time occurred on Saturday evening, between six and seven o'clock, by which one of Peterborough's brightest and most progressive industries was badly wrecked. The Stanley Piano works, which is a comparatively new industry, has been regarded by the citizens with pride, because of the splendid work turned out by the concern, as well as on account of the personal popularity of Mr. Stanley and those associated with him in the management of the business.

It appears that the factory had been closed Saturday, but according to Engineer Mitchell, the usual very strict precaution had been taken to preclude all possibility of danger through fire. Mr. Stanley himself had been at the factory during the day, and shortly after leaving in the evening received the astounding intelligence that the factory was evidently on fire. He hastened thither, and upon opening the door discovered the place to be full of smoke. He caused an alarm to be sent in, and the fire brigade was promptly on hand. Strange as it may seem, no trace of fire could be found and the fire fighters were about to depart, when suddenly the factory seemed to become one furnace of flame. The firemen set to work again, and fought bravely, but had little effect on the fire, assisted as it was by the inflammable material in the factory, and the place was completely gutted, the only place escaping annihilation being the annex built by the company, containing machinery, and the casing room on the second floor. This department would have escaped a scorching had a large fire-proof door, opening to the main factory, not been opened. A large quantity of finished goods that only wanted joining together were destroyed. The cause of the fire is a mystery. Those who were at the factory during the day are aware of no means whereby it could have originated. An explosion seems to have taken place in the cellar, but this could not possibly have been caused by ignition of highly inflammable oils. The barrels which contained these were found to be intact.

The extent of the damage to the Company's property is estimated at $17,000, and the insurance on the entire property, exclusive of buildings, amounts to $19,000, divided among the following companies:—

Western	$3,000
British American	3,000
North British and Mercantile	3,000
Lancashire	4,000
London and Lancashire	2,100
Manchester	2,250
Guardian	1,250

The large building was owned by Mr. George Schneider, town, and the total insurance is $2,500.

The majority of the workmen had all tools destroyed in the fire. Some doubt exists among a small number of men who carried insurance on tools as to whether it will be possible to secure re-imbursement from that source, the insurance company concerned having recently collapsed. The tools destroyed were valued at over $1,000.

The Stanley Piano Co. employed between thirty-five and forty hands, and was experiencing great prosperity. Mr. Stanley when seen stated that operations for the restoration of the building and the continuance of the business would begin at once.

Plan Now Open, at H S Macdonald's Drug Store, of St. Paul's Choir Concert in Bradburn's Opera House on Friday, Feb. 8th.

SATURDAY'S SERVICES

Great Crowd of People Attend the Memorial Services

VERY IMPRESSIVE SERMONS

Delivered by Rev. Mr. Symonds, in St. Paul's, and Rev. Mr Bastow in the Geo ge St. Church

The Day Was Observed by the Citizens as a Day of Mourning—Thousands Could Not Gain Admission to the Churches.

Saturday last was observed as a day of general mourning throughout the British Empire in consequence of the death of our beloved Queen, whose removal from the Isle of Wight to London, took place on that day. In Peterborough there was a total suspension of business, everybody seemed to feel the death of Her Majesty as a personal bereavement.

AT ST. PAUL'S.

The service in St. Paul's church was conducted by Rev. H. Symonds, assisted by Rev. W. W. Wagg, of Charlotte street, Rev. O. C. Elliott, of Park street, Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's, and Rev. W. L. Armitage, of All Saints'.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Symonds, who chose for his text:

I Chron. xxix, 28, "And David died in a good old age, full of days, riches and honor."

We will not attempt to publish the sermon, which was one long to be remembered by those present. It was regarded as the best effort of the talented minister.

AT THE GEORGE STREET CHURCH.

This church, which is probably the largest in town, was filled to suffocation. The service was to have been chiefly for the local garrison, the veterans, and the Sons of England, but the citizens of the town in general flocked into the edifice, and it was filled as perhaps it was never filled before. The center pews were reserved for the soldiers and societies and the scarlet uniforms of officers amongst the dense mass presented a striking appearance. The band was stationed under one of the galleries and its playing of the Dead March in Saul added materially to the impressiveness of the occasion, whilst the music by the choir was similarly appropriate.

The preacher of the day at George Street was Rev. Jonathan Bastow, pastor of the Murray Street Baptist Church, who delivered a masterly address. Seated with him were Rev. J. P. Wilson, George Street Methodist Church, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rector of St. John's, and Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Mark Street Methodist Church, Ashburnham, took some part in the service.

Mr. Bastow spoke from a text in Proverbs xxxi, 30th verse, "A woman that feareth the Lord she shall be praised."

His remarks were profoundly touching, and brought forth many a tear. The sermon sunk deep into the hearts of those who heard it.

AT ST. JOHN'S.

There was a memorial service at St. John's at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, at which many attended, even standing room being at a premium. The beautiful burial service of the Church of England was read, the officiating minister being the Rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. Mr. Armitage, Rev. H. Symonds and Rev. Dr. Torrance. There was no sermon, but the Rector delivered a few words appropriate to the occasion. He first welcomed the members of other Anglican churches to their own homestead, in which he said they always had a place, and more particularly the many friends of other communions present. They were within walls which never heard any reflections upon them or their beliefs and they might indeed feel at home in the House of the Common Father. These walls had been erected in the very first opening of the settlement of Peterborough by the heroic efforts of the pioneers, and had echoed prayers for King William IV, at the Queen's coronation, and on every Sunday during her reign on her behalf, and now it was appropriate that her departure should be similarly commemorated. Let them think of the great Queen, not as she had been, but as she is now, the burden of State fallen from her shoulders, in the paradise of God. In this mysterious land she had already found that no Royal robes were needed but only such as were washed in the Blood of the Lamb. Let each one prepare for the hour when he would follow the Queen into the blessed abode.

The hymn "O Paradise" was then sung and special commemorative prayers were offered with intercession for the new King, and one of the most impressive services held in Peterborough closed by the singing of "God Save the King."

The music was furnished by the combined Anglican churches of the town.

Death of Mrs. Andrew Scott

The death of Mrs. Andrew Scott occurred yesterday morning at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Robert Mulligan, 267 Reid street. The deceased had not been in good health since an attack of grip some years ago, and slowly grew worse until death came as above. She was a native of Scotland, her maiden name being Susan Coulter, and she was 78 years of age. She resided in Belleville, where she wedded the late Andrew Scott, and with him came to Peterborough some twenty-five years ago. She has resided latterly with her daughter, Mrs. R. Mulligan. The other children are Miss Mary P. Scott, of Toronto, and T. H. Scott, of Midland. The deceased was a member of St. Paul's church and very highly esteemed among a large circle of friends. The funeral takes place to-morrow afternoon from 267 Reid street.

OUR CIVIC FATHERS

TRANSACT CONSIDERABLE BUSINESS IN QUICK ORDER.

They Meet Punctually and Adjourn Early—Communications—Accounts Two By-Laws—The Children's Aid Society Granted $300.

Town Council met in regular session last night, when there were present Mayor Denne and Ald Edgecumbe, Roger, Rush, Shortly, Clinkscale, Corkery, Batten and Best.

Our new Aldermen convened sharp on time—8 o'clock—transacted considerable business in a businesslike manner, and adjourned at 9.15. This is very unusual in the history of our Civic Board. This year's Council seems determined to keep early hours and at the same time give all necessary attention to the town's interests. This is as it should be and will meet with hearty approval in many quarters.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

A statement of Collector's Roll, showing a total of $7,553.18 yet to be collected was received from the Auditors.

From W. H. Anthony, with oath of declaration to the effect that he has no dog.—Court of Revision.

From R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, requesting Council to pass a by-law regulating second hand stores, so that such establishments are licensed. The object of this is to compel second hand dealers to keep a record of goods purchased, thus materially assisting the tracing of stolen goods.—Legal Committee.

From Ontario Beet Sugar Association giving notice of meeting of this Association at Toronto on February 6th.—Received.

From Town Solicitor Edwards re Peterborough v. G.T.R., stating the appeal in this action was argued before the Court of Appeal on the 18th January; judgment has been given, dismissing the appeal with costs. The chief ground of objection against the town's claim was that at the time the bridge was built the Councils of the town and township made no objection to the bridge as built, although it was admittedly not equal to the old bridge. It was also considered that the town was liable for maintenance of the bridge, as they were liable for the maintenance of the previously existing bridge, and that the culvert across Smith street was assessed by the Railway Co. and they were answerable for it.—Received.

From John Moloney, Local Registrar of High Court of Justice, enclosing a bill of costs against the town in the appeal of Peterborough v. C.P.R., amounting to $144.65.—Received.

A bill of the disbursement of Town Solicitor Edwards in above case, to the amount of $27.98 was also received and payment authorized.

From the Town Solicitor, stating that he attended before the County Judge on the appeal of the Canadian General Electric Company against their assessment, and consented to the same being reduced to the sum of $100,000.—Received.

From Frank Marino, asking permission to keep a stand on the corner of Hunter and George streets for the current year for the purpose of selling fruit, on the plea of ill health.—License Committee.

From the Fire Underwriters Association asking that necessary requirements for the fire department be taken into consideration when striking the estimates.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From Capt. Graham, in behalf of the Governor General, acknowledging receipt of resolution of sympathy and condolence with respect to Queen Victoria's death.—Received.

From H. Calcutt, President Peterborough Navigation Co., re the building of dry dock in Peterborough at lower end of George street.—Manufacturers Committee.

From J. L. Hughes, applying for position as Assessor.—Committee on Appointments.

From G. H. Hall, 240 Simcoe street, objecting to the erection by the Auburn Power Company of posts in front of his premises, which he argues is against the law.—Board of Works.

From R. R. Roddy, asking for renewal of shooting gallery license for the sum of $5.00.

From E. G. Patterson, complaining of being assessed for income tax at both his place of business and his private residence.—Court of Revision.

From Bridget Coursey, asking for remission of taxes.—Court of Revision.

This person's taxes had been remitted, but in the meantime the Collector had collected same from the said lady, who now wishes to be reimbursed.

From E. B. Edwards, enclosing by-law to appoint Collector of Taxes and a By-law to grant $300 to the Children's Aid Society.

To Ald. Best it was explained that the cost of the case against the G.T.R. would cost altogether in the neighborhood of $300.

The following accounts were referred to the Finance Committee for certification thereto:

NEARLY 3,000 MEN RETURN TO RUSSIA

Four Boer Fugitives Welcomed on Board Russian Ship--A Brutal Murder

Sebastapool, Feb. 4.

Despatches received here say that four Boers who escaped from a British ship at Colombo Colon, sought refuge on board the Russian vessel Kherton, whose passengers received them enthusiastically.

The return movement of Russian soldiers from China continues steadily. 66 officers and 2,800 men arrived on the Theodosia yesterday.

Indianapolis, Feb. 4.

The town of Eaton, Ind., Fort Wayne Division of the Lake Erie and Western Railway is reported to be burning. Immense glass, paper and other manufactories are located there.

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 4.

William Cooper, a negro of Trickman, Sussex County is a fugitive from justice on charge of murdering his wife and five year-old child. The murder of the child was most atrocious. Cooper came home drunk yesterday afternoon, and began quarreling with his wife. He pulled out a revolver and shot and instantly killed her. He then seized the child, who was a girl, carried her to the woods, where he swung the little one by the feet and beat her head against a log until she was dead.

CHEAP COAL FOR OTTAWA.

Mr. J. H. McClellan has organized in the Capital.

Ottawa Citizen.—Householders in Ottawa whose surplus cash has been materially reduced this winter owing to the abnormally high price demanded for coal, will be pleased to learn that a new coal company, furnishing the standard article of fuel at a more reasonable figure than that which has prevailed of late, has opened an establishment in Ottawa and intends to permanently conduct business here.

The new concern is the Continential Coal Company, the headquarters of which are located at the corner of Clarence and Dalhousie streets, with Mr James P. Battle as the local representative.

The moving spirit in the organization is Mr. J. H. McClellan, an old established coal marchant of Peterborough who has had sixteen years' experience in the business and is thus well qualified to recognize the needs of the public. Mr. McClellan is well known in Ontario political circles, having been the reform candidate in Peterborough at the last election.

Speaking to a Citizen reporter yesterday Mr. McClellan stated that he had not come to Ottawa to fight with the old coal merchants but from his experience he thought it was quite possible to sell the best quality of the black diamond at a more reasonable figure than that now generally demanded, and still make a reasonable profit. He is quoting the best article in anthracite at $6.50 per ton; while bituminous coal for power purposes is retailed at lower rates. A free delivery has been arranged for through the local agent and in the spring the company will bring its own horses and carts here and enter more extensively into business.

The Continential Coal company has branches at Ogdensburg, N. Y., and Peterborough. It is entirely independent of all combines. Its coal comes from the best mines of Pennsylvania, arriving fresh daily, and is clean and well screened. The great quantities purchased for the several branches enable the company to secure a low rate of which the consumers in turn benefit. The most prompt attention will be given to customers, coal delivered free and satisfaction guaranteed.

Although the concern has been in existence in Ottawa for only a short time an exceptionally liberal patronage is already being accorded it and householders find the article supplied to be first class in every particular, while the prices changed are more commensurate with what the ordinary householder is in a position to pay. The new coal company's office for the present is at 117 Clarence street, phone 1856, and it starts out with brilliant prospects of a meritorious public patronage.

SHE PULLED THE STRING.

And Found Herself in a very Embarrassing Position.

A funny thing happened a young lady in one of the churches a few Sundays ago She was at church, and sitting just in front of her she saw a tall, handsomely dressed stranger with a piece of white lint hanging over his collar. Being a lady of an accommodating disposition—one of the warm hearted, whole souled girls who grow to be motherly old ladies, a friend to every one in town—she thought how glad she would be if some good, kind-hearted girl would do as much for her father if he were to come to church with a raveling string hanging down his back. Besides the thing worried her and ruined the otherwise immaculate appearance presented by the broad neck and well built shoulders, so, as the congregation rose for prayer she concluded to pick it off. Carefully raising her hand she gave it a twitch, but there was more of it than she supposed, and a foot or more of it appeared. Setting her teeth, she gave another long pull and a yard or more of that thread hung down his back. This was embarrassing but, with a grim determination to do or die, she gave another yank and found she was unravelling his undershirt. It is needless to say that her embarrassment was then so painful that chloroform could not alleviate her suffering, nor a pint of powder have hidden her blushes, when the gentleman turned, with an inquiring look, to see what was tickling his back.

VENEZULA STILL DEFIANT.

President Castro May Oust the Asphalt Company by Force.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, February, 5.—The Venezulean Government continues to maintain a defiant attitude toward the United States. The report is now circulated that President Castro, having troops at his disposal in the eastern provinces since his victory there over the insurgents, will send a regiment to dispossess the Americans at Pitch Lake.

The company will resist, but no doubt it will be ousted if the threatened attempt is made unless large reinforcements are received.

Grave complications would inevitably ensue. Mr. Loomis, the United States Minister, is trying to compose matters, but he is met in an unfriendly spirit by the Government of Venezuela.

AGED WOMAN CUTTING TEETH.

Peculiar Case of a Resident of Trenton Nearly Eighty-four Years old.

Trenton, Feb 5.—Whether or not Mrs. Dorothy Ward Green, of 281 Walnut avenue, is in her second childhood, it is a fact that while upwards of 84 years of age she is cutting new teeth. Several days ago Mrs. Green began to complain of pains in her jaws, and as she never had the toothache or experienced neuralgia, she could not understand the strange annoyance.

All her teeth had as far back as she could remember been entirely sound and serviceable. But she finally recalled that two of them had dropped out recently because of the loosening oft her gums, and for fear of abscess of some such disturbance she summoned a physician. The latter discovered that a new tooth was forcing itself into each of the places left vacant by the two that had fallen out, and so the woman's fears are now cleared away.

Getting Into Line.

Preston evidently has a notion to go in for municipal ownership. Recently the citizens asked the council by resolution to employ an engineer to valuate the two private electrical plants, at present fighting the town with a view of the corporation purchasing same, and also to take up the matter of installing a public waterworks system.

THE DELPIT CASE.

The Ottawa citizen gives the following summary of the proceedings in the Delpit case, which promises to be a cause celebre and have far reaching effects :—

"The Delpit case, if signs go for anything, is yet in its infancy. It is estimated that not less than six thousand Roman Catholic couples have been married by Protestant ministers, and if these are not married, then thousands of children in this country have a most unfortunate existance. That one result of the present struggle may be a new marriage law of civil character many Catholic and Protestants alike earnestly hope. The defendants in this case hold that the marriage was legally performed, and while the Catholics are scandalized by the action of Mr. Delpit, who, so far, has refused to take the step that would make the marriage legal in the eyes of the church, Mrs. Delpit's friends would not agree to that step because they claim the marriage was duly performed and is legally binding, as Miss Cote at the time was not a Catholic. Without going into particulars on that point, the facts of the case are as follows :— Miss Cote was 16 years of age when she was married to Mr. Delpit. Within a year after the union a child, who was named and baptized Joseph Edouard, was born. He is now six and a half years of age. Marie Louise, the next child, is four and a half, and the youngest, Antoinette Marie, is three years old. Mrs. Delpit is now twenty three years of age. About two years ago there was trouble in the Delpit home at Quebec. Mr. Delpit's friends, mother and sisters especially, paid them a visit, and practically took possession of the house. Mrs. Delpit, Jr., had one room to herself, and was with the children some of the time, but Mrs. Delpit, Sr., and her daughters were very anxious to take charge of the three little ones, and very largely did so. Last February Mr. Delpit suggested that his wife pay a visit to her father, Mr. A. B. Cote, and other relatives in Montreal. She did so, and for certain reasons left the children behind. Mr. Delpit took steps to have the marriage annulled, and Mrs. Delpit, his mother, came to Montreal to try to persuade Mrs. Delpit, the wife, not to oppose this action. "But what about the children? was the very natural question of Mrs. Delpit, Jr., "Oh," said the elder woman, "we will take care of them and you will be free to marry again and bring up another family." "Never, so long as I live," was the young mother's reply. Mrs. Delpit could not think of separating permanently from her three little ones but she did take action for separation from her husband as to bed and board. Chief Justice Casault refused to take cognizance of her demand for such sepration, because the case was before the ecclesiastical court in Montreal. The friends of the defendant are at a loss to account for this action, as they considered that before ecclesiastical court they had proved conclusively that Miss Cote was a Protestant at the time of her marriage. The defence still persists that they can prove that point beyong doubt, and will yet do so in the highest court of the realm if necessary. It is on the ground that she was a Protestant that Mrs. Delpit says to the ecclesiastical courts. "You have no right to try this case or give a verdict upon it."

In October last, while the case was pending in Rome, Mr. Delpit sent his mother and four sisters and his three children to New York, where the latter now are, in care of the former. They were sent from Quebec without their mother's consent and without her wishes having been consulted. Mrs. Delpit is still staying with her father, Mr. A. B. Cote, Dorchester street."

In addition to the Delpit case itself another feature has been provided by the part played in the matter by a couple of Quebec newspapers, whose editors indignantly criticised the finding of the courts in the matter and were told by the church authorities to either apologise or be placed under the ban. Naturally they apologised, and are still graciously allowed to continue publication.

A suggested solution for the problem presented by the case, which it is believed would prevent the recurrence of any similar cases, is that a civil ceremony be made obligatory in all marriages. If that were done there would be no avenue left whereby chaps of the Delpit brand could sneak out of their lawful obligations.

CHILDREN'S MEMORIAL

Services to be Held Throughout the Empire Tomorrow.

The following cable was received at the office of the Sabbath School Association, Toronto.

London, Jan. 25. 1901.—Honourable S. H. Blake, Toronto, Ont.—Sunday School Union organizing children's memorial services Queen throughout Empire, Sunday, February third, invites co-operation Canada. Cabury, president, Earls Aberdeen, Kinnaird, Archdeacons Sinclair, Farrar, Doctors Parker, Clifford, Hughes, Munro, Gibson. vice-president. Sign invitation. Make known. BELSEY.

After communicating with the Executive Committee Mr. Blake sent a cablegram in reply endorsing the action, and saying that the Sabbath schools of Ontario would co-operate. It is therefore hoped that the Sabbath schools throughout Ontario will take notice of this world-wide movement and make arrangements accordingly. The Peterborough Sunday and each school is requested to govern itself accordingly.

The best that money can buy should be your aim in choosing a medicine, and this is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures when others fail.

American Beauties.

There are none fairer or sweeter the world over. Unfettered and untrammeled the American woman queens it as does no other woman in the world. Yet her very energy and ambition are often times her undoing. She attempts too much. Her health is undermined. And when health goes beauty goes also. The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery re-establishes the health. It cures diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition and assures perfect assimilation of food and the proper nourishment of the body. It increases the blood supply and eliminates the impurities that clog the system and cloud the complexion.

Mrs. Mary M. Lewis, of Tanner, Gilmer Co., W. Va., writes: "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' cured me when doctors and other medicines failed. For fifteen years I suffered untold misery. I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I could not lie down to sleep, and everything I ate would almost cramp me to death. Was very nervous and could hardly walk across the room. I only weighed ninety pounds when I commenced taking these medicines six years ago; I now weigh one hundred and forty pounds and am having better health than ever before. After being sick so long I have changed to be robust and rosy cheeked. I have taken fifteen bottles each of 'Prescription,' 'Discovery' and 'Pellets.'"

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets act gently but effectively. Women value them.

Renewed the Grudge.

Even an old sore will give its owner a twinge if it is roughly handled says the Youth's Companion. Two elderly men met at a reception one evening and after they had been introduced to each other, one of them said:

"I beg pardon, Mr. Yarty, but are you related to the family of that name who lived in Plattston about fifty years ago?"

"I am a member of the identical family," replied the other. "I resided there myself fifty years ago."

"Then you are Columbus Yarty?"

"Yes."

"I am delighted to meet you again. Do you remember Wesley Weston, with whom you played when a little boy?"

"Surely! Are you he?"

"I am."

They shook hands again, and after a little pause Mr. Weston said:

"You remember we had a quarrel about something or other the last time we met, and you pushed me over into a tan-vat and ruined a suit of clothes for me?"

"Yes, I remember it very well. Ha! ha!"

"Ha! ha! We can afford to laugh at it now, but it was a serious matter to me then. I have thought of it many times since and made up my mind long ago that if we ever met again I would tell you freely and fully forgive you for the mean little trick."

"But as I remember it, you were entirely to blame in the matter."

"Not at all. I hadn't done anything to you. However, as I said before, I don't hold any spite over it now. I forgive you——"

"But I don't want your forgiveness sir! I won't have it! I told you——"

"Sir!"

"Sir! Good evening, sir!"

"Good evening!"

And the grudge of fifty years ago resumed business, so to speak, at the old stand.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. A WONDERFUL

KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

I. A. HOPKINS.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, GRAVEL, DROPSY,

And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary troubles which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right. I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been benefited by its use. I am 53 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.

Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

Rev. W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Mrs. Wm. H. Hardy, East Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured her after six doctors failed. Rev. J. W. Hickman, Collyer, Trego Co., Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble, of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book, entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state.

Not only does this great discovery—Alkavis (the Kava-Kava Compound)—cure all forms of Kidney and Bladder diseases, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 98 Fourth Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING

BREAKFAST—SUPPER

INDORSED BY DEPEW.

SAYS THE "PAN-AM." WILL SURPASS THE PARIS FAIR.

Tells Chairman J. N. Scatcherd the Half Has Not Been Told of the Grandeur and Beauty of the Exposition at Buffalo.

"Scatcherd, you did not praise it half enough."

So spoke the distinguished statesman and famous after dinner orator, Senator Chauncey M. Depew, as he stood in the center of the grounds of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo and gazed upon the beautiful structures surrounding him on every side and now approaching completion.

Senator Depew had come to Buffalo to deliver an address. His first desire on arrival in the city was to be driven to the grounds of the Exposition. The remark quoted above was addressed to Chairman John N. Scatcherd of the executive committee of the Exposition, who had told Senator Depew of the progress made in the building of the Exposition when they had met in Europe last summer. Mr. Scatcherd had dwelt long and eloquently upon the success which had attended the organization and construction of the Exposition, and "Our Chauncey's" expectations were high. Nevertheless anticipations are not equal to realization.

NEW YORK STATE BUILDING.

Looking upon the scene before him from the sight of the grand Triumphal Bridge, he saw to his right the stately proportions of the United States Government buildings, to the left, across the spacious Esplanade, the charming architectural effects of the Graphic Arts, Horticultural and Mines buildings, while the vast Machinery and Transportation building, now almost complete, was seen in the background to the left. Opposite it, across the Court of Fountains, was the Manufactures and Liberal Arts building, and the Electric Tower could be seen rising skyward in the distance at the far end of the vast court, with the towers and minarets of other buildings outlined against the horizon. As Mr. Depew took in this impressive scene the exclamation burst from his lips that the half had not been told.

Later in the day the popular orator addressed an audience which filled to overflowing Buffalo's great Convention hall. In the opening lines of his speech the speaker declared: "Six weeks ago I was at the Universal Exposition at Paris. Today I went through the grounds where your Pan-American Exposition is to be held. I felt that Buffalo is going to do at least twice as well as Paris."

Latin-American and Pan-American.

The press of the various countries of Latin-America show a cordial interest in the Pan-American Exposition. It is recognized that their co-operation is essential to the end that the Exposition may adequately represent the progress of all the states and countries of this hemisphere. As a rule the editors of newspapers and other publications in the countries to the south of the United States display a very favorable attitude toward the enterprise. B. B. Lopez, editor and proprietor of La Correspondencia de Porto Rico, has become so enthusiastic over the Exposition that he writes to the Press Department that he is about to come to Buffalo to see for himself the progress made in the development of the Exposition. He will be accompanied by his family. Many other editors of the Latin-American press have also announced their intention to attend the Exposition, and inquiries are pouring in from these countries regarding steamboat and railroad routes. Many editors and correspondents from Central and South American countries have already visited the Exposition grounds.

Wisconsin's Building.

Commissioners from Wisconsin, who have charge of the exhibits from that state at the Pan-American Exposition, have selected a site for the State building. About 20 acres have been set apart on the eastern side of the Exposition grounds for state and foreign buildings. The site chosen for the Wisconsin building is nearly opposite the large buildings of the National governments just south of one of the mirror lakes and south of the Ohio building. It will overlook the Esplanade, with its wonderful fountains and gardens, and a number of the large buildings will be in full view. The Wisconsin commission are Willard A. Van Brunt and George B. Burrows of Madison, B. E. Edwards of Lacrosse, Charles Reynolds of Sturgeon Bay and George H. Yule of Kenosha. Wisconsin will spend $25,000 on her building and exhibits at Buffalo.

A $6,000 A. O. U. W. Building.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen are planning elaborately to welcome the members of the order to Buffalo next year. The Supreme Lodge has appropriated $3,000 and the State Lodge $3,000 more to be used for the erection and furnishing of a fine headquarters building at the Pan-American Exposition. The Supreme Lodge will meet in Buffalo next year. The building is a handsome pavilion, with rooms for rest, and the upper floor a great balcony, with easy chairs, for all members of the order who attend the Exposition.

THE DANGER OF BEAUTY

The Dreadful Suffering, Physically and Mentally Experienced by Women.

Beauty—when applied, at any rate to persons by the pen of the novelist, the dramatist and the historian—seems to be a vastly dangerous holding and instead of bringing in its trend that superb joy voiced by the dictum, it carries with it a burden which is indeed a very hard lot to bear.

Pick up any noval at random and you will read that the only persecuted creature in it, to speak by the card, is the beautiful young heroine. It is her beauty which has attracted the villain, like the bright flame which attracts the moth, and made him act as a brute to her.

Beauty in novels, freely interpreted, means dreadful suffering, physical and mental; it means a deadly poison which is as fatal as the sting of a viper and which permeates the body and soul of the average heroine of the modern novel. It brings no joy except at the end of the book.

The penalty for being beautiful would seem to be more exacting and more disagreeable than the disappointments experienced by the ugly. It is because the modern heroine of books, or of the stage, is described as a sort of daughter of the gods in form and build and looks that you take interest in her and follow her doings, her sufferings, through every page of a novel or through every scene and act of a play.

Leave fiction for fact. Scour the village of the United States from Maine to California and you will find, with very few exceptions, that nearly all can tell the sory of how once upon a time there lived in the village a beautiful girl who fell a slave to the mad delirium of love and after many years came back a wreck. There is recorded in the unwritten archives of nearly every village such a story as that told in one form or another.

But this is not the story of a village merely; it is the history of the world.

It was this evil fate of beauty that wrecked Cleopatra, who in turn wrecked Marc Antony, broke the heart of Octavia and brought the horrors of civil war upon imperial Rome. The great Julius fell a victim to her exquisite charms at a single interview.

Cleopatra was a beautiful and magnificent creature, and her charms never failed to captivate and conquer those who passed before her. She was not only all this, but her personal beauty seemed to have influenced her mind intellectually in a marked degree for she was a woman of very high attainments. She was as intelligent as she was beautiful. She was a capital musician, skilled in several languages, a good singer and a brilliant conversationalist. No woman has surpassed her in cunning.

How she died is a mystery. The story of the asp biting her to death is a myth, but authorities agree that she died a violent death by her own hand—a hard price for such great beauty as hers.

There is the pitiful story of Julia Donna, who in her maiden days a poor, humble girl was, on account of her great personal charms, raised from a common sphere to the highest that imperial Rome could offer. She became the wife of Severus, and thus Empress of Rome. Her beauty was her evil fate. She lent herself to the flattery of courtiers, permitted all and sundry to approach her with their sentiments; finally, she fell back into the position she came from, but not before she had been stabbed in the arm by son, who intended the blow, however for his brother.

Disappointed of all hope of ever becoming again the power she once was in Rome, deserted by those who brought her to her misery, forsaken by her friends, she ended her days in starvation.

There was yet another beautiful Roman Julia, who, through her extreme beauty, was introduced to and became the wife of a famous Senator when she was only sixteen. Between that tender age and four-and-twenty she lived up to the traditions of the times, fell a victim to the conceit of her own charms, became the prey of flatterers conspired against her husband, and was finally put to a violent death.

The story of the captivating Helen of Troy is interesting, and is on a par with that of the beautiful women just alluded to. Helen of Troy was tied to a tree and strangled—a condign punishment for the errors she fell into on account of her beauty. She was responsible for the many years' seige of Troy, her husband, Menelaus, being determined to revenge himself on Paris. It serves as an object lesson for those women who repine because they are not beautiful.

Josephine, the unfortunate wife of Napoleon I., was said by her husband to be most truly a lovely woman, refined, affable, charming; a goddess of the toilet, kind and humane," yet because no son was born to them Napoleon divorced her—an overwhelming sorrow. She died an absolutely crushed and saddened woman.

A Clever Cat That Could Reason.

Prof. Northrop tells the following story: "In the vestibule of the henhouse are ordinary crates, where is kept the corn for the fowls. Into these crates the mice get. The professor's father is in the habit of turning these crates upside down, now and again, to get the mice out.

"At these times he has the farm cat at hand that the mice may be thoroughly disposed of. The barn is a considerable distance from the henhouse.

"The professor was one day in the barn. The cat came to him and mewed. He paid no attention. She mewed. Still he paid no attention, then she mea-awed. He looked at her, thinking that she must want something from him.

"When she saw that she had his eye and his attention she scolded him a bit for his obtuseness and started off in the direction of the hen-house. There she went directly to the crates, looked up in the professor's face and gurgled low in her throat a request that he turn the crates over. He did so. No mouse came out. But the cat was satisfied and asked no further service."

How Are Your Nerves?

If you are weak and you feel nervous and easily "flustrated," can't sleep, and rise in the morning unrefreshed, your blood is poor. Strong nerves depend upon rich, nourishing blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the nerves strong by enriching and vitalizing the blood. It gives sweet, refreshing sleep and completely cures nervous troubles. Begin taking it to-day.

Nausea, indigestion are cured by Hood's Pills.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, FEBRUARY 5 1901

Postponed.

The meeting of the Fortnightly Club, which was to have been held to-night has been unavoidably postponed until Tuesday, Feb 26th, when the Rev. A. E. Knowles, of Galt, will deliver a lecture, the subject of which will be announced later.

A Whopper.

The Arnprior Watchman prints the following:—"Peterborough has an epidemic of diphtheria. One day recently 140 cases were reported." This is a libel on the town. We have had a few cases, not more than a dozen—and these, we are happy to say, are doing nicely.

Mr. Leonard Says,

The rumor that got abroad, and which was published in these columns, that Mr. J. W. Leonard, the popular superintendent of the C. P. R. in Toronto, had accepted the position as general manager of the Intercolonial Railway, proves to be incorrect. Mr. Leonard writes The Times that there is no truth in the rumor.

No Alteration Necessary.

The Ontario Provincial Secretary's department has been in receipt of a number of enquiries from issuers of marriage licenses throughout the province, who are anxious to learn if the accession of a new monarch will affect the forms of marriage licenses. The change of the sovereign will not require any alteration in the licenses.

A Business Body.

Here is a "pointer" for some of our county councils: The county council of Halton for the past four years have elected their warden, done the business of they county and returned home all on the same day. Halton is not a very large county, but still is a business-like record that larger counties might envy.

Foresters' Mass Meeting

A mass meeting of Foresters was held last night in Bradburn's Opera House, which was addressed by several prominent speakers, including Rev. A. Macgillivray and Hon. Dr. Montague. There was also some local and instrumental music, which helped to make the evening pass pleasantly. The principal speakers dealt with the financial status of the Society, about which there has been considerable discussion in the press lately.

Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder has proved a blessing to many a "man before the public" in cases of hoarseness, bad throat, tonsilitis and catarrh. Some of the most recent evidence of its efficacy comes from a well-known actor, whose home is in New York City. He says: "I have never found anything to equal this remedy for quick relief." 50 cents.—137

Railway Notes.

An effort is being made by the Grand Trunk Railway Company to have completed its double track between Hamilton and Niagara Falls early next summer, in time to accommodate the Pan-American Exposition business. The second track has been laid and is ready for use between Hamilton and Jordan, a distance of twenty-six miles. The tracklaying and ballasting between Jordan and Niagara Falls, a distance of 16 miles, will be pushed as soon as the weather permits, in order that the work may be completed in time.

Oath of Fealty to King Edward.

Local and country officials and officers appointed under the Dominion or Ontario governments have not yet taken their oath of fealty to the person and throne of King Edward VII. They are waiting for a new Commission "dedemus poreatatem" to issue from the Lieutenant-Governor, the duty of which will be to take the oath of allagiance of all persons so appointed. By Royal proclamation from His Excellency the Governor-General and with the approval of His Majesty King Edward VII., all officers continue to act and execute the duties of their respective offices.

Ashburnham Civic Association.

At the meeting some days ago, a committee was appointed to draft a programme, and draw up a constitution, to be submitted to the public meeting of the men of the village to be held in the Council Chamber, on Friday evening, Feb. 8, at 8 o'clock. The committee met on Wednesday evening, and performed the duties assigned them. Of course, all the suggestions from this committee are subject to change at the general meeting. As the Association is to be entirely undenominational and non-sectarian, it is hoped that there will be a large attendance of the men of the village at the meeting [illegible]

PICTURE OF QUEEN VICTORIA AND KING EDWARD.

The demand for the fine large colored picture of the late Queen Victoria and King Edward VII.—splendid portraits of both the royal mother and son—which The Times is offering to its subscribers, is very great. We give one of these handsome plates to people who will pay for three months' subscription to the daily, or one year's subscription to the Weekly Times. These are pictures that should be in every home, as they are well worth framing. They are nicely lithographed in seven colors. We will also have, in a few days, equally fine pictures of the new Queen, which will also be given free on payment of three months' subscription to the Morning Times. By paying three dollars entitles the subscriber to four of these handsome pictures.

A SPLENDID EQUIPMENT.

The Times Job Room Leads in Modern Facilities.

The Times job department has been forced to improve its equipment in order to keep up with the class of work it has been doing until it is now one of the modern printing houses of the country. In addition to the regular lines of job printing, we have for years done stereotyping and engraving. The other day we added a very fine embossing machine to our plant, which will enable us to do a class of work that can only be done in the large cities.

Importance of the Food Cure.

To discover a food that will cure a nervous wreck is indeed a Godsend. Mrs. Stella Penal, 1227 West Thirty-first street, Los Angeles, Cal., had a very remarkable experience. She says. "About twelve years ago, I was run over by a carriage and my spine injured. My left arm partially paralyzed, walking was difficult and I had continual pains and aches in my whole body.

"To induce a movement of the bowels, I invariably had to resort to mechanical means. I would sit up in bed for hours, suffering severe colicky pains, caused by the non-digestion of the starch of the food. My heart was so weak that at times no pulse could be felt, and it seemed at times as if I must die. I fainted very often, sometimes lying in a half fainting condition for hours, unable to move or speak, though conscious.

Shortly after Xmas Providence directed me to buy a box of Grape-Nuts food, which I have since eaten twice a day.

"The improvement in health has been wonderful, now I can eat and digest food, my bowels act naturally and regularly, circulation is better, catarrh moderated, and I have gained much in weight and am better every day. I can read and think, while before, my eyes and brain felt too weak to do either. I can walk a long ways and have not used my air cushion for some time and I have no further need of it."

This is a direct demonstration of the fact that Grape-Nuts food surely does rebuild the soft, gray matter in the brain and nerve centers, and any depleted person can prove this by use. One can not get well of nervous troubles without the right sort of food to rebuild this curious substance which is found in the brain, and this must be rebuilt from the food. Grape-Nuts food is made especially for the purpose.

CURLING.

Toronto Telegram: Curling for the Ontario Tankard is now fairly under way. Most of the districts are paid off, and some of the old reliable clubs are down and out. Lindsay will not appear in Toronto this year, as Peterborough had the honor of giving the famous Flavelle his quietus. Guelph, Galt, Bright and St. Mary's are among the other old clubs that are down and out. All returns from the districts should be in by February 4th, when the dates for the finals will be fixed.

HOCKEY.

The R. M. C. team, of Kingston, is going to lose a good man in Walter Loudon, their hockey goalkeeper and full back on the gridiron. He expects to get a commission in the South African Mounted Police.

The return Intermediate O.H.A. match between Port Hope and Peterborough has been postponed, owing to the fact that the Port Hope rink was not in proper condition.

There was a good practice game of the Colts' team last night.

STOP LOSING MONEY!

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 50 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 146 W. 42d Street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our Statement!

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. We average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

STORIES OF CONGRESSMEN

When Morgan Wasn't Arrested. Stark and the Menagerie.

It is not generally known, perhaps, that Senator Morgan of Alabama was once threatened with arrest for alleged complicity in the assassination of Lincoln. Of course, Senator Morgan was not only innocent but actually did not hear of Lincoln's death until a week after it had occurred. He was then a farmer in Dallas county, his practice of the law having been prohibited by the Federal authorities, and he was ploughing corn when he heard that an order had been received by Gen. McArthur, at Selma, to arrest him and sent him to Washington for complicity in the Lincoln assassination. Senator Morgan went into his house, attired himself in his Confederate General's uniform, with starred epaulettes, belt, sword, and other accoutrements complete. Then he saddled his plough horse and rode to Selma, where he presented himself to Gen. McArthur.

"Good morning, General," he said.

"Good morning, General," replied McArthur, recognizing Morgan's rank. "For what am I indebted for this visit?"

"I have come to be sent to Washington," remarked Morgan. "I understand you have an order to send me there."

Gen. McArthur expressed surprise to learn that the existence of the order was known, and smiled when Gen. Morgan told him that ex-Confederates had not lost their habit of acquiring information. Then he remarked that the order would not be obeyed—or, at least, not until there had been a reasonable delay. This did not suit Morgan, who wanted to go to Washington to present some claims for destroyed cotton and was quite willing to travel at Government expense.

"I want to make one request of you," said Morgan. "When I went into the war I had $15,000 in gold in a bank in Selma. When I came back from the war I found that my gold had given place to $15,000 in Confederate money. With that $15,000 I bought half a box of tobacco. With some of the tobacco I secured coffee and sugar and shoes for my family, and the rest of it went for seventeen shoats. I kept those shoats until they were fat enough to kill, and now I have more meat than any other man in Dallas county. When I go to Washington, General, I want you to put a guard around my smokehouse."

"General," replied McArthur, laughingly, "you had better go home and guard the smokehouse yourself, and by the way," he added, "the restriction against your practice of the law will be removed."

Senator Morgan went back to his family and his plough, and he has never heard anything of the order from that day to this.

When a Congressman campaigns through his district he is sure to have some funny experiences. Sometimes he talks from the top of a sugar barrel, sometimes he utilizes a buggy as a platform, and sometimes, as did Representative Stark of Nebraska, he delivers an oration to the accompaniment of the noise of wild beasts.

It happened in the town of Fairbury, Neb. Col. Stark had been billed to speak in that prairie metropolis but the opera house was engaged by a traveling theatrical company, and the Republicans had leased the only other available hall. On the outskirts of the town a circus was wintering, and it possessed, among other things, a training barn. The Populists hired the barn, filled it with circus seats, secured some gasolene lamps and started their meeting. The chairman mounted an elephant tub and solemnly announced that they had gathered to dedicate a new temple of liberty and justice. Then Congressman Stark arose.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said he.

"Roar-r-r-r," went the lion.

"In this eventful campaign," continued Col. Stark, whereupon the hyena howled.

"I come to speak to you—"

The elephant trumpeted with majestic noise.

"In advocacy of the great principles represented by—"

The camel gave a huge snort, and a man behind the scenes hit the beast a whack that sounded like a frame house falling down.

"—our great and glorious leader, the peerless statesman and matchless orator, William J. Bryan—"

At that moment all the animals in the barn joined in a tremendous chorus. The lions roared, the elephants trumpted, the hyenas howled, the camels snorted. A shiver of fear ran through the audience. "—at the mention of whose name," remarked Congressman Stark, after the noise had subsided, "even the wild beasts lift their voices in a tumult of appreciative joy!"

Anybody who heard Senator Allen of Nebrask deliver his famous fifteen-hour speech against the bill for the repeal of the Sherman silver bill would hardly believe that anything could stump him. Yet there is an experience in the Senator's life which shows that after all, he is like unto other mortals.

"I was campaigning in my State once," said the Senator, "when I had occasion to speak at a fair grounds. The grand stand was full, and the occasion seemed to be full of promise for an orator overflowing, as I was, with political gospel. Just as I had commenced, a man brought out an ostrich hitched to a sulky. I don't know whether you ever saw the trotting ostrich in the East, but out West he was a great attraction. Well, as soon as that bird began to run around the track, I wasn't in it. The ostrich monopolized the attention of every man, woman and child. When the bird stopped the people listened to me, but when he threw out his long legs again there was a roar of laughter and applause which drowned every word I uttered. Finally I gave it up. I let the trotting ostrich have everything his own way."

TELEPHONE POINTERS

One of the many good points of a telephone is that a message cannot fail to reach its hearer correctly. Another good point is that it reaches all points, and that everybody in the city or country worth doing business with has a telephone. Another good point is the economy of time and money. Another point — can you afford to be without one, at home or office?

OTTAWA PARLIAMENT WILL BE OPENED TO-DAY.

Social Functions to be Abandoned and There Will be a very Slim Attendance.

(Special to The Times.)

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—The Canadian Parliament will be opened to-day with less noise and frills than ever before. The principal business to-day will be the election of a Speaker, and the formal ceremonies take place to-morrow. The desks in the Commons Chamber were all ticketed off to-day. The seats were allotted some time ago, but the names were not placed on them. New carpets have been laid and all is in order for the political combat.

Owing to the national mourning it will be a quiet opening. All the social functions have been abandoned; there will be no State dinner, no receptions, and those who attend on the floor of the Senate at the opening ceremonies on Thursday will be in the deepest mourning. Lady Minto and the wives and daughters of Cabinet Ministers have given notice that they will not be seated on the floor of the Senate at the ceremonies there, and that means that there will be a very slim attendance outside those who will view the proceedings from the galleries. The receptions which the Speakers always give after the opening have been abandoned. The fact that Deputy Speaker BBrodeur is the Government nominee for the Speakership means that he will be elected. Indeed, there will be no opposition, for Mr. Brodeur is popular on both sides of the House. The Deputy Speaker will no doubt be Dr. Macdonald of Huron. The Government have the appointment of a Speaker for the Senate, and Senator Power has been given the position.

The members are arriving to attend to their parliamentary duties. Lieut.-Col. Prior, M.P. for Victoria, B.C., arrived on Saturday, and T. O. Davis, M.P. for Saskatatchewan, came yesterday. Dr. Douglas, M.P. for East Assiniboia, is also here. Hugh Guthrie, M.P. for South Wellington, who will move the address in reply to the speech from the throne, has also arrived. Mr. Charles Marcil will second it.

In the Senate the address will be moved by Senator John V. Ellis, and seconded by Senator Lyman Melvin-Janes.

Hon. J. I. Tarte returned to the city on Saturday from New York, where he was looking at some American dredges before starting to build ne wones in Canada. Mr. Trate arrived home in time to attend the memorial service in Christ Church.

VERY FAVORABLE SHOWING.

Fourth Annual Shareholders' Meeting of Trust and Guarantee Co., Ltd.

Paid-up Stock Increased to $410,284 During the year.

The fourth annual general meeting of the shareholders of the Trusts and Guarantee Company, Limited, was held in the offices of the Company, 14 King street west, Toronto, on Wednesday, January 30th. The shareholders were well represented at the meeting.

The report of the Directors was presented, and it gave a very favorable showing of the progress and prosperity of the company. The year's operations had, after payment of all expenses of management, etc., yielded profits which permitted the Company to declare two half-yearly dividends at the rate of five per cent. per annum, besides supplying the sum of $5,568.79, which was placed to the credit of profit and loss account.

The report refers to the facts of the assets of the Company being so invested as to afford satisfactory earnings. The Expense Account of the past year contains items representing expenditures incurred for the purpose of making known the advantages of the Company, and the result of an increased employment of the Company in its several fiduciary capacities has been such as to afford much gratification.

The confidence of the shareholders in the stability of the Company and their recognition of its value as a safe and profitable medium of investment, are shown by the fact that during the year a considerable number have exercised the privilege given at the last annual meeting of paying in the uncalled portion of their stock. This was done to the extent of $102,514.71, thus increasing the paid-up stock to the considerable amount of $410,284, 71, which places the Company's financial standing in a very satisfactory position before the public.

The President, Hon. J. R. Stratton, in moving the adoption of the report, referred to the fact that the great prosperity enjoyed by the business interests of the country at large had been gratifyingly shared by the Company, and reference was also made to the fact that the experience of this and other similar companies was demonstrating that thoughtful and prudent men with large financial interests concerned were coming more and more to recognize that Trust Companies were the safest and most satisfactory agents in the administration of estates, affording ample security and careful and effective service at reasonable rates.

Altogether the showing of the company for the past year is very satisfactory.

After congratulatory remarks by the Vice-President, Mr. D. W. Karn, and by shareholders the following Board of Directors was elected—Hon. J. R. Stratton, W. J. McKee, Peter Hamilton, A. W. Campbell, Richard Hall, A. F. Rutter, Hon. George E. Foster, Hon. Senator McMillan, A. F. McLaren, M. P., W. J. Sheppard, J. G. Wallace, A. C. Macdonald, C. Kloepfer, W. M. German, Alf. MacDougall, F. C. Taylor, J. V. Teetzel, A. L. Davis, W. H. Comstock, F. M. Holland A. M. MacKinnon, D. W. Karn, W A. Stratton, T. S. Hobbs, T. P. Coffee, G. G. S. Lindsey, R. R. McLennan, M. P.

Subsequently at a meeting of the Board of Directors Hon. J. R. Stratton was re-elected President, and Messrs. D. W. Karn and C. Kloepfer Vice-President.

ANTICOSTI'S FUTURE.

The Island is the Greatest Lobster Producing Fishery on the Globe A Large Pulp Factory to be Erected There.

New York. Feb. 6.—"Menier's plans for developing his recently purchased island of Anticosti are broad. They include the building of towns, the clearing of land, the construction of roads and railways, the building of a deep seaport, and the development of the natural resources of the island, such as agricultural products, fisheries and and paper pulp.

"A fair start has been made. The old settlement of English BBay, which consisted of a few scattered fishermen's huts, is now the seat of authority on the island.

A regular town has been laid out with streets, a plaza, sanitary plumbing school, and all that goes to make up the modern community. The hospital is a model of its class, and is upervised by a surgeon of scientific attainments. The store is thoroughly equipped, carrying goods valued at thirty thousand dollars.

"There is a gymnasium and music hall combined, and quarters for married and unmarried employes. On the outskirts of the town is a farm laid out and managed on modern principles. It is officially designated as the Central Farm, and from it are controlled minor farms and clearings on the island. The chief of agriculture. M. Picard, has had experience in various parts of the world, having served as an agricultural expert on the Congo for the Franch Government.

"It is an important part of Menier's plan to surround himself with thoroughly competent men. The scheme of administration includes a governor, M. Cometrant, who was born in New York city, and various chiefs of service. M. Landrieu is the chief accountant; M. Jaquemart, a Franch engineer of note, is the chief of public works; M. Picard, chief of agriculture; Dr. Schmitt, sergeon-in-chief; Mr. Doggett. chief of fisheries; Captain Belanger, chief of marine service, and Mr. Gibsone, legal adviser.

"Under these directions of departments are many skilled workmen and laborers, the whole making an admirably organized force. Menier is, of course, the absolute ruler, and associated with him as a valued adviser in his friend, M. Georges Martin-Zede, a well-known Parisian."

"The improvements contemplated and now under way include the building of a deep-sea port at Ellis Bay, the making of roads, and the construction of important lobster canneries at Fox Bay. The latter industry is one of the best on the island. Anticosti is considered the greatest lobster producing fishery on earth. The immense forests of spruce on the island will be utilized in the near future, Menier's intention being to erect a large pulp factory, and to export the product to England, France and the United Stated.

"The winning of such an enormous territory from desolation and its conversion into a productive centre, with all that such a consummation means for civilzation, is worth the efforts of any man.

"It is the act of a benefactor."

BY HIS BROTHER'S SIDE.

Beattie Committed Suicide in Bed and Tragedy was not Discovered till Morning.

Philadelphia, Feb, 5.—James Beattie, 22 years old committed suicide by shooting at his home on the southeast corner of Gunther and Oakford streets early yesterday morning. The young man was a machinest and had not been working for several months. In consequence of his inability to get employment he became despondent.

Beattie went out Saturday night and did not return until midnight. He went straight to his room and went to bed without disturbing his 17-year-old brother, who slept with him.

It is not known what time Beattie killed himself. Although his brother was sleeping by his side the pistol shot did not disturb him, neither was it heard by two younger brothers who occupied another bed in the room. The body was discovered by Mrs. Beattie, who went to the room to get adress about 8 o'clock.

The bullet had entered the right temple and penetrated the brain. John Beattie. the suicide's father, who is a bartender, notified the police of the Seventeenth district of the case.

Special Policeman McWilliams learned that Beattie had been in the habit of passing the evening with friends, and the inference is that the unfortunate machinest keenly felt his inability to spend money as freely as the others, For several weeks past BBeattie had been in low spirits, and during most of his time at home he sat in some secluded corner brooding.

The revolver with which he shot himself was in the upper drawer of a bureau which was standing close to the head of the bed. The drawer was half open and a box of catridges was inside. Beattie some time during the morning reached in the drawer for his revolver and, putting the cartridges in the chamber, fired the shot that took his life.

THE SALOON SMASHERS

Women Are Becoming Addicted to the Newest Fad.

THE NORTH TO BE INVADED

And Even Canada is Threatened by the Mrs. Nation Craze.

Women Organizing in Every State of the Union, Having for Their Object the Destruction of Saloons and Bars.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 5.—Mrs. Carrie Nation is really the head of a national movement having for a reading having for its object the raiding of saloons and bars. In a speech last night, to her friends she said that preporations were being made to invade the cities of the north, and that Canada would also be attacked. Hundreds of women are daily joining the movement.

Sioux City, Iowa, Feb. 5.— Fifteen or twenty imitators of Mrs. Nation got in their work yesterday afternoon at South Sioux City, Neb. About 20 women met at the home of Mrs. William Luther and accompanied by Capt. William Luther, marshal of the town, and Steve Gasser, a member of the City Council, they marched double file down the street to John Peyson's saloon. The place was locked and Capt. Luther kicked in the front door. Mrs. O. P. Dow sailed after a slot machine and then all the women set about carrying out the furniture and everything they could lay hands on and depositing it in the street. No whisky was found.

Mrs. John A. Davis climbed up a ladder and knocked a brewing company's sign of the building. She also painted over the word "Saloon" with white paint.

The crowd then moved towards John Blenkiron's building in which George Ammerman is said to keep a gambling joint. Blenkiron announced that if any one went into his building it would be over his dead body. The women decided not to try.

While the owmen were raiding the saloon a crowd of men, non-sympathizers, stood on the sidewalk nearby and derisively sang, "Nearer, My God to The."

The women say they are not through.

Mrs. Leitch, wife of the keeper of another alleged saloon, has a big gun and promises to make trouble if the temperance women shall come to her husband's place.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 5.—Mrs. Carrie Nation yesterday sent a personal letter to all the saloon keepers in Topeka worning them to stop their business. The letter was addressed to "The Joint Keepers of Topeka; My Dear Hell-Bound Sinners."

Mrs. Nation suggested in the letter that the joint keepers appoint a place of meeting with her in which the situation could be carefully canvassed and a decision concerning the future disposition of the "joints" arrived at. She intimated that forcible measures would soon begin if they did not heed her advice and close up.

Wichita, Han., Feb. 5.—The question as to whether property used as a saloon in Kansas is entitled to the protection of law is now squarely before the courts and will be decided some time next month. A fe wweeks ago Mrs. Sheriff, the woman who led the destructive raid at Anthony on Wednesday smashed a saloon at Danville Harper county. Frank Osborne, the owner of the building, has brought suit against her in the district court for damages.

Mrs. Sheriff is in good financial circumstances, and has employed the ablest legal talent to fight the case.

Detroit, Feb. 5.—Detroit W. C. T. U. women voted to send $20 to Carrie Nation to help her in her crusade against the Kansas saloons. Dr. Mary Willard, secretary of the union, said: "Mrs. Nation is doing work which God has fitted her to do, I firmly believe and, as her name indicates, she will carry the nation in this noble work of hers. Violence sometimes will do what nothing else will and Mrs. Nation feels that everything else has been tried in Kansas and failed, and so I say she ought to be encouraged by every Christian woman and man in the land."

PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

Trustee Ferguson submitted the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Property Committee beg leave to report that in reference to the George Street School, we find the lease expires on the 1st September next; we have the privilege of renewing for a further term of five years at the same rent, viz: $400 and taxes. We have no recommendation to make at the present time, but leave the matter in the hands of the Board.

After duly considering the matter of supplying the janitors with brooms and soap, we cannot see our way clear to recommend the same, but in comparing the salaries paid the different janitors, we recommend that Cole Barrett be paid $10 a year additional.

We advertised for tenders for three hundred cords of hardwood and tamarac, to be delivered at the different schools, and had already made contracts for about two hundred cords at $4.00 a cord for green hardwood and $3.00 for tamarac.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was adopted as read.

Dr. Burnham presented the Finance Committee's report as follows:

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was adopted as read.

CIGARETTE SMOKING.

On motion of Trustee Hill, seconded by Trustee Dr. Burnham, the communication from the W.C.T.U. was referred to the Inspector and the Supervision Committee with power to act.

Board was of the opinion that the law regarding the sale of tobacco and cigarettes to boys is not by any means enforced, and some means should be taken to insure a reform in this direction. The suggestion of the W.C.T.U. for the setting aside of an allotted time in the several schools in order that school children might be instructed as to the evils resulting from cigarette smoking and a use of tobacco in any other way, especially by boys, was favorably received, hence the above resolution.

WILL BE INVESTIGATED.

Wm. Patterson was permitted to address the Board regarding his complaint against a teacher, and the matter was left in the hands of the Principal of the Institute and Chairman of the Supervision Committee.

The Board then adjourned.

THE PRINCE'S VISIT.

His Royal Highness was Offically Welcomed by Mayor Sawers.

The Times was in error in stating that Mr. Charles Perry was Mayor of Peterborough at the time of the visit of the Prince of Wales in 1860. The office of chief magistrate was filled—and ably filled too—by Mr. Augustus Sawers, father of Ald John Sawers. Mayor Sawers went to Quebec at his own expense, and arranged for the Prince to visit Peterborough.

The Royal party rode over from Cobourg to Harwood, on horseback, where they took a steamer for Hiawatha, there, a train on the old Cobourg road was waiting, and conveyed the party to Ashburnham, where a procession was formed, and after parading the principal streets, wound up at Victoria Park where Mayor Sawers read the civic address to the Prince.

"Uncle" Jim Welsch, who died only a short time ago in Winnipeg, drove the carriage containing the Prince, the Duke of Newcastle and Mayor Sawers. It is said that when the party was passing through the lumbermen's arch, (a full discription of which appeared in The Times a few days ago), and which was a mammoth affair, made from newly sawn lumber, and covered with millmen, he enquired as to who the men were. "Uncle Jim turned around in his seat and replied that these men were the "bone and sinew of Canada, and would make famous soldiers if ever the Queen wanted them, as they could whip their weight in wildcats."

A PROSPEROUS INSTITUTION.

Fourth Annual Meeting of the Trust and Guarantee Company.

The report of the fourth annual meeting of this young and vigorous institution will be found in another column, Hon. J. R. Stratton, the President pointed out that the company has shared in the general business prosperity of the country, and that the custom of entrusting the administration of estates to reliable companies in preference to private executors who may or may not be competent and responsible, is growing. The shareholders have paid-up their stock freely and the company's earnings, after paying a 5 per cent. dividend, left a creditable surplus.

EMPEROR WILLIAM RETURNS TO GERMANY

He Was Loudly Cheered by Crowds in London--The King Bids Him Farewell.

London, Feb. 5.

Emperor William has returned on board the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern at Port Victoria, on his way home, after receiving from London crowds demonstrative expression of their appreciation of his prolonged visit to London. The Emperor's passage through London was somewhat marred by bad weather. Unmistakable evidence of the place he has won in the hearts of the English people was seen in the affection with which he was bidden farewell by King Edward, the Duke of Connaught, and other members of the Royal family.

A naval parade greeted the Emperor's arrival at Port Victoria, where all the war vessels dressed ship, this being further evidence of the exceptional official cordiality existing between the two countries. Emperor William was accompanied by Crown Prince Frederick William and the Duke of Sparta. It was at Charing Cross Railroad Station, subsequent to the luncheon at Marlboro House that the chief ovation occurred. The crowds packed densely, cheered loudly as each State carriage, containing the members of the German suite passed, and shouted themselves hoarse, when behind a brilliant escort of Life Guards, Emperor William, King Edward, Crown Prince Frederick William and the Duke of Connaught, drove up in the same carriage. The Archbishop of York, Field Marshal Earl Roberts, the Lord Mayor and many distinguished people, including the members of the German Embassy and a number of officers gathered on the platform to bid farewell to Emperor William. The last was in the highest spirits. He talked, laughed and shook hands with all around and smiled continually. King Edward was equally cheerful. He appeared to be in better health than for weeks past. After an affectionate farewell between the two monarchs, the train started out, amid the playing of the National Anthem by the band of the Coldstream Guards and the cheers of the people. King Edward ran forward to take a final grip of Emperor William's hand, which was held out of a window. It was evident that none was better pleased at the day's proceedings than the Emperor himself.

A number of German detectives followed in his footsteps and boarded the Imperial train before it started Emperor William wore a British Field Marshal's uniform and King Edward and the Duke of Connaught wore German uniforms. For the first time in many days the flags in the streets and on buildings flew at the flag staff heads. The German flag was conspicuously displayed.

Paris, Feb. 6.

The Rome correspondent of the Temps says a letter from the Vatican has been posted to Archbishop Martinell, the Apostolic delegate to the United States, notifying him that he will be created a cardinal. The correspondent adds that other letters will shortly be dispatched, as eight or ten new cardinals will be created at the coming consistory.

London, Jan. 5.

Professor Sir Felix Seymour physician for diseases of the throat to the National Hospital for epilepsy and paralysis, and president of the Aarenigological Society of London, asks the Associated Press to say there is positively no word of truth in the story published in the United States that King Edward is suffering from cancer of the throat. Sir Felix Seymour wishes it to be called a "Scandalous invention, and ridiculous report."

BOUNDARY NOT WELL DEFINED

May be Trouble Over the Boundary Line in British Columbia

Washington, Feb. 5. — The United States Government will endeavor to arrange with Great Britain for a resurvey of the boundary between the United States and the Province of British Columbia. Secretary of State Hay has expressed a desire for the formation of an international commission. In order to meet the pressing demands for the re-establishment of the boundary in the mining districts of the State of Washington and British Columbia, the Coast and Geodetic Survey and Geological Survey united in making an immediate topographical and mineralogical recognizance of the mountainous region, the 49th parallel west of the Rocky Mountains, and will send out two agents for this purpose immediately.

It is feared by a large number of the miners and mine owners who have properties in the Cascade regions, particularly in the State of Washington, that grave trouble, and possibly bloodshed will result at the opening of the season in the month of March, if no arrangement is made whereby the disputed question of the boundary may be settled.

The original northwest boundary survey cost the Government approximately $500,000. At that time it was decided by the joint commission representing the United States and Great Britain that it would be inadvisable to mark the boundary in the dense Cascade region. It was believed that it would be generations before the country along the 49th parallel between the Rocky Mountains and Puget Sound district would be settled, but it is admitted by both the United States and Canadian authorities at this time that the discovery of rich mineral deposits makes the immediate location of the boundary as a necessity.

Canadian officials intimate that the intention was to settle the matter at the International Commission of 1898, but as that body has indefinitely postponed its deliberations the Canadian Government is willing to take up the boundary question independent of other issues.

CHINESE OBJECT TO PUNISHING TUAN

Several Provincial Viceroys May Be Requested to Kill Themselves.

Pekin, Feb. 4.—The first joint meeting between the foreign envoys and the Chinese plenipotentiaries will be held to-morrow. Only Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching have plenipotentiary rights. The other Chinese have merely the status of advisers.

All the envoys have agreed to maintain absolute secrecy, and will endeavor to impress the Chinese with the importance of similar reserve, but as a matter of fact there are many Chinese who already know exactly the programme of to-morrow's meeting.

All rumors and reports that large numbers have been listed for punishment are without foundation, as only twelve provincial authorities have been named. These the Chinese will be requested to punish commensurately with their misdeeds. There is a private understanding that at least half of them will be executed, or requested to commit suicide, while others may be banished or imprisoned.

The real subject liable to cause delay is the punishment of the officials of Pekin and the Province of Chi Li, regarding which the envoys have not yet reached an agreement. There is little doubt that the Chinese plenipotentiaries will agree so far as the provincials are concerned, although there may be a few days delay while the plenipotentiaries shall confer with the court. without doubt Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching have been ordered to protest to the utmost, against the execution of Prince Tuan or any Prince of the blood royal. This is a source of disagreement among the envoys, many of whom feel that if Prince Tuan shall go unpunished all others ought to go free. The Chinese plenipotentiaries profess to be unable to understand how Prince Tuan can be punished while his son is the heir apparent.

200 BRITISH WERE TAKEN BY BOERS

When They Rushed Modderfontein on January 30th.

Cape Town, Jan. 5.

The Boers captured 200 British when they rushed Modderfontein Jan. 30. The prisoners were subsequently released. Thirty British were killed or wounded.

London, Feb. 5.—It is reported in London that the Boers commanded by, Blake are threatening Lorenzo Marques and that Portugal has requested British assistance. It is further asserted that a British squadron has been ordered to Lorenzo Marquez. No official confirmation of the reports is obtainable.

The above story is not at all likely to be accurate. By attacking Lorenzo Marques the Boers would only raise up Portugal against them, and it is not likely that they wil ladd to the weight already on their shoulders. The story is a palpable fake.

BOERS IN ARMS ARE 19,000.

London, Feb. 5.—The Pretoria correspondent of the Times estimates that there are 19,000 Boers still out, and says that more British troops are required.

The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "It appears that in the action between Gen. Knox and General De Wet, near Senekal, the Kaffrarian Rifles sustained about a hundred casualties. More mounted troops are still needed."

TO EXAMINE POLICE RECRUITS.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 5.—Capt. F. L. Vaux, of the Army Medical Service, who went through the South African campaign with "D" Battery, has been appointed chief medical officer for the examination of the 1,000 recruits to be sent from South Africa from Canada for Baden-Powell's police. He will probably go to Afrion with the recruits.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Spain is thinking of putting in a claim for another $10.000.000 for the Philippines. It's a big bluff, and Gibraltar showed Spain couldn't hold its big bluffs.

Officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company state there is no foundation or authority for the reeport sent out from Vancouver that the C.P.R. had about concluded a deal by which it will take over the White Pass Railway, in connection with which it was also reported that the company has arranged to take over the fleet of steamers now owned by the Canadian Development Company.

Toronto letter carriers are making a vigorous fight, it is stated, for higher wages in co-operation with those of other cities. They have sent a memorial to the Postmaster-General, pointing out that the cost of living has greatly increased, and that the letter carriers are the most poorly paid of all public officials. The scale of wages was fixed twenty-six years ago, the letter carriers starting in at $360, and getting an increase of $30 yearly, until a maximum of $600 is reached. The men complain that even the increase has not been given regularly.

In discussing the possible invasion of England by France, Mr. Smiff, of the Bobcaygeon Independent, puts it this way:—"This great and prophetic journal can, however, clearly forsee what should take place should a French army of twenty or thirty thousand men advance on London, and occupy the British metropolis. In two hours after arrival they would all be separated and lost in London's vastness; in three hours they would all be arrested by the police, and in six hours would all be locked up in jail undergoing sentence as vagrants."

DEAD MEN ON THE PILOT.

Erie Flyer Presents a Horrifying Spectacle to a Crowd.

Elmira, Feb. 5.—When Erie flyer No. 5 from New York dashed into the union station in this city at 10.15 o'clock to-night passengers who crowded the platform were horrified to see the mangled, bleeding bodies of two men impaled upon the engine pilot. A patrolman hurried to the engine cab to notify the engineer, but he was on the opposite side oiling the locomotive and did not learn of the double tragedy until he came around in front of the pilot to oil the other side. It is thought the men, who are unknown, were struck at a crossing three miles below the city.

The ghastly figures were quickly covered with blankets and a patrol wagon hurried them to the morgue. Many women at the station fainted at the sight.

Late to-night visitors at the morgue identified the men as James Kelly, a saloonkeeper, and L. D. Simons, a laborer, both Elmirans.

Lived Under Five Sovereigns

Mrs. Annie Sterling, grandmother of Mrs. J. S. Knapman, London street, died in Toronto on Friday, at the residence of her son, Mr. Walter Sterling, 106 Charleton street, at the great age of 93 years. Mrs. Sterling was the widow of the late John Sterling, J.P., and had lived in five reigns—George III, George IV, William IV, Victoria and Edward VII. She was a resident of Toronto for over 60 years. Only two of eleven children survive Mr. Walter Sterling, chief accountant for Toronto, and Mr. F. M. Sterling, of Los Angeles, Cal. Mrs. Knapman left for Toronto this morning to attend the funeral.

Very Truthful.

The following from the Picton Gazette truthfully applies to Peterborough. "That taxes discourage industry, neatness and good taste is self evident. In effect by our present system of assessment, an enterprising man suffers punishment and an annual fine for being enterprising. The man who lets his land lie idle, or does not improve his premises, pays a low tax. The man who employs labor and buys material to erect a house or manufactory on his land pays a high tax. Our present method of taxation is a millstone around the neck of industry. Even if a man adds another story to his house or a back building, up goes his taxes. If the business of a manufacturer increases and he builds an addition to his shop to employ a hundred more hands, to the great benefit of the community, we raise taxes. How can such a system be defended?

A Big Luminous Tree.

Every one has heard of luminous plants and shrubs, but comparatively few people are aware of the existence in Nevada of a luminous tree of large proportions. The Indians have always entertained a wholesome dread of this tree, and have a number of legends connected with it, some of which are clearly founded on the Biblical story of Moses and the burning bush. As a result of their superstition the tree has come to be known as the "witch tree," and is quite a source of interest among people for miles around. It is a valuable landmark at night, as it can be seen half a mile away, and the phosphorous substance which exudes from it is so powerful that it is possible to read a few words of print held close to it. Several botanists and tree scientists have made journeys to inspect and report on the tree, but we have never seen a really intelligent explanation of what seems to be quite a unique phenomenon.

What Makes Home?

Home is made by the family. Without the love which comes with children there may be a house but never a home in the best meaning of the word. Many a house which was only four walls and a roof has been made a home by the agency of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Nature sets her face against childlessness and "Favorite Prescription" works with nature to remove the obstacles to maternity.

"I had been a sufferer from uterine trouble for about three years, having two miscarriages in that time and the doctors that I consulted said I would have to go through an operation before I could give birth to children," writes Mrs. Blanche E. Evans, of Parsons, Luzerne Co., Pa., Box 41. "When about to give up in despair, I bought a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and after taking it felt better than I had for years. Felt improved before I had taken one-half bottle. After taking four and a half bottles I gave birth to a bright baby girl who is now four months old and has not had a day of sickness. She is as bright as can be. I cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay cost of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for paper covered book or 50 stamps for cloth covered to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Root and Branch.

Sarah, Duchess of Marlborough, was accustomed to make an annual feast, to which she invited all her relations. At one of these family meetings she drank their health, adding, "What a glorious sight it is to see such a number of branches flourishing from one root!" But observing Jack Spencer laugh, she insisted on knowing what had occasioned his mirth, and promised to forgive him, be it what it would.

"Why, then, madam," said he, "I was thinking how much more the branches would flourish if the root were under ground."

What a Whale Weighs.

Have you any idea of the size of the common Greeland Whale? N l son, the zoologist, estimates the full-grown animal to average 100 tons, or 224,000 pounds. That is to say, a whale weighs as much as about eighty elephants or 400 bears. Of course some run larger than this. There are tales among old whalers of whales 110 feet long, and weighing at least 150 tons, but they are not seen in these days. A seventy-foot whale is a big one now. Still, it may give some idea of what monsters are occasionally killed when we mention that a ton of oil has been extracted from the tongue alone of a single whale.

A Well Trained Boy

Mr. Goodfather had brought up his son according to the good old model which teaches that children shall be seen and not heard, say "Yes, sir," and "No, sir," and respect their elders.

When Johnnie went to college he arranged with his father that on his arrival there, if he found everything satisfactory, he would telegraph "Yes." When the telegram arrived the busy father had forgotten what "Yes" referred to, so he wired back, "Yes, what?" and Johnnie answered, "Yes, sir."

The Athletic Girl.

The athletic girl is apt to be influential, to have power—and most of us like this—and when she expresses an opinion she is generally listened to with respect. A sound mind in a sound body is the superlative of attraction, and this a girl may and should possess. For most girls, as for many older women too, it is well to strive for the rounded life, the life of symmetry, the life which is not unduly developed in one direction at the expense of another.—Ladies' Home Journal.

250,000 Cured.

WE CURE STRICTURE

Thousands of young and middle aged men are troubled with this disease—many unconsciously. They may have a smarting sensation, small, twisting stream, sharp cutting pains at times, slight discharge, difficulty in commencing, weak organs, emissions, and all the symptoms of nervous debility—they have STRICTURE. Don't let doctors experiment on you, by cutting, stretching, or tearing you. This will not cure you, as it will return. Our NEW METHOD TREATMENT absorbs the stricture tissue; hence removes the stricture permanently. It can never return. No pain, no suffering, no detention from business by our method. The sexual organs are strengthened. The nerves are invigorated, and the bliss of manhood returns.

WE CURE GLEET

Thousands of young and middle aged men are having their sexual vigor and vitality continually sapped by this disease. They are frequently unconscious of the cause of these symptoms. General Weakness, Unnatural Discharges, Failing Manhood, Nervousness, Poor Memory, Irritability, at times Smarting Sensation, Sunken Eyes, with dark circles, Weak Back, General Depression, Lack of Ambition, Varicocele, Shrunken Parts, etc. GLEET and STRICTURE may be the cause. Don't consult family doctors, as they have no experience in these special diseases—don't allow Quacks to experiment on you. Consult Specialists, who have made a life study of Diseases of Men and Women. Our NEW METHOD TREATMENT will positively cure you. One thousand dollars for a case we accept for treatment and cannot cure. Terms moderate for a cure.

CURES GUARANTEED

We treat and cure: EMISSIONS, VARICOCELE, SYPHILIS, GLEET, STRICTURE, IMPOTENCY, SECRET DRAINS, UNNATURAL DISCHARGES, KIDNEY and BLADDER Diseases. CONSULTATION FREE. BOOKS FREE. If unable to call, write for QUESTION BLANK for HOME TREATMENT.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer riflemen! It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. A WONDERFUL
KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

I. A. HOPKINS.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE,
GRAVEL, DROPSY,
And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary troubles which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right. I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been benefited by its use. I am 58 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.

Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

Rev. W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Mrs. Wm. H. Hardy, East Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured her after six doctors failed. Rev. J. W. Hickman, Collyer, Trego Co., Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble, of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book, entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state.

Not only does this great discovery—Alkavis (the Kava-Kava Compound)—cure all forms of kidney and bladder diseases, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 308 Fourth Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

RETURNED IN A GALE

Str. Lake Megantic Turned After Traveling 400 Miles

STEARING GEAR DISORDERED.

Put Back to Queenstown After Making a Noble Effort—Her Officers and Men Were Exhausted—The Rockcliffe Also Badly Battered—Twenty Primrose Hill Bodies Washed Ashore.

Queenstown, Dec. 31.—The British steamer Lake Megantic, Capt. Taylor, from Liverpool Dec. 25 and Queenstown Dec. 26, for St. John, returned to Queenstown harbor yesterday (Sunday) morning, after a terrible experience in the gale. She left Queenstown Wednesday, carrying the Canadian mails, 45 saloon and second-cabin passengers and about 500 steerage passengers, principally foreigners, with many Jews among them. She reached a point about 400 miles west on Thursday night, when she encountered a merciless gale. Behaving splendidly, she would have got through had not the steering gear become damaged badly, placing her in a dangerous position. The crew worked bravely and rigged hand gear, and the vessel was again brought under control. Unfortunately, the hand gear became damaged.

The deck hands had an awful time. The gale lasted 20 hours, and an immense sea broke over the vessel, smashing the booby hatch and flooding her between decks, where the steerage passengers were located. It also washed away a greater portion of the fittings and did considerable deck damage. Three lifeboats were smashed. Some of the crew were seriously injured and one seaman was killed on deck.

When the storm moderated Capt Taylor decided to return to Queenstown. It was difficult work to steer the big ship, but she managed to reach here without assistance. Her officers and men were exhausted.

The British steamer Rockcliffe, Captain Scantlebury, from Barry for Philadelphia, which put back to Queenstown Dec. 12, leaking in her forepeak, and proceeded for her destination Dec. 26, returned to this port Saturday in a badly damaged condition. She encountered a hurricane Dec. 27, 700 miles west of Queenstown, during which her decks were washed by tremendous seas and her bridge, bulwarks, stanchions, boats and wheel were washed away.

Capt. Scantlebury and five of the crew were injured. After being hove to for several hours, the storm moderated, and the steamer put back.

Twenty Bodies Washed Ashore.

Holyhead, Dec. 31.—The bodies of 20 members of the crew of the British barque Primrose Hill, Captain Wilson, from Liverpool, for Vancouver, which went on the rocks three miles off South Stack during the gale and broke up, have been washed ashore.

Wreckage of Unknown Disasters.

London, Dec. 31.—Quantities of wreckage have been thrown up on the different coasts, pointing to disasters from the gale not yet reported.

Nine fish boats have been stranded near Dunkirk and three of them will prove total wrecks. Their crews were seen clinging to the rigging, but the majority of them were beyond the reach of the rockets. A lifeboat rescued many of the fishermen, but ten of them perished.

The Beaver Company directed Capt Taylor to take the Lake Megantic to Liverpool and she proceeded this evening with all passengers and mails, to be transferred to the Lake Superior, which will leave the Mersey Tuesday.

Drowned by Hundreds.

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 31.—Great loss of life has been occasioned by shipwrecks in Japan. One of the ships lost was the Japanese training ship Tsukishima, in which 121 officers, cadets and sailors perished.

The steamship Inuishma foundered after striking a rock in Arshi Bay, and of her crew of 23 but one was rescued. The barque Katokoukogawa was wrecked off Tosa Province and 11 men perished. The ship Kamiji Maru was dismasted and swamped. [illegible] Maru was dismasted and swamped. Her crew of 16 escaped after being four days in open boats without food.

CURTAIN RAISERS.

Marie Tempest denies the report that she intends to sing in the music halls in London.

Charles Frohman is having a play based on Peg Woffington, written for Maude Adams.

This thing grows. Fay Templeton mimics Fougere, and Fougere mimics Fay Templeton's mimicry of her.

Wilson Barrett's "Sign of the Cross" has been translated into Polish and has made quite a success in Warsaw.

Mrs. Campbell is to revive some of the Maeterlinck plays in London and produce others never seen there before.

Robert Loraine, Julie Opp's former husband, who was to have acted with Ada Rehan in England, has gone to South Africa.

Marie Wainwright has engaged Payton Gibbs to play Napoleon to her Josephine in her vaudeville sketch, "Napoleon Versus Josephine."

Wilson Barrett has added Robert Hichens in his dramatization of his novel, "The Londoners," and will act in the play in all probability.

Henrik Ibsen's "When the Dead Awake" has been acted in three German cities with success, although without giving the impression that it was likely to enjoy lasting popularity on the stage.

It seems that the new theater in St. Martin's lane, London, will not be owned by Charles Frohman after all, though that energetic American impresario will hold the lease of it and will establish there his London comedy troupe, headed by Seymour Hicks and Ellaline Terriss.

Every Movement Hurts

When you have rheumatism. Muscles feel stiff and sore and joints are painful. It does not pay to suffer long from this disease when it may be cured so promptly and perfectly by Hood's Sarsaparilla. CLOTHESPIN FACTS

A log Costing $2 Cuts Up Into 12,000 Clothespins, Worth Nearly $100.

"The longer you lif," as a philosophic German once remarked, "the more you findt, by chimineddy oud!" For instance, there's the common, every-day clothespin, on which no man has ever been able to improve, any more than he has improved upon the wheelbarrow or the old-fashioned wooden rolling-pin. Who would imagine that there was anything about the clothespin that was worth finding out? The writer was passing a little grocery where a box of clothespins was among the things displayed outside.

"How much for clothespins?" he asked of the grocer.

"Four cents," was the reply.

"Four cents apiece?"

"Apiece! Great hickory, no! Four cents a dozen!"

"Ah-h-h! Are you a good judge of clothespins?"

"I should say so! I've made more than a million of 'em!" replied the storekeeper. "I've followed the clothespin, sir, in all the processes of its evolution, from the growing tree to the polishing box. Say!" exclaimed the dealer, "to look at that pin you'd scarcely believe that the manufacturer could make and sell twelve of them for a cent, and have a profit of more than fifty per cent. at that, would you?

"But he can do it. He can whittle out clothespins at the rate of eighty a minute. How? Easy enough. All he's got to do is to take his maple or birch log and go to work. Say his log is ten feet long and a foot through. He won't have to pay more than $2 for it. If he pays any more than that he don't know his business. That log will whittle up into 12,000 clothespins. It will take the man two hours and a half to chew that log up into clothespins, which is at the rate of 4,800 an hour. But when they are all cut out they are worth $96.40 to the maker. He will work ten hours a day if he is smart, and will get away with four of these logs. It's easy figuring to find out that he will then have on hand 48,000 clothespins, worth $385.50, if they're worth a cent.

"The lumber for those pins has cost only $8, providing the man wasn't stuck in buying it. Now, if that was all the expense, a man with a clothespin factory would be a blamed sight better off than if he owned a coal mine. But those logs have to run the gauntlet of a good deal of machinery before they are full-fledged clothespins. A saw separates the log into lengths of sixteen inches, another one saws these blocks into boards three-quarters of an inch thick, a third saw reduces the boards to strips three-quarters of an inch square. These little strips are pushed to a big wheel, which hurries them to a gang of other saws, where they are chopped into clothespin lengths quicker than a sausage machine can chop up a pound of meat. These lengths are carried by a swift-moving belt to a machine that grabs them and sets them in a lathe. The lathe gives them their shape in the twinkling of an eye and throws them to the man who feeds them to still another saw, which moves backward and forward as if it were madder than a snake. This saw chews out the slot that the washerwoman is to shove down over the clothes on the line one of these days, and the clothespin is ready, all except kiln drying and polishing. Kiln drying knocks the sap out of the wood and the polishing is done by letting the clothespin rub against themselves in a revolving iron cylinder.

"All these processes cost money, and when the manufacturer comes to put up his goods for sale he finds that his profit on the 48,000 pins, or a day's hard work, is only about $193. I pay the manufacturer one cent a dozen, or about 84 cents a thousand, and, really, I am compelled in these tight times to sell them for four cents a dozen, or $3.36 a thousand, which wouldn't be so bad if I sold a thousand every hour or so. But with care, a thousand clothespins will stay by me for a month or two, and I even have had them with me a whole year. Chinese cheap labor is pelting the life out of the clothespin trade, for Ling Sing and Wun Lung don't use clothespins in their laundries, and they're washing about all the clothes that are washed, it seems to me, nowadays."—Chicago Tribune.

Incorrigible.

A poor little street Arab was brought into a hospital by the police. He had been run over by an omnibus and was badly injured. The chaplain was sent for, as it was thought improbable that the boy would live many hours. With little tact the chaplain began the interview thus: "My boy, the doctors think you are very much hurt. Have you been a good little boy?"

Boy (much bored)—You git aout!

Chaplain (shocked)—But I am afraid you are not a good little boy, and you know you may perhaps be going to die.

Boy (anxious to end the interview)—Well, tain't none o' your business anyhow. Wot's me death got to do with you? 'Ave you got a pal in the coffin line?

It is pleasant to be able to relate that the boy finally recovered.

Now and then the doctor is believed to be almost omniscient. A patient in a military hospital was constantly getting into hot water because he smuggled food into the wards. One morning his medical officer was about to examine his throat with a laryngoscope. Seeing the little mirror all ready for use the man's chum whispered an anxious warning from the adjoining bed. "I say, Bill, you'd best 'ave a care. 'Ee moight 'appen to see wot yer 'ad for supper lawst noight."—Cornhill Magazine.

This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of the city; and last, but by no means least, the Sunshine, located two miles east of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

The annual concert given by the pupils of the Ashburnham Public School took place last night in the Town Hall, Ashburnham and was liberally patronized. A programme of unusual merit was rendered. Obituary

We regret to chronicle the death of Mr. Robert Mills, which occurred at 320 Charlotte street yesterday. The deceased had not been in good health for some time, and his demise was not unexpected. The late Robert Mills was 76 years of age, having been born in the County of Cavan, Ireland, on Dec. 31st, 1824. When nine years of age he came to Canada with his parents, settling in the Province of Quebec, but subsequently he removed to the township of Cavan. Here and in the township of Manvers he worked for several years and then purchased a farm in Cavan, being lot 13 on the 12th concession, where he resided for 44 years. Three years ago he retired from the farm and moved to Peterborough, where he has since resided. The funeral will take place from the family residence, to Gardiner's burying ground, Cavan, at 1 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

PRACTICALLY NEW BOATS.

The City of Peterborough and Eclipse Completely Renewed.

The Peterborough Navigation Company are making great improvements in their steamers for the coming season. The steamer City of Peterborough has had all her old machinery and boiler taken out to be replaced by modern, up-to-date engines and boilers. The paddle wheels have been removed and in the future she will be driven by twin screws, which will greatly increase her speed and add to her appearance. The removal of the old machinery will greatly add to her passenger capacity and have the main deck clear, which will be turned into a dance hall, giving a space of 50 feet by 16 feet wide. Around the sides there will be a promenade three feet wide furnished with seats. The boat will be supplied with a search light and lit up throughout with electric light and have a speed of about 15 miles an hour.

The Company is also making great change in the Steamer Eclipse by adding 25 feet to her length and putting in new boilers and engines to increase her power and give her a greater speed. Her headquarters will be at Harwood. She will be used principally for towing produce, wood, etc., when not engaged with excursions. On Saturday she will run from Rice lake to Peterborough with passengers as in former seasons.

PRESENTED WITH WATCHES.

Troopers Price, Elmhurst and McFarlane Honored.

Last night Troopers Price, Elmhirst and McFarlane, the returned South African volunteers, were presented with beautiful gold watches by the people of Otonabee. The presentation took place in the Town Hall, Keene, which was packed to the doors.

The event was one in which the people especially in Keene, took great interest. The hall was not nearly large enough to hold the crowd that wanted to witness the proceedings.

The returned Troopers acknowledged the gifts in suitable language, and were loudly applauded. They wore their kahki uniforms.

Patriotic addresses were delivered by resident ministers and others, interspersed with vocal and instrumental music.

The proceedings closed with the singing of the national anthem.

Laid at Rest.

The funeral of the late Fritz Barron of Stratford, whose untimely death while playing a game of hockey in Winnipeg on Friday Evening last, took place yesterday in Stratford. The deceased was a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Poussette of Peterborough. Mr. C. Poussette, of the Toronto Bank here, and Mr. Waldo Poussette, who is at present in Ingersoll, attended the funeral. Judge and Mrs. Barron have the heartfelt sympathy of very many in Peterborough over their overwhelming affliction.

A COFFEE KILLING.

Some Can and Some Can't Drink It.

Some time ago Mr. E. Percival Baker was assigned by the Government to the Chinese Bureau in San Francisco. He is a Spanish and Chinese interpreter, but had become known as a distinctive case of coffee poisoning.

He finally gave up his position and went to Los Angeles to die. He was carried to the train by the Physician and at that time weighed 99 pounds.

What coffee poisoning can do for man it is difficult to believe without some personal experience. He says, "The Physician had told me that mine was a clear case of coffee poisoning, but I could not give up the coffee. I had got so bad that I could keep absolutely nothing on my stomach for days at a time. Dr. Hayden of this city said to me one day, 'Have you ever tried Postum Food Coffee?' 'Never heard of it' said I. He explained that it was a food drink made at Battle Creek, Mich., by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., and as he said was 'destined to entirely supplant coffee, at least with those who have any regard for their health or lives.'

I was so impressed that before leaving the coffee the Dr. forced me to promise to give Postum a fair trial. Well, to make a long story short, wife made some for me, and she made it strictly according to directions. I was served with a delicious cup and half an hour after sipping it was sleeping, the first six hours of sleep or unbroken rest I had had for half a year.

This was not caused by any drug in the Postum for I know it to be absolutely pure, but it was due to the quieting effect of the liquid food on my stomach, and food that I could digest. I persevered in the case of Postum for a week, then I thought I would try just one cup of coffee, but did so with the result that my stomach pains returned with such effect as to require the doctor at my bedside nearly all night. I have never repeated the experiment with coffee, for it showed very plainly what it would do and has done for me if I fool with it.

I have steadily improved in health since making the change, and now weigh 148 pounds, 49 pounds more than I did and am gaining at the rate of over 2 pounds a week. I have had absolutely no trouble since then with my stomach, and it is over three months since I have had a twinge of neuralgia or headache, and I know that my cure is entirely due to leaving off coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee. All of my friends and the doctors are of the same opinion. I enclose a list of names of Government officials at Washington and San Francisco who are more or less familiar with the case and will verify as far as they are able.'

MR. RODGERS HONORED

Presented With a Clock by St. John's Church Choir.

A very pleasing event took place on Monday evening in the School Room of St. John's Church, when Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rodgers were presented with an address and a handsome clock by the members of the choir. Mr. Herbert Morphet read the address, in which mention was made of the great appreciation of Mr. Rodger's ability as an organist and of the harmony that had existed between the members of the choir since the present organist took hold of it.

Mr. Rodgers was then presented with a beautiful clock suitably engraved, with the words "From St. John's Church Choir, a token of esteem from the members, Feb., 1901." Mr. F. D. Kerr spoke on behalf of the wardens of St. John's and made a suitable address. Light refreshments were served after which a very enjoyable musical evening was spent, Mrs. Rodgers being an accomplished pianist, entertained the company very much.

The affair was brought to a close by the singing of "God Save the King."

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 60 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 146 W. 42d street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our statement!

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. We average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

CEYLON AND INDIA TEA GREEN OR BLACK.

There is nothing artificial about these teas, The purity is unquestioned, the flavor is delicious, the bouquet is a revelation. If you have never tasted British grown teas a treat awaits you. Japan tea drinkers try Ceylon Green.

"Welcome, Evil, If Thou Comest Alone."

One evil that cannot come alone is impure blood. If this is allowed, it is attended by kindred ailments galore. This condition means that every vein and artery of the body, instead of carrying to the organs a health-giving flow of life, is laden with a slow and impure fluid that is harming instead of healing.

It is unfortunate when there is "bad blood" inside of you. Hood's Sarsaparilla will not make enemies friends, but it will make "bad blood" good blood, and blood should be of the best quality. Hood's never disappoints.

Erysipelas—"Had a severe attack of erysipelas, suffering from dizziness and nervousness so that I could not rest at night. Tried Hood's Sarsaparilla with good results, and now recommend it to others." M. CHALMERS, Toronto, Ont.

Strength Builder—"Myself, wife and children have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla and it strengthened us. It relieved me of a lame back." DAVID McGEORGE, caretaker, Colt Institute, Galt, Ont.

Rheumatism—"I was badly afflicted with sciatic rheumatism. Consulted doctors without relief. Was persuaded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and five bottles gave me relief and enabled me to go to work." WILLIAM R. ROACH, Margaretville, N. S.

30,000 MOUNTED MEN FOR AFRICA

These Will be Sent in Addition to Those Recently Equipped for Service There

London, Feb. 6.

The following announcement has been issued by the War Office here: In view of the recent Boer activity in various directions, the Government has decided in addition to the large force recently equipped locally in South Africa, to reinforce Lord Kitchener by 30,000 mounted troops, beyond those already landed in Cape Colony. Recruiting for the Imperial Yeomanry has proceeded so rapidly, it is anticipated ten thousand will be available.

The South African Mounted Constabulary, including those enlisted in the colonies, may be relied upon to extend to extend to 8,000 and the new Colonial contingents to replace those withdrawn, will probably reach 5,000. The remainder of the force will be made up of cavalry and mounted infatnry from the home establishment. The enligtment of volunteers to replace those that have already served a year in South Africa is also being proceeded with. Arrangements have been made for the prompt equipment and transportation of the force. The first contingent will leave on the Aurania, Feb. 9th.

Cape Town, Feb. 6.

The Afrikander Bond leaders are willing and strongly urge the Boers to surrender, provided the British offer those in the field the following terms, namely: That after giving up arms all shall be allowed to return to their farms and the rebels shall not be punished. Prominent burghers say that Louis Botha in the Transvaal and Christian De Wet in the Free State, should be made members of the Governor's Council in order to watch the interests of the burghers.

A PROSPEROUS INSTITUTION.

The National Trust Company Make a Very Satisfactory Showing.

Elsewhere appears a report of the their annual general meeting of the shareholders of the National Trust Company, limited, which took place on Wednesday, 20th January, at the company's board room Toronto. The report of the directors show the affairs of the company to be in a flourishing condition. The net profits for the year, after providing for cost of management, salaries, advertising, auditors' fees and other expenses, amount to $73,701.88. Add to this the sum of $11,644.48, brought forward from previous year, make the total at the credit of the profit and loss account, $85,346.36. Out of this was paid two half yearly dividends (at the rate of five per cent. per annum) of $46,444.02; added to reserve fund $10,000; to write off the sum of $20,309.12, being net premium paid on the purchase of Manitoba Trust Company; and carried forward $8,593.22. The capital stock of the company, amounting to $1,000,000, is now fully paid, and the reserve fund stands at $270,000.

The above speaks for itself, and needs no eulogy from the press. It cannot be otherwise than entirely satisfactory to the shareholders as well as to the many friends and patrons of the company throughout the country.

To the people of Peterborough and surrounding district, the operations and great success of the company is of special interest on account of the fact that the worthy President, Mr. J. W. Flavelle, was a former resident of this place, as was also Mr. E. R. Wood, Vice-President; Hon. Senator Cox. and Mr. F. W. Cox, two directors.

MORRIS WAS LURED INTO THE STATES

He Was Then Arrested for Embezzlement in 1881

Rossland, B. C., Feb. 6.—Charles R. Henckley, alias C. R. Morris, was lured across the line by Bert Miller and other this morning, and is now in jail at Conconully, on a charge of stealing $97,000 from Westside bank, New York, in 1884, of which bank he had been the teller.

Henckley disappeared one morning from the Westside band, and was not heard of by the bank people until in 1899, when a fire occurred in Columbia hotel, 30 miles west of here, and one of the detectives hired by Henckley town site recognized him, and communicated with the Westside bank officials.

Some of the latter came to Rossland and caused the arrest of Henckley, who was then in the Similkameem country. He was brought to this city, and when arraigned before Judge Forin, was dismissed for the reason that the extradition treaty at the time of the committal of Henckley's crime did not cover the embezzlement, and was not effective. Recently the bank offered a reward of $10,000 to Fred Whitaker, who was visiting New York. He communicated with friends in the boundary, and the result was that Henckley, though warned, was lured across the boundary line and arrested. He is in custody at Conconully, and is awaiting extradition.

MAY HAVE BEEN STARVED OUT.

New York, Feb. 6.—Chistian F. Tietzen, President of the West Side Bank, said, relative to the reported arrest in the State of Washington of Charles A. Hinckley, who was once the paying teller of the bank, and, it is alleged, an embezzler of its funds in 1881 to the amount of $97,000.

"I got a telegram from Spokane saying that Hinckley was in the United States, close to the border, and could be arrested. I put this into the hands of certain parties for consultation, but no steps had been taken. So I am at a loss to account for this news. Hinckley lived alone in the mountains near Rossland, and it may be that the snow and cold forced him to cross the line in order to purchase supplies.

"If he has been arrested in the United States, and the despatch sent from the nearest telegraph station happens to be a Canadian point, the Bank will bring him back, and he will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law."

FOR A WOMAN'S STORY.

Prominent New York Cleric Shot by the Husband, Probably to Death

New York. Feb. 7.—The Rev. John Keller, secretary to Rt. Rev. Bishop Starkey, pastor of Trinity Episcopal Mission in Arlington, N. J., and chaplain of the First New Jersey Regiment, was shot and probably fatally wounded by Thomas G. Barker, on Beach street, near Midland avenue, Arlington, this morning. Mr. Keller had just left the house of John S. Sands, where he ate his meals, when Barker, who was in front of the door, opened fire. One bullet were through the facial bone from the right side, destroyed the sight of the right eye and, after tearing through the nasal bone buried itself beneath the skin on the right side of the face. Another bullet shattered the fingers of the right hand and another passed through the clergyman's hat. The fourth went wide of its mark. The shooting, it is said, was the result of a disclosure made by Barker's wife, although Mr. Keller denies the accusation made against him. Barker, after the shooting surrendered himself to the police and was locked up.

GRAND FETES FOR QUEEN WILHELMINA

Her Approaching Nuptials Heralded by Grand Receptious.

The Hague, Feb. 6.—The city is still wearing its holiday dress, and reception follows reception in connection with the approaching marriage of Queen Wilhelmina and Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. Guests continue to arrive at the palace, and every body is wearing a rosette or some other symbolic decoration.

Last evening a state banquet was given at the palace in honour of the foreign envoys, while earlier in the day there was a reception at the German Legation. Most brilliant was the gala performance in the theatre, the house being draped in pale blue and beautifully illuminated with electric lights, and everywhere flowers were to be seen in luxuriant profusion.

At 9.30 two officials bearing candles ushered in Queen Wilhelmina, who was attired in white satin and lace and wore a diadem of brilliants, a pearl necklace, the Grand Cross of the Lion of the Netherlands and the chain of the Mecklenburg Order.

Duke Henry followed, wearing the uniform of a rear admiral and the Grand Cross of the Lion of the Netherlands. Then came the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg. Duke Adolph Frederic of Mecklenburg, Duchess Maria, Prince Albert of Prussia, the Queen's mother, Grand Duke Vladimir of Russia, and other princely personages.

Crowds of Ministers, diplomats and officers, all in uniform, filled the theatre. The programme was made up of music, recitations in the national costumes of the province in the 17th century, and tableau.

Last night the city was richly illuminated, while the streets were crowded.

The Queen and her fiance drove out through the neighbouring villaes yesterday afternoon.

JUDGE PRINGLE DEAD

Father of Mrs. J. A. Aylmer, of Peterborough, Passes Away.

Judge Jacob Farrand Pringle died at eleven o'clock Tuesday night, at his home in Cornwall, aged 85 years. Judge Pringle had been confined to his home for about a week with an attack of la grippe. Subsequently the attack developed into an acuate form of pneumonia, which, owing to his advanced age, gradually sapped his vitality.

Judge Pringle retired from the Bench about a year ago, and was replaced by Judge J. R. O'Reilly of Prescott. His last public appearance was about a month ago, when he was presented by the fraternity and the citizens of Cornwall with a life-size oil painting of himself. On that occasion the venerable Judge's voice was so weak that he called upon his son, Mr. R. A. Pringle, M.P., to reply to the address. Judge Pringle was a judge thirty-five years, and was over sixty years in the legal profession. The late judge leaves a widow and nine children—Mr. R. A. Pringle, M.P., for Stormont and Cornwall; Dr. Wm. Pringle, Schreiber, Ont.; Dr. Alex. Pringle, Northfield, Minn., and James F. and George U Pringle of St. Louis, Mo., and Rochester, N. Y., respectively; Mrs. F. D. Corbett of Cornwall, Mrs. G. C. Carman, of Iroquois, Mrs. J. A. Aylmer of Peterborough, and Mrs. T. Ritchie, Halifax.

WORK HAS BEGUN.

The Stanley Piano Company has Started to Rebuild.

The Stanley Piano Company is losing no time in getting to work to repair their premises which was so badly damaged by fire on Saturday.

Men are at work in the machine room which has been but slightly injured, getting things in shape.

The insurance adjusters are about through with their work, so that the work will now progress with vigour.

The lumber in the drying kiln at the factory was not damaged by fire, and the material piled in the adjacent years also escaped without even a wetting, so that the company will not be handicapped for first-class and well-seasoned material with which to continue work.

BOERS COMING INTO PRETORIA.

London, Feb. 6.—Word comes from Pretoria that the Boers are beginning to come to their senses, and large numbers are surrendering themselves in compliance with Lord Kitchener's proclamation. Five hundred Boer families have come in, a total of about 3,000 individuals. This week the numbers were large, and on Sunday 350 refugees came or were brought in, on Monday, 316; on Tuesday, 250; and to-day 225.

About 1,000 wagons and thousands of oxen, mules and donkeys were brought in. The majority of the people came in of their own accord and in their own wagons, others were conveyed into the town in military wagons.

Every available house in Pretoria and all other suitable buildings have been utilized for the accomodation of the refugees. Others are in the refugee camp on the outskirts of the town.

BOERS REPULSED.

A despatch from Clanwilliam states that Colonel Brander has driven the Boers out of Vanrhynsdorp, capturing a number of wagons and a quantity of merchandise. All the farms in that region are deserted. The only being found, except armed Boers, was an English governess on one of the farms.

HALL'S BRIDGE

On Friday evening, Feb. 1st, the fifth annual tea and concert, under the auspices of the L. T. B. was held at Buckhorn, and was an unqualified success in every respect, the neat sum of fifty dollars being realized. The sleighing was excellent, and large numbers of people attended from a distance, while the villagers turned out in a mass. The ladie sof the neighborhood, with their well-known liberality, supplied the tables with loads of good things, so that even the keenest appetite was thoroughly satisfied.

After all had been served an adjournment was made to the hall, where a choice programme of music, readings, dialogues &c., was rendered. Mr. John Eastwood acted as stage manager in a very efficient manner, and it was chiefly owing to his entiring efforts in providing a programme that much of the success of the concert was due. Mr. Webster Blewett occupied the chair in his usual graceful manner, when the following programme was presented:

CAVAN.

On Friday last the remains of, the late Mrs. Wm. Campbell was laid to rest in the cemetery of the Back Church, Cavan, and friends paid their last tribute to one of the oldest residents of this district, a lady who came here before Peterborough had assumed the proportions of a village and was represented by only a few log buildings.

The late Mrs. Campbell passed away on Wednesday, the 30th of January, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Waldon, of Lindsay, where she had been for the past few months. Old age was the cause of death. Her maiden name was Mary McIndoo, and she was born in Ireland 92 years ago. When a girl she came to this country with her parents, who settled in Cavan township. She married the late Wm. Campbell, and resided on the same farm in North Monaghan for over sixty-two years. She was one of the township's early settlers, and was probably the oldest resident of the district when she died. Living in the neighborhood for over three score years and ten, she remembered Peterborough in its first stages, and had seen it grow to be the large centre it is to-day. She was hale and hearty despite her years, and could boast that never in her long life had she been under the doctor's care for sickness. During the last three years she had been living with her relatives, and spent last summer with her grandson, Mr. Geo. Ward, in North Monaghan. She went some three months ago to spend the winter with her daughter in Lindsay, when death came. The surviving children are Mrs. Waldon, of Lindsay, Mrs. F. Ward, of Manvers, George, of British Columbia, Francis, of town, William, of Muskoka, Mrs. Kennedy, of Penetanguishene, and Mrs. McIndoo, Robert and James, all of Manitoba.

The deceased was widely known throughout this district, and was universally esteemed. She was a Presbyterian in religion, and was able at a very advanced age to look back over a long, active and well-spent life.

The President, in moving the adoption of the report, said:—

In moving the adoption of the report there are some items in it calling for fuller information than is contained in the mere statement of figures, and which I desire to bring before you.

On account of important trusteeships already assumed in the Province of Manitoba, and because of the rapidly growing importance of this great Western Province, and a desire to complete our organization by enabling the Company to offer Eastern corporations and other clients the advantages of investment in that profitable field, your board considered it was necessary that the Company should have an office in the City of Winnipeg. Negotiations were entered into whereby the Manitoba Trusts Company, an organization existing under the laws of Manitoba and carrying on an extensive and prosperous business in that Province, was acquired by purchase on terms favorable to this Company. As a result of this purchase we became possessed of the assets, good-will, organization, excellent staff, and well-appointed offices of the Manitoba Trusts Company, with an assured substantial earning power. The Company also succeeded to the very important appointment of Official Guardian and Administrator ad litem for the Province of Manitoba. The net premium paid for the good-will and organization of this Company was $20,309.12. It would clearly have been a proper course to have extended the writing off of this premium over a period of years. Your Directors, however, believed it to be a stronger policy, and I am sure you will agree with them, to write off the entire amount out of the profits of the year, and an appropriation for this purpose will be found in the Profit and Loss account.

The wisdom of the aggressive policy of your board in establishing offices in Montreal and Winnipeg has been justified, not only the equipment the Company has secured to serve its many clients satisfactorily, but by the actual business which has been developed, resulting in these branches being important contributors to the net earnings of the year.

The variety of business undertaken during the years is of interest. In addition to carrying on a general trust business, as Executor, Administrator, Guardian, etc., the Company is now acting as trustee to secure bond issues aggregating over $30,000,000. Large sums have been entrusted to the Company by clients for safe investment, and an important liquidation of a financial company has been added to our duties in Montreal.

I think you will not consider it improper for me to point with perhaps pardonable pride to what has been accomplished by the Company since its organization two years and a half ago. During the past year our net earnings of $75,000 provided a 5 per cent. dividend and left the handsome surplus of $27,000. In the two years and a half of the Company's operations we have written off all expenses incident to its inital organization; we have established well-equipped and well-organized offices in Toronto, Montreal, and Winnipeg, all three profitable on their own account, and each contributing to the earnings of the other; we have written off all expenses incurred through the establishment of these offices, including the $20,000 premium paid for the good-will of the Manitoba Trusts Company; we have paid for two full years a dividend at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum upon the Capital Stock of the Company, have carried to "Reserve Fund" out of the earnings the sum of $20,000, and have $8,500 standing to the credit of Profit and Loss. The Reserve Fund now stands at $270,000. These figures, gratifying as they are, do not show the very important business connections we have secured with influential clients and trusteeships undertaken, the earning power of which constitutes a very valuable asset of the Company. The results, which I believe will be satisfactory to you, could not have been secured without the efficient services of the General Manager, the managers of the branches, and the loyalty of the whole staff, and these certainly deserve the thanks of the Shareholders.

I beg to move, seconded by Mr. Wood, the Vice-President, the adoption of the report.

Mr. Wood, the Vice-President, spoke as follows:—

In seconding the motion for the adoption of the report, I would like to point out a few advantages possessed by this Company which have not been alluded to by the President. Its strong financial position, its facilities for doing business in every Province of the Dominion, from British Columbia to Prince Edward Island, its means through the Board of Directors and trained office staff of exercising a sound judgment upon investments and other matters arising in the course of trust business, make it peculiarly fitted to administer to the best advantages the estates of deceased persons, and to act liquidator or assignee of insolvent companies and individuals, and I am pleased to say that this branch of the Company's business is increasing satisfactorily, showing that the advantages alluded to are being recognized and appreciated. For trusts under wills; marriage settlements, and other instruments, requiring sometimes many years to complete, the advantages of a strong and well-equipped trust company over private trustees are self-evident. Death, insolvency, sickness, change of residence, advancing years, and other reasons cause changes in private trusteeships, and consequent expense, and in many cases loss to the trust estate, and if there are assets or investments of the estate in other Provinces of Canada than that in which the trustees reside, agents must be employed to look after them who may or may not possess the necessary qualifications. This Company has offices and trained managers in three Provinces, and has special facilities for doing business in all the Provinces of Canada; its organization is permanent; its financial responsibility undoubted. In this connection I am glad to say that its reputation is not confined to Canada, for it has been appointed trustee of a trust in one of the United States, and was selected last year to act as trustee in an important transaction originating in England.

It has become the settled policy of the large banks and other important financial institutions in Canada to possess well-equipped and well-located offices for the conduct of their business. This Company has shown its belief in this policy by erecting a modern office building on King street east, in Toronto, and one on Main street, Winnipeg. These are known as the homes of the National Trust Company. Both buildings are thoroughly modern, and well equipped in every particular, and yield the Company a fair return on the capital invested. The Montreal office is on St James street, in one of the best locations in that city, and is under lease to this Company for a term of years. All three offices are fully equipped for the Company's own operations, and are fitted with the most modern safety deposit vault equipment, now recognized to be a necessary adjunct of any well-organized trust company.

The organization is now complete to perform satisfactorily every duty covered by the powers conferred on the Company by its charter of incorporation, and I look forward to a continued and an increasingly successful career.

The motion for the adoption of the report, made by Mr. J. W. Flavelle, the President, seconded by Mr. E. R. Wood, the Vice-President, was put to the meeting, and carried unanimously.

In moving a vote of thanks to the staff, which was seconded by Mr. Richard Brown, and carried unanimously, Sir Thomas W. Taylor took occasion to congratulate the Company upon the record of the year's business as shown in the report of the Directors, and to point out the advantages arising from the taking over of the Manitoba Trusts Company, with which he had been closely

PARTY TO REORGANIZE

We learn that the Conservative party is about to reorganize. The old leaders are gone. Prestige has been diminished. A wave of Liberalism has swept the country. There must be not only reorganization, but the infusion of new blood. The younger element must be induced to come to the front. It will not do to rely too much upon the past. Tradition may be respectable, but the young cannot be expected to have long memories, and the young must command the situation. The party must cause it to be known that it stands for progress. That it is the party of reform, that it means to push forward, that it is generous and broad and national, that it desires to take a large view of the country, indifferent to sectionalism, rising above mere party passion, and representing moderate, progressive, and stable elements. It can, indeed, appeal to the past with some credit. The Conservative party has done much for the country as a whole. It has made Canada a nation. It has given it industries. It has placed bands of steel from ocean to ocean. But it cannot depend upon an exhausted programme. It must for support on the ground that it is willing to carry out every measure necessary for continued growth. And it must teach the young that it stands for what is magnanimous in public life, for what is high and true and upright. If it can accomplish this, it will rally hosts to its side, and may reverse the successive defeats which it has lately encountered.

GREAT BRITAIN'S INTENTION

The peculiar phraseology of the proclamation declaring King Edward VII. "Supreme Lord of and over the Transvaal" has given rise to some speculation as to the intentions of the British Government with regard to South Afric. Whatever may have been the Government's reason for the peculiarity in the proclamation it can hardly signify that Great Britain will abate anything of her just claims in South Africa. The Government has already outlined its policy in regard to the South African question. The policy includes the absorption of the Orange River Colony and of the Transvaal into the Empire, and this policy has met with the approval and support of the great majority of the British nation. Because the war still drags on, and because of a few bands of desperate Boers continue to maintain a species of guerilla warfare, no sufficient reason is furnished for a change in the Government's plans. A dispatch which states that Lord Roberts intends to maintain the strength of the army in South Africa and that the necessity for asking the House of Commons for an additional grant of £70,000,000 toward the expenses of the war is in contemplation seems to indicate that the former intention of the Imperial Government remains unchanged. The British people, tried as they are of the war, have not relaxed their determination to carry it to a completely successful issue and are not likely to grudge whatever expenses are necessary for that purpose. One of Sir John Teniel's last cartoons in Punch represented Lord Salisbury at work upon a statue of victory, almost completed. He is represented as turning to John Bull with a request for something, on account, as "there's a lot more work in it than I expected." This cartoon very neatly hit off the opinion of the British people with regard to the South African war. John Bull is determined to purchase victory whatever may be the price.

HAD YOUNG MEN ARRESTED.

Mother Feared her Daughter Might Meet the Same Fate as Jennie Bosschieter.

Winsted, Conn., Feb 6.—Fearing her daughter Cora, 15 years old, might meet the same fate as Jennie Bosschieter. Mrs. Horace Ball had William McCarthy and Stephen Daft, well-known young man of Millerton, N. Y., arrested charged with felonious assault.

Mrs. Ball alleges the men took her daughter and another girl for a drive and mal-treated the Ball girl after she had been suddenly stricken ill while drinking beer. The young men have been held for the grand jury.

TWO THOUSAND MEN READY.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—The milita officials here do not anticipate that there will be any difficulty in enlisting 2,000 men for the South African constabulary. At least a thousand application forms have been sent out already, and enquiries are coming in daily. Lieut. McLean, of St. John, has volunteered to raise a company of 100 men. He served in the second special service contingent in South Africa. Lieut.-Col. Steele is desirous that Capt. Fall should await his arrival before commencing work. Mr. Chamberlain, who cabled the request, added as that as the recruiting was an urgent matter, Capt. Fall could probably proceed with the attestation of recruits, pending the arrival of Col. Steele. Col. Steele's wish to personally superintend the work is because he will have command of the Leydenburg district, where the Canadians are to serve, and he wishes to pick out the most suitable men himself.

HEART FAILURE

Every day adds to the list of deaths attributed to heart failure. If the truth were told the bulk of these deaths might be written down as due to stomach failure. For it is in the failure of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, that "weak" heart, "weak" lungs, "weak" nerves and other forms of physicial deterioration having their beginning. The man whose stomach is sound, who can digest and assimilate the food he eats, and so keep each organ of the body well nourished, is the man who is least liable to collapse under the sudden weakness of some vital organ.

The preservation of health which follows the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, is chiefly due to the fact that it perfectly and permanently cures diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies the blood and increases the blood supply of the body. Weak people will find in this medicine a sure means of strength.

"I was under doctors' care for quite a time," writes Mr. J. F. Kidd, of Parmleysville, Wayne Co., Ky. "They had almost given me up, and my suffering was very great. My pulse was weak, breath short and I had severe pains in back, head and legs. Had palpitation of heart, and for eleven months I was not able to do a day's work. I purchased five bottles of Dr. R. V. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and by the time the fifth bottle was gone I was a well man."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate the liver.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg
The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. TELEPHONE POINTERS

One of the many good points of a telephone is that a message cannot fail to reach its hearer correctly. Another good point is that it reaches all points, and that everybody in the city or country worth doing business with has a telephone. Another good point is the economy of time and money. Another point — can you afford to be without one, at home or office?

"None but idiots and lovers delight in constant repetition of the same thing."

A tiny imp of curious mien,
Arrayed in crimson slashed with green
Came dancing o'er the hill at morn,
To where I wandered all forlorn.

And though I knew him—knew him well,
I laughed to hear each tiny bell
That tinkled on his tassled cap,
And fondled him upon my lap.

Oh, folly wise! oh, folly sweet!
A thousand times to me repeat,
The message that she sends by you;
A thousand times it will be new.

MAN OF ACTION.

John Desmond awoke at 3 in the morning and tossed about in his bed. Within his a fierce struggle between the brain and the heart was in progress. He employed every scheme that he was aware of to court or compel sleep without success.

Suddenly the truth dawned upon him, like a flood of soft warm light. He was in love. The love of his life, compared with which all his past loves were mere idle fancies. The battle was over. John Desmond, thirty, lawyer, athlete, man of the world, was conquered.

Being a man of action, Desmond no sooner acknowledged to himself that he really was in love with Kate Evanston than he resolved to marry her at the earliest possible day.

Kate Evanston was seated at the piano in the drawing room of Mrs. Saulsbury's beautiful home, where she was employed as companion to the lady of the house. The rich light of a middle May evening pervaded the place.

Her fingers wer softly bringing back memories of "Erminie" and other Casino delights as her thoughts traveled back over the past.

After a time she arose from the piano and picking up a number of photographs of John Desmond's friends that lay upon the table, seated herself upon a sofa with her back to the door and proceeded to contemplate each of them.

Desmond returning home early that evening let himself into his aunt's house very quietly with his latchkey, hoping to catch Kate at the piano in the middle of one of the sweet airs he had grown of late to love.

He approached the great drawing room doors and took a peep through the crevice which separated them. In an instant his heart seemed to cease beating with almost electrical suddenness, for the sight which his maddened brain encountered filled him with rage and jealousy.

With a heart of ice and lead he was about to turn to leave the house as noiselessly as he had entered when the sinking sun shot a ray of light through the room and revealed something which made the blood course faster through his body than it had ever coursed before. Then he turned away, and, closing the door very softly behind him, descended the front steps of the house and passed down the street.

Mrs. Sallsbury and Miss Evanston were at their dessert that evening before John appeared. He had left word in the morning that he might be detained until a late hour, and so they had not waited dinner for him.

Mrs. Sallsbury noticed that her nephew seemed to be laboring under considerable restraint and bluntly asked him the cause; but the good body's solicitude met only with evasion and she presently gave up all attempts to draw anything from him and retired early to her room, leaving John and Kate together.

No sooner had Mrs. Saulsbury quitted the dining room than Desmond turned to Kate and said:

"Miss Evanston, I'm going to ask you to do me a favor."

Kate looked at him inquisitively.

"I want you," he continued, "to accompany me on a bit of a shopping tour, I've got a peculiar mission to execute and I want your help. Will you do it?"

"To be sure. I shall be most happy, Mr. Desmond," Kate answered, "and if you'll excuse me I'll be prepared in a very few minutes."

The streets were dark by the time they left the house for the shopping quarter of the town, and Kate took Desmond's arm. They had walked for a few moments in silence when Desmond said:

"I want to explain this errand to you and no doubt you, too, will think it peculiar. As a matter of fact, I've been commissioned to arrange for the wedding of two very dear friends."

"Two couples," Kate asked, quietly.

"Why, no! only one couple; a man and a woman," John answered, somewhat puzzled at the question.

"And was she a very dear friend?" the girl on his arm asked.

"Yes; the dearest friend I ever had among women; in fact, the only woman I ever really cared for."

In a moment John was half sorry, half glad he had said this, for he felt the little hand of his companion withdraw until only the tips of the fingers rested upon his arm. "That's a good sign," he mused.

For a moment nothing was said; then Miss Evanston broke the silence.

"And didn't she care for you?" she asked.

"Yes," he replied. "She loved me and she still loves me."

Presently Kate's curiosity got the better of her judgment and she asked. "And the man—you say he's a dear friend, too?"

"Yes," replied Desmond, "the only one I ever trusted absolutely."

"And does he know that you love her and that she loves you?"

"He knows absolutely that I love her and he is mighty certain that she loves me."

Kate was now thoroughly mystified.

"And which of them asked you to arrange for the wedding?" she asked.

"He did," replied John curtly.

Kate could only say: "Well, this mission, as you term it, certainly is inexplicable."

"Oh, no, it isn't," said John. "It will all seem quite simple when the explanation comes, if any is needed. In fact, I think it will explain itself. Just you keep those eyes of your open and you'll see it all very shortly."

Presently John touched his companion slightly on the arm and drew her into the shop of the village jeweler.

"Now, I want you to pick out the kind of a wedding ring you think the bride should get," he said.

When he had paid and pocketed the plain gold band they resumed their walk down the village street and stopped at the local office of a great metropolitan daily and Desmond, leaving Kate at one side, went up to the desk and wrote out a brief notice and was about leaving with her when the advertising clerk called after him and said that he had not told him when he wished the notice inserted.

"Why, to-morrow, of course," Desmond replied.

"Now, then," said John, as they turned into a side street, "we'll go and make arrangements for the parson to tie the knot and then we will have finished our mission."

They turned into the gravel walk leading to the Rev. John Barclay's house and had just reached the vineclad porch when Desmond stopped suddenly, as if he had but that moment thought of an important thing and, turning to Kate, who was standing close to him, almost whispered: "I want to ask another favor of you," bending his face close to hers. "I want you to let me kiss you before we go in there." And it was done in a moment.

Before Kate could recover from the perfect amazement into which John's action had thrown her he had dexterously drawn her arm through his and, leading her up the steps, had rung the door bell.

The Rev. Mr. Barclay answered the metallic summons in person and gave John a most cordial welcome, which surprised Kate, for she had supposed John an agnostic and didn't think that he numbered members of the clergy among his intimates.

"Mr. Barclay," began John, when they had entered the snug parlor, where the good gentleman's wife was seated doing some fancy work. "I've come over to-night to arrange for a wedding and I want you to perform the ceremony."

"When is it to come off?" asked the clergyman, consulting a small date book which he drew from his waistcoat pocket.

"Immediately," said John.

The Rev. Mr. Barclay cast a quiet glance at Kate.

"And who are the parties to be married?" he asked.

John took Kate's hand in his own and answered firmly: "This lady, Miss Kate Evanston, and myself."

Kate could not believe her ears. She stared at John in amazement. He hastened to reassure her.

"You're excited, my dear Kate. Calm yourself."

The whole truth had come to her. The explanation of the mysterious errand was solved. She looked into John's eyes and read love unspeakable and her own answered in kind. She went through the ceremony like one in a dream and feared it was a dream and hoped if it were she would never awaken.

The parson tied the knot and John slipped the ring which Kate had selected upon her finger and then the parson insisted upon his osculatory perquisite, and then they started for home, both supremely happy. All the way back Kate clung strongly to John's arm.

Before they had quitted the Barclay garden Kate said to Desmond: "Why did you want to kiss me before we went into the house?"

"I'll tell you," returned John, promptly. "You see, Barclay and I were classmates. I know his propensities, and I didn't want to suffer the reflection in after years that he had kissed my wife first."

When the happy couple reached their home Kate said:

"You are the most audacious man I ever met. You bought the ring and even inserted a notice of our marriage before you asked me to marry you. Tell me why you did not ask me first? How did you know I'd not refuse to marry you and make a scene in the minister's house?"

And Desmond answered: "When a man of action sees a girl kissing his picture he knows that the time for action, not words, has come, and he carries her off to the parson."

Kate blushed furiously, and pressing her face against his shoulder, whispered ever so low: "I love an audacious man."—Chicago Daily News.

This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of the city; and last, but by no means least, the Sunshine, located two miles east of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

Death of E. E. Dodds.

Mr. E. E. Dodds, formerly U. S Consul here, passed away at Port Hope a few days ago. The deceased lost an arm in the American war. He was well known in Peterborough, having lived here for some years.

South American Nervine makes the whole system radiant in perfect health, it accelerates circulation, enriches the blood, penetrates to the very centres of nerve force, builds tissue, makes and keeps people well. This wonderful remedy has had a charmed experience and has done its greatest work in cases that the medical fraternity had pronounced hopeless.—149

An Explanation

Through a misunderstanding Sergeant Percy Price was not present at the Keene presentation on Tuesday evening. The Times has been requested to publish the following letter.

To Wm. Anderson, Chairman of the Reception Committee, Keene:

Gentlemen,—I regret very much at not having been present at the reception given for my benefit at Keene, Tuesday February 5th. However, it was not altogether my fault I was not there, but my misfortune.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank all those who have taken part in procuring this beautiful watch for me, which I am sure I will ever appreciate. I also wish to thank the County Council and "C" Squadron P.W.C.D. for purses received from them before my departure for South Africa.

Believe me,
Yours sincerely,
PERCY R. PRICE, Sgt.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

—The cold snap keeps up in good form with no signs of a change.

—The death is announced in Toronto, of Mrs. Amys, wife of Mr. Philip T. Amys, aged 68 years.

—A child's neck ruff which was picked up Saturday night near St. Peter's Cathedral has been left at the Police Station.

—A well-placed dime or two,
Some type-lines neatly faced,
(These enter in a Times Want Ad.)
Just mean a man well-placed.

—There was no meeting of the Royal Templars on Tuesday evening, owing to the Orange Society using the hall. There will, however, be a meeting this evening.

—Lindsay has a board of police commissioners, as authorized under the Municipal Act. The change has apparently not worked as well as could be desired, for a resolution was recently introduced into the Council having for its object the rescinding of the by-law appointing the board. It was defeated only by the casting vote of the mayor.

Death of Richard Brenton

Mr. Richard Brenton, of Duluth, Minn., formerly of Peterborough, died on Jan. 17th, after a prolonged illness of over a year. It appears the deceased contracted a severe cold, which turned into pulmonary tuberculosis, which caused his death. Mr. Brenton was about thirty-two years of age and leaves a wife and two children, two and six years respectively, to mourn his loss. He belonged to the order of the Knights of Maccabees, which order took charge of his funeral Sunday, Jan. 20th, from the First Methodist Church of which he was a member.

ASHBURNHAM SCHOOL CONCERT

A Very Successful Event and One That Everybody Enjoyed.

The fourth annual concert of Ashburnham Public School, which was postponed on account of the Queen's death, was held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 5, in Ashburnham Town Hall. There was a good attendance and an excellent programme. All present were well satisfied with the evening's entertainment.

During the evening prizes in writing kindly donated by Mr. H. Calcutt, were presented to the winners as follows: Fourth Class, Ethel Pakenham; Third Class, Lillie McCubbin; Second Class, Harvey Braeley; Senior Part Second, Ethel Clarke; Junior Part Second, George Evans.

Reading prizes, open for competition amongst the girls, were awarded as follows,—Fourth Class, Laura Smithson; Third Class, Martha Murray; Second Class, Mabel Lewis.

The writing and the reading were judged by Inspector Brown, and the prizes in both were kindly given by Mr. Calcutt.

As Mr. Percy Price is an ex-pupil of Ashburnham Public School, it was intended to present him with an address at this concert, but as the meeting at Keene had been arranged for the same evening, Mr. Price could not be present. The address was read however, by George Rogers, and will be forwarded to Mr. Price. The address was as follows.

Ashburnham, Feb. 5, 1901.

To Mr. Percy Price:

Dear Fellow-Pupil,—We still address you as one of our fellow-pupils, as it is such a short time since you were in attendance at Ashburnham Public School, and we have no doubt you are still interested in us, as we certainly are in you.

We have watched with no ordinary interest your career in the service of the Empire while in South Africa, and assure you we were both pleased and proud that one of our former pupils conducted himself in such a way as not only to win commendation from his superior officers, but also promotion, which speaks volumes in your favor, when we consider the very large number of soldiers, each vying with the other in doing his best.

While we mourn the boys who will not return, we rejoice that you have been spared to receive the hearty welcomes of your many friends in and around Ashburnham.

Signed on behalf of the school:

Teachers,—M. W. Matchett, A. L. Wood, F. E. Coveney, A. M. Beattie.

Pupils,—Jessie Fisher, George Rogers, Jennie Gillespie, Wellington Henthorne, S. Ferguson, A. Hinds, Mabel Russell, Fred Mather.

The proceeds will be devoted to framing pictures for the school, planting shade trees, etc.

Next year the concert will be held, (D.V.), on Friday evening, January 31. The last Friday in January is the regular night for this concert.

FOOD BUILDS TEETH.

Boy of 6 Lacks Teeth Until Fed Properly.

A little chap 6 years old the son of W. Wells of Ravenswood, Ill., had up to a short time ago, cut very few teeth. Naturally the imperfect mastification of food caused indigestion and a poorly nourished system. "When I first saw the lad," says Rev. W. Osborne Stranahan of 3007 N. Winchester Ave., Ravenswood, he was wan and pale, grealy emanciated, with impoverished blood, and lacking all the essentials which go to make up robust strength and vigor.

"Many remedies and different foods had been tried, but none seemed to meet his need. I knew something of the value of Grape-uNts food, and recommended its use. The first trial convinced the parents of one thing—at least they had found a food the boy really liked. 'He empties his dish and calls for more,' the mother said.

"Astonishing results follow its use, almost immediately; flesh was rapidly put on, the face from being pallid and thin, began to fill out, the cheeks were plump and rosy. The body, properly nourished, began its work of upbuilding the system. The most wonderful thing of all, the Grape-Nuts food seemed to contain the necessary elements for the formation of bone tissue, and presently the tardy teeth began to prick through.

"To-day the boy is strong and hearty, in perfect health, with a full set of teeth rapidly maturing. The Grape-Nuts food alone has brought about this marvelous result."

Wedded in Toronto

An event of unusual local interest took place in Toronto on Tuesday, when Dr. T. Topham McCullough, of this place, was united in the holy bonds of wedlock to Miss McNeilly, of that city, a graduate of the Nicholls Hospital Training School for Nurses. Dr. and Mrs. McCullough are expected to return to Peterborough to-morrow, and will take up their residence on the corner of Murray and George streets. The Times extends its hearty congratulations.

Sports and Pastimes.

HOCKEY.

Bowmanville Old Boys have organized a hockey club, and want to play a Peterborough club of Old Boys. The Times would like to see the challenge accepted, and would suggest the following list of candidates from whom a strong team might be selected: Messrs R. W. Erret, Wm. Snowden, W. G. Ferguson, H. LeBrun, Robt. Fair, Adam Hall, W. H. Wrighton, G. M. Roger, P. Campbell, W. Sailsbury, R. Tivey, E. Phelan, W. Croft, W. J. Green and Sam Ray. From the above material a team could be formed that would make short work of the Bowmanville coons.

Toronto Telegram:—Belleville juniors, after having made such a holler and protested Peterboro' Colts, have defaulted to the latter. The Colts feel very sore as Belleville did not give the necessary three days' notice of default. This puts the Colts into the semi-finals with Jimmie Sutherland's junior pets, the Frontenacs. The latter are doing a lot of kicking about playing on Peterboro' ice, claiming it is not fit to play marbles on, let alone championship hockey.

STOP LOSING MONEY!

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 60 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLBUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 16 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 146 W. 42d Street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our Statement!

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. We average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

associated, and whose management possessed the entire confidence of the people of Manitoba. He looked forward to a very prosperous career for the National Trust Company.

Mr. W. T. White, General Manager, in reply to the vote of thanks from the Shareholders, said:—

It gives me great pleasure, on behalf of the staff of the National Trust Company, to receive and express our appreciation of the vote of thanks so cordially tendered us by the Shareholders.

We are conscious that we have put forth; if not the best possible effects, at all event our very best efforts in the service and interests of the Company, and it is a most pleasurable satisfaction to know that the results are such as to merit your approval.

With the rapid increase of the Company's business, the staff has necessarily increased also, until to-day it reaches the very respectable number of twenty-five in all. A very busy staff it is, and indeed it must be when you consider the extent of the Company's operations, the volume and kind of business which we transact, and the duties and responsibilities which we undertake in connection with it.

As to the extent of our operations, they cover a field wider than Confederation, for they extend also to the United States, West Indies, and even to South America. We have important trusteeships covering properties and enterprises in Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, British Columbia, Minnesota, Cuba, British Guiana, and Brazil and special acts or licenses have been taken out wherever necessary in order that real estate and other assets might be legally vested in the Company as trustee.

The volume of business transacted may be gauged to some extent by the case receipts of our three offices, aggregating over $17,000,000 for the past year. In addition to this must be considered the real and personal property held by the Company situated throughout this and other Provinces in connection with its trust estates, and the bonds and stocks passing through our hands belonging to companies for which we act as Trustee or Transfer Agent.

As to the kind of business carried on, it may be said that it embraces every variety of trust company work, from the simplest adminstration to trusteeships covering railways, electrical, and industrial bond issues, and the administration of sinking funds running up into the millions. In our Montreal office at present we are engaged in liquidating a financial company with assets situate in three Provinces, while our Winnipeg office in addition to adminstering over sixty trust estates, is charged with the very important duty of acting as official guardian and investing the court funds of the Province.

With regard to our duties, the watchword of a trustee is "Diligence." That special agency known as a trust is one which the law invests with a particularly stringent obligation. To act always the part of the prudent man of business in the particular situation—this is the duty of the trustee.

I have no desire, however, to magnify the important of our work or to emphasize the responsibilities which we assume. With a capable staff and a reliable firm of solicitors closely in touch with each of our offices, the business is carried on smoothly and satisfactorily. It is all a matter of organization, and our organization is becoming better every day.

I feel that I have taken up more time than is usual in reply to a vote of thanks. My excuse must be, however that I feel that you are interested in everything that pertains to this Company, which we are all anxious to make one of the leading financial institutions of the Dominion.

The following gentleman were elected Directors for the ensuing year:—

Confession of Crime By Hypnotism

Public interest has been aroused recently on this question by the exortion of a confession from a thief by means of hypnotism.

A confession of crime obtained in this way may or may not be a valid one. It is not necessarily infallible, any more than a voluntary confession would be. It would have to be verified by other evidence before it could be seriously considered.

Hypnotism will not make a liar instantaneously veracious. It is a very common opinion that a hypnotist can completely capture the mind of his patient without his consent, and discover all the secrets of his past life.

Hypnotism only gives us a means whereby we can the more readily get at the divine man within. It is not so much a key to the door of a man's mind as a more effectual way of ringing the door-bell and conversing with the occupant.

Generally speaking, a strong-willed man may still keep his criminal secret in spite of all influences, hypnotic or otherwise. As a rule criminals are very hard to hypnotize because they set their whole nature against the hypnotist, and when a man is under the influence of liquor it is impossible to do anything with him.

There is no doubt that hypnotism can and will be used to detect crime. But we are only on the threshold of knowledge in this direction, and no one can set limits to the future of hypnotism in overcoming the obstinacy of criminals. The time may come when the old, ineffectual methods of regenerating the moral nature will be superseded by hypnotic treatment. The astonishing results already attained prove this beyond question.

By hypnotism we can reach people who are moral imbeciles, and by no other power known to man can you do this.

We can discover the sense of right and wrong where none seemed to exist. We can overcome evil habits and awaken the higher self which never completely dies in any man or woman.

Where every other influence has failed to restore a man to moral sanity, hypnotism has succeeded. So I would say that if it fails to extract a confession from a criminal no other means can be used with success.

There is such a thing as compulsory hypnotism, which can be applied to any person without his consent. It is possible to shatter a human will as you might break a china vase against a rock. But this is a new and almost undeveloped field, about which little can be said at present.

QUEEN WILHELMINA MARRIES DUKE HENRY

And Confers Upon Him the Title of Prince of the Netherlands

The Hague, Feb. 7.—Queen Wilhelmina has conferred upon Duke Henry the title of the Prince of the Netherlands.

The weather on the morning of this, the wedding day of Queen Wilhelmina though fine was intensely cold. The stands, the windows, and the roofs along the line of the route to the Grootee Kerke at 10 o'clock were thronged with people.

THE QUEEN'S GOWN.

The Queen's wedding gown, woven of the finest silver tissue, was embroidered at the School of Art Needlework in Amsterdam, and afterwards was made up by Nicaud of Paris. It is ornamented with silver threaded seed pearls. The robe and train are lined with rich white silk. The bodice, which is plain and cut low is trimmed with magnificent antique lace. The trails are covered with embroidery almost meeting at the waist and broadening out to the hem. The court train is two and a half yards long, the embroidery running around in light trails.

The Queen Mother always wears on State occasions some shade of purple befitting her matronly figure. To-day she appeared in a gown of parma violet, with a long train of deeper shade. The bodice is cut low and trimmed with priceless Brussels lace, of which she has a large store, and mousseline de soie.

The gowns of the Queen's trousseau are mostly pale greens, greys, blues, and whites, these suiting her blonde complexion best. Her bonnets are of a severe style for a young woman, most of them being close-fitting toques, instead of the broad-brimmed hats worn by most girls.

FOR THE STATE ENTRY

For her public entrance into Amsterdam Her Majesty has a Royal robe of white velvet, with a train trimmed with ermine and a mantle lined with ermine. At one of the receptions in Amsterdam after the honeymoon she will wear a gown of white satin, embroidered around the hem and bodice with a small tracery of oranges and leaves, and a court train of rich orange velvet, lined with white silk.

She has an outdoor gown of delicate grey, combined with white and pale blue, scarcely showing embroidered steel and silver sequins. With this goes a large hat. She has also a soft hunting costume of dark bottle green, unornamented, and another of trimmed cloth applique. There is a walking dress of dark green, with gold threads and another of green mignonette cloth combined with white.

The Queen has four plain riding habits.

TWO CEREMONIES.

The civil ceremony of the marriage of Queen Wilhelmina to Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin was carried out at 11.30 a.m. in accordance with the programme.

Immediately afterwards the procession started for the church, headed by fifty Hussars, the bride, the bridegroom, and the Queen mother, riding in a golden State carriage, drawn by eight horses. They were acclaimed warmly by the crowds assembled. The church was reached soon after noon.

STEVENS VS. WM. HAMILTON CO

Appeal Dismissed at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on Wednesday

In the Court of Appeal at Osgoode Hall Wednesday was argued the following case of local interest:

Stevens v. William Hamilton Manufacturing Co.—Watson, K.C., and D. W. Dumble (Peterborough), for defendants, appealed from judgment of Ferguson, J., in favor of plaintiff. Action for damages for breach of alleged contract for the sale to defendants of a number of tons of scrap iron, to be delivered from time to time, as required by them, and to be paid for on the 15th and 30th day of each month until the requisite number had been delivered. After the delivery of a certain number of tons, the plaintiff alleges that the defendants repudiated the contract. The defendants pleaded the Statute of Frauds, and further alleged that they agreed to buy only by the load, and that after taking and paying for all they wanted they refused to take any more. The trial judge found that a verbal contract was made over the telephone between Hamilton, the defendants' president, and the plaintiff; that such contract, or at least the plaintiff's part of it, was stated with reasonable accuracy in a letter from plaintiff to defendants, in the following terms:—"10th February, 1900. As per talk over telephone this morning, I will deliver to your yard 200 tons of stone plate at $15 per ton, 2,000 lbs., 300 tons of agricultural 'cast,' which we call heavy, at $18 per ton, to be delivered as fast as I can get it in stock, and I am to get it fast enough to keep you going. Terms, cheque 15th and 30th of each month for what is delivered"; that there has been receipt and acceptance and part payment to satisfy the 17th sec. of the statute, that the president deposed that he had "full authority to buy and sell," and having regard to Wright v. London Life, 5 A.R., per Patterson, J. A., at p. 250, referring to South of Ireland, etc., Co. v. Waddell, L.R. 3 C. P., 4463, the lack of defendants' corporate seal was not fatal, and that, as to damages, the general rule applied, and plaintiff must be placed in the same position, so as money would do it as if the contract had been performed. It was contended for appellants that upon the evidence there was a total absence of consensus between the parties; that there was nothing to show that the contract was to be performed within a year from its alleged making, as required by the 4th sec. of the statute; that there was error in refusing evidence tendered at the trial to show that such an alleged contract would have been most extraordinary and unusual, and beyond the requirements of defendants' regular business and clearly beyond any individual authority to make and the lack of formality in its execution was clearly fatal. Shepley, K. C., and R. E. Wood (Peterborough), for plaintiff, opposed appeal. Judgment below affirmed and appeal dismissed with costs.

PARLIAMENT WILL BE OPENED BY THE KING

Edward VII. Intends to Open British Parliament in Person

London, Feb. 7.—Doubt as to the nature of the ceremonial to be observed at the opening of Parliament, February 14, has been set at rest by an official announcement that King Edward will open his first Parliament with a full state ceremonial. The ancient stage coach which has not been used since the Prince Consort's death will be employed. The precedent of 1886, the last occasion on which Queen Victoria opened Parliament in person, will be followed. The entrance will be through the great gates under the Victoria tower, the Sovereign and his suite passing thence to the robing room. It has a black marble stairway, which for years has been incensed in wood. Thence they will go through the gallery and Princes' chamber into the House of Lords. It is understood that Sir Arthur Bigge, who was private secretary to Queen Victoria, will be appointed private secretary to the Duke of Cornwall and York.

A LIFE OF QUEEN VICTORIA.

London, Feb .7.—The early publication of a life of Queen Victoria by the Marquis of Lorne, the husband of Princess Louise, one of her late Majesty's daughters, is announced this morning.

DRANK POISON WHEN FOUND OUT.

Deritter Had Lived Double Life and his Wife Upbraided Him.

Paterson, N. J. February 8.—John Deritter, a wealthy contractor and mason ended his life to-day by drinking carbolic acid after a violent, jealous quarrel with his wife. Deritter had for three years been away from home three nights a week, presumably on business. His wife learned that he had been living a double life. The revelation was made to her by her son and she upbraided her husband, threatening exposure and divorce.

Deritter went to the back yard and drank the fatal dose. The name of the other woman in the case is unknown.

Royal

BAKING POWDER

-Absolutely Pure-

For the third of a century the standard for strength and purity. It makes the hot bread, hot biscuit, cake and other pastry light, sweet and excellent in every quality.

No other baking powder is "just as good as Royal," either in strength, purity or wholesomeness.

Many low-priced imitation baking powders are upon the market. These are made with alum, and care should be taken to avoid them, as alum is a poison, never to be taken in the food.

THE CORONATION OATH

Roman Catholic Objection to be Revived in Canada.

WHAT THE OATH REALLY IS.

The Orangemen, it is Said will Oppose any Change Being Made.

And the Result May be a very Undesirable Feeling of Antagonism between the two Creeds.

Already our Roman Catholic friends throughout the country are moving to have the coronation oath, soon to be taken by the King, recast.

In Ottawa the matter is the subject of a lecture in St. Joseph's Church. So far as Peterborough is concerned, there is no movement on the part of the church, but no doubt the agitation will soon commence. There is no doubt that times have changed since the coronation oath was framed, and that there is, in the minds of many Protestants, a desire to meet the wishes of Roman Catholics, as far as possible.

That a British world-wide agitation is likely to be begun, there is every reason to believe. Already newspapers are discussing it, and many of them are taking sides. Orangemen regard any change with disfavor, and are imbued with the idea, rightly or wrongly, that the Pope is always placed before the King in matters of State as well as of religion.

The following is the oath:—

"I, A.B., by the grace of God, King (or Queen) of Great Britain and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, do solemnly and sincerely in presence of God, profess, testify, and declare that I do believe that in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper there is not any Transubstantiation of the elements of bread and wine into the body and blood of Christ, at or after the consecration thereof by any person whatsoever; and the invocation or adoration of the Virgin Mary or any other Saint, and the Sacrifice of the Mass, as they are now used in the Church of Rome, are superstitious and idolatrous. And I do solemnly in the presence of God profess, testify and declare, that I do make this declaration and each and every part thereof, in the plain and ordinary sense of the words read into me, as they are commonly understood by English Protestants, without any evasion, equivocation, or mental reservation whatsoever, and without any dispensation already granted me for this purpose by the Pope, or any other authority whatsoever, or without thinking that I am or can be acquitted before God or man or absolved of this declaration or any part thereof, although the Pope, or any other person or persons, or power whatsoever, should dispense with or annul the same or declare that it was null and void from the beginning."

The declaration was made the object of respectful protests from the Catholics of almost every province within the Dominion of Canada.

At the end of last February a public meeting was held in the Academic Hall of Ottawa university and was largely attended by the Catholics of the city. It was under the auspices of the St. Joseph's branch of the Catholic Truth Society and the following resolution was then adopted.

"That the Roman Catholics of Ottawa as loyal subjects of the British Empire, desire to express their regret that there should be required of the sovereign of the empire, at coronation or at any other time a declaration against Transubstantiation, by which the Sacrifice of the Mass and other doctrines of the Roman Catholic church are stigmatized as superstitions and idolatrous:

That they sincerely trust that the spirit of broad toleration which, within the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty and the two preceding sovereigns removed his declaration from the statute-books, so far as members of Parliament, peers of the realm, and office holders are concerned, will, at the request of humble but dutiful subjects of the empire, cause it to be repealed in so far as it relates to the supreme head of the state;

That they believe that the removal of this objectionable declaration would enable Roman Catholics of the empire to enter with more profound feelings of loyal affection into the spirit of a ceremony which should be the occasion of nothing but mutual esteem and good will on the part of both sovereign and subjects."

The result of this meeting was communicated to various Catholic bodies of Canada and the protest was both unanimous and emphatic. Resolutions and several other petitions were sent to Parliament.

SOUTH AFRICAN HEROES

BANQUETTED BY THE MASONIC BRETHREN OF LAKEFIELD

Clementi Lodge Honor Their Two Brethren Who Have Just Returned From the Veldt

A very enjoyable event took place here, when the members of Clementi Lodge, A. F. & A. M., honored their two brethren, Sergt. E. M. Thompson and Trooper Geo. S Hendren, who have just returned from South Africa. The dinner was gotten up in Mine Host Craig's best style, and was a success in every way. The chair was ably filled by Wor. Bro. A. V. Hall and the vice chair by Bro. Dr. Fraser. The following programme of toasts was then enthusiastically disposed of:—

"The King and the Craft" followed by "God Save the King."

"The Grand Lodge of Canada" responded to by V. W. Bro. John Hull and V. W. Bro. R. J. Munro, of Peterborough.

"Our Guests" was responded to by Bros Thompson and Hendren, who gave interesting accounts of experiences in South Africa. Bro. Thompson described a number of hair breadth escapes from shot and shell, and Bro. Hendren, who was one of Lord Roberts' personal bodyguard, gave a description of the battle at Belfast, both before and after, and also a description of the big guns used.

"The officers of Clementi Lodge" brought Bros Hill, Fraser, Sherin, Dench, Casement, Graham, Ogilvie, Tanner and Redpath to their feet. This toast was also honored by a rousing song entitled "Sons of the British Empire," by Bro. W. Graham.

"The Visiting Brethren" was responded to by Bros. Snelgrove, of Carman, Manitoba, J. M. Baggot, of Peterborough, and W. White, of Young's Point. Bro. Ogilvie favored the company with an interesting song entitled "The English, Irish and Scotch."

Sever volunteer toasts followed, after which the usual toast, "Happy to Meet, Sorry to Part, and Happy to Meet Again" was appropriately honored.

"Our Host" was proposed by the chairman and replied to by Mr. Craig, who regretted that he was no speaker, but was glad to have the honor of catering to the Masons on this occasion. The supper gave genuine satisfaction to all and Mine Host Craig received the compliments of his guests for the bountiful spread which was so well laid and attentively served.

"God Save the King" was heartily sung by the company and the pleasant gathering broke up about "the wee sma hours ayont the twae."

ON HER WEDDING EVE.

Fall River Mass. Girl Leaves Wealthy Quebec Suiter to Marry Poor Man.

Bride's Father is very Angry, Miss Rinfret Said She was Going to Confessional but this Proved a Ruse.

Fall River, February 8.— A romantic elopement is reported from the eastern part of the city. Adolp B. Gingras, of Quebec, connected with the Canadian postal service, and aged 36, is the disappointed lover. Miss Alice Rinfret, aged 19, of Flint Village, and Alfred Pelouquin, aged 20, employed as a clerk in the sub-post office in that part of the city, are the elopers.

The man from Quebec had for more than a year been an ardent suitor for the hand of Miss Rinfret, and his having considerable property had weight sufficient to offset the fact that he was a widower. She became engaged to him and he made her many presents, valued at not less than $500. Mr. Pelouquin did not stand as high in the estimation of the young woman's parents as did the other suitor. But he evidently received the greater part of Miss Rinfret's consideration, although she carefully concealed this fact.

HIS CUP OF JOY WAS FULL

Several days ago Mr. Gingras arrived from Canada and pressed his suit with all the ardour of a devoted lover. He was taken into the home of the Rinfrets and given every reason to believe that his love was reciprocated. Handsome presents were brought to the house and laid at the village belle's feet, and Mr. Gingras was the happiest of men. His cup of joy was almost filled, when last Wednesday, Miss Rinfret went to the office of the city clerk and procured a marriage license in which he was named as the prospective bridegroom.

With this encouragement and the assurance from her that she would marry, he went on with the arrangements necessary, such as seeing the priest and setting the hour for the ceremony. He consulted a lawyer and laid plans for having some of his property transferred to his future wife. Flowers and a feast were ordered, the latter to be served at the home of the bride's parents on Arizona street, and friends in Quebec were telegraphed the glad tidings. The wedding was to have taken place at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Cathedral of Notre Dame.

All this time the young woman had evidently been wavering in the matter of choosing a life partner, although she had said nothing that would give her "accepted" lover a clue to her thoughts.

Saturday afternoon she was out riding with Mr. Gingras, and when they returned home she asked permission to be left alone for a while to prepare her mind for confession, which she was going to make at Notre Dame that evening, and also to think over the important step she was about to take.

MINUTES GREW INTO HOURS

For an hour she remained in deepest thought, and then came forward and announced that she was ready to go to the confessional. She passed out of the house with a cheery good-evening to Mr. Gingras, and he has not seen her since.

As the evening wore on and the minutes lengthened into hours, Mr. Gingras and the members of the Rinfret household became alarmed at her absence. They visited the neighbours, and soon found out that another young lady, a close friend of Miss Alice, was missing, and before Sunday morning it was learned that Mr. Pelouquin had disappeared

The awful truth dawned upon the disappointed Mr. Gingras, while the father of the young woman was almost furious in his rage. It was soon learned that Mr. Pelouquin had escorted the young woman to the residence of his brother, in another part of the city, where Saturday evening they remained in hiding. The following morning they took a train for Warren R.I., where the ceremony was preformed that made them man and wife. Mr. Gingras has spent the greater part of the day in the vicinity of the sub-postoffice in Flint village, awaiting the return of his successful rival, while at the Arizona street home a warm reception is also awaiting the bold lover at the hands of his angry father-in-law.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Pelouquin do not expect their return for several days.

EMPEROR WILLIAM AND THE CZAR

Will Probably Visit in London Next Autumn

London, Feb 8.—Emperor William is reported to have left England with the understanding that if affairs of State permit it he will visit King Edward at Balmoral next autumn.

It is also said that there is some possibility that the next season in London will see both Emperor William and the Czar in this city.

ADDRESS IN REPLY TO KING'S SPEECH

Dr. Bridgland Moves its Adoption in the House.

Toronto, Feb. 7.—Nearly all the members of the Local Legislature were in their seats this afternoon when the debate on the address from the throne opened. There were but two speakers, Dr. Bridgland, of Muskoka, who moved its adoption, and Mr. Breithaupt, of North Waterloo, who seconded the motion. The address was accepted with amendment.

In moving the adoption of the report of the speech from the throne, Dr. Bridgland said that he fully appreciated the honor the Government has done him and his constituency in selecting him to move the address in reply. He referred feelingly to the loss the country had sustained. Any feeble attempts to express the sorrow that is felt by the nation, and, indeed, the whole civilized world, would be inadequate. Her sixty-four years of rule were as great as the progress of the nation. arts, literature and the sciences the Victorian era had been a wonderful one. She was the most distinguished woman the world has ever known. "While we think of her with just pride as our Queen, we love best to think of her as wife and mother. In a word, she was a noble woman, and as such she would ever be held in proud memory by her devoted subjects."

Her successor, King Edward VII, could not hope for such a long period of Sovereignty, but he could, and he gave promise of, retaining the high standard of his mother's life and rule. Her noble example would be ever before him, and his own high sense of duty would safeguard his actions. He could be no other than a wise constitutional ruler.

The reference in the speech from the throne to the valor displayed by our Canadian soldiers in South Africa will strike a responsive chord in the hearts of our people. We are proud of the part they took in defending the Empire in South Africa. It must have been an object lesson to the whole world. We deeply mourn our loss, but we are proud to know that their lives were sacrificed in a worthy cause. The proposal to give each volunteer 160 acres of land is a proposal that will meet with the approval of all. The restriction to be placed upon them should be as lenient as possible, and should allow of the sale of the land as well of freedom of taxes for a period of at least ten years.

TO BUY TELEGRAPH SYSTEM.

Dominion Government to Own and Operate Both Telegraph and Telephones

New York, Feb. 7.— The Dominion Government, says a Herald dispatch from Toronto, practically has taken steps to purchase the telegraph system of Canada, extend them enormously and operate them in connection with the postoffice department.

It is also seriously proposed to follow a similar course with the telephone, but in the case of the latter municipalities will be licensed as in Britain to operate the system within their own areas. With a surplus running from $6,000,000 to $7,000,000 for 1900-1901, and a prospect of an equally large surplus for 1901-1902, the plan seems feasible.

A DASTARDLY ACT

Two Valuable Dogs Badly Slashed With knives

A dastardly act was committed some time on Tuesday night by some party or parties at present unknown. The valuable Irish setter belonging to Mr. J. J. Turner was cut and scored so badly with a knife or other sharp instrument, that it is doubtful if it will recover. The deed was done deliberately, the intention being no doubt to leave the poor brute so badly maimed that he can not recover.

Another dog, said to be a valuable one, belonging to a resident on Charlotte street, was similarly treated.

The matter has been placed in the hands of the police, and it is to be hoped that the perpetrators of the fiendish outrage will be discovered and prosecuted.

WAR'S AWFUL COST.

What the South African War has cost in Human Lives.

London, Feb. 8.—Up to Dec. 31 the number of deaths from disease in the British army in South Africa was 7,185; killed or died of wounds, 4,251. The proportion is not unusual in war. If the microbe is more to be dreaded than the enemy, which is the case, the organization of an army in war time should provide accordingly, which is not the case. It costs so much to place a trained and armed soldier at the front. Whether his death is caused by a Mauser or a microbe the loss to the nation is the same and the same gap is left in the fighting line. If it takes 200,000 men to fight the enemy who kill 4,251 of them, the number employed in fighting disease, which kills 7,185, should bear some relative proportion to the combatant thousands in the interests of economy. As a matter of fact, even the excellent organization of the British army fails to provide on anything like such a scale.

South American Nervine makes the whole system radiant in perfect health, it accelerates circulation, enriches the blood, penetrates to the very centres of nerve force, builds tissue, makes and keeps people well. This wonderful remedy has had a charmed experience and has done its greatest work in cases that the medical fraternity had pronounced hopeless.—140

A MASTERPIECE IN DIPLOMACY

Such is the Opinion Regarding the Last Note

AMENT WAS NOT ILL USED

Officer Who Arrested Him Defends Himself From Charges

Pekin, Feb. 7.—At their meeting yesterday the foreign envoys prepared a note to be delivered to the Chinese plenipotentiaries containing the substance of the decisions arrived at, including the sentence of execution. This will be translated and delivered to Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang, who will immediately communicate with the court before replying.

The Ministers refuse to spare the life of Tung Fu Hsiang, on the ground that they do not consider the claim of the plenipotentiaries reasonable. They allowed the lives of Prince Tuan and Duke Lan not because they considered their crimes less, but on account of their relationship to the Imperial family, and the effect their death might have on the Chinese.

The Ministers were astonished that no plea should be put forward in favor of Prince Chwan. Neither Prince Ching nor Li Hung Chang made any objection to the full penalty in his case.

The indictments against the entire twelve are regarded in Pekin as a great masterpiece of diplomacy on the part of the Ministers, for had the Ministers merely given a list of names without specification of crimes, this might have left many loopholes for argument now believed to be impossible. The only plea can be political necessity. It is believed the court will urge the saving of at least two more, the reason for this being that Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang were taken by surprise, as prior to the conference, the Ministers had only desired the behalf of half the number, the others to be banished, and had given the impression that the Chinese would be allowed to decide who should be beheaded and who banished.

CASE OF MR. AMENT.

The Rev. W. S Ament, the missionary who was arrested by French and German troops on the charge of collecting indemnities from villages where native Christians had been killed, sent the following despatch to Mr .Conger:

"Guards withdrawn; our people vindicated; send officer to ask explanations."

Mr. Conger had already received an official notice saying that the German officer who had made the arrest denied that either Mr Ament or his companions had been discourteously treated On the contrary, according to the officer they had asked Mr. Ament to furnish evidence regarding the Chinese who belong to the mission, and the French soldiers who went with them, acted as their guide, and guard of honor instead of a jailer.

MEMORIAL FOR THE LATE QUEEN

Half a Million Collected at Calcutta for this Purpose

London, Feb. 7.—Upwards of 3,000 wreaths, worth £100,000, were sent to Windsor for the Queen's funeral.

London, Feb. 7.—The King does not intend to occupy Buckingham Palace for the present. His Majesty, accompanied by Queen Alexandra, will leave Windsor for London this afternoon and will take up residence at Marlborough House.

GERMANY IS PLEASED.

Cologne, Feb 7.—Commenting on the ovations to Emperor William in Great Britain, the Gazette says:—"These demonstrations of friendship for our Emperor and his people will not be forgotten in Germany, We feel sure also that the recent manifestations will for a long time resound in the heart of every Englishman, and by this means facilitate the heavy tasks both Governments will be called upon to perform."

MEMORIAL TO VICTORIA.

Calcutta, Feb .7.—Baron Curzon, Viceroy of India, yesterday addressed an enormous assembly of all creeds respecting the proposal to erect a national memorial to the late Queen Victoria. He announced subscriptions amounting to about £500,000. Some of the native princes are making offers of munificent subscriptions. The form of the memorial has not yet been decided upon.

KAISER MAKES A SPEECH.

London, Feb. 7.—An official report of the speeches at the luncheon at Marlborough House on Tuesday shows that the speech of King Edward was similar to the one delivered by him on the occasion of conferring the Order of the Garter on the German Crown Prince. He repeated his intention to endeavour to maintain excellent relations between Great Britain and Germany.

Emperor William reciprocated this. He said he experienced the greatest satisfaction in having been present during the last moments of the great and noble life of his grandmother, for whom from his boyhood he had had the strongest love and veneration. He thanked King Edward for the honour of his appointment as a field marshal in the British army, which enabled him to wear a uniform similar to that worn by the Duke of Wellington.

The compliment of Earl Roberts on his appointment would, he said, be highly appreciated by his army.

A CALL FOR AN INVESTIGATION.

The Canadian Grocer thinks there is probably some truth in the charge that first appeared in the Kingston Whig, which reported that "Canadian officers returned from the South African war, state that the Canadian canned goods gave them a national shock and the troops an ever present hunger. The cans were half filled, and as each man was alloted to two men, one man had to go without, or both had to take half fare."

The Grocer thinks this statement an undoubted exaggeration, and is positive that little fault could be found with much of the Canadian canned goods sent to South Africa.

It is almost inconceivable that Canadian canners could have been so disloyal as to supply inferior wares to the soldiers, and it is equally inconceivable that they can have been guilty of an act of colossal folly. Canada hopes for a great growth of trade in South Africa when peace prevails, and it would surely have been patent to any Canadian canner that nothing but the best should be sent to the much-sought-after market.

The Canadian Grocer deems the charges worth a government investigation, and so does The Times.

IRELAND'S FRIENDS.

Poor Ireland stands greatly in need of being saved from its friends, especially in the United States. The short-sighted policy of some Irish political demagogues who could not even allow the Queen's death to pass without attempting to make capital out of it has thoroughly disgusted the public, and even the partisan press. The Detroit News announces that it refused to print resolutions passed by some of the Irish political societies and has the courage to rebuke the agitators from whom they emanated. It pointedly tells them that Ireland or its friends have no longer any cause for such senseless rancor. "The people of Ireland," says the News, "enjoy some special privileges which no other people on earth posses. The British parliament, under the later years of Victoria's reign, has passed laws under which their rents have been cut off more than one half; other laws under which the fee of the land possessed by the landlords has been practically wiped out. Ireland is the only country on earth in which a court of equity and not the land owner fixes the rent. It is the only country on earth in which the tenant can force the landlord to sell him his land, and at a price not fixed by the landlord, but by a court, and the government advances most of the price. They have full control of their local county governments, and they have as free and liberal a parliamentary franchise as the citizens of the United States."

Scrofula the Cause.

Eczema, catarrh, hip disease, white swelling, and even consumption have their origin in scrofulous conditions. With the slightest taint of scrofula in the blood, there is no safety. The remedy for this disease in all its forms is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which goes to the root of the trouble and expels all impurities and disease germs from the blood.

The best family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

Facing the Future.

There comes a time to most women when they must face the future of wifehood and motherhood. What that future has in store for them depends largely upon themselves. To a healthy woman the obligations and consequences of marriage are a lasting happiness. To a woman suffering from irregularity or other ailments of the sex, marriage may prove a mockery and motherhood a misery. Where such irregularity exists Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can be used with the assurance that health will speedily be restored. It is the most reliable medicine known to medical science for the cure of diseases which affect the delicate womanly organs. "Favorite Prescription" is a non-alcoholic medicine and is also free from opium cocaine and other narcotics.

"At an early stage of married life," writes Mrs. Flora Arn, of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo., "I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a troublesome drain which rendered me very weak and unfit for work of any kind. I became so thin there was nothing left of me but skin and bone. My husband became alarmed and got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' After he saw the wonderful effects of that one he got me two more, and after I used those up there was no more pain, and I began to gain in flesh very rapidly. I owe all praise to Dr. Pierce and his wonderful curative medicines."

250,000 Cured.

WE CURE STRICTURE

Thousands of young and middle-aged men are troubled with this disease—many unconsciously. They may have a smarting sensation, small, twisting stream, sharp cutting pains at times, slight discharge, difficulty in commencing, weak organs, emissions, and all the symptoms of nervous debility—they have STRICTURE. Don't let doctors experiment on you, by cutting, stretching, or tearing you. This will not cure you, as it will return. Our NEW METHOD TREATMENT absorbs the stricture tissue; hence removes the stricture permanently. It can never return. No pain, no suffering, no detention from business by our method. The sexual organs are strengthened. The nerves are invigorated, and the bliss of manhood returns.

WE CURE GLEET

Thousands of young and middle-aged men are having their sexual vigor and vitality continually sapped by this disease. They are frequently unconscious of the cause of these symptoms. General Weakness, Unnatural Discharges, Failing Manhood, Nervousness, Poor Memory, Irritability, at times Smarting Sensation, Sunken Eyes, with dark circles, Weak Back, General Depression, Lack of Ambition, Varicocele, Shrunken Parts, etc. GLEET and STRICTURE may be the cause. Don't consult family doctors, as they have no experience in these special diseases—don't allow Quacks to experiment on you. Consult Specialists, who have made a life study of Diseases of Men and Women. Our NEW METHOD TREATMENT will positively cure you. One thousand dollars for a case we accept for treatment and cannot cure. Terms moderate for a cure.

CURES GUARANTEED

We treat and cure: EMISSIONS, VARICOCELE, SYPHILIS, GLEET, STRICTURE, IMPOTENCY, SECRET DRAINS, UNNATURAL DISCHARGES, KIDNEY and BLADDER Diseases. CONSULTATION FREE. BOOKS FREE. If unable to call, write for QUESTION BLANK for HOME TREATMENT.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. Those are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. A WONDERFUL

KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

I. A. HOPKINS.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, GRAVEL, DROPSY,

And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary troubles which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right, I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been benefited by its use. I am 58 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.

Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

Rev. W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Mrs. Wm. H. Hardy, East Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured her after six doctors failed. Rev. J. W. Hickman, Collyer, Trego Co., Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble, of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book, entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state.

Not only does this great discovery—Alkavis (the Kava-Kava Compound)—cure all forms of kidney and bladder diseases, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 508 Fourth Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

Spring.

Too well I know you, Spring, and so restrain
My foolish muse from all such flatter-ings vain
As "mild" and "gentle"—lest I be repaid,
Even as Marsyas of old and flayed
This time by icy hail and cutting sleet.
Instead—I pray your going may be fleet,
That soon I may forget and drowse away
My weariness beneath Dear Summer's sway,

Summer.

Insufferable season of the Sun,
When will your noisy insect court take flight?
Your orchestra that rests not—day or night;
Your armies with unconquerable
  stings;
When will they flee—what for do they have wings?
How long before brave Autumn with a shout,
Will succor me and put them all to rout?

Autumn.

You dismal mourner, wailing by the bier
Of Summer dead, with lamentations drear,
Driving me frantic ever and anon,
With reminiscences of Summer gone.
Now mimicking her tenderest airs and tones,
Now harrowing me with horrid shrieks and groans
Were good old Jolly Winter only here,
I'd soon forget you and your evil cheer.

Winter.

Hoary imposter! with mock jovial air
You took the green earth prisoner unaware
And pinioned the trees that moan and call
To Spring to free them from your icy thrall.
You manacled the stream who tugs in vain
To loose himself from your relentless chain.
And I—my heart is sad, my lyre is dumb,
Mild, Gentle spring—Oh! will you ever come?

FOOLED THE SOLDIER BOY

Not Used to Feminine Ways That Are Dark and Tricky.

One of the soldier boys swung along in the parade with a heart far heavier than his gun, and as he passed a balcony on the avenue and saw a pretty girl and a repulsively well-dressed man there, he scowled fiercely. Last fall it was far otherwise. He smiled whenever he saw the girl, and the repulsively well-dressed man hadn't dawned yet. Last spring the soldier sacrificed two buttons from his blouse and had them made into hatpins for that girl. Two weeks ago he sat near her at the theatre, and when she removed her hat he saw that it had been pinned on with a turquoise fleur de lis and an enameled violet. The military buttons were not there. The girl had promised to wear them forever and ever.

The soldier boy went home and wrote her the witheringest note you can imagine. He told her that as she no longer cared for him she could no longer value the button hatpins, and that he'd like them back again. Of course he put in a number of other remarks, some of them general, referring to the sex, and others specific and referring to her and to her conduct. She's a nice girl and an amiable girl, but that note was too much for her to endure. She sent a man servant with her answer:

"My Dear Mr. Skaggs: I would be very glad to return the hatpins you ask for, but I cannot tell which ones they are. They are all so alike that I am not at all sure which ones you gave me, but I send you what I have, and you can pick out yours. Very sincerely. FRANCES."

And that's why the soldier boy scowled. Being a mere man, he didn't even dream that six of the hatpins were borrowed.—Washington Post.

AN EXPIRIMENT IN LOVE.

It Cost the Bachelor a Wedding Present, but He Was Satisfied.

Themoirs lifted his chin from his chest and his eyes from the toe of his shoe and sighed dolefully.

"I don't believe she'll have me," he said for the some dozenth time.

I smoked on.

"Why should she?" he asked, argumentatively.

"Why?" I asked, reflectively.

Tremoirs glanced at me. "What can she see in me?" he demanded.

"True," I replied; "what?"

Tremoirs regarded me doubtfully. "It's crass presumption in me to dare to love her," he asserted.

I nodded an enthusiastic assent.

Tremoirs glared at me for a full minute. "She is so lovely and pure and—and beautiful, that for a rough, crabbed, worldly fellow like me to marry her seems like an insult," he said.

"It is," I agreed.

"Confound you!" cried Tremoirs, hotly. "I'm as good as you are."

"Undoubtedly," I observed, in as sarcastic a tone as I could manage.

"And I'll propose to her this very night, if you do think I'm too big a scoundrel to." Tremoirs announced, bitterly, as he hastily departed.

Well, I suppose I'm out a wedding present, but I've proved my theory, which is that the self-abnegation lovers indulge in is simply unconscious hypocrisy.—Puck.

Very Slow Trade.

Commercial travellers state that trade throughout the country is very slow. They ascribe the cause of this fact that last year, when times were considerably better than usual, the merchants purchased too freely, and travellers, taking advantage of the tendency, pushed too many of their goods upon the buyer. There stocks have not yet been exhausted and the merchants cannot buy as heavy now.

Exonerates Fairweather & Co.,

Toronto Globe—It was gratifying to J. W. T. Fairweather & Co., the Yonge street furriers, in the light of the little labor trouble recently, to receive from Ottawa from the Deputy Minister of Labor yesterday a communication stating that after the most thorough investigation by Mr. Williams, the alien labor officer, he finds not the slightest evidence of any attempt to a breach of the alien labor act on the part of the firm and exonerates them fully from all cause for the complaint.

A New Empire Day.

The proposal to make the 24th of May a prepetual Empire Day can not be too strongly commended. Empire Day is at present the 23rd of May. There will, therefore, be a change of but one day in the date; and the fact of its being the birthday of the sovereign under whom the Empire received the greatest accessions and made the greatest progress would give an added interest to the celegration year by year. It has been suggested that the date of the annual Thanksgiving should be that of the King's Birthday, the 9th of November.

AN ASHBURNHAM WEDDING

Marriage of Mr. Thos. Manice and Miss Jennie Lipsett

A very pretty wedding was celebrated on Wednesday evening at St. Luke's Church, when Mr. Thos. Maniece, of Ashburnham, was united in marriage to Miss Jennie Lipsett, third daughter of Mr. George Lipsett, of the Maple Leaf House, Ashburnham. Rev. H. Symonds tied the nuptial knot. The excellent choir of the church was present, and added much to the charm of the proceedings. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Minnie Lipsett, while Mr Fred Watley acted in a similar capacity for the groom. The guests, who numbered about sixty, were from the village, town, and from Lindsay, Port Hope and other places.

The bride was charmingly attired in a costume of white silk organdie, with trimmings of oriental lace. A pretty gown of blue silk was worn by the bridesmaid. The respective bouquets of the bride and bridesmaid consisted of magnificent white and pink roses. A beautiful floral arrangement adorned the altar.

After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding de jeuner was served at the residence of the bride's parents, at the conclusion of which Rev. Mr. Symonds proposed, in felicitous language, the healths of the happy couple.

The wedding presents were both costly and numerous, showing the high esteem in which the bride is held by her friends. Among them is a handsome marble clock, presented by the officers and teachers of St. Luke's Sabbath School and of the Girl's Guild, of which the bride was secretary. Two Sabbath school classes also remembered handsomely their former teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Maniece will reside in Ashburnham, where, as in Peterborough, they have a host of well-wishers. The Times extends its hearty congratulations.

Sports and Pastimes.

HOCKEY.

On account of Port Hope's having an open rink, they arranged to play their match in Cobourg. So Peterboro's colts went to Port Hope, and when they got there found that the latter proposed playing on home ice.

The colts were not used to playing in daylight on an open rink, with a fierce wind blowing, and would not consent. Referee Jack then awarded the match to Port Hope.

C. L. Owen, of Campbellford, to whom the Belleville club attribute the statement that Whitcroft, of Peterboro's colts, was paid $25 for playing a game of lacrosse, absolutely denies having ever made such a declaration.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Peterborough Hockey Club Wednesday night, it was decided to play the return Intermediate O. H.A. match with Port Hope on Port Hope ice this afternoon. This decision is pursuant to an order from the O.H.A. Executive.

Toronto Telegram: A Peterborough man talked this way to-day:—The Globe took occasion this morning to comment on the conduct of the Peterborough Hockey Club in two instances this season, and to my mind the conclusions reached are most unfair. In the first instance it is said that Peterborough's withdrawal from the senior series was unsportsman-like, but it must be remembered that Peterborough entered the senior series early in December, and had not an opportunity of testing its material until after the schedule had been drawn up. A match was played with the Wellingtons of Toronto, and Peterborough was beaten. They felt then that it would be useless to remain in the series, as they would lose public patronage, and at a meeting of the club it was decided to drop out of the contest for the Robertson Cup. I have heard no complaint on this score from either the Varsity or the Wellingtons. It seems rather peculiar that Peterborough has to bear the brunt of the Globe's criticism on the conduct of clubs that default games that have been scheduled.

Peterborough is one of the oldest members of the O.H.A., and never once has its record as a purely amateur town been disputed, except in the recent case when Belleville protested the juniors, with what success you well know. In reference to the Port Hope matter, Mr. A. McPherson, of the Peterborough club, says that an arrangement had been made with Port Hope to play on the Cobourg rink on Tuesday night last, and the Peterborough intermediates went down to Port Hope with that intention. Personally, I feel that Port Hope should be given the best of treatment, even though it has an open air rink. Peterborough was willing to play on their rink until the recent storm occurred, and then the arrangement was made to play at Cobourg, and Peterborough felt that this understanding should be adhered to, and that was the reason the team refused to play at Port Hope on Tuesday afternoon. The O.H.A. has ordered Peterborough to play in Port Hope, and they will not fill the columns of their papers with abuse for the association on that account. notwithstanding the Globe's view of the case this morning. They will abide by the association's decision.

STOP LOSING MONEY!

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 50 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 15 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 146 W. 42d Street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our Statement!

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. We average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

GEN. DEWET AGAIN NEARS CAPE COLONY

Lord Kitchener Reports That He is North of Smithfield--Near the Border

London, Feb. 8.—According to Lord Kitchener, General De Wet is again approaching perilously near the border of Cape Colony. When the British commander-in-Chief last communicated with the War Office the Boer leader was said to be north of Thabanchu. The latest official despatch, however, says that he is north of Smithfield, so that it is evident he has penetrated nearly a hundred miles south within the last few days. As a matter of fact, he is again upon the scene of his series of conflicts with the British many weeks ago, when he made do te efforts to cross the Orange River into Cape Colony, but was defeated and driven north by Knox. The news that De Wet is moving east indicates that he is repeating his former tactics, for this is practically the route he followed when manoeuvering along the Caledon River on the previous occasion. It is quite clear that De Wet is making another attempt upon Cape Colony, though the fact that he is fighting upon ground well known to the British makes his task a very difficult one, and lays him open to capture. He is only about forty miles from the border, and the next few weeks may prove of moment to the British in South Africa, as they may decide once for all the fate of De Wet.

DESTROYED BOER SUPPLIES.

London, Feb. 8.—Lord Kitchener reports to the War Office under date of Pretoria, February 7, as follows:

"The British column destroyed supplies at Petrusburg and brought in 3,500 horses and cattle.

"De Wet is reported still north of Smithfield moving east. A detached force, which crossed the line at Pompi Siding is moving on Philippolis.

"Methuen reports from Lillifontein east of Vryberg, that he scattered the enemy there and captured twelve wagons and cattle. French is near Ermelo."

BOER REFUGES ARE 60,000.

Pretoria, Feb. 8.—The Boer refuge camps are now administered by civilians. The refugees now total approximately, 60,000 men.

BOERS MAKE SECOND ATTACK.

London, Feb. 7.—The town of Modderfontein was again attacked by Boers last Saturday. The British lost nine killed and thirty-one wounded.

BURGHERS APPEAL FOR PEACE.

The burghers at Volksrust have issued a strong appeal to the commandants in the districts in that vicinity urging them to yield to the inevitable. The appeal reminds them that thousands of Boers have been exiled, killed or wounded, and that only more complete ruin can result from further resistance. They point out that the railways and the sources of income are in the hands of the British, and that sending deputations to Europe is hopeless.

THAT "NO PRISONER" LIE.

Mr. Cartwright, editor of the South African News, was arrested this afternoon on the charge of publishing a seditious, defamatory libel. The arrest followed the receipt of a letter by the Attorney-General from Gen. Kitchener, assuring the former that a statement to the effect that Gen. Kitchener had instructed the troops to take no prisoners, was a base libel.

BOER BASE AT CALVINA.

News from the Doorn River shows that the Boers have a base at Calvina, from which they have sent patrols afr and wide. The country is wild and mountainous, but Col. Delisle is moving toward them. British horse buyers have secured 4,000 good horses and 3,000 mules in the colony. It was not suspected that there were so many animals available.

BRITISH GAIN DELAGOA LINE.

The London correspondent of the London Daily Mail wires:—The King of Portugal is staying a few days longer in London than he originally intended, at the express wish of King Edward. His visit is likely to have important developments. The Portuguest section of the Delagoa Bay Railroad is now in British hands, but this is merely a temporary arrangement between the Governments. Commenting upon the situation at Delagoa Bay, and the evidence that the Boers have penetrated 23 miles into Portuguese territory, the Daily Mail expresses the belief that British troops are now guarding the Delagoa Bay railroad down to the sea, and that it would be possible to send British troops by the Delagoa route. It argues, therefore, that Great Britain gains by the Boer move.

CAPT. ECCLESTONE ARRIVES.

Ottawa, Feb. 8.—Captain Ecclestone and Sergeant Murray, of the Canadian Postal Service, who went to South Africa with the Canadian contingent, have returned to Ottawa from England.

A DAIRY COMPANY.

Strong Stand Taked by the Local Medical Men

At a meeting of the medical men of the town, held on the evening of Feb 6th, the topic for discussion was. "The milk supply of Peterborough." The unanimous opinion of those present was, that we are receiving milk of poor quality and very doubtful purity; That under the present system, it is impossible to have milk uniform in quality and free from disease conveying germs, to say nothing of the filth, that may gain entrance from unclean cows, and dirty stables. In view of the fact, that the health of the community, especially the infantile, portion of it, is largely dependent on the purity of the milk supplied, it was felt to be the duty of the medical profession, to bring this matter before the public, in the hope that something tangible in the way of improvement, might be done. As a modern dairy, equipped with facilities for delivering milk and cream of absolute purity, would necessarily mean the expenditure of many thousand dollars, and therefore not likely to be undertaken by private enterprise, the meeting decided to give their moral support to a company that would operate an up to date dairy. Accordingly the following resolution was moved and unanimously adopted: "Resolved that in the opinion of this meeting, it is desirable that a company should be formed which would undertake to furnish the citizens of the town, with a supply of pure milk, said company to be under proper sanitary and hygienic inspection."

HORRIBLE EXPLOSION IN MEXICAN MINE

Eighty-Seven Persons Blown Into Small Pieces

TONS OF DYNAMITE IGNITED

Electric Wires Cross and Set Fire to Explosives

Chihuahia, Mexico, Feb. 8.—Word has reached here of one of the most terrible mining disasters that ever occurred in Mexico. An explosion in the San Andres mine, situated in a remote locality of the Sierra Madres, in the western part of the State of Durango caused the death of 87 men, women, and children, and injured many others The catastrophe was due to the explosion of several hundred cases of dynamite stored in an underground chamber of the mine.

Electric wires connecting with the hoisting machinery passed through the room in which the dynamite was stored, and it is supposed that these wires became crossed, causing a fire which set off the dynamite. All of the killed and injured were on the surface, most of them occupying residences immediately above the underground workings of the mine. The explosion tore away the whole top of the mountain, on which the village of miners was located, and men, women and children were blown into small pieces.

Among those who were killed was Herman Kuetsman, the superintendent of the mine, and all the members of family. But few of the mangled remains were recognizable.

Summonses were sent to neighboring camps for surgeons to attend the injured, and it was some time before this aid arrived. The San Andres mine is the most celebrated silver mine in Mexico. It is valued at $10,000,000 and has produced many millions of dollars worth of ore.

A CHINESE SLIGHT TO THE FOREIGNERS

A Stranger Sent to Great Britain With Condolences

Pekin, Feb. 7.—The Chinese plenipotentiaries have telegraphed to the court the demands of the Ministers, and are awaiting a reply. From remarks made by both Prince Ching, and Li Hung Chang, it is evident they think the court will carefully consider the conditions proposed.

It has been strongly intimated to the Chinese by more than one of the foreign Ministers that China must agree to the conditions or accept the unpleasant consequences. It is pointed out that the powers are not animated by vindicate motves, as, had they been they would have insisted upon the decapitation of both Prince Tuan and Duke Lan.

Prominent Chinese think the appointment of Chang Po Hsi to proceed to England to offer China's condolences on the death of Queen Victoria is a slight offered to the foreigners, as Chang Po Hsi practically is unknown outside of his own province, where he is literary Chancellor. They think Su or some other Royal Prince should have been sent.

2,600 MILES WITH A SHIP ON FIRE

Captain Bryce Sailed Seventeen Days

BEACHED AT FIRST LAND

Nailed Down Hatches and Made for Pitcairn Islands

San Francisco, Feb. 8.—Capt. Bryce, the hero of a seventeen days' race aainst death in a burning ship in the South Seas, arrived here to-day with his twenty-nine men on the steamer Australia from Tahiti. Bryce is a Scotch skipper. When the fire was discovered in the hold of his brig, the Pyreneus, he gave the order to batter down the hatches, crowd on all sail and make for Pitcairn Island. When they arrived there they could not beach the vessel, and had to go on further to Gambier Island, where they finally ran the bark ashore. They were on half rations all this time, unable to go below because of the intense heat, and were in fear that every moment the flames would burst through the deck.

The Pyrenees sailed from Tacoma on October 14, wheat laden, for Leith. On November 16 the fire was discovered, and it had gained such headway that nothing could be done to stop it. They were 2,600 miles from the nearest land, and their only chance of safety was in reaching land, far away as it was.

"We kept the decks flooded with water," said Capt. Bryce. "As the days passed the heat grew more intense. The pitch in the seams of the deck boiled and spread. The cabins become so heated and so full of stifling vapor that we could not stay in them more than five minutes at a time. It was terrible We did not know what was going on down there in the hold, where the fire was raging, although we could hear a sullen roar occasionally. We did not know what moment the flames would burst through the deck.

"At Pitcairn we had a bitter disappointment, as the sea was too rough to land. Then we made for Gambier, where we headed the bark and reached the shore all right. If she had not been of steel no one would have escaped."

The men all admitted that they would have deserted the bark and tried to reach land in open boats if it had not been for Capt. Bryce, who held them to their work and swore he would stay with the ship till the fire came through the deck.

BUBONIC PLAGUE AT CAPE TOWN

May Necessitate Changes in the Military Arrangements—Two Towns Taken

London, Feb. 9.

Public attention has again been turned to South Africa by the despatch of reinforcements. Rumors have been in circulation that Mr. Chamberlain, Colonial Secretary, had reconsidered his South African policy and was contemplating a round-table conference with John Morley and Sir William Vernon Harcourt and the recall of Sir Alfred Milner. The Daily Mail, however, says it is able to assert on Mr. Chamberlain's authority that the whole story is a fabrication and that the Government retains the most absolute confidence in Sir Alfrid Milner.

Lord Roberts' despatches, sent by mail during the war, are published here. They are interesting as providing that throughout the campaign he never had sufficient men, horses or supplies to cover such a vast field of operations. The appearance of Bubonic plague at Cape Town seems like to add to the difficulties of the situation.

The authorities there have decided upon the wholesale destruction of rats. Should the disease spread it will necessitate changes in the military arrangements. To-day Sir Alfrid Milner makes another earnest appeal to employers to allow as many men as possible to enroll in the Colonial mounted defence.

From Delagoa Bay it is reported that the British have occupied Ermelo and Caroline, which until recently were Boer depots. The Boers held up a Natal train near Vlakfontein. The few soldiers on board exhausted their cartridges and the Boers then robbed the passengers, afterwards allowing the train to proceed.

ST. PAUL'S CHOIR.

Their Annual Concert Last Night a Decided Success.

The annual concert of St. Paul's Church choir, in the Opera House last night was characterized by all the success that had been anticipated. The audience was large and the entertainment was excellent. A very pleasing sight met the eye as the curtain rose. Upon the stage were ranged on rising seats, the chorus of 60 voices, the front row composed of ladies robed in white and typical of the youth and beauty of Peterborough. The chorus was composed of St. Paul's choir, augmented by representatives from the other choirs of the town. Remembering the limited time they had been training together and the large number of voices, a great deal of credit is due both to the choristers and to Mr. John Crane, their skilful director. The programme consisted of twelve numbers, in which choral music alternated with solos by Mr. Carnahan and recitations by Miss Fenwick. Of the choral numbers, the quaint and rollicking "Cruiskeen Lawn," with Mr. J. Lawson's voice in solo, and "Rock-a-Bye," by the ladies, were particularly taking. The immortal "Scots Wha Hae" was rendered with a vigor and feeling that stirred other as well as Scottish hearts. Mr. Carnahan was warmly received and repeatedly encored. In response to one of his recalls he treated the audience to a surprise, in the shape of an entirely new song, one not yet published, and only received by him the evening before. It is entitled "A Greeting to the King," and the author is Mr. H. H. Godfrey, of Toronto. Judging by its reception last night, the song is entitled to a place among patriotic favorites. Miss Fenwick's recitations were of popular character—in fact it was a good feature of the whole entertainment that no part of it was such as would go "over the heads" of an average audience. The young lady not only has the gift of humor, but in a recitation given by request, describing the heroic conduct of a jockey, she showed high dramatic talent. The unobtrusive but important part of accompanist was sustained by Miss Hurley with unerring skill.

FIRE AT BAKU WAS STARTED FOR REVENGE

Many Tried to Escape While They Burned Like Torches

St. Petersburg, Feb. 8.—Despatches from Baku say all the available hospitals are filled with sufferers from the fire, while the sheds on the Fair grounds are crowded with homeless people.

The fire broke out in the evening at meal time, and spread so rapidly that many people were unable to escape from their homes. The fire even cut off the retreat of the spectators, thirty of whom perished.

It is believed the conflagration was started by a discharged employe for the purpose of revenge, and it is further reported that the naphtha reservoirs had been previously filled with water, which in overflowing carried the flaming fluid over the town involving scores of houses. The streams of fire was several yards high. Numbers of people were seen attempting to escape while their bodies burned like torches.

The total number of victims is not ascertainable at present.

A Boat Experiment

The Bracebridge Gazette says: Mr. Paul Tretheway is in the city having made his new boat which is to eclipse anything which floats for speed. There is nothing novel about the hull of Mr. Trethway's boat or engine. His application of power is unique. The boat is built on the lines of an ordinary launch. She is about 24 feet long and of five feet beam. At the bow on either side of the stem, two holes have been cut in the boat just below the waterline, and six-inch steel pipes, which run back to the engine, are set in. At the engine the pipes are joined and run to the stern with a downward dip. At the joints twin screws are worked in the pipes. Briefly, the idea is that the water will be drawn in at the bow and forced out astern by the screws. "The openings at the bow will do away with the greater portion of the resistance forward," said Mr. Tretheway yesterday, "while the discharge of the water astern will prevent the drag there, and I calculate that the destruction of these two items of resistance to speed will double the pace of the boat."

FIRE AT GOUGH BROS'.

A Small Blaze Early This Morning in the Rear of the Store

This morning shortly after one o'clock a fire occurred in the rear of Gough Bros'. clothing store. It was soon extinguished by the use of the chemical engine, though not before considerable damage was done to the stock by smoke. The origin of the fire is unknown.

DRUG STORES ARE WRECKED BY WOMEN

Faith Curists Following the Methods of Mrs Carrie Nation

Chicago, Feb. 7.—The doings of Mrs. Carrie Nation have been viewed with admiration of the female disciples of Alexander Dowie, the faith cure prophet who had been smitten with the spirit of emulation. Half a dozen followers of Dowie yesterday wrecked a number of drug stores in this city. crying out that drugs were the agents of the devil. In some instances there were hand to hand fights with the druggists. Armed as they were with pitchforks, umbrellas, and canes, the women came out victors in nearly every encounter and succeeded in destroying property wherever they went

The women went in a well organized band, were of middle age and well dressed. Most of them wore automobile coats, under which they concealed their implements of destruction while on the street. On leaving a drug store they invariably sang "Praised be the Lord," or "Zion forever." Policemen saw them, but no arrests were made.

The first place visited was Charles G. Foucek's drug store, at Eighteenth street and Center avenue. Calling the proprietor to the front of the store the crusaders upbraided him for dealing in traffics of the devil. Then one of the women, who seemed to be a leader, asked:

"Don't you know that all the ills of human kind can be cured by prayer?"

"I am not aware of the fact, if such is the case, said the druggist.

"Hurrah for Dowie," shouted the woman. At that her companions drew canes and umbrellas from beneath their long cloaks and began to strike at the druggist's head. He dodged the blows, and took refuge behind the prescription case, when the women turned their attention to the shelves and show cases and began to strike right and left. The besiegers were driven out eventually by the druggist and his assistants with buckets of water, which they dispensed freely among the women.

Other drug stores in the neighborhood, belonging to B. Lilienthal, Leo L. Mrazek, Herman Linerman and G. Shapiro, also were wrecked by the crusaders and the same tactics used. The women finally separated after being driven from one of the stores at the point of a revolver.

Soldier's Oath

A question has been raised in some quarters as to whether or not the militia will have to take the oath of allegiance to the new Sovereign. When a man joined the force under the late Queen he was tendered the following oath: "I do sincerely promise and swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to Her Majesty." The Department of Justice does not interpret the words "Her Majesty" in a literal sense, but as synonymous with "the Crown." Hence the decision is that present members of the active militia are not required to take the oath anew.

To Make Deer Season 30 Days.

One or two changes in the Ontario game laws are said to be under consideration of the Provincial authorities as a result of last week's meeting at Montreal of the North American Fish and Game Protective Association. After a lengthy discussion at that meeting which was attended by half a hundred representative men from Canada and the northeastern States, a recommendation that the deer hunting season be extended from September 15 to Nov. 30 was rejected and thirty day season between those dates favored. In Ontario the season is only 15 days and the possibility of extending it is being considered, but action is by no means certain.

The Official Period

A cable has been received from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, stating that court mourning for her late Majesty the Queen lasts until the 24th of January, 1902. The public will wear deep mourning until March 6th, next, and half-mourning until April 17, and the Governor General invites all persons to join in general mourning.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, FEBRUARY 7, 1901

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa, and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press, and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at 25c per month, and to outside points at $5 per year. Strictly in advance.

MRS. NATION'S METHODS.

Boston does not take kindly to the Kansas type of reform. Though the emancipated woman cuts a pretty wide swath in that town, they draw the line at the hatchet. A person who introduced the method of Mrs. Nation and wrecked a Cambridge street bar was ruthlessly run in and sent to the House of Correction.

Mrs. Nation is meanwhile rempaging through Kansas and has obtained recruits in various parts of the State who are smashing things with great vigor and violence, and the officials and the populace stand by amazed and wonder where this thing is to end. They seem to have no way of preserving the peace in Kansas short of burning at the stake.

The ladies with their hatchets and broken glass are giving a new significance to the old phrase of Bleeding Kansas. After all the old Leavenworth days were comparatively peaceful.

MURDERER DE WET.

The later reports regarding the shooting of two peace envoys by Christain De Wet place the affair in the most revolting aspect. The envoys went to the Boer camp openly with a flag of truce to negotiate for a cessation of hostilities. They were seized by De Wet's order, two of them were brutally flogged and then shot. It has been held that in warfare any persons who clandestinely approach subordinate officers with the purpose of seducing them from their allegiance or inducing them to surrender a post may be executed as spies. But in this case the envoys approached openly under a flag of truce, the flag was violated and two of the envoys murdered. Nothing worse could happen in warfare with utter savages and instead of being eulogized as a patriot, De Wet can now only be regarded as an outlaw murderer. His name Christian is a misnomer.

"God's Guards," the new religious sect organized in Illinois and now established at Seneca Falls, N. Y., has for its chief corner-stone the tenet that rich man should give all their wealth to the poor. It will find its converts chiefly among the poor.

LOCAL NEWS LETTERS.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

A very seccessful concert was given by the pupils of S.S. No. 1, North Monaghan, on Wednesday evening. Mr. Joseph Barnard efficiently occupied the chair, and announced the different selections, which consisted of ecoal and instrumental music, recitations, dialogues, &c. The schools room was crowded to the doors, and much enthusiasm prevailed. Much credit is due to the popular teacher, Mr. J. E. Middleton, to whom is largely due the success of the entertainment.

NORWOOD.

—The people of Norwood were well divided Wednesday night. Some were at the rink, some at the wedding in the country, some at the oyster supper for the hockey boys, some at the prayer meetings, some at the wedding in the village, some at the oyster supper for Mr. Hall, some at the Town Hall where a lecture on California was given and some were at the oyster supper for Mr. Stuart, who has left for Halifax.

—The return match between Campbellford and Norwood was played on Friday evening and Norwood won, but Campbellford does not like to be put out of the league, so they have protested the game on account of their scoring a goal after time was up. The hockey was about the best ever seen in these parts. The score at half time stood 2—2 and in the second half each side scored, making 3—3 and eight minutes before time was up Norwood scored the final goal of the match. Mr. English acted as referee and Mr. Davidson, of Norwood, and Mr. Owen, of Campbellford, acted as time keepers. A large crowd of Norwood people went along to cheer the boys and they did their duty.

—While Mr. Davidson was at church Sunday evening, his house was broken into and all the money he had in the house was taken and his drawers broken open. No trace has been found but they think they know the party and who is being watched.

—The Methosists held their tea on Monday evening and in spite of the bad weather a good crowd was present to witness the burning of the mortgage. The proceeds for the evening amounted to over $91, which will exceed last year.

STEWART'S OTONABEE.

The entertainment held in the Union Hall on Feb. 1st, under the auspices of the newly-organized ladies' aid of the Bethel church, was quite a success. Owing to the fine evening and good roads the hall was well filled. A lengthy programme was placed in Mr. W. J. Hanbidge's hands, which was rendered as follows:

Opening chorus...... ....
Chairman's address...... ....
Recitation... ... ...Miss A. Downer
Cold water cross... ... ...7 girls
Song... ... ...Mr. Chas Hambidge
Instrumental... ... ...Messrs Newton and Hanbidge

The National Anthem was then sung and Rev. Mr. Thompson closed with prayer. The hall was richly draped in memorial of our late Queen.

"I'm Ashamed

To go anywhere with my face in this condition," is the expression of a very natural feeling. To a beautiful woman an eruption on the face is the greatest of calamities, her very beauty seeming to increase the disfigurement. Ninety-eight times in every hundred, eruptions are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and the skin recovers its maiden bloom and softness. "Golden Medical Discovery" is a medicine which acts directly on the blood, purifying it, increasing its quantity and its richness. Eruptions, blotches, pimples, etc., are but surface signs of the corrupt blood current underneath. "Discovery" cleanses the blood, and so cleanses the skin.

"For about one year and a half my face was very badly broken out," writes Miss Carrie Adams, of 116 West Main St., Battlecreek, Mich. "I spent a great deal of money with doctors and for different kinds of medicine, but received no benefit. At last I read one of your advertisements, and obtained a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Before I had taken one bottle of this medicine I noticed a change, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep the bowels in healthy condition.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (none free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. TELEPHONE POINTERS

One of the many good points of a telephone is that a message cannot fail to reach its hearer correctly. Another good point is that it reaches all points, and that everybody in the city or country worth doing business with has a telephone. Another good point is the economy of time and money. Another point — can you afford to be without one, at home or office?

A WONDERFUL KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, GRAVEL, DROPSY, And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

I. A. HOPKINS.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary troubles which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right, I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been benefited by its use. I am 58 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.

Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

Rev. W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Mrs. Wm. H. Hardy, East Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured her after six doctors failed. Rev. J. W. Hickman, Collyer, Trego Co., Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble, of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book, entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state.

Not only does this great discovery—Alkavis (the Kava-Kava Compound)—cure all forms of kidney and bladder disease, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 408 Fourth Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

A SINGULAR START IN LIFE

How did I get my first start in life? Well, in a very singular manner—a very singular manner indeed. I will proceed to tell you.

Let me see. I am now rather advanced in years—seventy-seven last January— what some people call getting old; though, somehow, my heart feels as young as ever. Seventy-seven years, with nineteen off, leaves fifty-eight. Fifty-eight years ago in June; that would carry it back to the year 1841. Yes, that is right—that is the year I went out to Port-au-Prince, Hayti, as captain's clerk.

The captain and I not agreeing very well, I left him there, and while looking for another berth I fell in with a countryman of mine who wanted to take a trip into the interior, merely to gratify his curiosity.

"I have heard," he said, "that the scenery among the hills is the most beautiful in the world, and I am anxious to see it, but would rather not venture alone, and hitherto have found no one to be my companion. Now if you can spare a few days and will go with me I will not only bear all expense, but pay you a reasonable price for your time."

"I am your man," was my reply.

We immediately set to work and procured a good outfit—rifles, pistols, knives, tinderbox, wallets, knapsacks, canteens, and dry provisions, which we expected to eke out with fresh game, and the second day saw us on our travels into an uninhabited region.

I pass over the first few days of romantic exploration, during which we penetrated deep forests and dense jungles, where vegetation ran riot, forded numerous streams, climbed steep hills, scaled precipices, descended into dark valleys, and saw nature in all her wildness, grandeur and beauty, with enough of peril from wild beasts and poisonous reptiles to keep us keenly on the alert.

On the fifth or sixth day we discovered the finest scene at all—a succession of precipices, like so many terraces, one above another, down which poured and roared a series of cascades, with mountains towering far heavenward on three sides of the whole, and a tranquil river and a flowery valley on the fourth—altogether a combination of grandeur, beauty and sublimity that was really enchanting. We spent the remainder of the day here, built our campfire on one of the highest ledges, and slept listening to the music of the night-birds and falling waters.

On the following day we discovered the entrance to a beautiful grotto, which we immediately determined to explore.

Collecting some resinous sticks, and binding them together to serve for torches, we lighted our bunch, and entered where perhaps the foot of man had never before penetrated.

The entrance was narrow, a little higher than our heads, and my companion went cautiously forward with the light, and I as cautiously followed.

After getting in some fifty feet, in a zig-zag course, we suddenly came to a large apartment, hung with the most beautiful stalactites, which flashed and sparkled in the light with an effect which defies description, and we could easily fancy we were in a palace of diamonds.

"This is worth the labor of a lifetime to behold!" exclaimed my companion, enthusiastically.

"Gorgeous beyond my wildest dreams!" I replied.

This hall was very large, not less than three hundred feet in length, by two hundred in breadth, and in some places perhaps fifty feet to the roof, with an even, level floor.

While feasting our eyes on the surrounding beauties we gradually moved on, and came to where three dark passages led deeper into the bowels of the earth, the central one going straight forward, and the others turning off respectively to the right and left. We took the middle one, which was about ten feet wide, and as many high, and arched at the beginning with nearly as much regularity as if cut out by the hand of art.

After advancing a few paces we found it gradually narrowed, and began to descend somewhat abruptly, the air becoming more damp and heavy. Presently it expanded into a long, low hall of solid rock, which, unlike the first apartment, was dark and gloomy, affording the wildest contrast.

On exploring this apartment we found no less than six more passages, leading off in as many different directions.

We selected the largest and still went forward, though I confess I began to feel a little uneasy, for fear we might venture too far, lose our way, and not be able to get back.

"Don't let us risk too much for the first time," I said to my companion by way of courtesy; "for I have no desire to be buried alive."

"There is not the least danger," he replied. "I watch every turn, and could find my way out in the dark."

Soon after this we came to where the passage was so contracted that, at first, we were compelled to stoop, and then to crawl forward on our hands and knees.

Again I remonstrated, but my companion did not heed me.

We kept on in this manner for some distance, and then the passage enlarged, and led up a steep ascent. After toiling up about fifty feet we came to another brilliant chamber of stalactites, and found a dozen more inviting passages leading we knew not whither.

Our first torch was by this time pretty well burned out, and, as we lighted one of the two others which I carried, I remarked:

"It would be tempting fate to go any further now. I propose turning back."

"Hark!" he said. "I do believe I hear running water, and I must see what it is. This way; follow me. There is no danger. I will guide you back in safety."

He again went forward as he spoke, and as he still carried the light I was obliged to accompany him, or remain in darkness.

We thus went on and on, through a rather open passage, and, as we advanced, the sound of falling water became more and more audible, till at length we came in sight of a bright running stream, that flowed over a clear bed, and fell down, with a sudden plunge and gloomy roar, into some dark abyss that was frightful to behold.

As we stopped and contemplated this wonder of nature, with the lurid torch lighting up the awful scene, I suddenly perceived what appeared to be several bright sparks of fire in the bed of the stream.

As the depth of the water was only a few inches, I fixed my eye on one, descended into the current, stooped down, picked it up, and held it to the light.

"What have you found, Benson?" asked my companion.

"What is it?" I said, handing it to him.

Never shall I forget his wild, eager look, as he fairly shouted:

"Gold! Gold! Gold! As I live, gold! Hurrah! Our fortune is made!"

In a moment I was as much excited as he; and, forgetting everything else, we both began a hurried search along the bed of the stream for gold. We found it in particles—here, there, and everywhere—sparkling like fire beneath the light of our torch; and while we gathered it, looking eagerly among the rocks on every side for some enriching vein, we indulged in the wildest dreams of wealth and ambition.

Time passed unheeded, our torch burned low, and yet we thought of nothing but gold.

At last coming back down the stream toward the edge of the dark abyss, my companion saw something that drew him forward in haste. I perceived his danger, and shouted:

"Have a care!"

The words had not done echoing through the subterranean gloom, when there was a sudden slip, the dashing forward of a human body, an agonizing scream, the ghastly gleam of a swiftly descending torch, and then I was alone in the bowels of the earth, in the most appalling darkness.

For a time I was bewildered and stupefied, and I sat down there in the rayless darkness, moaning and wringing my hands. Then I shouted the name of my companion many times, and begged him to answer me, though I knew it was all in vain. Echo alone responded—an awful echo—that finally died out far away in the terrific gloom.

At last I aroused myself to thoughts of my own preservation. Fortunately I had brought with me the means of striking a light, and one bundle of sticks was still in my possession.

I lighted the last torch, cast around me one terrified glance, and hurried away from the roaring water, that was singing the funeral dirge of my late companion.

My presence here now is a proof that I reached the outer world alive; but more than once I was in despair, believing I had lost my way. After that I had a long, weary journey back to Port-au-Prince, and it was not till near the close of the fourth day that I came in sight of the town. It rained a great deal during those four days, and after being completely drenched, I was often exposed to a scorching sun.

The effect of all this was a fever, which kept me on my bed for six weeks, during which time my life was more than once despaired of; and it was nearly four months from my first attack before I was again fit for business.

My purse having now become pretty low, I bethought me of my golden cave, and at once endeavored to turn it to some account.

I mentioned my discovery to several different parties, telling them, at the same time, the sad tale of the loss of my companion.

Most of them listened with indifference, saying they did not think gold enough could be found there to defray the expense of searching for it; and I was about to give up the idea of making any money out of it, when I fortunately met a speculating Frenchman, who asked me what sum I would require to guide him to the cavern and relinquish all claim to whatever might be found within.

I named a sum equivalent to twenty-five thousand dollars, and after considerable arguing, he offered me twenty thousand, which I finally accepted.

I guided him to the grotto, conducted him to the subterranean stream—at which I shuddered as I again beheld it—showed him the little sparkles of gold, and received my promised reward. I never saw him afterward, but heard that he made a fortune by his purchase.

That twenty thousand dollars, so strangely acquired, I may say was my first real start in life. With that I began to trade in different articles, buying and selling, and two years afterward returned to England in a vessel freighted by myself.

I was prosperous in all my undertakings, and twenty years ago, retired from business, having what I considered enough of this world's goods.

The Cornice Fell

A large chunk of cornice in the Town Clerk's office came down with a crash the other day, bringing with it considerable plaster, and creating such a volume of dust that Town Clerk Armstrong was driven out of his office. Will be a Holiday

So far as schools at least are concerned, May 24 will hereafter be a holiday as heretofore. By an enactment of the Ontario Government several years ago it was decided that on the death of the Queen, Empire Day, which has hitherto been on the 23rd of May, or the nearest preceding school day to the 24th, would thereafter be on the anniversary of the late Queen's birthday.

A PROSPEROUS INSTITUTION.

The Anglo American Fire Insurance Company Makes a Good Showing.

We congratulate the manager and officers of the Anglo-American Fire Insurance Company on the result of the year's operations, as shown by the financial statement which was presented by the annual meeting of the shareholders, held at the head office of the institution, Toronto, on the 5th instant.

The company is now qualified to do business in all parts of the Dominion, having deposited well the Dominion Government the sum of $54,723.99, which gives it a license to operate in all parts of the country.

Notwithstanding the fire losses during the year were the greatest in the history of Canada, the company was able to show a surplus of $23,339.78; after paying all expenses.

The company is represented in Peterborough by Alderman Harry Rush, who is gradually working up a good business for this enterprising and progressive company.

$600 FOR $1.00.

A Profitable Investment

Jno. Blakely of W. Lebanon, Pa., reports that he got more value from $1.00 worth of Grape-Nuts food than from $600 spent in noted hospitals, trying to get well from stomach trouble. He says: "After all my experience, I had to come home thinking there was no cure for me. I was so weak and nervous I could hardly walk, and for three years I hadn't a good night's sleep. I was run down until I only weighed 120 pounds.

"I commenced using Grape-Nuts about a year ago and now I weigh 103 pounds and can do as good a days' work as any one. When I go to bed I sleep all night peacefully and am refreshed in the morning. I use Grape-Nuts food every day and know it is the greatest blessing that ever was sent to suffering humanity. I believe if it had not been for this food I would have been under the sod before this." There is a reason. No food in existence contains, in a concentrated form, the elements that will rebuild the nerve centers and the brain, as Grape-Nuts, and the beauty of the food is that it is perfectly cooked at the factory and by the process of manufacture is predigested in a natural way, therefore requires but trifling power of the stomach to digest it.

Sports and Pastimes.

HOCKEY.

The match between the Intermediates and the Port Hope team at that town yesterday, resulted in a victory for the foreign club by a score of 4 to 2. As Peterborough had a lead of two goals from the match here this leaves the total score a tie and another match will have to be played on neutral ice.

Belleville juniors' protest against Peterboro' was thrown out.

CURLING.

The Orillia Curling Club's bonspiel commencing on Tuesday afternoon, Feb 19, promised to be well attended, says the News-letter. The competition will be a single rink and open to all, no entrance fee, and the home club will be limited to four rinks. Primary prizes —first prize, two pairs of red hone stones; second prize, one pair red hone stones. Sheppard medal, valued at $50, for a points competition, players belonging to the rinks that are winners and runners-up in the primary competition only are eligible to compete. Consolation prizes—first prize, two pairs of red hone stones; second prize, one pair red hone stones. All rinks may be entered in the consolation except the winners and runners-up in the primary. Sixteen ends will constitute a game. The Ontario Tankard rules will govern as far as possible. The committee have secured the skating rink for the occasion and will therefore have eight sheets of ice.

STOP LOSING MONEY!

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Hard Times in Dawson.

A letter dated Jan. 16, received from Fred A. Hartgen, of Dawson City says on that date the thermometer was 74 degrees below zero, which was the coldest day in Dawson City this winter. Thermometers froze, he said, and the temperature was ascertained by a medicine which was guaranteed not to freeze until 74 degrees below zero was reached. Bottles of this medicine were frozen, and the weather was steadily getting colder. There is no work, and the poorer classes are unable to pay for dog feed, which costs sixty cents a day for each dog, and in consequence he says many dogs are going mad. The only men who are making money are the gamblers, he declares. In conclusion, he writes. "Times are very hard here, and will be for at least three months. There are ten men for every position.

Hard on the Gentler Sex.

There is much of the slave and the tyrant hidden in the nature of woman. Thus woman is not yet capable of friendship, but only of love.

In the love of woman is injustice and blindness to all that she does not love.

There are two things a true man likes—danger and play. He likes woman because she is the most dangerous of playthings.

A man should be reared for the vocation of a warrior; a woman for the recreation of the warrior. All else is rubbish.

A woman's principle of honor is to love more than she is loved, so as not to be second.

In any game where love or hate is not at stake women play a mediocre part.

All women behind their personal vanity cherish an impersonal contempt for woman.

As a rule, a mother loves herself in her son more than the son loves himself.

The chief danger that besets artists of genius lies in woman. The worshiping woman is their ruin. Hardly one has character enough to resist his ruin when he finds himself treated like a god. Man is a coward in face of the ewig weibliche, and no one knows it better than the small woman.

REPORT OF DIRECTORS

Presented at the Second Annual Meeting of Shareholders, Held at the Head Offices of the Company, McKinnon Building, Toronto, on Tuesday, the Fifth day of February, 1901.

Your Directors take pleasure in presenting their report and statement of the Company's business for the second year of its existence.

Since the last annual meeting the Company has deposited with the Dominion Government $54,723.99, and obtained a license authorizing it to transact business throughout Canada, and now established in Ontario, Manitoba, Northwest Territories, British Columbia, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and an active and satisfactory business is being transacted.

The fire losses during the past year have been the largest ever experienced in Canada, and all insurance companies have suffered more severely than usual, and your Directors, therefore, under the circumstances, regard the surplus of $23,339.78 of income over expenditures as satisfactory.

The great conflagration in Ottawa and Hull, which proved so disastrous, involving a loss of some ten million dollars, caused us a net loss of thirteen thousand six hundred dollars, or about one-fifth of our total loss for the year.

The Directors find that the officers, agents and representatives of the Company have faithfully discharged their duties, and desire to express their appreciation of same.

S. F. McKINNON,
President.

EX-PRESIDENT IS GROWING FEEBLE

It is Said That Kruger is Not Likely to Last Much Longer

London, Feb. 11.

The War Office has received the following despatch from Lord Kitchener, Commander-in-Chief in South Africa:—

"Pretoria, Feb. 9.—The columns working eastward occupied Ermelo, February 6, with slight opposition. A large force of Boers, estimated at 7,000, under Louis Botha, retreated eastward. About 800 wagons, with families, passed through Ermelo on the way to Amsterdam and very large quantities of stock are being driven east. A peace delegate under sentence of death and other Boer prisoners were taken away by the Boers. All reports show that the Boers are exceedingly bitter. Fifty Boers surrendered. Louis Botha, with 2,000 men, attacked Gen. Smith-Dorrien, at Orange Camp, Bothwell, at 3 a.m. Feb. 6th. He was repulsed after severe fighting. Gen. Spruil was killed, Gen Randemeyn was severely wounded Two field cornets were killed. Twenty of the Boer dead were left in our hands, and many severely wounded. Our casualties were 24 killed and 53 wounded.

"Our movemnt to the east is reported to have thoroughly upset all the enemy's calculations and created a regular panic in the district. Christian De Wet appears to be crossing the line, south of Jagerfontein Road, to the west this morning, having failed to effect a crossing by the drifts east of Bethula, in Cape Colony."

Calernia has been occupied by Col. de Lisle, who entered Feb. 6. The enemy retreated towards Kenhardt, Col. Haiges driving the midland commando north-ward past Aberde.

Lord Raglan, Under Secretary of State For War stated to-day that Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood is not going to South Africa, and that no peace commission is contemplated. The report as to a peace commission is false from beginning to end. He said the policy of the government is the very opposite of what would prompt such a step. Troops not peace commissioners are going to South Africa.

London, Feb. 9.—Commenting upon the despatches of Lord Roberts, The Times says:

'The most vivid impression produced is that on its fighting side the British army need not fear comparison with any troops in the world. A second, and less agreeable, impression is that the army is less strong on its business than on its fighting side. Its splendid qualities have been neutralized by want of foresight, iniative, organizing ability, common intelligence and common sense on the part of those whose business it was to utilize the fihting qualities of the men to the utmost.'

KRUGER IS GETTING FEEBLE.

New York, Feb. 9.—In a despatch from The Hague, the London correspondent of The Tribune says:—"While Mr. Kruger has gone to Utrecht for treatment by an eminent specialist for his eyes, his general health is not good, and he is showing increasing signs of feebleness. His heart action, physicans attending him here have admitted, is weak, and give warning that he cannot live long."

BULLER CARED FOR HIS MEN.

London, Feb. 8.—Lord Roberts' detailed mail despatches ranging from February 6th to November 15th, 1900 and filling 157 quarto pages, were gazetted this evening. Hundreds of officers and men are favorably mentioned, including Lord Kitchener, who is referred to in warm terms. Sir Redvers Buller is criticized.

His first despatch on his arrival, Jan. 10th describes the forces as much scattered He decided to leave General Buller with a free hand in Natal, but otherwise to remain on the defensive until reinforced, and until the transport had been organized.

He found no transport corps existing. The colonial forces had not been sufficently used.

Writing from Jacobsdal, Feb. 16th, Lord Roberts says:—"General Buller Feb. 6th, wired that he had pierced the enemy's lines, but that to get his army across to the Ladysmith plain, would cost from 2,000 to 3,000 men. I replied that he must relieve Ladysmith even at that cost. Buller telegraphed Feb. 9th that he was not strong enough to relieve Ladysmith without reinforcements, and regarded the operation in which he was engaged as impracticable. I replied that my instructions must hold."

On the marches to Johannesburg, and Pretoria, the chief concern of Lord Roberts was the provision of the army.

"We were practically living from hand to mouth," he wrote, "and at times had not even one day's rations to the good."

He does not blame Col. Broadwood for the Sanna's Post affair, as "The disaster was mainly due to the failure of the patrol at Boesman's kop to warn their comrades that an ambush was prepared."

Incorporated with the despatches are reports from subordinate commanders, including the narrative of General Baden-Powell, who says the newspaper correspondents gave him much trouble, as the enemy "derives a great deal of information as to our circumstances in Mafeking from the newspapers."

Lord Roberts pays the highest tribute to the gallantry and worth of the troops, declaring that "No finer forces ever took the field under the British flag."

There is a general idea that the despatches have suffered considerable excision at the hands of the War Office. They do not throw any further light on the summary retirement of Gen. Colville or many other matters regarding which the public is anxious to bear.

BOERS FIRE UPON NURSES.

A despatch from Pretoria states that on Monday night last four hundred Boers attacked near Standerton a train bound for Natal, and fired among the civilians and nurses, who were passengers. One of the carriages was afterwards found to have 47 bullet holes in it. The burghers robbed the passengers, taking £25 from one nurse. Another nurse had a bullet shot through his hat. Nine of the passengers were wounded. The nearest garrison shelled the Boers, but was not strong enough to attack them. Later Tuellibardine's Scottish Horse came up, whereupon the Boers cleared off. The disgraceful conduct of the burghers has caused universal disgust The Boers are still in force south of Johannesburg. A number of refugees, including women and children, have arrived here. They were expelled by the Boers from Waterburg.

Captain Bernier and His Friends will Wait upon the Premier To-Morrow to Seek Aid.

Ottawa, Ont Feb 9.— Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be waited on by Captain Bernier and his friends Saturday for the purpose of interesting the Government in the captain's proposed expedition to the North pole. Captain Bernier has written to French members here that he is at Montreal, having lately returned from England, where he received considerable practical encouragement and assistance for his expedition, proofs of which he will submit to the Government.

BOXING CARNIVALS ON CANADIAN SOIL.

Promoters said to be Turning their Eyes to Fort Erie have Secured Incorporation of Athletic.

Buffalo, N.Y., Feb. 8.—The Times today says: New York boxing promoters having given up the idea of securing legislation favorable to boxing, have turned their eyes toward Fort Erie, and they will, it is said, make the little Canadian town across the river a Mecca for the pugilists. A representativev of Senator Tim Sullivan of New York has been in town for two or three days looking into the conditions and sizing up the situation generally Three are others beside Senator Sullivan interested in the scheme.

Some time ago Tim Kinney and three or four Fort Erie business men, applied for and secured a charter for an athletic club from the Canadian Government, and it was then announced that they would erect a handsome club house and bring together some of the fistic stars, but for some reason the scheme never went through. There was an interference from the authorities nor was any threatened. Lack of confidence and the consequent of funds seemed to be the stumbling block.

Kinney still holds this charter, and though he was offered a good sum for it the other day he refused to sell.

ANGLO-GERMAN DUET IS NOT PROBABLE.

German Press Ridicule the Proposal of a "Moral Entente."

GERMANY A RIVAL NOT A PARTNER.

Recent Visit of Kaiser to England Unlikely to Lead to any Commercial Alliance Against the U. S.

Berlin, Feb. 8.—Excepting a few Liberal papers like the Vossische Zeitung and Tageblatt, the German press has in no way received the advances of the British press the past week graciously. Nine-tenths of the press persist in pretending that the German Emperor's visit was a mere matter of filial piety, and that the honors mutually conferred there were solely meaningless civilities, in no way touching or influencing each other, nor reconciling their conflicting interests. While for a couple of days after the Queen's death even the Anglophobe press kept a truce, during the last half of the week the press began to speak out openly upon the subject of Anglo-German relations as existing upon King Edward's accession. The Krenz Zeitung the London Daily Telegraph's proposal for a "moral entente" between Germany and England, adding:

"If the anti-European economic attitude of the United States continues, serious differences will ensure, in which England likewise perforce will join against the United States, which threatens to be a much more formidable opponent than Germany. But Germany's economic interests would, nevertheless, remain antagonistic to England, and Germany in no case would join with England in fighting the United States economically, nor would England expect that, fearing thereby possibly to strengthen Germany, her rival. Germany in such case would be tertius gaudens."

CORONATION OF KING EDWARD VII

Speculations Concerning the Date of the Ceremony

INSURANCE ON KING'S LIFE

Comcanies will Soon Refuse to Take Further Risks

London, Feb. 9.—Speculation is rife as to the date of King Edward's coronation, some people maintaining that it will occurr as early as September, but probably the year of court morning will be strictly observed, the coronation not occurring until February or later in 1902.

The curious fact of the King's birthday coinciding with Lord Mayor's Day, November 9, may cause an alteration in the date of one or the other of these celebrations in the immediate future.

King Edward's time is busily taken up. The most important event, of course, is the opening of Parliament (February 14), to which, next to the coronation, is likely to be the most brilliant spectacle of his reign. Peeresses and others are clamoring for places in the House of Lords, whose seating capacity is so limited that only a few can hope to be successful. Whenever the King has previously appeared in the Upper House it was as an attentive auditor of the debates, sitting on the ordinary benches. The only time he voted was in favor of legalizing the marriage of a deceased wife's sister, which he has consistently but futilely supported.

Among the other functions which are shortly to be performed by the King is the reception of loyal addresses from the corporations of the three capitals of the United Kingdom, which will be presented at Buckingham Palace.

Every prison in the United Kingdom is in a state of keen expectation for the unmates hope the King will signalize his accession by issuing some pardons. The friends of Mrs. Florence Maybrick are taking new heart.

By giving up the Duchy of Cornwall to his son, King Edward sacrificed an income of over £1,000 a week, though he now receives what is estimated to be about £1,000 a day.

Queen Victoria has not been dead a fortnight, yet advertisements are appearing in the papers advising the public to guard themselves against possible loss by insuring against the death of the King. It is said the insurance companies are rapidly approaching the limit of the risk they will accept on King Edward's life.

GREAT FAMINE IN CHINA.

Starving Natives Driven to Cannibalism.

Misery Beyond Words—Crops have Failed for Three Years—Destitution in Shan Si and Shen Si Provinces.

Pekin, Feb 11.—Reports received here from Singan Fu all agree that the famine in the provinces of Shan Si and Shen Si is one of the worst in the history of China. All information on the subject is necessarily from Chinese sources and is fragmentary, but the stories are all to the same effect, picturing a condition of affairs that is calculated to arouse the sympathy of the world for the stricken people. It is estimated that two thirds of the people are without sufficient food or the means of obtaining it. The weather is bitterly cold and this adds to the misery of starvation. There is little fuel in either province, and the people are tearing out the woodwork of their houses to obtain fuel to keep themselves warm Oxen, horses, dogs and other animals used by the farmers to aid them in their work in ordnary times practically have all been sacrificed to satisfy hunger.

For three years the crops have been failures in both provinces. There was more or less famine in previous seasons, and the people were in poverty when the winter began. Their condition has since been growing steadily worse. Letters state that cannibalism is practiced now to a considerable extent.

Li Hung Chang, in conversation with Mr. Conger, the American Minister, stated that the people were reduced to eating human flesh. Many of them were selling their women and children to obtain money with which to buy food for the remaining members of their families. Infanticide is alarmingly common. Parents, driven insane by want and the cries of their children for food, which they are unable to provide, kill the little ones rather than listen to their cries of distress and see their sufferings.

One letter received here says: "In the towns men have become like ravenous kites. They snatch from your hand whatever you may be eating. Beside those who are every day thrown into the common pit I observe in the crowds invading the town many of those whose days are numbered already. The complexion of the people has turned dark. Blood no longer animates their yellow skins. Chinese children, ordinarily round and plump, resembling stuffed dollars, display their under structure of bones. I have seen such skeletons that I wondered how breath still lingers in them. Their feet dangle and turn in any direction, so loose have become the tendons and muscles. With the best of care it would only be possible to fan for a time the spark of life, to see it finally extinguished. Women and children are being sold or given away. Infanticide is increasing on a terrible scale. The ordinary food of the wolves will be living babies, which, as in the last famine, will turn them into fierce man-eaters."

The same writer says that the pagans at the present moment are developing their worst traits. It is a common thing to hear such appeals as "buy my land or I will kill myself," Give a morsel of bread or I will distroy myself at your door."

"Appease my hunger," says a feminine voice, "and I will follow you." A mother says: "Take my child for paltry aims," or a husband will say: "My wife is your's forever for a few strings of copper."

These statements are corroborated by other writers. Men and women hunt for food in savage bands. Nothing that might appease their appetite escapes them. Fierce fights among themselves frequently follow when they overtake prey.

While the famine is said to be worse in Shan Si, it is almost as bad in Shen Si, which is particularly interesting now because it is that province that the court has taken refuge. The court is litterally surrounded by these horrors. It is little wonder that the Emperor and Dowager Empress are ready to sacrifice almost everything to bring about conditions that will enable them to return to Pekin. The presence of the court in Shen Si aggravates matters. This is owing to the fact that, at a conservative estimate 25,000 extra mouths have to be filled. There are 20,000 soldiers there alone in the neighborhood of Singan Fu, and 5,000 is a small estimate of the number of official retainers who are with the court. Of course, great quantities of provisions have been sent from other provinces for the use of the court, but these have been insufficient for 25,000 persons, all of whom get full rations at the expense of the starving people. The government has been doing what it could to relieve the sufferings, but its efforts have been marked by every little success because food in sufficient quantities for distribution cannot be obtained.

The population of Shan Si is 12,000,000 and of Shen Si 9,000,000. In connection with the famine misery it is interesting to know that the Dowager Emperor and the high statte officials are living in Chinese houses which at the best are miserable apologies for houses for the royal family. The yamen of the governor of the province will be moved to Kansu, where it will be fitted up for the court. This, however, will be but a miserable substitute for the buildings in the Forbidden City.

William Barclay Parsons has written here asserting that the report that the railroad to Hankow had passed into possession of Belgium is untrue. He says it is still an American enterprise and will so continue, with him as chie fengineer. He adds that Belgians and other foreigners are only financially interested in the road.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA BECOMING DEAF

She Would Prefer to Have Remained Princess of Wales

London, Feb. 9.—In all the homage paid to King Edward, Queen Alexandra is little heard of. "Proclamation by the King" in big black type parades itself curiously on the London boardings, and the young blood of England is insensibly fired by the idea that a manly—almost martial—ruler once more controls their destinies. There exists something of that feeling with which the London apprentices hailed the accession of the last Edward, so there is little wonder that Queen Alexandra, for the present, comes in for but a small part of this virile enthusiasm.

A diplomat thoroughly conversant with court details informed a representative of the Associated Press that her Majesty assumes her increased responsibilities a feeling almost akin to regret. "I am growing so old," she said the other day, "that I almost feel unable to face the arduous duties before me."

GROWING DEAFNESS.

The Queen's appearance belies her words. It is her growing deafness which is likely to prove her greatest handicap. Before long it is feared she will have to use an ear trumpet. In other ways she is not so strong as formerly. The rumor that King Edward is suffering from cancer (promptly denied by Sir Felix Semon, physician for diseases of the throat to the National Hospital for epilepsy and paralysis) probably arose from the fact that Sir Felix Semon is attending Queen Alexandra for sore throat, to which recently she has been extremely susceptible, though there are no traces of serious disease. She would have been only too glad if destiny had permitted her to finish her days in England as Princess of Wales, the greater simplicity and freedom of the minor title being much preferable to this woman, who by her kindness and goodwill has endeared herself to her adopted people. Since the death of Queen Victoria, Queen Alexnadra has frequently expressed herself as determined to carry out as far as possible those old time public and private customs which made the former rulers of the court so different from any others in Europe.

According to report King Edward and Queen Alexandra will visit the Dowager Empress Frederich in March, and will spend Easter at Copenhagen with the King of Denmark. But if this program is carried out it will be done in the quietest way.

A SHOOTING AFFAIR NEAR COLLINGWOOD

Samoel Friend, of That Town, Shot His Sweetheart's Brother

Collingwood, Feb. 9.—A shooting affray occurred near here one night this week through a brother's opposition to his sister's keeping company with a certain widower.

For some months Samuel Friend, formerly a liquor merchant in the town, has been keeping company with Miss Macgillivray, who resides with her mother on Concession 10, Nottawasaga. A brother George Macgillivray, recently married, has always taken serious objection to Mr. Friend's course, and more than once the two have quarreled.

A few night ago, Mr. Friend armed himself with a loaded revolver before going to visit his lady love. Upon his arrival at the house, the irate brother was on hand, and attempted to put Friend off the premises. In the struggle that followed, Friend drew the revolver and fired two shots into Macgillivray's body one of which lodged near his heart. He fell to the floor, and Friend escaped through the doorway. Dr. McKay extracted the bullets, and it is expected the wounded man will recover. Friend is still at large, though the authorities are looking for him.

INVESTIGATIONS IN THE BRITISH NAVY

Expected to Follow Recent Exposures

ANOTHER ROYAL MARRIAGE

Princess Victoria May Marry Crown Prince of Germany.

London, Feb. 9.—As a result of the visit to Cowes to attend the naval parade of the German war vessels, Mr. H. H. Wilson, honorary editor of the Navy League Journal, is writing a series of articles, declaring that the personnel and management of the German navy are superior in many points to the British. His articles are creating not a little comment. It is believed the navy will soon undergo a public overhauling, somewhat similar to that inflicted on the army.

Engineering comments lengthily on the report of Rear Admiral George W. Melville, chief of the Bureau of Steam Navigation. United States navy on naval boilers, and hopes his arguments will not be utilized by the British Admiralty, declaring that the water tube boilers being placed in the American ships to-day will be outclassed long before the vessels run their course.

ANOTHER ROYAL MARRIAGE.

London, Feb. 9.—It is rumored that Crown Prince Frederick William of Prussia will marry Princess Victoria of Battenburg, daughter of Princess Beatrice. The Crown Prince is now 19, and the Princess 14.

THE KING AND HIS HORSES.

London, Feb. 9.—The Sportsman understands that for the coming season most of King Edward's race horses in training will be leased to the Duke of Devonshire.

There is much conjecture in sporting circles as to the effect King Edward's former racing connection with "Tod" Sloan will have on the latter's reinstatement on the turf. The general belief is that it will lead to his re-instatement in England after the Ascot races.

DARING JOURNEY TO THE NORTH POLE

German Sailor Will Start With Six Men in a Fishing Smack

Stockholm, Feb. 9.—One of the most daring expeditions ever undertaken will soon start out for the North pole Captain Bauendahl, a German sailor, with six companions, will attempt to force a passage through the ice in a small rough-sea fishing smack. His boat is known as the Matador. The boat has no machinery whatever, which the captain regards as an incumbrance to a boat working through the ice. He says he has been a close student of the experiences and results of his predecessors, and will profit by their failures. The vessel was fitted out at Tromsoe, Norway.

The captain's plan is to sail northward of Spitzbergen and encounter the pack ice. He will pursue his course along the pack ice, in the easterly direction, through the open-water channels, or will seek streams which will allow him to proceed farther north. So long as the ice will permit, Captain Bauendahl will use his ship, but if fields of ice should oppose the Matador, he will abond it to its fate, and will travel northward, with his crew and provisions over the ice. In case the Matador will not be able to enter the pack ice, Bauendahl will place his ship in the Seven Islands, and will attempt to go forward in small boats. As to whether the explorer will return on the Franz Josef Land route or by way of Greenland will depend entirely upon the streams or ice opposition he may encounter.

PROVISIONS FOR THREE YEARS.

Enough provisions and fuel have been taken to last from two to three years. They have been packed in ninety five chests, containing in all about 2,000 pounds. They have been packed in boat-like boxes, which will not sink, but move on the water with the ice. The boxes are about 60 inches long, 20 inches wide, and 16 inches high and are constructed to withstand the enormous pressure of the ice floe. The bottom of the boxes has the curved form of a plates. The expedition is also well supplied with the necessary scientific and nautical instruments. The expenses of the expedition, amounting to about $22,500 will be entirely borne by Bauendahl, and nearly the whole of his fortune is spent on the daring venture. The methods for packing the provisions and fuel have been devised by Captain Bauendahl.

LEGALIZE SALOON- SMASHING.

Bill Introduced in Kansas, that will Recognise Mrs. Carrie Nation.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. —Topeka saloons were closed on Wednesday, aside from a few side doors, and the keepers have promised the city and county officials that they will get rid of their stocks of liquors.

'Thank God! I think they will." Mrs. Nation said. "I think they are shut up for good. They will never open again if the women continue to be vigilant."

Mrs. Nation to-day received a request from a Webb City, Mo., theatre manager to give a series of lectures in his place. She made this characteristic reply,—

"Thank you for your interest, but II must stay in Kansas now. I could not consistently speak at a theatre open Sunday night. Anyway, I must be about my Master's business."

The Temperance Committee of both branches of the Legislature have agreed to introduce a bill drafted by George O. Nicholson, a lawyer, of Newton, which will in effect legalize "salon smashing."

The bill provides that proof of the fact that the properity destroyed was used for illegal purposes shall be a sufficient defence in any criminal or civil action commenced by the saloon keeper against the person who destroys his property. It is looked upon with favour by members and will undoubtedly become a law before the present session ends.

FAILURE IN THE PHILIPPINES.

A report from General MacArthur, American Commander in the Philippines transmitted to the Senate the other day embodies an absolute acknowledgement of failure. It begins with the statement that "expectations based on result of election have not been realized." which is probably no surprise to him or to the administration. The idea that the Philipinos would lay down their arms immediately upon McKinley's re-election could not have been seriously entertained by any person with a knowledge of the situation. It was an idea intended for campaign uses only and General MacArthur wisely lost no time in throwing it overboard after the election.

He goes on to say that, while the prospects of pacification are apparent to him, it is "still very slow," In fact, he adds, the "condition is very inflexible and likely to become chronic.' In other words, these three years of incessant and costly war have produced no result. The resistance of the Filipinos is still "inflexible," and likely to become—it would be more frank to say it has become —"chronic."

General MacArthur reports that he has "therefore initiated a more rigid policy," just as Weyler and the other Spanish commanders used to do in Cuba when they were confronting an inflexible condition there. This policy includes the deportation of prominent natives, and also the suppression of newspapers at Manila, and he calls earnestly for more troops to "strengthen his administration."

General MacArthur is a faithful officer who is doing the best he can in an impossible situation, as General Kitchener is doing in South Africa. No blame attaches to him for his failure. The task assigned him is one that no American officer ever was called on to perform before and one that no American administration before this one ever would have thought of attempting. It is not nor it cannot come to good. It was wrong in the inception, it is wrong now, and it is a failure. The remedy is not a more rigid policy but a different policy altogether, that will let the United States out of this imbroglio with the least additional loss and shame.

Kansas War Bulletin: Forces on both sides are resting. Two hundred recruits have joined Mrs. Nation's standard. Also a brass band. A commando of 500 Wichita women have taken the field to operate on the field. An insurrectionary meeting was held at Syracuse, N.Y., and it is feared an outbreak is imminent. The saloonkeepers' wives are organizing a 'home guard.

IN DEFENSE OF OUR PLAYERS.

A Peterborough man talked this way to the Toronto Telegram: The Globe takes occasion this morning to comment on the conduct of the Peterborough Hockey Club in two instances this season, and to my mind the conclusions reached are most unfair. In the first place, it is said that Peterboro's withdrawal from the senior series was unsportsman-like but it must be remembered that Peterboro' entered the senior series early in December, and had not an opportunity of testing its meterial until after the schedule had been drawn up. A match was played with the Wellingtons of Toronto, and Peterboro' was beaten. They felt then that it would be useless to remain in the series, as they would lose public patronage, and at a meeting of the club it was decided to drop out of the contest for the Robertson Cup. I have heard no complaint on this score from either the Varsity or the Wellingtons. It seems rather peculiar that Peterborough has to bear the brunt of the Globe's criticism on the conduct of clubs that default games that have been scheduled.

"Peterborough is one of the oldest members of the O.H.A., and never once has its record as a purely amateur town been disputed, except in the recent case when Belleville protested the juniors, with what success you well know. In regard to the Port Hope matter, Mr. A. W. McPherson, of the Peterboro' club says that an arrangement had been made with Port Hope to play on the Cobourg rink on Tuesday night last, and the Peterboro' intermediates went down to Port Hope with that intention. Personally, I feel that Port Hope should be given the best of treatment, even though it has an open rink. Peterboro' was willing to play on their rink until the recent storm occurred, and then the arrangement was made to play at Cobourg, and Peterboro' felt that this understanding should be adhered to, and that was the reason the team refused to play at Port Hope on Tuesday afternoon. The O.H.A. has ordered Peterboro' to play in Port Hope, and they will not fill the columns of their papers with abuse for the association on that account, notwithstanding the Globe's view of the case this morning. They will abide by the association's decision."

ARCTIC EXPLORER LANDS.

New York, February 8.—Evelyn Baldwin, the Arctic explorer who next summer is to head the Baldwin-Ziegler expedition to the North Pole, returned to-day on the steamship New York. Mr. Baldwin has been abroad since December 1, securing vessels and equipment. He said.

"I shall remain here for several weeks, and then I expect to go abroad again. As to many of the details of the expedition I cannot speak at present. I have succeeded in purchasing the Esquimaux, the largest whaling vessel I could find. She is admirably fitted for our work, having been built for just such work. I have renamed her the America.

Walking to Work

Is the only way in which the business woman, employed in store or office, can get open air exercise. Is it any wonder that she often grows pale and thin and develops a tendency to "weak lungs." Whenever there is pain in breathing, soreness of the chest, obstinate cough, bleeding from the lungs or any other symptoms of disease of the respiratory organs, begin the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and continue the use until cured. Ninety-eight in every hundred who have used "Golden Medical Discovery" for "lung trouble," have been perfectly and permanently cured.

"I was very sick indeed," writes Mrs. Mollie Jacobs, of Felton, Kent Co., Delaware, "and our family doctor said I had consumption. I thought I must die soon for I felt so awful bad. Had a bad cough, spit blood, and was very short of breath. I had pains in my chest and right lung, also had dyspepsia. Before I took your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' I was so weak I could not sweep a room, now I can do a small washing. I feel like a new person."

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (none free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. One of the many good points of a telephone is that a message cannot fail to reach its hearer correctly. A WONDERFUL
KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

I. A. HOPKINS.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE,
GRAVEL, DROPSY,
And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary troubles which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right. I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been benefited by its use. I am 63 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.

Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

Rev. W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Mrs. Wm. H. Hardy, East Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured her after six doctors failed. Rev. J. W. Hickman, Culver, Trego Co., Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble, of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book, entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state.

Not only does this great discovery—Alkavis (the Kava-Kava Compound)—cure all forms of kidney and bladder diseases, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address The Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 508 Fourth Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

FAIR FANTINEKILL.

[S. E. Hampton.]

Fair Fantinekill, what boyhood scenes
Return again in Manhood's dreams?
Each pathway through the wooded dell
Some tale of youthful pleasures tell.
Here Nature's lavish hand is seen
In richest hues—in greenest green,
And ev'ry little rippling rill
Holdeth a power to charm and thrill
The after years we feed upon
When youth and all but hope is gone.
Sweet memory floods my heart at will Repeating o'er Fair Fantinekill.

Thou nestling valley gem, walled in
By mountains tall—by mountains grim,
Each frowning, hoary head is dearth
In praises fitting to thy worth.
Fantinekill, fairy queen of brooks,
Thy small cascades were ideal nooks
Before the vandal woodman tore
The leafy giants from your shore.
Grim solace now, no more attacks
Can come from desecrating axe—
Dispoiled yet murm'ring sweetly still
And still I love thee, Fantinekill

The hazy time of life's ne'er dim
If but we turn our eyes within,
For there we findeth no decay
Among the mem'ries laid away.
Beneath the dust and grime of years
More oft the sun creeps out than tears
More oft a deed of excellence
Stands side by side with recompense,
And spectral shadows fade and flee
When youth returns in memory—
Youth and hope and every thrill
That clustered 'round thee, Fantinekill.

The brooklet ages may defy
With voice attuned to song and sigh;
It's life must be as lives of men.
The past will ne'er return again.
Yet man, when in the twilight age
Turns dreamy eyes for inward gaze,
And feasting, finds that shadows lie
Too deep for retrospective eye.
'Tis sunkissed hours that mem'ry brings—
Like rose bereft of thorns and stings—
Thrice welcome ere to heart whose thrill
Responsive is to Fantinekill.

ROOM FOR TWO.

Mrs. Getty's coupe was at the curb in front of a florist's establishment on Fifth avenue, near Forty-third street. Her coachman held the coupe door open, for at the moment the lady was issuing from the shop. Across the way was an empty handsom cab waiting for patrons. There was rather more than the ordinary bustle of traffic in the famous thoroughfare. Automobiles rolled silently and swiftly, stages lumbered slowly and noisily and all manner of private vehicles were on parade, making it a matter of no small difficulty for pedestrians to cross from one sidewalk to the other. The clock on the tower of the Grand Central station near by told all who cared to note that it was five minutes past 2.

Just as Mrs. Getty was stooping to enter her coupe a man came hurriedly up Forty-third street from the direction of the Grand Central, took in the scene on the avenue with a quick glance, jumped into the waiting hansom and pushed open the little trap in the top. There was a bill in his hand. The driver promptly possessed himself of the bill while he bent his head to hear his customer's orders.

"Go to No. 347 West Forty-fourth street as fast as you can," said the man; "there'll be somebody there to tell you where next. Don't let anything whatever delay you."

"All right, sir," answered the cabby dropping the trap and jerking the reins.

The horse started at once, and at the same moment the passenger got out. Cabby saw him go, and wondered, but with the bill still crumpled in his hand, and with the passenger's struct injunction to let nothing delay him ringing in his ears, he drove on, and the jam of vehicles was so great that he could not even turn his head to see what became of the passenger.

"It's a good job, anyway," thought cabby, thinking of the bill, "and if the fellow at No. 347 is as generous as this one, I'll get that new coat I've needed so long."

The man who had left the cab so shortly after engaging it rised his neck by running in front of a stage dodged an auto and darted across the avenue, making as straight as circumstances would permit for Mrs. Getty's coupe. She had nestled into a comfortable position and the coachman was climbing to his box when the man opened the coupe door, entered and pulled the door to quickly, but noiselessly.

"Say nothing, madam," he said sharply, "or I shall be compelled to resort to violence to quiet you."

Mrs. Getty shrank, terrified, against the side of the coupe, her cheeks blanched, her lips parted and her eyes distended. The man sank upon the seat beside her and breathed heavily. Then the coachman, all unmindful of what had taken place, spoke to his horse and the vehicle started.

The episode had attracted no attention from the sidewalks, for the pedestrians, intent on their own affairs could not see what went on in the roadway. It may be that a number of persons in passing conveyances saw a part of it, but they comprehended not and cared not. So when, a few seconds later, a number of men came rushing excitedly up from the Grand Central station, such information as they could gain by hurried inquiry sent them speeding, some on foot, some in cabs, down West Forty-fourth street.

So soon as the coupe was in motion, the man turned to Mrs. Getty with a deprecatory smile, in which there was a gleam of satisfaction, and said:

"I am truly sorry to intrude on you in this unmannerly way, madam, but there's room for two here, and you'll have to endure my company for a bit."

"I can easily attract the attention of my coachman," said Mrs. Getty, resolutely, "and have him put you out and into the hands of the police."

"As she finished speaking she raised a hand to rap on the window.

"Don't, madam," exclaimed the man, appealingly, and he help up a hand too, not in threat, but as a gesture of entreaty.

At sight of it Mrs. Getty sank again into her corner and stared at him, once again, with speechless horror. Around the wrist he held up was a steel band, and from it depended a fragment of chain.

"I told you I should have to shock you again," he said quietly, "but you know the worst now. Yes, I am a convict. Ten minutes ago I was on my way to Sing Sing. You may not know that convicts are always taken up on the train that leaves the Grand Central at five minutes past two. The train has gone and I am here. With your assistance I shall be a free man within an hour."

"No! No!" she protested, faintly, "you shall not make me a party to your crime." And again she made as if she would rap on the glass.

"One moment, madam," he interposed, a little sternly, and as he displayed once more that steel band and the broken chain, her resolution gave way to helpless terror. "I have committed no crime," he continued, impressively. "My life has been venturesome, colored with many an episode that I regret, but before heaven I am innocent of the charge upon which I have been convicted and sentenced. I can prove my innocence if I can be free but a few days. To go to prison now would mean the destruction of my only hope of clearing my name, unless that might happen after I had rotted for years in a cell. You are listening, madam, and I will be brief, for time is pressing. Convict though I am in the eyes of the law, I have faithful friends who know my innocence. They have helped me thus far on my escape. One of them managed to supply me with a pair of super-hardened steel pincers. Another thrust money into my hand during the moment of confusion at the railroad station. I was manacled in the usual way to a deputy sheriff. When we were about to board the train I nipped the chain that bound me to my guard and broke away. My friends made a diversion that gave me a slight start, and here I am. Now you know everything except my plans for establishing my innocence. Those I have not time to tell you, and you might not understand them. Liberty I must have. You will not give me up. Pity me, madam, and save me from the unmerited degradation of a felon's life."

"What do you expect me to do?" she asked.

"Have your man drive to the Twenty-third street ferry," he replied coolly, "and cross the river. I shall then be not only in the Pennsylvania railroad station but in another State, and those facts together will give me all the time I need."

"I cannot do it," she said. "It is not right for me to interfere with the law. In a moment my man will stop. You may then go out, and I will not ask him to summon an officer. That is all I can do, and it is more than I ought."

Even then the coupe was driven to the curb preparatory to stopping.

"Madam," said the convict, hopelessly, "it shall be as you say, and within ten minutes from the time you leave me I shall again be a prisoner."

If he had used threats or shown desperation, the outcome might have been different. To this day Mrs. Getty is puzzled to explain her course to her own complete satisfaction. When the coachman opened the coupe door he started a little at sight of a stranger but, like a well-bred servant, said nothing.

"Wilson," said Mrs. Getty, with astonishing calmness, "my friend is in a hurry to catch a train at the Pennsylvania station. Go over by the Twenty-third street ferry as quickly as possible."

Wilson bowed and closed the door.

"You are an angel!" whispered the convict.

He said nothing more for a time, but busied himself in winding a handkerchief around his manacled wrist.

"Unfortunately," he remarked at length, "I lost my pincers in the scuffle and so can't get rid of this just at present. May I ask one more favor of you? Fasten this bandage with a pin, please, and it will then appear that I have injured my wrist and the sign of my disgrace will not be visible."

He held his hand toward her, and Mrs. Getty, wondering if she were under a hypnotic spell, complied with his request. He thanked her and remained silent until the coupe was driven from the ferryboat to the platform of the railroad station on the New Jersey side of the river.

"Thank you once again," he said then, as he alighted. "If I might know who has assisted——"

"No," she interrupted; "I never want to know more than this.'

"You are probably quite right," he responded. "Good-bye," and lifting his hat he went rapidly toward the ticket office.

In the next day's papers Mrs. Getty read long accounts of the sensational escape of a noted forger on his way to Sing Sing prison. There was a lot of detail about the pursuit of an empty hansom cab, but not a word about the coupe in which there proved to be ample room for two.

A Feeling of Resentment.

"Did you do anything to celebrate Shakespeare's birthday this week?"

"I should say not," answered the man with the big diamond and the fierce mustache. "A man who wrote those box office frosts like 'Macbeth' and 'King Lear' ought to be glad he's livin' without askin' for any celebrations."—Washington Star.

How Are Your Nerves?

If you are weak and you feel nervous and easily "flustrated," can't sleep, and rise in the morning unrefreshed, your blood is poor. Strong nerves depend upon rich, nourishing blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the nerves strong by enriching and vitalizing the blood. It gives sweet, refreshing sleep and completely cures nervous troubles. Begin taking it to-day.

Nausea, indigestion are cured by Hood's Pills.

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims,—The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of the city; and last, but by no means least, the Sunshine, located two miles east of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, FEBRUARY 9 1901

Died

CADIGAN.—On Saturday evening, at the House of Providence, Cornelius Cadigan, aged about [illegible] years.

Concert at Zion

The Times job rooms have just completed a poster of a concert, to take place at the Foresters' Hall, Zion, Otonabee, on Friday evening, 22nd instant, under the auspices of the C.O.F. This is only a six mile drive and doubtless many from town will take in the entertainment.

Among the Churches

Anniversary services were held in the George Street Methodist Church yesterday, when eloquent sermons were preached by Rev. W. R. Young, D.D., of Port Hope. In the morning the children of the Sunday school occupied the body of the church.

Rev. Mr. Bastow delivered a practical and impressive address at the men's meeting in the Y.M.C.A. yesterday.

Timely Warning

It is never wise to sound a note of needless alarm, but there are times when it is wisdom itself to be cautious. The existence of smallpox in the lumber camps of northern Ontario and Michigan, in which, so many of the residents of this district are engaged, make incumbent upon us to watch that parties coming from the infected districts are properly quarantined on their arrival here.

Central Power Co

The Central Ontario Power Company have made application for franchise in Port Hope and, the committee of the Council have made report recommending that by-law be passed at the next meeting. Mr. Culverwell, Managing Director, has secured stock subscriptions from several of the wealthiest men in Port Hope this week and last Monday attended three meetings of the Hamilton Council at Cold Springs and a by-law was passed granting the Company the right requested.

A Firebug

The small blaze at Gough Bros'. store on Saturday morning, a notice of which appeared in Saturday's issue, appears to have been the work of an incendiary. The fire was first noticed by Nightwatchman Finnie. The fire had been started in the rear door way and was just beginning to eat its way inside when discovered. Saturday morning it was noticed that the cash register had been tampered with and there were other evidences that an entrance had been gained to the store before the attempt to reduce the premises to ashes was made.

JUST RECEIVED

Fresh Butter-Cups in six flavours, Hoarhound Candy, Cough Drops, Mint Lozenges, etc., manufactured daily at Bates' Confectionery, opposite Oriental. Also Mince Pies, Cream Puffs and Tea Cakes.

Disbanded

Men come upon the stage of life, play their little parts and pass out. A short obituary notice is the reward alike of the nobleman and the laborer. Such it appears is the fate of the Canadian Contingents which during the past fifteen months have claimed so much of the attention of the people of Canada, and to some extent of the people of the world. In the Militia Orders issued at Ottawa on Thursday, Dec. 27, appeared the following two-line notice: "It is notified for information of all concerned that the 2nd (Special Service) Battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment, will be disbanded from the 31st inst.

Wedding Bells

A very pretty event took place at the residence of Mr. Wm. Rutherford, Otonabee, on Feb. 6th, when his second daughter, Miss Maggie, was united in marriage to Mr. Herbert Miller, of the same place. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Mr. McCauley, of Keene. The bride was attired in a becoming gown of blue cloth trimmed with white satin and lace. She was assisted by her cousin, Miss Bella Rutherford. The groomsman was Mr. Harry Burnham, of Keene. Amongst the guests present was Mrs. W. D. Metherall, of Peterborough, sister of the bride, who played the wedding march. A large number of beautiful presents bore tribute to the popularity of the bride. A sumptuous wedding dinner was served, at which 80 guests partook. The Times extends hearty congratulations.

SUCCESSFUL EVANGELISTS.

Messrs. Kenedy and White are Meeting with Great Success.

The Owen Sound Times says,—Evangalists Whyte and Kennedy who recently conducted special religious services in Knox church here are now carrying on revival meetings at Leamington, Ont. The following protraits and brief word sketches will interest many people who enjoyed their meetings here:

Mr. John M. Whyte has labored for Christ in the realms of song for many years. He believes in music. All music he says, is God's music. There is no such thing as music in hell. Hades is discord. Heaven is harmony. Mr. John M. Whyte has for over twenty years been singing for Jesus in many of the largest churches in Canada and the United States. For three years he led the singing at Grimsby Park Camp Meetings. As a singer Mr Whyte has wonderful power over the people. His solos he invariably accompanies on the guiter with touching effect. His heart and soul are in his work, as can well be seen by his earnestness.

Mr. Whyte's sacred songs and hymn books, including "The Great Redemption." are known far and wide. His Temprance song books, "Nuggets of Gold," has done and is going noble work. Mr. Whyte has now in press, shortly to be issued, a new song book, entitled "Battle-Songs of the Cross." It promises to equal any of his works hitherto before the public.

His evangelistic partner, Mr. H. D. Kennedy, is not a singer; he does not pretend to be a singer; yet he can preach strong sermons. He strikes straight from the shoulder at anything sinful. He and Mr. Whyte work with delightful harmony; what Mr. Whyte misses Mr. Kennedy puts in, and that which Mr. Kennedy chances to overlook is supplied by Mr. Whyte. There is nothing sensational about their work Mr. Whyte sings and exhorts and Mr. Kennedy preaches and exhorts.

Mr. Kennedy was for several years in the regular Methodist ministry in Minnesota. He was associated with the late Evangelist Dwight L. Moody in Chicago during the World's Fair in 1893, and since then in revival work. His training is good and he has a wonderful faculty for memorizing secipture passages, which he quotes quite frequently.

Mr. Whyte when at home lives at 79 Langley avenue, Toronto, and any calls from the vineyard that are sent there, or that are addressed to Mr. H. D. Kennedy at Peterboro', will be sure to reach them.

COFFEE KNOCKED HIM.

Couldn't Move for 4 Hours After Drinking 2 Cups.

When coffee drinking affects a man's health so badly that he has to be put to bed 4 hours after drinking 2 cups at dinner, it is high time he quit.

That was the experience of Mr. Hood in Geneva, Mich. His wife writes; "I consider that Postum saved the life of my husband. For 2 years he had been troubled with his heart, and kept getting worse. I finally induced him to make the experiment of leaving off coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee, and he improved rapidly, but one day he drank two cups of strong coffee for dinner and had to lie on the bed four hours before he could move, since that time no coffee is used, but Postum altogether. He has entirely recovered his health, has no more trouble with his heart, and says he likes Postum better than he ever did like the old fashioned coffee.

A number of our neighbors use Postum altogether to the exclusion of ordinary coffee. Once in a while I find a person who has tried Postum and does not like it, but always find, upon inquiry, that they tried to make it by boiling it 5 or 10 minutes, which absolutely will not do. It must be boiled 15 or 20 munites after the boiling begins. Put in a little piece of butter to prevent it from boiling over, and you will have a delicious, palatable, and nourishing beverage." Ada Hood, Geneva, Mich.

Letters from the People on Interesting Topics.

(NOTE.—The Times does not hold itself in any way responsible for the opinions expressed by its correspondents.—Ed. Times.

Editor Morning Times.

Dear Sir,—Thank you for your hearty congratulations in The Times Thursday last. Will you allow me to correst our statement. Mr. Wilson through illness was unable to be present, but Rev. W. W. Wagg of Charlotte Street Methodist Church came in his place and preached two excellent sermons.

It is true that we secured about $60 more than the cost of the church at the present time, but I would like to have it understood that we are purposing to paint the exterior as soon as the spring arrives, and also to build a fence and also a shed which will require more than the $60.

I mention this because I think a wrong impression is given to the subscribers and friends generally, which may have a depressing effect as you can see.

I Remain,
Sincerely Yours,
J. C. BERRY, Pastor.

Apsley, Feb 9th.

The Times is pleased to give the above space in their columns, Rev Mr. Berry's remarks cover the matter fully.

A DAILY CARTOON

Another Long Step in Advance Made by The Times.

The Times has completed arrangements by which it will give its readers a daily cartoon, the first of which appears today. The circulation of the paper has increased so much during the past year, that we are justified in taking this important step. The cartoon is of our production, and shows to advantage the facilities possessed by this office. We believe we are safe in saying that no other establishment in the Province is so well equipped with appliances and skilled workmen as is the job department of this paper.

Only a few days ago we added a fine embossing machine to our plant, which will be the means of keeping many a dollar in Peterborough that would otherwise go to Toronto or Montreal. Not only this, but work from all parts of the country, requiring one of these machines, will now be done here, which of course all helps the town.

The Times is the only paper that gets its news hot from the wires, and gives it to its readers fresh and crisp. We ask our friends to speak a good word for the paper whenever they can. It is only by the assistance and patronage of our friends that we are enabled to make these substantial improvements.

AN IMPORTANT ARREST

The Man Who Set Fire to Gough Bros. Store Believed to be Arrested

On Saturday P. C. Stewart arrested a man named James Mitchell, and who is believed to have burglarized the store of Mr. John Giles, and also started the fire at Gough Bros'. store.

It appears the prisoner presented a cheque for $38 to the Bank of Toronto, signed by Mr. Giles. Mr. Campbell, the manager, did not pay the cheque, however, having his suspicions aroused that all was not right. It was discovered that Mr. Giles' cheque book had been stolen from his store, in which the cheque was made out in favor of a man named Coio.

At the Police Court Saturday afternoon the prisoner was remanded until Friday next.

There is now reason to believe that it was he who set fire to Gough Bros'. store, as several keys corresponding exactly with some missing from the latter firm's office have been found on prisoner's person.

ASHBURNHAM CIVIC ASS'N.

Meeting on Friday Night and Election of Officers

At a public meeting held in the Town Hall, on Friday night last, a civic association for the village was formed, with the following officers:

Hon. Pres.—Wm. Irwin.
President—E. A. Peck.
1st Vice-President—H. Morgan.
2nd Vice-President—J. C. Sullivan.
Sec.-Treas.—M. W. Matthett.
Committee—R. B. Rogers, Geo. Warde, C. B. McAllister, J. J. Lundy, H. Adams, W. Collins, M. Carton, H. Calcutt, W. McIntyre, J. Kylie.

Mr. Peck the newly elected president, took the chair, and delivered his inaugural speech, in which he urged upon all to exert their energies towards the success of the association, and they would thereby be bettering the interests of the village.

At Rev. Mr. Symonds' suggestion, the president will read a paper on the subject. "In view of the near approach of a large manufacturing concern, how could we best improve the interests of the village?"

"A Good Paymaster Starts Not at Assurances."

There is one good paymaster who is around on time, gives full value, and never fails in his duty. It is your privilege to select him, and his name is pure, wholesome blood. This paymaster makes the rounds of the body, visits brain, stomach, kidneys, liver, heart and head alike. Hood's Sarsaparilla acts as a guarantor that this paymaster will do his duty.

If the blood is impure, it cannot do its duty, and you are the sufferer,—but you need not be. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood. It never disappoints.

—We regret very much that we have no prospect of a visit to our village of any of the lake craft next season. If the proposed seven mile drain, which was duly surveyed a few years ago by order of our municipal council, had been completed through our long swamp, we might have been in the position of one of our sister towns, and anxiously looking for a tug boat.

STOP LOSING MONEY

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 50 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 146 W. 43d street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day, this month at noon. Verify our statement!

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. We average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

THE PLAGUE AT CAPE TOWN INCREASING

Royalties Leave London After Attending the Funeral of Queen Victoria

London, Feb. 11.

King Charles of Portugal and his suite started for Lisbon this evening at ten o'clock. King Edward accompanied the Portugese monarch to the railway station. Grand Duke Michael, of Russia, the Czarwitch, left two hours earlier for St. Petersburg, Prince Charles of Denmark, seeing him off. Extraordinary police precautions were taken at the station to protect him. He presented to Inspector Cheze, of Scotland Yard, who was attached to his suite while in England, a magnificent diamond.

The route of the Czarwich beyond Flushing is kept secret. The King of Greece will leave to-morrow.

Cape Town, Feb. 11.

The Government has decided to notify foreign nations of the fact that Cape Town is infected with the Bubonic plague. There is no longer any doubt as to the nature of the disease. Another has died of the disease. Three additional cases are announced and fifty persons who have been in contact with the plague victims have been isolated. A temporary military hospital is being erected

Berlin, Feb. 11.

To-morrow will be held another meeting of foreign envoys, says a special despatch from Pekin, but without the Chinese plenipotentiaries, who constantly intercept and render any action almost impossible. Hereafter the foreign envoys intend to communicate only in writing and to designate their decisions as irrevocable.

London, Feb. 11.

The despatch of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, for Australia, will be the occasion of a great naval display at which the King and Queen will be present. The British Channel Squadron will escort the heir apparent as far as Gibraltar.

The continued speculation as to the visit of the Czar to Germany, has brought out an official utterance that it is not even certain any visit will be made.

WEALTHY FRENCH FIRM COMING TO PETERBORO

To Open an Agency for the Export of Seed Grains

G. T. R. Crossings and Other Things Considered by the Town Council in Special Meeting Last Night

A special meeting of the Town Council was held last night. There were present the Mayor and Aldermen Best, Corkery, Batten, Clinkscale, Rush, Roger, Edgecumbe and Sawers.

The regular opening formalities were dispensed with, and Ald. Rush explained the object of the meeting. Louis Houdry & Sons, a wealthy French firm of dealers in seed grains, have obtained a transfer from John Carnegie and the Central Bridge Company of their lease from the town of the old Brick Works property. This property was leased to Mr. Carnegie by the town in 1887, for a term of twenty years, at $1 per year, with the proviso that it should be used for manufacturing. Messrs. Houdry & Sons wish to use the place as a storehouse for seed grains.

Ald. Rush stated that the firm intended to expend $8,000 to $10,000 on building improvements, that they were already doing a large export business in peas and other grains, and that he understood this district to be particularly well adapted to the raising of the grains required by them. They have already several agencies in Canada, and the establishment of one in Peterborough would materially augment the business of the town. The information concerning them was obtained by the American Cereal Company.

The Council, without dissent adopted a resolution to grant Messrs. Houdry & Sons possession of the property for a term of ten years and relieve them from the obligation to carry on manufacturing.

Before adjourning the Council transacted some other business. Ald Roger submitted the replies he had prepared to questions of the London Guarantee and Accident Company, who are to give security for Treasurer-elect Green. A resolution was adopted that the Mayor and Chairman of the Finance Committee have power to sign the answers and return them to the Company.

A communication was received from the Railway Committee of the Privy Council, submitting a proposed Order-in-Council, touching the matter of the G.T.R. crossings at Charlotte and Simcoe streets. The Order provides that a gate and a day and night watchman shall be maintained at each crossing, and that the cost of the same shall be divided equally between the town and the railway company. Everybody concurred that this was all wrong. Ald. Roger said that when the matter was argued before the Committee of the Privy Council it was understood that the Grand Trunk should bear all the expense. The only point not settled was that while the Company wished to have the two gates managed by one man in a signal box between the crossings, the town objected that this might cause obstruction to traffic and insufficient protection and a commissioner was to be sent to enquire into the objection.

On motion the matter was referred to a committee composed of the Mayor and Ald. Roger and Rush.

The Mayor brought up the matter of the town acquiring the waterway near the Spur line. After some discussion this was referred to the same committee, who are empowered to go to Toronto and lay the matter before the powers that be, if they deem it advisable.

Council adjourned.

DEATH OF W. H. REVELL

A Former Peterborough Citizen Dies in the Western States

A despatch was received yesterday from Rock Springs, Wyoming, announcing the death from pneumonia, of Mr. Walter H. Revell, son of Mrs. Revell, who resides with her mother, Mrs. Burnham, of Ashburnham. The deceased was also a brother of Mrs. E. A. Peck and of Mr. George Revell, of the staff of the Trent Valley Canal. The deceased was very popular in town, having resided with his uncle, Dr. Burnham, while going to school, and also during the time he was with Mr. John McKee, druggist. He left town for the western states some ten years ago, and was most successful in business at Rock Springs, of which municipality he was treasurer.

Mr Revell was 32 years of age, and leaves a widow, who, with his other relatives in Peterborough, will receive the sympathy of their friends in their bereavement.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Met Yesterday Morning and Transacted Considerable Business

The Ministerial Association met in the Y.M.C.A. yesterday morning.

A considerable amount of business was transacted. It was resolved to memorialize Hon. J. R. Stratton in reference to the liquor license law, in order that they might secure its more rigid enforcement.

Some discussion took place on the proposition that the association should systematically visit the schools on invitation of the school board to speak on certain moral habits, but it was resolved that the association leave the proposition to the members to deal with it individually.

Rev. J. C. Davidson read a paper upon "Worship," which drew forth a long discussion, and in which it was found that all the members of the association were in accord.

BURLEIGH POWER SCHEME

The Matter Discussed at the Port Hope Council.

Mr. Culverwell, the Managing Director Wants Exemption from Taxation and Other Privileges.

At a meeting of the council of Port Hope, the following letter was read from Mr J. Alex. Culverwell, Managing Director of the Central Ontario Power Company:

Peterborough, 31 January. 1801

To the Mayor and Council of the town of Port Hope.

Gentlemen,—Our company being desirous of transmitting electrical energy from our Burleigh Falls Water Power to Peterborough, Port Hope and Cobourg, and other places, I would respectfully ask your honorable body to pass a by-law authorizing our Company to erect poles, wires, etc., on your streets for the purposes of supplying electric power, light and heat in the town of Port Hope, and exercising of the corporate powers of the company. We lately have arranged contracts for the supplying of power to the Crossen Car Manufacturing Co., of Cobourg, and the Dick, Ridout Woolen Mills of Cobourg, they also having become stock holders in our company, and we also have secured a large revenue in the town of Peterborough for electric light and power, and we have already been assured of considerable revenue in the town of Port Hope for our company, and it being greatly to the interests of the town of Port Hope to secure cheap electric power, not only for your present manufacturers, some of whom having already assured us contracts, but also for the purpose of attracting other manufacturers to your town. I would ask you to pass a by-law for the purpose requested without delay, and thereby facilitate our business arrangements.

I would also respectfully ask you to grant our company exemption of taxes for the greater portion of our plant which may be placed inside the limits of the town of Port Hope, this enterprise being of great benefit to your town and meriting all the assistance that your council can give it.

J. ALEX. CULTERWELL,
Managing Director.
The Central Ontario Power Co., Ltd.

The first part of the letter was referred to the Streets and Bridges committee, and the latter part to the whole council.

On motion by Alds Hansman and Purser, Mr. Culverwell was invited to address the council.

Mr. Culverwell said he appreciated the honor of the council taking this matter up at a special meeting but so much other business was depending upon it that urgency has been pressed. His Company had received their charter and had a capital of three quarters of a million dollars. Have as shareholders a great number of prominent gentlemen distributed throughout this country and New York state. They had a purchased very valuable property, including the riparian rights of the main channel, and had arranged a lease of 60 years with the Dominion Government for use of dam, and also made arrangements with Ontario Government for lease of a natural raceway. It was only recently that they had been able to get into shape. It has only lately that they thought of coming down in this direction. The Dick, Ridout Co., wanted them to come to Cobourg and they took stock in his Company. The Crossen Car works had also arranged to take power from them and had had taken stock. They already had power contracts assured that would bring them in $10,000 a year from those two firms. The rights asked are simply to exercise the powers of their Company and something to show that really does not amount to any great contract, it was only something to show that they appreciated their coming here, they do not ask for any bonus or anything of that kind. While they came here to make money for themselves, it will benefit manufacturers by giving them cheap power. It was only lately that in a town near by a factory that will employ a great many hundred hands located in that town, it was brought there because there was cheap water power, it goes to show that with power in this town, a power of great magnitude, was likely to draw manufacturers to the town and that it should be thoroughly appreciated by the town, and no obstacles should be thrown in their way. They had been assured of a revenue of about $18,000 a year in Peterborough and also had assurances from users of power in Port Hope, where he could see at least 200 horse power of contracts. Had seen the gentlemen engaged in manufacturing here and they appreciated the chance of their coming to town.

Cheap power is the best bonus that any manufacturer can be offered, it is the most satisfactory offer that can be made to any company. They had such a water power that they can give exceedingly cheap power and the expense of a transmission line is very cheap compared with making the Hydraulic power, which nature has furnished and will be kept up by the Government. He had put in the Mayor's hands a draft By-law that is used by other places, so that no delay might be necessary and he would ask the Council to assist them in that way, so that they can complete other matters regarding revenue &c. They have at Burleigh Falls available during the day and during the dryest weather, 6000 horse power and can arrange for more.

It is their intention to go into electric lighting rates, are higher than necessary. He has never yet struck a town outside of Port Hope where electric lighting was so high. He had never seen such a small plant as here for a town of this size. There is business here for double, if not more, and we may not clash with any existing company.

They got their charter this spring, have at least four-fifths of the business men in Peterborough with them, but notwithstanding that they have had a great deal of opposition in that town, and had it not been for the opposition, their plant would have been into Peterborough now. He had been in this business for a number of years, he started the Edison Co., in Ontario. He did not think they should be bound down to any figure for their power and light they had got to get business and competition will bring down prices. The other man is not bound to figures and they would be willing to make a very great discount from prices now paid.

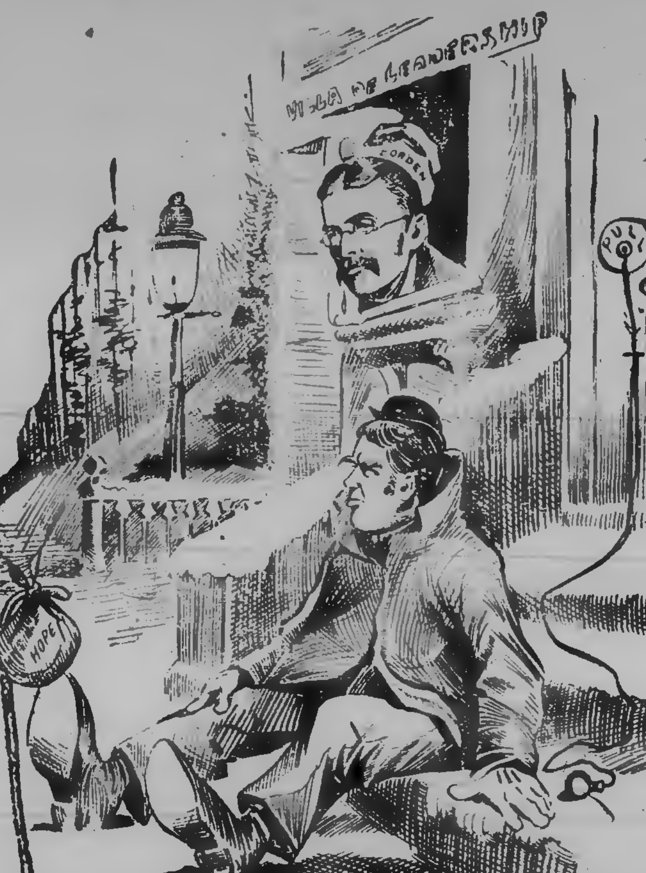
The Mayor said the matter would have to go through the regular channel of council. It was impossible to have it put through Monday.

Ald. McMullen said the matter had been referred to different committees and the proper time to discuss this matter was when report was brought in.

Ald Hansman asked Mr. Culverwell if he had anything to say regarding a connection with the C. P. R.

Mr Culverwell said they would have considerable power, and the possibility of getting electric connection would be better than if it had not the power, but they had not taken up that matter yet.

NOT IN PERMANENT POSSESSION.



MR. MACLEAN (Undismayed)—Oh! I didn't want in immediately. I'm waiting till the big party convention comes along. Borden hasn't a very long lease of the place, anyway.

ANOTHER BLAZE

Shortly before 12 o'clock last night fire was discovered in the fruit store of R. R. Philp & Co. The floor in the rear of the building had been burned through but after the position of the fire was ascertained it was quickly put out. It is not known what originated the blaze. The damage to the fruit, etc., is covered by insurance.

STANDARD OIL A BONANZA.

By March 25 It Will Have Paid Stock holders $68,000,000 in One Year.

New York, February 12.—The Standard Oil Company declared a dividend of 20 per cent. payable March 15. This is at the rate of 68 per cent. since March 1, 1900.

The Standard Oil thus will have distributed among its stockholders $68,000,000 within the space of one year and fifteen days. Of this sum John D. Rockefeller will have received $21,080,000, more than $55,000 a day, or about $40 a minute. Mr. Rockefeller's wealth has piled up so astonishingly that even the great money kings of Wall street are marveling. His available cash has become such a factor in Wall street that, according to one of the best judges of the market, all chance has been entirely eliminated from transaction on the Stock Exchange.

Mr. Rickefeller can put up stocks or put them down as he chooses. No combination is strong enough in Wall street to degeat his plans.

THE ORDER OF THE ROYAL SUCCESSION.

Facts of the Respective Claims to Succession Definitely Set Forth.

KAISER RANKS TWENTY-FIFTH.

Some People Claim that Princess Luitpold of Bavaria Should be Queen Mary IV of England.

London, Feb. 9.—The death of Queen Victoria and the accession of the Prince of Wales to the throne have raised many questions as to the right of succession of titles existing in the royal family.

The facts are that immediately upon the death of Queen Victoria her eldest son became King, no ceremony was necessary to pass the title, the coronation no longer being, as centuries ago, a ceremony on which the legal title depended.

The Duke of York became at once Duke of Cornwall, for that title, though inherent to the heir of the throne, does not merge in the kingship, but goes to an heir if living or remains in abeyance until an heir is born. The Duchy of Cornwall brings to its holder revenues amounting to about £50,000 a year. The other titles to which the present King succeeded at his birth likewise devolved upon the Duke of York. They are: Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Carrick, Baron of Renfrew, Lord of the Isles, Prince and Great Steward of Scotland and Earl of Dublin.

AFTER THE PRINCE OF WALES.

If the Prince of Wales had no children or grandchildren his next brother would be heir, and after him that brother's children in order of their births, and after the Prince's brothers his sister and their children. The German Emperor is twenty-five in line of succession, the daughters of the Duchess of Fife, the eldest daughter of the Prince of Wales, the Ladies Alexandra and Maud Duff are sixth and seventh in that line.

The Royal Marriage Act of 1772 disposes of the claims of any descendants of George IV. and Mrs. Fitz-Herbert if any there be. It forbade the marriage of any English-born descendant of George II. under the age of 25 without the King's consent, and after that age without the consent of Parliament. The President Duke of York was said to have been married in Malta to the daughter of a naval officer, but the story was denied in Parliament priro to his marrying the Princess Mary of Teck. At all events, he is married to the Princess Mary strictly accordance with the laws of England.

Mrs. GUELPH.

It is believed very generally that Queen Victoria's family name was Guelph, and that on her marriage, in accordance with custom, she took her husband's name, in its turn believed to be Wettin; she has been described humorously as the "Widow Guelph." the "Widow wettin," and as "Mrs. Guelph." The house of Guelph, to which Queen Victoria belonged, became a reigning house in Germany before family names became common, so as a fact, she had no family name. Her husband had none either, though he was of the house of Wettin. The son of Augustus, Duke of Sussex, and Lady Augusta Murray was known as Sir Augustus D'Este; and for this reason the name D'Este is assumed sometimes to be the family name of the present German soverigns of Great Britain. But this assumption is an error, for the reason given above. The Grand Duchess Maria of Austria-Este, Princess Luitpold of Bavaria, is the estimable woman whom some persons acclaim as Queen Mary IV. of England; if the succession to the throne had not been changed by the Acts of Settlement of 1689 and 1702 this Princess might be Queen. As it is, she is neither de jure nor de facto Queen of Great Britain and Ireland.

SMALL POX PATIENT TAKES RAILWAY TRIP

Diseased Man Rides From Sudbury to Ottawa

Ottawa, Feb. 11.—A man suffering from smallpox arrived in the city this morning at 4.10 from Sudbury. To C. P. R. Conductor J. C. Nidd the man—who refused to give his name to a reporter—stated that he had been discharged from Sudbury hospital and was coming to Ottawa to go to another hospital. He did not know that he had smallpox until Dr. Prevost of Ottawa who was on the train examined him. When the case was pronounced Conductor Nidd at once wired Ottawa to notify Health Officer Robillard to have him take charge of the case on the arrival.

When the train arrived in Ottawa the car was locked, but not until six of the passengers had got away. These have been located since, and are under the surveillance of the police. They are somewhat scattered, however. One has gone to St. Joseph's village, about thirteen miles out of the city; two to Hull and one to the east end. The others were coralled in a hotel a short distance from the station.

The man with the disease will be placed in an isolated spot, while the others have been vaccinated and will also be isolated for observation. The men who were in the car with the smallpox patient refuse to tell their names. One is an American soldier returning from the Philippines, while another hails from San Francisco. The remainder are mostly shantymen returning from the woods.

Conductor Nidd states that a passenger got into this car at Arnprior and travelled to Carleton Place, and another went from Pembroke to Almonte.

The case is a bad one for Ottawa to handle, as there is no hospital accommodation for smallpox cases. Mayor Morris says that under the circumstances the case was well handled and that there is no cause for alarm.

A CASE AT BRACEBRIDGE.

Dr. Sheard, Medical Health Officer, received a telegram yesterday from a Bracebridge official, saying that a case of smallpox has appeared in that town. A later message brought the information that the patient had been placed in charge of a local physician.

MAY OWN ITS LINES.

Are the Telegraph and Telephone Lines to Change Hands?

GOVERNMENT TO BUY THEM

It is Said That Government Ownership is Proposed.

Nationalization of Telegraphic, Telephone and Railway Service Favored by High Dominion Officials Estimates of Cost Already Being Made With View to Actual Legislation in Parliament—Two Companies Mainly to be Considered.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 12.— While the report that the government is preparing to buy all telegraph and telephone companies and that an inventory is being made to ascertain their value is a little ahead of the facts, individual members of the Cabinet favor not only the nationalization of the telegraphs and telephones but of railways as well, and private members of Parliament have endeavored repeatedly to test the feeling of the House of Commons on the subject.

None of these outlines has yet, however, come before government of Canada in any official shape, though there is a distinct tendancy in the Cabinet generally to consider whether the time may nor be near when the question of the nationalization of railways and telegraphs may be looked into as a business proportion. Some Ministers are credited with a serious intention to go in for a complete nationalization scheme for all the cables of the empire as laid down quite recently by Sir Sandford Fleming.

MINISTER BLAIR FAVORS PLAN.

Minister of Railways and Canals Blair, for one, is not at all unlikely to take some definite steps towards the nationalization or part nationalization by way of beginning in some form or other of at least all new railways forming part of the proposed transportation or continental routes or for which charters or subsidies are to be asked for at the coming session and over which, in the interests of the country, it is considered well to hold the whip hand.

TWO COMPANIES TO CONSIDER.

The Great Northwestern Telegraph company and the Canadian Pacific railway company practically control all the wires in Canada. The valuation of the property of both concerns is being made quietly, and should the arrangements between the government and these two companies be completed at an early date, it is said that a bill dealing with the subject will go before the next session of the Dominion Parliament.

In case of a difference arising over the amount to be paid the arbitrator will be an expert of the imperial government telegraph service.

The Canadian Pacific system extends to about 10,000 miles, and it is difficult to get at the exact cost, because it is mixed up with the railway accounts, but the cost is estimated at from $7,500,000 to $8,000,000.

The Great Northwestern system will probably come near this amount, while the Bell Telephone company of Canada has a capital of $5,000,000, so that the purchase of these concerns means a probable expenditure of from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000.

FUNDS NOW AVAILABLE.

Until the present Liberal government came into office it has not been possible to talk purchase. With a surplus running from $6,000,000 to $7,000,000 for 1900-1901, and a prospect of an equally large surplus for 1901-1902, the plan, it is said, seems feasible.

ANOTHER MAN FOR THE NORTH POLE

Captain J. E. Bernier to Take a Trip From Vancouver

Montreal, Feb. 11.—Capt. J. E. Bernier has gone to Ottawa to ask the Dominion Government for from $100,000 to $200,000 to assist him in an expedition to the North Pole.

He proposes to start from Vancouver in April or May, 1902, with a large wooden or iron ship, manned with a handy crew of sailors and scientific men. Many dogs will also be taken for use on the ice, provided their vessel gets frozen in. It is expected that the expedition will enter the Behring Strait in July. An easterly course along the Siberian coast will be followed until a point about 165 degrees east of longitude is reached, then the vessel will be headed for the north, and she will be pushed towards the north as far as possible, blasting if necessary, being resorted to push her on her course before being frozen in. Capt. Bernier expects his ship to be frozen in the first winter about 450 miles east of where Nansen's Fram was frozen in and about 650 to 7000 miles from the Pole. Once frozen in, Capt. Bernier will place himself in the hands of nature. This great field of ice, propelled by an undercurrent flows across the North Pole, and Capt. Bernier will place his ship in this ice field in the position he judges most favorable for passing over near the Pole, as the ice field proceeds on its course towards the Greenland sea.

The captain calculates on being in this ice field for three years, and during the third year expects to be level with the Pole. He does not pretend to say that his ship or his observation field of a hundred miles will pass over the Pole, but he feels confident that the ship will not pass further than a hundred miles from the Pole. He will consequently keep prepared for sleigh expeditions of a hundred miles in the direction of the Pole. He hopes to be able to spend a fortnight at the Pole taking soundings, thermometer and barometer observations, magnetic and pendulum tests, etc.

A PLEA FOR COMMON SENSE.

The Canadian Grocer evidently thinks that members of the Canadian parliament are in the habit of considering public questions mainly from the standpoint of partisans, and, not being a partisan paper, it advocates a different course. It urges that questions involving the commercial interest of the country should be discussed in a business-like manner and from a business standpoint, exclusive of their political bearings, and it urges as a means to this desirable end that the business men in parliament of both schools of politics form an association for that purpose. Thirty-seven per cent of the M.P. are, the Grocer dealers, business men, and if they would unite on important questions that affect their interests the house would be bound to pay attention to their views, to the great benefit of the commercial interests of the country.

"The fact of the matter is," says the Grocer, "that while there are a good many business men in the house, and in theory business practice is a good thing and a necessary thing, the business men therein are practically without influence," and it goes on to ascribe that lack of influence to lack of organization

Continuing the Grocer says,—

"The Canadian Grocer is not an advocate of a third party, whether it be business men or any other class of men. Organization of the business men in parliament does not mean obliteration of party lines any more than adherence to party principles means the renunciation of religious beliefs. A man can be a liberal or a conservative and at the same time be a Roman catholic or a protestant.

The business men who are members of the house of commons could in like manner have an organization of their own and yet at the same time still be associated with one or other of the two great political parties."

The article in the Grocer from which we have been quoting is simply a plea for less politics and more business in parliament. Its plea is for a less rigid adherence to party lines, for more common sense and less guff in parliamentary debates, and the arguments it advances are simply the arguments, slightly altered it is true, that so often appear in independent papers in favor of the election to parliament of a percentage of men of sufficient independence to guarantee that they will discuss and vote on measures before parliament as Canadians, and not simply as grits and tories.

It is a plea for common sense instead of partyism, pure and simple, and it is scarcely necessary to add that this paper endorses every line of the article. But we don't mind confessing, at the same time, that we have no immediate hope of seeing the idea carried out.

Few of those Kansas saloon-keepers are making much opposition to the liquor crusade. They seem to be acting on the principle that those who live in glass houses can't throw stones.

•• • ••

Talking of Mrs. Nation's hatchet, a fresh chop every morning for breakfast as it were, only seems to make her the stronger.

•• • ••

Mrs Nation may feel in her crusade against Kansas saloons that she's removing a bar to the State's development.

•• • ••

Perhaps J. Bull is spending a great deal of money on the army, but it won't be denied that in the case of South Africa he's making it go far.

•• • ••

So little has been said of late about the Trent valley canal people are wondering whether it will go through or fall through.

•• • ••

The members of the Afrikander Bond have the impudence to suggest that De Wet be induced to surrender by a promise that he will be elevated to a position in the governor's council. In view of his recent murders of peace envoys he should be promised elevation on the end of a rope.

•• • ••

A consumptive who has been sent to Vienna by some New York philanthropists to try Dr. Hoff's new treatment is reported to be practically cured and will leave the sanitarium this week. If the case is authentic it will be a matter of great importance to the medical world and also to the world in general.

To Send an Officer to Russia.

Ottawa, Feb. 8.— In connection with the Alaskan boundary question the Government has decided to send a commissioner to Russia to investigate the State archives at St Petersburg. The appointment has been offered to Mr. Langelier of Quebec, who is considering the matter.

It Has Happened

More than once that a child has been carried off by an eagle. When such a thing does happen the press rings with the story. There's not a line given by the press to the babies carried off daily by disease. It isn't the fact of the child being taken away that is startling or interesting, it's only when the method of taking off is novel that it excites interest. How many children die who might have been saved if the mother who bore them had been able to give them strength and vitality. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes healthy mothers and healthy mothers have healthy children, strong enough to resist disease if they are attacked.

Mrs. Axel Kjer, of Gordonville, Cape Girardeau Co., Mo., writes: "When I look at my little boy I feel it my duty to write to you. This is my fifth child and the only one who came to maturity; the others having died from lack of nourishment—so the doctor said. This time I just thought I would try your 'Prescription.' I took nine bottles and to my surprise it carried me through and gave us as fine a little boy as ever was. Weighed ten and one-half pounds. He is now five months old, has never been sick a day, and is so strong that everybody who sees him wonders at him."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep the bowels healthy and regular.

The Chicago Tribune

is a newspaper for bright and intelligent people. It is made up to attract people who think.

Is not neutral or colorless, constantly trimming in an endeavor to please both sides, but it is independent in the best sense of the word.

It has pronounced opinions and is fearless in expressing them, but it is always fair to its opponents.

Matters of national or vital public interest get more space in THE TRIBUNE than in any other paper in the West.

For these reasons it is the newspaper you should read during the forthcoming political campaign.

THE TRIBUNE'S financial columns never mislead the public

Its facilities for gathering news, both local and foreign, are far superior to those of any other newspaper in the West.

It presents the news in as fair a way as possible, and lets its readers form their opinions.

While it publishes the most comprehensive articles on all news features, if you are busy the "Summary of THE DAILY TRIBUNE" published daily on the first page gives you briefly all the news of the day within one column.

Its sporting news is always the best, and its Sunday Pink Sporting Section is better than any sporting paper in the country.

It is the "cleanest" daily printed in the West.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are, swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. A WONDERFUL
KIDNEY and Bladder CURE

The Honorable Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, tells how ALKAVIS cured him after Doctors and all other Remedies had Failed.

I. A. HOPKINS.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, GRAVEL, DROPSY,
And Rheumatism Mastered at Last.

One of the most remarkable medical discoveries of the century is the Kava-Kava Shrub, found on the Ganges River, East India, which has a wonderful action on the kidneys and bladder. Since its introduction into this country its fame has quickly spread, because of its seemingly impossible cures. Prominent men and women have testified to its great curative powers, and hospital tests prove its infallibility even in advanced stages of Bright's Disease. Among the more recent recoveries is that of Hon. I. A. Hopkins, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Ellsworth, Kansas, who says:

GENTLEMEN:—I will say that I believe and know that I owe my life to Alkavis. I had been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. Two years ago I was sick for six weeks with Malarial Fever which left me in a bad condition. My limbs were swollen with Rheumatism so that I could hardly walk; I was troubled with Indigestion from taking Medicine for my Urinary troubles which had become very much worse. I had to get up every hour of the night to urinate. I passed great quantities of blood on account of hemorrhage of the Kidneys and Bladder. I tried and had been trying everything in the shape of Medicine for Kidney Trouble that I could think of or that the Doctors recommended, but nothing helped me for I kept getting worse. I suffered great pain continually in my Kidneys. I made up my mind unless I could get relief that I only had a short time to live. About this time my attention was called to an advertisement of Alkavis. As a drowning man will grasp at a straw, I was ready to try anything for relief. I sent to you for three bottles. I began to take it, and before I had taken it one week I began to feel the good effects of Alkavis. My Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism were soon gone, my digestion became all right. I found myself in better health than for ten years and I am in good health now. I know that Alkavis saved my life. What more can anyone say for a medicine? Unlike most medicines it is good for indigestion. It gives the person taking it a good appetite. I have recommended Alkavis to a great many people and all have been benefited by its use. I am 55 years of age, and am very grateful for what Alkavis has done for me.

Respectfully yours, I. A. HOPKINS.

Rev. W. B. Moore, D. D., Washington, D. C., Editor Religious World, writes that after trying all known medicines for kidney and rheumatic diseases he was permanently cured by Alkavis. Mrs. Wm. H. Hardy, [illegible] Rush, Pa., writes that Alkavis cured her after six doctors failed. Rev. J. W. Hickman, Collyer, Trego Co., Kansas, cured of liver, kidney and bladder trouble, of many years' standing, from which he could only get temporary relief and had given up all hope of a cure. Thus the grand work goes on. A new book, entitled "A Thousand Living Witnesses," sent with the free case of medicine, tells of the wonderful cures performed in every state.

Not only does this great discovery—Alkavis (the Kava-Kava Compound)—cure all forms of Kidney and bladder diseases, but by expelling from the blood all poisonous deposits, excess of lime, uric acid, urates and lithiates, it banishes gravel, torpid liver, rheumatism, pains in back, difficult and too frequent urination, etc. The cure is complete. No phase is neglected, and the stomach, heart and nerves are toned and invigorated. No other medicine in the world will perform the work of Alkavis. To enable sufferers to get well and spread the glad tidings we have arranged to send a Large Case of Alkavis FREE by mail to all who write us. The case goes entirely FREE.

If you are a sufferer, write to-day and secure at once a Free Case of Alkavis and Book of "A Thousand Living Witnesses." Address the Church Kidney Cure Co., No. 393 Fourth Ave., New York. Please mention this paper.

Friendship never knows decay.

For, 'mid old friends, tried and true,
Once more we our youth renew.
But old friends, alas! may die,
Now friends must their place supply.

Cherish friendship in your breast,
New is good, but old is best;
Make new friends, but keep the old,
Those are silver, these are gold.

COPLEY'S EYEGLASSES.

We had been talking over a lively incident in the life of one of our friends—his name was Thwaites—which had led to a peculiarly strong development of that individual's nose. Three of us knew Thwaites quite well, and one of the three had told the story to the others. The fourth man did not know Thwaites personally, but he did know a story of another man of which he said, this story about Thwaites reminded him.

"You know that eyeglasses make a great difference in the looks of a man, don't they? Well, this is how Copley came to wear eyeglasses:

"His eyes? They may have suffered from the artificial help they have been getting from those glasses all these years, though I believe he has had the good sense all along to wear simple lenses that make not the least difference to his vision. But he certainly never took up with those eyeglasses for the good of his eyes. It began in a matter of policy with Copley.

"When I knew him first we were both students in a big London hospital, trying to become doctors.

"Copley was very much in earnest, you see. He may have been naturally disposed to have his larks in one way or another, but he always had a certain shrewdness which kept him from playing tricks calculated to bring the professor down on him. In particular he knew how good a thing it was to stand well with the dean of the faculty.

"I ought to explain, in case you do not know, that there the dean of the faculty is the professor who has held office longest, and at that particular hospital the statutes made him very much of an autocrat. For instance, there were three big 'exams' to pass in the five years, and no student could present himself at any one of these without a certificate from the hospital he belonged to that he had attended lectures and demonstrations duly and faithfully' for a certain number of terms. Those certificates were signed at our hospital by the dean of the faculty alone. He took the reports of the other professors, but in the last resort his signing or not signing might be very much a matter of his own personal estimate of the individual student. See? The dean could practically stop a man from getting his degree, even if that man knew as much about medicine as Galen.

"Fortunately our dean was a good old fellow, and he used his power not only with justice, but with mercy. Perhaps his botanical studies made him mild. I have noticed that people who have much to do with plants and flowers are mostly of a gentle disposition. He was professor of 'materia medica.'

"One day he seemed fidgety and distraced when he took his place to begin the lecture. He seemed to be looking over the class in search of some one. Presently his eye fell on Copley. The old man puckered up his brow and stared at Copley through his spectacles.

"Then he began in a nervous irritable way: 'Yes, sir, you. I don't know your name, sir. You, sir. What is your name, if you please?'

"Copley made no pretense of not seeing that he was the person in question. He frankly answered, 'My name is Copley, sir.'

"'Copley? Ah, very well, Mr. Copley,' says the old man. 'Mr. Copley, I have to tell you in the presence of this class unless your character undergoes a change you will never be fit to practice the healing art. You have no humanity, sir. You are cruel, sir—cruel.'

"Copley had no idea what the dean was talking about, and none of his friends could enlighten him. Some of the class could guess, but they did not happen to know Copley well enough to volunteer a hint. The truth was that some student had been making an ass of himself that morning with the schoolboy trick of fastening walnut shells on the feet of a cat, and then turning the beast loose in the lecture room corridor. The janitor had at last been obliged to kill the cat with a shotgun. The dean thought he had found the perpetrator of this outrage, but he was wrong. Poor Copley had not even been in the college and he knew nothing about it.

"As Copley had no idea what the dean was driving at, he could only submit to a harangue, after lecture, go and ask the dean what it all meant. But the dean only stared at Copley as a particularly imprudent specimen of a normally impudent genus—the London medical student.

"'Go away, sir. Go away, Mr. Copley, and remember that I have my eye on you.'

"But after that the dean seemed to have it in for Copley. Twice again in that same term Copley was reprimanded for outrageous behavior of which he had no sort of knowledge. The second time he was threatened with expulsion for having willfully and deliberately intoxicated a little street arab and then put him to sleep in the dissecting room, where he afterward came to himself in a terrible fright and very nearly had a fit.

"Whoever was the perpetrator of this villainy, the dean had, as he thought, the evidence of his own senses as to the perpetrator's identity.

"'I saw you, sir, when you brought that unfortunate child into the inner courtyard,' said the dean. 'I saw you and wondered what you were doing with him.'

"Copley kept his head this time. It was a very serious affair, and he saw the necessity of using all his wits.

"The faculty never did find out who was guilty. It was a most unsatisfactory investigation. Copley's innocence was clearly established, but a disagreeable suspicion of several first-year and second-year men also grew up. Copley, I ought to say, was in his fourth year.

"The story of the street arab who had been frightened nearly to death got into the newspapers and made a sensation. There was no doubt that it would injure the reputation of the hospital. The board of directors debated over the affair at a special meeting, and all the 700 students debated over it on all occasions.

"It was a nurse—of all possible people—who gave us the first hint of a way to put a stop to the persecution of poor Copley. She was chatting with him, myself and a senior student, all of us on night duty in her ward.

"'The thing is quite plain to me,' she said. 'In fact, I believe I could put my hand on the guilty party to-morrow morning, if I wanted to. But the scandal has nearly blown over now, and the young man has been badly frightened. So we might as well let well enough alone.'

"'And how about me?' says Copley.

"'Well, then,' she said, 'Mr. Copley has a double—yes, a double. Mr. Copley's double is a young limb of Satan in his first year. I have noticed the likeness over and over again, but, as you gentlemen never see anything of the first-year students—'

"Of course, now that she had mentioned it, we all saw just how it was. The nurse did not tell us the name of this young man, but we three quietly kept on the lookout for Copley's double among the first-year men, and in less than twenty-four hours we found the double of Copley in a youth by the name of Wixem. We all three pitched upon the same man. There was no room for the least doubt. The only difference between Copley and Wixem at ten yards' range was that Wixem was already serious and even grave in his demeanor, and Copley had a gay, devil-may-care way, in spite of his troubles. Any one would have taken Wixem for a sober, earnest, ambitious student, which is just what he was not, and Copley was.

"Copley was so exasperated that he attacked Wixem on the sidewalk, just outside the principal gate of the hospital and gave him a terrible black eye. Copley was arrested by a passing policeman, but Wixem was too cunning to appear in court. He knew that people were still talking about the dissecting-room scandal.

"'Well, anyhow,' I said to Copley, 'that black eye will help the dean to distinguish between you and Wixem for some time to come.'

"But for several weeks Wixem did nothing that could get Copley into trouble. The dean looked at Copley very hard, with a puzzled expression, from time to time, and Copley bravely returned the stare.

"Then came Copley's eyeglasses.

"You see, we all, including the friendly nurse, agreed that Copley could not go on blackening Wixem's eyes periodically to keep from being mistaken for that young miscreant. So the nurse suggested that Copley would look very well, and immensely professional, in gold-rimmed eyeglasses. And after that there was no possibility of mistake."

"And so," one of the three asked "your friend Copley stuck to the identifying glasses for life?"

"Yes, but wait a minute. The funny thing was that the first day Copley appeared in the hospital with his new glasses—I was with him at the time—he also wore a dark frock coat and a high hat, and it happened that he had never before appeared there in such a sober get-up. Just as we entered the inner courtyard, which happened to be deserted, Mr. Wixem, looking very solemn, which meant that he had been up to some devilish pranks, met us as he was coming from the museum wing. Copley glared at him, as if he would like to black his eye just once more.

"Wixem stopped short and said: 'Why, sir, I had no idea you were in town!'

"'Hadn't you, sir?' says Copley. 'Then, sir, let me recommend you to bear in mind that I am in town.'

"Wixem only stared for a moment, said 'Oh!' in a manner that indicated both astonishment and relief, and passed on.

"'Copley,' I said, 'that young man took you for his father.'

"'I'll father him if he doesn't mind what he's about,' says Copley.

"The general effect of the eyeglasses was wonderfully effective for good in Copley's career. In the first place, the dean discovered that he had made a good man a victim of his own mistakes. He wanted to reopen the inquiry about the dissecting-room, only the board wouldn't let him. But he became a fast friend to Copley, and that fact helped him on considerably long after he had begun practice.

"No, it isn't merely as a souvenir that Copley continues to wear his glasses. The fact is that the friendly nurse wouldn't hear of his taking them off. She is Mrs. Copley now."

Friendly Assistance.

"Can I help you to anything?" asked Boarder No. 6.

"Yes," replied the newcomer at the foot of the table. "You might give me a clew to this hash."—Philadelphia North American.

How Are Your Nerves?

If you are weak and you feel nervous and easily "flustrated," can't sleep, and rise in the morning unrefreshed, your blood is poor. Strong nerves depend upon rich, nourishing blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the nerves strong by enriching and vitalizing the blood. It gives sweet, refreshing sleep and completely cures nervous troubles. Begin taking it to-day.

Nausea, indigestion are cured by Hood's Pills.

Dan Rice's First Circus Tumble.

"Did you ever hear of the joke which got Dan Rice, the most famous of all the circus clowns, his first job under the canvas?" asked an old-timer.

"No—what was it?"

"Dan, while still in his teens, applied to a circus manager for a position.

"'What salary do you want?' asked the manager.

"'Eight hundred dollars a night,' replied Dan.

"'Tell you what I'll do,' said the manager.

"'Well, speak quick,' returned Dan, 'I'm losing time.'

"'I'll give you $4 a week.'

"'All right,' said Dan, 'it's a go.'"

He Felt Funny.

One of the men on board the Olympia, at Manila, tells of the preparations to enter the bay and brave the dangers of the mines and shore batteries:

"About 7 o'clock I took a pillow," he writes, "and lay down on the soft side of a plank to take a nap. All the men slept at their guns. At 9:30 we were quietly called. No bugle sounded. Everything was done quietly. I jumped up and went on the bridge. I felt nervous for awhile; I did not know where we were, and it was as dark as hades. All one could hear was the orders given by the officers and the click of the breech blocks as they were closed. We could see the shape of a big island ahead of us, and we were told that it was the fort. It is about 800 feet above the level of the sea. We could not elevate our guns enough to bear on it, so they fired at us without receiving an answer in return. Our nerves were highly strung now from waiting in suspense. About 12 o'clock we were directly under the guns of the first fort, and when they started to signal and fired a rocket every man braced himself. On we went, not knowing what minute a torpedo or submarine mine would send us all to eternity."

"Speaking of the battle he says: "For a while I thought I was a gone goose. The shells were falling around us thick as hail. We could see the big ones pass over our heads, and the smoke and saltpeter were suffocating. One shell passed about two feet over my head, cutting the signal halyard I was holding. 'Jump up there and get that end,' said the officer. While I was up on the back stay I felt funny, I can tell you."

Hotel for Sturgeon Point

It is proposed to build a $60,000 summer hotel at Sturgeon Point this season. The matter came up before the Lindsay Board of Toronto the other night, when Mr. Matchett, who has the matter in hand, stated that if Lindsay would take $10,000 in stock, Toronto and other places would do the rest. The scheme seems likely to go through.

A warning.

To feel tired after exertion is one thing; to feel tired before is another.

Don't say the latter is laziness—it isn't; but it's a sign that the system lacks vitality, is running down, and needs the tonic effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It's a warning, too—and sufferers should begin taking Hood's at once. Buy a bottle to-day.

A Painful Accident

COLD STORAGE FOR PETERBORO

A Matter Which the Board of Trade and Council Should Move in Peterborough has a progressive Council and a level-headed Mayor. Much is expected of these gentlemen, and it is the duty of the press to assist them in every possible way. The Times therefore suggests that a cold storage warehouse be established in Peterborough. The Toronto Cold Storage Company are assisting in having these warehouses established in different centers, and it is to this Company that we should look. In Woodstock the Board took the matter up, and the correspondence has resulted in steps being taken by the former which are very favorable to the desired end. Mr. Humphrey, manager of the Toronto Cold Storage Co., is going to attend the meetings of the Farmer's Institute at Oxford Centre and Beachville, in connection with the project. The Board of Trade will then confer with Mr. Humphrey, and further steps will be taken to interest the farmers in the matter.

It is hard to conceive the extent of the benefit which would accrue to the people of Peterborough and county through the erection of a cold storage here. It is badly needed by all classes of people. The merchants require it for their perishable goods. The farmers use it for a large part of their produce. The small producer of foodstuffs, and those who purchase them in surplus quantities in the fall would use it greatly to their advantage.

Mr. McLean, of the chicken fattening station, has as much as 12 tons of poultry in cold storage in Toronto at one time. Mr. Angus Rose uses the cold storage in Toronto largely. These are examples of the demand there would be for room in cold storage in Peterborough in poultry and eggs alone. Then a cold storage here would remove the great difficulty which exists between the cheese buyer and seller. All cheese then could be placed in the cold storage and inspected before market day, when all transactions would be final, and there would be no after collapses and consequent losses to the dairyman. Thus it will be seen that the farmer is primarily interested in the establishment of a cold storage in Peterborough. That it would be a financial success there is no question; and the merchants and farmers, who take a direct interest in the erection of a cold storage here, will win out at both ends, and everyone will benefit thereby.

PETERBOROUGH CHEESE BOARD

Mr. John Drummond Re-elected President—Other Officers Re-elected

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board was held in the Town Council Chamber on Saturday afternoon and was largely attended.

In the absence of the President, Mr. Drummond, the chair was occupied by Mr. George Stewart, the Vice-President, who opened the meeting with a few appropriate remarks.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and on motion adopted.

Several communications were read and carefully considered.

The Treasurer, Mr. Galvin, of Lakefield, read the financial report which showed receipts for the year of $227 and expenses amounting to $227.30.

Considerable discussion was indulged in regarding the advisability of re-engaging an inspector. A great deal of adverse criticism took place concerning the services of the late inspector, whilst again many excellent points were brought out in his favor. It was at length moved and carried that the Board re-engage an inspector. This point having been decided upon, Mr. Galvin made a strong argument why Mr. Warde should be engaged again and was supported by Mr. Geo. W. Fitzgerald and Mr. T. Blezard.

Mr. John Riddell moved, seconded by Mr. Blezard, that the Board again ask for Mr. Warde. The motion was carried.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Mr. T. Blezard said to expedite matters he would move that the entire old list of officers should be re-elected. In doing this he made a short speech eulogistic of the members of the old Board. The motion was carried. The officers are as follows:—

President—J. M. Drummond, Keene.
Vice-President—George Stewart, Peterborough.
Secretary—John Riddell, Bensfort.
Treasurer—J. G. Galvin, Lakefield.

Mr. Galvin then launched out in a stirring speech against the practice of salesmen selling to a certain buyer at or below the same price he had refused his cheese to another buyer.

There were evidences during last year that there were private arrangements between the salesmen and buyers in this particular line, and should be stopped at once before the Board becomes entirely demoralized. These remarks from Mr. Galvin, drew forth a reply from the Warminister salesmen, who contended that the salesmen had as much right to have a preference buyer as the buyer had to have a preference factory.

Mr. Galvin contended that such should not be the case and after considerable discussion the matter ended and the meeting adjourned.

'My Family Must Have Malt Breakfast Food Regularly at Breakfast, because they find it more palatable and healthful than other Grain Foods they have used."

A Montreal lady whose sons are members of the Ralston Health Club, after reading the letter of Webster Edgerly, President of the Club, determined some weeks ago to give Malt Breakfast Food a trial. Her family were so delighted with the Food, they decided to continue its use. Its delicious flavor, easy digestion, its health giving properties, have made it an indispensable dish for breakfast in that home. To her Grocer she said: "My family must have Malt Breakfast Food regularly at breakfast, because they find it more palatable and healthful than other grain foods they have used."

Thousands of families in Canada have given up the use of the old stomach-irritating foods for Malt Breakfast Food that proves itself so nutritious and strengthening. Grocers sell it.

THE MILK INDUSTRY.

The History of the Formation of a Dairy Company.

In view of the strong stand taken by the medical men of Peterborough, it is not unprobable that a dairy company may be found in Peterborough at an early date.

We publish below the history of the formation of a similar company in Ottawa, which, under the circumstances, will be of interest to our readers.

Some few years ago the milkmen of Ottawa conceived the idea of reducing the expense of present system of delivering milk, a committee composed of prominent milkdealers was appointed to investigate, as a result they discovered that this could be done by forming a central distributing warehouse; they further found that the quality of the milk could be greatly improved, by adopting modern sanitary methods, approved of by the highest professional authorities. This however, would involve an expenditure of a large amount of money, and when the committee reported the result of its investigations, a majority of the dealers could not see how funds were to be had, and a number did not see the necessity of the change, and the benefit would devolve almost altogether to the citizens of Ottawa. Some of the more enterprising members of the committee having seen the necessity of adopting a system more in keeping with laws of health, as a protection to their business (for if they did not some one else would do so and take their trade), began to devise plans to carry out their scheme. To this end they employed the services of professional company promoters, who were successful in having sufficient funds subscribed to carry out original plans, so in order to place the matter on a proper business basis, a company was formed composed of a number of milkmen at present doing business in Ottawa, and about one hundred citizens of Ottawa who contributed as shareholders.

The management of affairs was placed in hands of a few expert and leading dairy and business men, who at once proceeded to place the milk supply of Ottawa on a par, or if possible ahead of any city in America. The result of much labor and study will soon have a practical demonstration by Ottawa citizens, as the system is about in working order, and those interested are satisfied that the public will appreciate their efforts by patronizing the company.

This business is in no sense a "trust," they have no control of Ottawa's milk supply, but are satisfied that they do control the best milk producing herds in Canada, both as regards quality and perfect sanitation at farms. A description of distributing warehouse will appear in these columns later.

It may be of interest to the public to know that in the last few months this company has spent in Ottawa about $40,000, giving constant employment at various trades to over one hundred men, they have asked no favors from the city council, will contribute to city's revenue as taxpayers, and will give employment to from 30 to 40 well paid men, all to be citizens of Ottawa, and so as an industry it deserves public patronage and support. At present the milkmen use our streets and make their money here, without contributing anything towards maintenance.

There is no intention of advancing prices, there is no necessity for it; the company will make all concessions possible to public, and is here to stay with your support.

HOCKEY.

The Colts are Horses, and they make any other team that runs against them look as if they had just come off the farm. In the first game of the season they rolled up a gigantic score against Cobourg, and last night, when they played the Frontenacs of Kingston, it was the same thing over again, the score being 15-3 in favor of Peterborough.

The attendance of spectators was large and it might be said that the game was too one-sided to be interesting, if the one side had not been the right side.

The return match will be played in Kingston to-morrow evening.

Peterborough and Port Hope will battle for the Intermediate championship at Lindsay to-night. The O.H.A. sub-committee had first arranged that the match should take place at Cobourg, but the poor railroad connections necessitated a change.

STOP LOSING MONEY

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 50 to 1, Jan. 8; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 146 W. 42d street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verily our statement!

We hope this will convince all turfites that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. We average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

MANY DYING OF FEVER AT LORENZO MARQUEZ

The Hospital Ship is Filled to its Utmost Capacity--British Occupy Ficksburg

Berlin, Feb. 12.

Field Marshall Count von Waldersee telegraphing from Pekin under the date of Feb. 11 says that from Pao Ting Fu onwards, five of the chief places lying within the German sphere have been occupied permanently by one company each, to protect the inhabitants from robbery and oppression.

Lorenzo Marquez, Feb. 12.

The fever season here is exceptionally diastrous. Many deaths of prominent British subjects have occurred. The majority belonged to the Imperial Administrative Staff and had to be removed to a hospital ship in batches. Patients from Komatipoort are arriving daily. The hospital ship is now filled to its capacity. The mortality among the Boer refugees is heavy.

Cape Town, Feb. 12.

Large bodies of Republicans have been seen near Donkerpoort Station, north of Norval's Pont. Shots were exchanged.

The British have occupied Ficksburg with little opposition, and have released the prisoners who were in the jail.

The Boers are moving in the direction of Fourlesburg, where they have most of their supplies.

KAISER WILHELM MADE A MISTAKE

The Decoration of Lord Roberts Adversely Commented Upon

Berlin, Feb. 11.—The action of Emperor William in decorating Lord Roberts with the Order of the Black Eagle has signally failed to attain its object. It was no doubt prompted by the Emperor's wish to allay the bitterness in the relations of the two countries. Instead it has only brought it out in greater prominence. Most of the papers continue to criticize it adversely, and those which do not content themselves with re-printing comment of the Kreuz Zeitung, which said:—"We fail to see why this Boer destroyer (Roberts) should receive such a unique mark of Emperor William's distinction and also why the Emperor after being horribly insulted several days ago by the officers of his British regiment, should now show them marked attention."

FEELING IN LONDON.

In spite of the German newspaper attitude, the feeling in London is that the international situation contains improved prospects for peace, and harmony. Downing street officials do not shut their eyes to German dissatisfaction, but they rely on the imperious force of the German ruler to overcome the opposition. Undoubtedly, closer relations exist between the ruling powers of the two nations.

Neither in China nor in other parts of the world do Russia and France give any indications of counter action against Great Britain. Lord Salisbury is said to rely upon Emperor William to keep in touch with the Czar, and so long as this is feasible France will not take any hostile initiative. Austria and Italy the other two factors in the Dreibund, will not run counter to the views of Emperor William, while nothing remains to render the alliance between Portugal and England stronger. It will be seen through all this that the German ruler is the dominating factor of Europe. Great Britain has helped this, and now expects to profit by it.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—Mrs. Annie Milburn, wife of three months, committed suicide at 2 o'clock yesterday morning by swallowing the contents of a vial of carbolic acid in the highway of a flat building at 2030 Wabach avenue. It is said that Mrs. Milburn had been searching for her husband, George Milburn, a bartender, employed at the Lancaster Hotel, and that failing to locate him she drank the acid. At noon Milburn reported to the police that his wife was missing, and through him the body was identified. Mrs Milburn, who was 23 years old, came to Chicago from Marquette, Mich.

THROWS ACID IN MAN'S FACE.

A Woman Calls on George Laird at Hotel and Attacks Him.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Feb. 12.— This morning George Laird, who is a boarder at the hotel in Leonidas, was burned by carbolic acid thrown in his face by Miss Denell Neddo. Elgin Scott and Miss Neddo went to the hotel and Miss Neddo called upon Mr. Laird in his room. He was lying on a cot, and after a few words, she threw carbolic acid in his face. It is expected he will lose the sight of both eyes. After Miss Neddo had accomplished her purpose she and her escort drove away. Miss Neddo's action is said to have been inspired by jealous rage.

MRS CARRIE NATION CALLED A COWABD

Topeka Women Denounce Joint Smasher for Refusing to Lead Them.

TAKES TO LECTURE FIELD

Saloon-Wrecker Accused of Preferring the Rostrum to the Hatchet. Has Many Dates Ahead.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 12. Mrs. Carrie Nation has left Topeka to enter the lecture field, after being publicly branded to her face as a coward.

Indignation is the keynote of the sentiment among the temperance women of Topeka to-day, and it is charged in some quarters that after having arranged a long list of lecture dates the joint smasher is content to rest upon the notoriety she had already achieved, and will in the future be satisfied with the emoluments of the rostrum, as being more lucrative, if less exciting, pastime than the destruction of plateglass mirrors and whiskey bottles.

At any rate, Mrs. Nation is gone, and her hatchet is idel. She refuses to smash joints. She proposes to lecture, and word already received from Iowa towns where she is to appear indicates that all the seats have been sold in advance.

NOW HAS A MANAGER.

Topeka women are indignant, because the joint smashing crusader is in Kansas City to fill a lecture date. It is openly charged that she has been induced by one A. C. Rankin of Pittsburg, Pa.—a temperance orator who is paid for his service—to give up her career as a wrecker of dramshops, and that he had arranged dates for her in Omaha, Sioux City, Des Moines, Muscatine, and elsewhere.

DENOUNCED AS A COWARD.

Mrs. Nation was denounced as a coward last night by the angry women of Topeka, because she refused to lead a party in a joint smashing crusade. Every preparation had been made. Thirty women armed with hatchets had gathered in secret, and plans were agreed upon to sally forth at 3 o'clock this morning.

It was then that Mrs. Nation balked. Pulling on her wraps, she declared she was going home. There was an instant uproar of amazement and condemnation. Then one of the crusaders rushed to where Mrs. Nation stood in the center of a group and shaking her fist in the Wichita woman's face, shouted excitedly:

"You are a coward, Mrs. Nation; you are a coward."

For a moment Mrs. Nation lost control of herself, the first time since she had started out on her smashing tour.

"I am not a coward," said she, white with emphasis. "I will go this minute with any one woman and smash a joint."

A dozen voices were raised, "I'll go; I'll go," and for a moment it looked as if an instant raid would result. But Mrs. Nation, soon collecting herself, turned to bantering her followers told them she was tired, that the "Lord did not wish her to go to-night." and without furthur ado left the room and went home, and the raid was abandoned.

LAUGHS AT TOPEKA WOMEN

To-day before starting for Kansas City Mrs. Nation heaped words of ridicule and sarcasm on the heads of the indignant women who had called her a coward.

"It was beautiful to see how angry they were," she said. "Why, do you know they wanted to scratch my eyes and pull my hair for not going out with them? It was a delicious half hour. I never was so happy in my life. I would rather die at the hands of these indignant women than from the saloon-keepers."

"Why, it was the greatest surprise I ever had. They were mad, clean mad, all the way through, because I would not help them smash. That's turning the tables, isn't it?"

Asked as to how long she would be away from Topeka, Mrs. Nation said:

"I cannot tell just at this time. I will lecture in Kansas City to-night, and I would like mighty well to visit their death shops while there, but have not the time. From Kansas City I will go to Des Moines, then to Alton, and possibly to Chicago. I will lecture at each place; then go home for a sufficient number of days to close up my affairs. Then I will resume my work in Kansas."

SELLS PHOTOGRAPHS AT KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 12.—Mrs Carrie Nation to-night addressed a fair-sized audience at the Academy of Music.

She justified her crusade against the saloon by citing various passages from the Bible, with which she evinced great familiarity. She said that she had just as much right to destroy the joints of Missouri as she had to destroy those of Kansas. She based this assertion upon the clause in the constitution of the United States that insures to every citizen the right to "peace, prosperity, and the pursuit of happiness."

She declared, however, that she would not molest the joints of Kansas City, Mo., because it is too large a city. "I don't propose to bite off more than I can chew," she said.

Many of her photographs were sold at the door. At 9.45 o'clock she took a Burlington train for Des Moines, Ia.

BUY MICE FOR PROTECTION.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 12.—E. Romario, an Italian saloonkeeper here to-day bought fifty rats and mice and has stored them behind his bar for protection against Mrs. Carrie Nation, who arrives here at noon to-morrow and lectures in the evening.

The Prohibitionists of Des Moines have decided to make no demonstration for Mrs. Nation nor to give her any public recognition. A. C. Rankin, Mrs. Nation's business manager, will come with her. She had declared her intention to smash any "joint" she may find.

The Bartenders' association announced to-night that it will send a brass band to meet Mrs. Nation at the train.

SEATS ALL SOLD AT MUSCATINE

Muscatine, Ia., Feb. 12.— Mrs Nation is booked to visit Muscatine on Monday. She will speak at the opera-house in the evening, and all seats are already sold.

THE QUEEN'S FRIENDSHIP.

Ex-Mayor Hewitt, of Chicago Tells of Victoria's Friendship.

Chicago, Feb 12.—The monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce today was devoted for the most part to a memorial meeting for Queen Victoria The most significant incident of the meeting was a speech by former Mayor Abram S. Hewitt. Mr. Hewitt said he was intrusted during the civil war with a secret mission to Europe. While there he went to Paris and visited General Dayton, the American Minister. Mr. Dayton asked Mr. Hewitt to go to London immediately to see Mr. Adams, the American Minister at the British capital, and tell him there was a report that the Emperor Napoleon had proposed to England that the two nations should recognize the confederacy.

Mr. Hewitt found that Mr. Adams had already heard of the report. Mr. Adams sought Lord John Russell and asked him if such a proposition had come from the Emperor of France. His Lordship returned an evasive answer. Mr. Adams then sought an audience with the Queen. He saw her Majesty in the presence of Prince Albert. Mr. Adams told her Majesty of the report and added that such recognition would cause much bloodshed, as the North would fight the whole world rather than give up the union. The Queen replied to the Minister as follows:

"Give yourself no concern. My government will not recognize the confederacy."

RAILWAY MINED BY THE BOERS

British Officer and Two Kaffirs Killed by the Explosion

London, Feb. 12.—The Cape Town correspondent of the Standard says reports have been received there from Delagoa Bay asserting that the natives of the Northern Transvaal have risen against the Boers.

BOERS NEARLY AT THE END.

New York, Feb. 12.—A special cable to the New York Herald from London dated to-day says: A very curious sentiment prevailed in London yesterday in regard to the condition of affairs in South Africa. It was one of supreme hopefulness, so much so that there has never been any such buoyancy of sentiment since Lord Roberts took Pretoria. There is absolutely no doubt that news has reached here from German sources showing that the Boers are pretty nearly at their last stand in their continual harassing. The development of Gen. Kitchener's well laid plan leaves them in a well nigh hopeless condition. This view of the situation is also taken upon the stock exchange. The Government felt itself yesterday called upon to deny that Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood was going to the front. The whole idea is simply ridiculous. He is not only stone deaf, but he is not in the least persona grata with King Edward, whose wishes he went out of his way to oppose in the matter of certain appointments a few weeks ago.

The King of Portugal's departure last evening, I learn from a diplomatic source, has been intentionally made much of. There is no doubt now that during his stay here a most important understanding was come to between England and Portugal. This is given still greater weight by the publication yesterday of a delayed telegram saying that the Portuguese were co-operating with the English to prevent the landing of war material for the Boers.

RAILWAY MINED BY BOERS.

Cape Town, Feb. 11.—The Boers mined the railway near Middleburg, Transvaal, yesterday morning, and a British officer and two Kaffirs who were proceeding by trolley were killed by the explosion. Sir Edward Hulse has suffered an injury to one of his legs through a fall from his horse. The injury is not serious. The Natal railway line is again clear.

JOE SAYS "NO RETREAT."

Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, has informed Sir Alfred Milner that he has approved of the tone of his reply to the Afrikander resolution. Mr. Chamberlain says the Imperial Government has no intention of retreating from a policy which it has deliberately adopted and repeatedly declared, and which was supported by the overwhelming weight of popular opinion throughout the empire. The Government's position, Mr. Chamberlain said, has also been supported by a large majority of the inhabitants of Cape Colony.

GERMANS TO OPPOSE BOERS.

The insane obstinacy of the Boers in continuing the hopeless struggle is turning even those of kindred blood against them. Col Schermabucker, a member of the Legislative Assembly of the Colony, is raising a corps of German farmers in Kaffaria to resist the Boer invaders.

7,000 TOWN GUARDS.

This afternoon Governor Sir Alfred Milner inspected 7,000 town guards. In addressing the men he praised their satisfactory appearance, and emphasized the importance of having town guards in all places that the Boers were likely to attempt to invade. He also expressed the wish that a large part of the town guards would join the irregular corps for service at the front.

CHINA's EMPRESS TURNS REFORMER

Reported to be Reconciled to the Emperor at Last

Pekin, Feb. 12.—Information has been received from an official Chinese source that the Dowager Empress has had a sudden attack of reform. She has become reconciled with the Emperor, and is now preparing an edict ordering reforms in the government which rivals the decree issued for the same purpose by the Emperor before the coup d'etat.

If the attack is really serious it means a great deal at this time, brightening materially the prospects for a quick compliance with the demand for the punishment of guilty officials and other demands of the powers.

COMES FROM RELIABLE SOURCE.

Sir Robert Hart, director of the Chinese imperial maritime customs, was asked if the report could be verified. Sir Robert Hart replied that it came from a source that has heretofore never been misinformed.

In valuing this report, however, it must not be forgotten that the Dowager Empress of late years has been subject to sudden changes of mind, being influenced by the preponderance of opinion among those nearest to her. Whether her Majesty is in earnest in her reported intention to carry out reforms can be better told when the answer to the demand for punishment is received. The throne has not been heard from since the demand was forwarded.

The French list of provincial officials whose punishment will be demanded is not yet completed. The lists prepared by the other Ministers are now ready.

EDICT ORDERS REFORMS.

A Shanghai dispatch, dated Feb. 6, tells of the receipt there of an imperial edict ordering extensive reforms in the government with the view to bringing future prosperity to the country. The Ministers of the Privy Council, the six boards, all the Viceroys and Governors, and the Chinese Ministers abroad were ordered to confer and recommend reforms in the seven branches of the government—namely: the central government, ceremonies, taxation, schools, civil service examinations, military affairs, and economics. They were also instructed to recommend what part of the old system can be used and what part needs changing. They were allowed two months in which to make their report.

BELGIUM FAVORS AID FOR BOERS

Motion Favoring Intervention Adopted in the Chamber of Deputies.

BASED ON HAGUE TREATY

Minister of Foreign Affairs Declares Effort Cannot Succeed Progress of War in Africa.

Brussells, Feb. 12. — The Belgian Chamber of Deputies to-day voted unanimously in favor of a motion favoring intervention in the Boer-British war. This vote was taken in spite of the energetic protest of M. de Favereau, the Belgian Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Deputy Maenhout called attention to the petition presented to the House in favor of arbitration between Great Britain and the Transvaal for the purpose of stopping the war in South Africa.

M. de Favereau, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, said he had no objection to the reference of the petition to a committee. But, he said, he was bound to inform the Chamber that in his opinion the authors of the petition were mistaken in regard to the meaning of article 27 of the Hague convention, under which it was desired to act

DECLARES ENGLAND CANNOT OBJECT.

M. Maenhout, who is the reporter for the commission having the petition in charge, said he would support a petition suggesting a Belgian proposal of arbitration in the South African war, declaring that Great Britain could not take umbrage at the intervention of Belgium because The Hague convention, to which England adhered, provided for arbitration.

Deputy Jansen urged that the powers should put into practice a vague engagement and thus end a homicidal conflict. Other Deputies spoke in similar terms.

PROTEST BY FOREIGN MINISTER.

M. de Favereau, replying, said:

"At present circumstances do not offer such an opportunity," continued the Foreign Minister. "We must not forget that one of the principal powers guaranteeing our independence is taking part in this conflict. We do not think that we have sufficient authority to offer her our mediation.

"Another power, the United States, offered mediation at the outset of the war. England responded that she did not desire it at any price. M. Delcasse, on behalf of France, made similar declarations. Virtually the same was made in the German Reichstag, and the government of the Netherlands has not considered that it has fallen to Holland to take the initiative in mediation.

"The Chamber, therefore, will appreciate the assurance that the Belgian government cannot undertake such an overt act."

MOTION FOR INTERVENTION.

At the conclusion of Minister de Favereau's remarks Deputy Jansen submitted an order of the day favoring intervention.

M. de Favereau repeated that Belgium's intervention was impossible, and the order of the day was, therefore, unnecessary. Nevertheless the Chamber by a show of hands adopted the order of the day as proposed by M. Jansen.

TWO FREEZE TO DEATH.

Wisconsin Man and Son Die of Exposure After Getting Wet.

Oshkosh, Wis., Feb. 12 — Gustave Hartman and 11-year-old son are dead as the result of cold and exposure consequent upon breaking through the ice at Lake Butte des Morts.

The two were on a fishing expedition and were driving a horse attached to a cutter. The animal broke through the ice at a point where farmers had been cutting. In the effort to get out the horse Hartman and his son fell in. They finally succeeded in getting out upon the ice.

The boy started for the shore for help. He succeeded in sending aid to his father, but expired a few minutes after reaching a farmer's house on the bank.

A rescue party reached Hartman while he was still alive, but he died before he could be carried to the farmhouse. Hartman has a family and was a mason by trade.

YOUNGEST ON RECORD.

A Grandfather at the Age of Thirty Eight Years.

Paterson, N. J., Feb. 12.—Fred Lind of Paterson, N. J., has been entered by his friends for the record as the youngest of grandfathers. He is not yet 38 years old. He married before he was 18 years old and his oldest child, Minnie, was born a year later. She followed the example of her father in the matter of early marriage, and in her eighteenth year became the wife of J. W. Smith. Now she is the mother of a baby boy, who has been named Fred, after his proud and youthful grandfather. Mr. Lind, who is the superintendent of a woolen mill in New York, hopes to live to see the day when he will be a great-great-grandfather, as is quite possible if he should reach the not unusual age of 75 years.

MRS. NATION WINS.

The hatchet crusade of Mrs. Carrie Nation against the illicit liquor traffic has had many ludicrous features and the old lady has been a ten-days' God-send to the humorists of the press But Mrs. Nation has exemplified a very pertinent idea in her own erratic way. What was at first hailed at the freak of an hysterical or notoriety-hunting woman has accomplished a great revolution in the administration of the law in Kansas. Instead of being a mere freakish idea, Mrs. Nation's action was the inspiration of a singularly hardheaded and fearless woman.

Mrs. Nation has accomplished her object. She has closed all the saloons in Topeka and the state will follow suit. When the first reports of Mrs. Nation's hatchet raids appeared in the papers many must have wondered that the authorities did not stop the woman in such a definance of the law and end the farce as it was at that time regarded. The police authorities dared not do it because every man selling liquor in the city was an offender against the prohibition law, and the inconsistency of jailing a woman for attempting to do what the police ought to be doing themselves and leaving the original wrong-doers at large would be too glaring an act of partiality for even the Topeka police. Mrs. Nation was keen enough to see this; also that the clamor which her act would raise was destined to attract such a force of outside criticism upon the maladministration of the law in the state as to surely effect what could not be done by less rigorous measures. One earnest and high-minded woman and mother has alone and unaided made herself a terror to entrenched vice and given an impetus to the cause of temperance and the enforcement of law and order which years of the ordinary and regular methods of agitation could not have effected.

On Thursday the illegal liquor sellers of Topeka surrendered and promised to stop selling liquor in contravention of the prohibition law. Mrs. Nation said: "Thank God," and went back to her home. Now, the legislature of the state, swinging to the other extreme of the pendulum in trying to keep touch with the revolution of public sentiment, proposes to pass a bill to make the smashing of illegal liquor selling "joints" by any person permissible. A despatch says that it will become law before the session ends. It would be infinitely more to the purpose to compel the police to do their duty and, if they refuse to do so, employ state police to enforce the law. But possibly the mere existence of such a law on the statue book would have a deterrent effect, but it could not possibly be put in practice. However, the fact remains that one cranky but keen-witted old woman with a hatchet has made more progress in temperance reform in a great state of the Union in a fortnight than would have been possible under other circumstances in years. John Brown, the martyr of abolition, smashed the peace of Virginia with rifle shots and was hanged because some of the bullets struck people, but he attracted public attention and crystallized public opinion and half a million men lay down their lives to uphold that opinion. Mrs. Nation's crusade has been much of the same character, but luckily without any tragic results. She has jolted the public conscience into wakefulness and achieved a great end.
